THOMAS SINCLAIR KILLED IN FALL

Plymouth School Director Received Fatal Injuries in Fall Into Open Cellarway

SON WAS AWAITING HIM

Thomas Sinclair, President of the Plymouth Township School Board, a prosperous farmer and dairyman, died at his home, Conshohocken pike near Plymouth Meeting, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, from injuries received by falling into an open cellar way at the home of William White, Ridge pike and Spring Mill road, Whitmarsh township, early Friday evening.

Mr. Sinclair, accompanied by his ten-year-old son, Austin, visited the White home shortly after dark on Friday evening. Mr. Sinclair drove there in his automobile and drove into the driveway near the house. He left his son in the car saying that he would return shortly as he had business to transact with Mr. White. He hurried towards the house and in the darkness could not see an open cellar way at the side of the path. He fell into the cellar way, falling down a flight of stone steps. He was so badly injured that he could not call for help.

Mr. White was at home and noticed an automobile had stopped near the house but gave it no further thought until a half to three-quarters of an hour later when, while looking out a window saw the car still there. He went outside and recognizing Austin Sinclair found that Mr. Sinclair was believed to be in the house. Mr. White immediately called his son Frank and together they made a search. They secured a lantern and immediately went to the cellar way. There sitting on the bottom step with his face cut and bloody and his eyes protruding, sat Mr. Sinclair. In the darkness he stepped from the path over a low retaining wall and fell into the stone paved cellarway.

Other aid was secured and Mrs. Sinclair was notified. She was driven to the White home. She spoke to her husband and had him removed to his home and a physician summoned. It was found he was suffering from concussion of the brain. From the time of receiving his injuries until his death, Mr. Sinclair was unconscious except for brief intervals. Saturday a consultation was held by physicians but nothing could be done to save the patient's life and early Saturday evening he suffered from hemorrhages which ended in his death at 7 o'clock about 24 hours after the accident happened. His wife and his father, who is 85 years old were constant attendants at his bedside until death came.

Thomas Sinclair was the son of Daniel Sinclair, one of the oldest residents of Plymouth township. He was born in the township 37 years ago and received his education in the township schools and graduated from the Plymouth High School. Coming from a family of farmers, he engaged in the business and was one of the most successful farmers in the county. Several years ago, he purchased the Albertson farm, one of the finest in this section and engaged in the dairy business on an extensive scale. He fitted his dairy with the modern sanitary appliances and sold his milk and dairy products to retail trade in this borough and nearby sections. He maintained one of the finest dairy herds in the county and did an extensive business.

Mr. Sinclair was elected a member of the Plymouth Township School Board, serving a term and last month was nominated to succeed himself for another term. He was president of the board and much is due to his efforts that the consolidated school was built.

He was deeply interested in the welfare of the children and used his time and efforts to advance the rural schools. He was one of the foremost citizens of the township. Being an active and very busy man with his own affairs, he found time and considered it his duty to participate in public affairs and he has been one of the most valuable officials who have ever served the township.

Deceased is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Eulalia Trego, of Plymouth, three children, Austin, Chester and Florence and his father and three brothers and two sisters: George, Daniel and Joseph and Miss Frances, who resides with her father and Mrs. William Rhoads, of near Abrams Station.

Mr. Sinclair was a director of the Plymouth Alumni Building and Loan Association and a member of Fritz Lodge No. 429, F. & A. M.

The funeral will be held from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Services will be conducted at the house by Rev. J. P. Sheppard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of this borough. The interment will be at Norris City Cemetery. Fritz Lodge of Masons will also conduct services.

The remains may be viewed this evening.

ROYERSFORD WANTS A BRIDGE

A delegation of Royersford citizens waited upon the County Commissioners and asked that the Commissioners rescind the contract let for placing a wood block roadway on the deck of the bridge as the structure is an antiquated one and no large amount of money should be spent in repairs, but the bridge should be replaced with a modern structure.

The county bridges spanning the Schuylkill river are all antiquated affairs unsuitable for modern traffic and the citizens are now aroused to the fact that no large expenditures should be made for repairs to any of the structures.

The Matsonford bridge, at this place is in so bad a condition that a watchman has been on guard to regulate traffic and the Commissioners have had signs erected restricting automobile traffic to a speed of five miles an hour, a speed at which but few automobiles can be reduced to. The bridge is in very bad shape, the whole structure rattles even when the light automobile passes over it. The Commissioners are preparing to make temporary repairs and the condition of the bridge is such that it will soon have to be replaced or it will fall of its own weakness.

Another Lansdale Diphtheria Case.

All efforts of the health officers to trace the cause of the diphtheria epidemic have thus far been in vain. Fourteen cases are now reported by Dr. H. O. Williams, secretary of the Board of Health. The latest case, reported Monday night is Pearl Limberger, aged 8 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Limberger, West Main street, Lansdale. The girl is a student at the West Ward school.

Mushroom Hunters

Mushroom hunters are being sadly disappointed this all in finding their favorite delicacy in quantities large enough to satisfy their appetites. They say that they cannot remember when the fungi have been as scarce as this year. A dozen in a morning has been about the most found by one person this year. What are found are of inferior quality. The general belief is that it requires wet weather to produce mushrooms, but this fact seems to be erroneous. According to the bulletin published by the government, on mushroom culture, the soil for producing mushrooms must be damp but never wet. Too much water causes them to "damp off" and also causes the mycelium to decay.

Selling Fords.

The Garage also has the Montgomery County agency for the famous Paige Sixes and Light Sixes. The Paige car is gaining in popularity and a number of demonstrations have been given local people, who were greatly impressed with the performance of the car.

Word was received from the Paige factory this morning that orders can now be accepted for immediate delivery.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT T. WISTAR BROWN'S

Handsome Villa Nova Residence Damaged by Flames Yesterday Morning

CHIEF OF CLAY CO. HURT

Fire, which threatened for a time to totally destroy the handsome residence of T. Wistar Brown, at Villa Nova, was discovered in the third story of the building shortly after eleven o'clock, yesterday morning.

As soon as the fire was discovered word was immediately sent to all of fire companies along the Main Line and also to the George Clay Fire Company, of West Conshohocken. All of the companies responded immediately but the West Conshohocken company was the first to reach the scene. They soon had both of their machines working. The Hale motor pump was stationed close to the large dam on the Brown estate and two streams of water were being thrown on the burning building. Companies from Bryn Mawr, Ardmore, Wayne and Radnor, also responded and all got into service. After a stubborn fight for more than an hour the fire was gotten under control and all of the damage from the flames was confined to the third floor.

The lower rooms were badly damaged by the great amount of water which was pumped into the building by the fire companies.

The tile roof on the house kept the flames confined to the interior of the building and this prevented it from gaining great head way before the firemen arrived.

Too much praise cannot be given the George Clay Fire Company for the services rendered by the members of the company and their apparatus. The company was the first to arrive on the scene and had cut down the wire fences on the place and taken their pump down the dangerously steep incline to the pond of the estate, a distance of probably 200 feet from the burning house and had run out of their full equipment of hose and was still too far from the fire to reach it with a stream. By the time the West Siders had laid all of their hose the Bryn Mawr Company arrived. The hose connected their hose to that of the Clay Company and by means of a siamese two streams were forced clear over the top of the high building by the Hale pump. The pump worked continually for more than an hour and a half without a single hitch.

Herman Adams, president of West Conshohocken Town Council and chief of the George Clay Fire Company, while standing on a shed annexed to the burning building slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet.

Both ankles were badly sprained and he was helped to the truck of his fire company and directed the movements of his men from this position. After the fire had been extinguished he was removed to his home on Lower Ford street where medical aid was summoned. He will be unable to walk for several days.

Harry Stinson was severely cut about the head by broken glass, but his injuries were not of a serious nature.

As soon as the alarm was sounded people from the Main Line and other districts hurried to the scene and many of them helped in carrying nearly all of the valuable furnishings from the threatened building.

Mr. Brown has a valuable collection of art treasures on the second floor and was much concerned over the possible loss of these. A number of the society women of the Main Line knave of these and they gave valuable assistance in carrying them to places of safety. Among those who helped to carry the valuables from the burning building were Mrs. Edwin H. Fitter, 3d, famous for her golfing skill; Mrs. George R. Packard, Mrs. Parker S. Williams, Miss Evelyn Runk, Miss Katherine Tenney, Miss Ethel Townsend and Miss Edith Runk, whose engagement to Thomas J. Liggett was announced Saturday.

Mr. Brown, owner of the property and a man of more than eighty years of age, was taken from the building several times almost evercome by smoke.

The origin of the fire was due to an alcohol lamp used by painters. The lamp ignited a bird's nest in the eaves of the roof and the flame communicated to the roof.

T. Wistar Brown is one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of Lower Merion township and his beautiful palatial residence was one of the show places in this fashionable district. It is situated between Montgomery avenue and the Gulf road just west of the Spring Mill road.

MAN KILLED BY AUTO

OF CLARKE THOMPSON

Owner Drives Car in Fatal Accident at Merion-on-the-Main Line

An automobile, driven by Clarke Thompson, son of the late Frank Thompson, who was president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, last night ran down and killed George Burgess, of Woodbine avenue, Narberth. The accident happened on Montgomery pike and Orchard way, Merion-on-the-Main-Line.

Burgess, who was employed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, was on his way home to his wife and six children when he attempted to cross the road. He saw the automobile, according to Mr. Thompson, but became bewildered by the strong headlights. In spite of the driver's efforts to stop the car it knocked the man down, passed over him and inflicted a fatal wound on the head.

With Mr. Thompson at the time of the accident were John L. Callin, an aviator, and Dudley F. Norton. They were on their way to the home of their host's brother, in Devon. Mr. Thompson picked up Burgess and took him to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he died just a few minutes afterward. the Five Books of Moses and later will study the Talmud.

The organization of the institute is the forerunner for a synagogue. The number of Jewish residents has increased greatly during the past few years and a suitable place for worship is now deemed necessary. For a number of years services have been held in the homes of the various members of the faith and in Little's Hall. All feast day services have been held in Little's Hall and have been conducted by various Rabbis. The Jewish residents now desire to have a permanent place of worship and have their own Rabbi.

It is believed the new school will be a success and will develop a greater interest for obtaining a synagogue. During the recent Jewish holidays a collection was taken during the services for the War Sufferers' Fund. The collection amounted to $14 and was forwarded to the New World, a Jewish newspaper, to be forwarded to the general treasurer at New York.

An automobile belonging to John C. Grover, of Philadelphia, became disabled at this place on Sunday. The mechanism was damaged to such an extent that it was necessary to tow the car to Norristown for repairs. The occupants returned home on the P. & W. Railway.

Rev. M. W. Butler, pastor of the Gulf Christian church and Rev. Thom. as R. Armour, of the Conshohocken Methodist church, exchanged pulpits on Sunday evening. Following the service in the Gulf church, Rev. Mr. Armour administered the rite of baptism to two candidates from his parish in the baptistry. The attendance was large and the visiting minister preached a fine sermon.

At the regular quarterly conference of the Gulf Christian church tomorrow evening action will be taken on the resignation of the pastor, Rev. M. W. Butler, which was presented on Sunday, September 5th and to take effect, December 1st next. Mr. Butler was asked to reconsider his resignation and he prevailed upon to remain in charge of a parish which he has increased by nearly one hundred communicants since assuming his pastoral duties in December 1911.

John Sopalski Sr. has removed from a farm near Collegeville to one of the dwellings on the brewery property at Gulf Mills belonging to Percy Varian. Mr. Sopalski is engaged in the milk business and it is stated that he has also leased from Mr. Varian the large barn near the ruins of the brewery building which escaped the flames and which will be used to accommodate his cattle. Sopalski formerly occupied the Coats farm near Bridgeport. The one near Collegeville which he vacated has been sold.

Many Philadelphians passed the week end with relatives at Gulf Mills. Among them was Mr. and Mrs. James French, who were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wellard. Mr. French who is a veteran employe of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, has been in continuous service of the company for twenty-nine years. Other visitors at the Willard home were Mrs. Robert Frank, Mrs. Joseph Silcox and daughter, Mrs. Horace Yundt, the latter of South Norwalk, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. James Atkinson and family and Mrs. Pawling and daughter, Mrs. George Madden, guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Spragg. Paul Rinehart, a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland.

There was a large turnout at the fourth fall meeting of the Men's Bible Class of the Gulf Christian church on Sunday afternoon. As at the previous meetings, music was again a feature. It included baritone solos by Robert Smith, of Conshohocken, a member of the class, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Frank V. Rinehart. It was announced that the members of the class have decided to attend a meeting in the Bridgeport Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, October 12th in a body and a special car on the P. & W. Railway will be placed at their service for transportation. The same where the organization will hold its social has not as yet been decided upon.

One of the most interesting of the early October weddings were the nuptials of Miss Athalia Evans, of King of Prussia and Mr. George Rodney Parke Jr., of Wayne, on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride. The Friends ceremony was used.

In the presence of many friends the couple were united.

Edwin Martin Jr., of Wayne, was best man; Miss Lillian Parke, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Thomas Miller Flack, of Chester, was matron of honor.

The bridesmaids, six in number were: Miss Rachael Hoopes, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Hadassah Moore, of Sandy Springs, Md.; Miss Esther Miller, of Salem, N. J.; Miss Elizabeth Wilson, of Berwyn, and Misses Emma Evanson and Miss Mary Clayton, of Philadelphia.

The ushers were: Dr. Edgar Parke, of Allentown; Allyn Parke, of Wayne both brothers of the groom, and William Evans and Charles M. Evans, brothers of the bride.

Miss Ruth Chandler, of Isalowna, presided at the piano.

The couple will reside near Wayne and will be at home on and after November 15th.

DEER SETTLE NEAR CITY

Four Make Themselves at Home on Willow Grove Estate.

Four deer have taken possession of a large tract of woodland on Overlook Farms, the Old York road estate of captain W. W. Frazier, at Willow Grove and have become so domesticated that suburbanites have approached within 50 yards of the animals before they have taken flight and run. There are two bucks with fully developed antlers, a doe and a fawn.

Hundreds of suburbanites and riders of early morning trolley cars over the York Road lines, have seen the animals in the early morning hours coming out of a piece of woodland fronting on the York road, in the heart of the suburb, and browse, sometimes in company with a big flock of sheep which form part of the stock on Overlook Farms.

It is believed that the bucks and the doe came originally from the New Jersey pine woods, swimming the Delaware River at a time when the water was low.

One family living on the Old York road has been feeding them. Fans of salt have been placed in the open and it is said that one of the bucks has gone to the extreme of charging the sheep, hurrying on at least 20 feet with its antlers to monopolize the salt.

So domesticated have the deer become that Miss M. Baker by slipping from tree to tree, has been able to get close enough to obtain snapshot photos, one exposure having been caught at the instant a buck, frightened by scenting the girl, was clearing a five-foot fence.

BLEW OUT THE GAS

Main Line Resident Not Accustomed to Illuminating Means.

Adam Larson, a resident of Bryn Mawr, was found dead in bed Sunday morning and the investigation made by coroner McGlathery showed that his death was caused by his unfamiliarity with gas, as an illuminant, for after blowing it out he went to bed and to his death.

Larson was janitor at the Harrison building and had a room therein for less than a week. Previously he had been accustomed to going to bed by lantern light.

A box containing $14.80 was found beneath his bed; also two whisky bottles, one empty, the other about half full.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching skin trouble, use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. 50c a box at all stores.—Adv.

Jubilee Services.

The great night of the Jubilee work at the Plymouth Evangelical church was on Friday when Rev. Thompson W. McKinney, of Coatesville, who conducted the tabernacle campaign at Conshohocken last spring was the principal speaker. The announcements of his coming assured a large congregation and despite the rain storm, the church was filled to its capacity. Delegations were present from all the Conshohocken churches and the Citizens Band was present and played several selections.

Pipe Dreams.

An exchange prints the following which, if we did not know there is a Plymouth in England many years older than our neighbor and after which it is named, we might give some credit to:

There is an old tradition regarding the naming of the township called Plymouth in this county, to the effect that it came through an early settler, who was known for his rectitude. He would go about his work but seldom spoke to anyone. One day his wife, tired of his silence, screamed to him to ply his mouth open. This angered him and he began a scold and growl. One of the neighbors on hearing of the man's eloquence called him "plymouth," a name which later was applied to the settlement. The place became known for its lime quarries and kilns, and in one of the old quarries holes is a body of black water of unknown depth, in which there is said to be no fish or other living thing except a peculiar specie of a dirty greenish water snake. The introduction of steam and electric railways has greatly improved that section and the old traditions are seldom talked about. Some years ago a traveler, who stopped over night at a Roxborough hotel, told of a party having been lured to Plymouth, where he expected to meet a young woman of wealth, but instead was seized by two masked men and taken westward toward the Schuylkill. He has never been heard of since and it was thought that after being kidnapped he was slain and his body weighed and sunk in the deep black water. The traveler told the story and vouched for its being true and declared that nothing could induce him to go to Plymouth alone at night.

CONTROLLER PAYS THE BILL

Commissioners Don't Want Him to Keep Tabs on Speeders.

County Controller Jacobs is in a losing political job. He doesn't take the $4000 salary of the office, of his own volition; pays money to an inspector to inspect inspectors of county work and Saturday drew his personal check for $72 to pay a watchman for watching for a month the Conshohocken river bridge.

People of Conshohocken want a new bridge. The Controller says the present one is good enough. He says that the trouble is that auto trucks are permitted to run helter-skelter over the structure, with a deteriorating effect. He employed a watchman to require all autoists to run at a speed not to exceed four miles an hour. The County Commissioners deemed this a needless expense, holding that the signs which they erected at a small cost would answer the same purpose. Therefore, they refused to honor the order for a month's salary of the watchman. The Controller was "game" since he had employed him and paid him out of his own resources.

SUFFRAGE SPEECH IN EAST GREENVILLE

J. Burnett Holland Speaks to Large Audience in K. of P. Hall PRESENTS LOGICAL POINTS

A meeting in the interest of Woman Suffrage was held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, East Greenville, last Saturday evening, with J. Burnett Holland, Esq. of this borough, as the speaker for the occasion. J. Wallace Keely, Esq., of Norristown formerly of East Greenville, presided at the meeting. It was opened by the singing of "America" in which all present joined after which prayer was offered by Rev. L. A. Werner. Mr. Keely then introduced the speaker of the evening, who presented his subject in an interesting and convincing manner and held the earnest attention of his audience for about an hour. Mr. Holland spoke in part as follows:

"As we look back over history, we find there are a number of social movements similar to the movement for equal suffrage. The first great struggle of mankind was for religious liberty, the second for political freedom, and the third for economic freedom, in the throes of which we are at the present day. These movements are not controlled by one man or a group of men but are generated within the masses of the people through years and years of thought and desire and hope. The history of woman in society is similar. In primitive times woman was man's absolute property, but as man became civilized he realized the injustice of it and began gradually to remove the restrictions from woman until to-day there is but one restriction left and that is the right of suffrage. You and I have an opportunity to remove this last restriction from her by voting in favor of the proposed amendment on November 2. It is sure to come some time and there is no use in postponing the time when woman shall have her full rights."

"The greatest objection to giving women the suffrage in most men's minds is because it is against precedent. In primitive times it was necessary for man to protect woman by his physical prowess, and through generations of such physical protection it naturally followed that men should assume all the political functions. In our own day, however, the state takes upon itself the power and duty of protecting both men and women, and men and women now meet upon an equal basis in practically all lines of activity. It seems to me that history itself has shifted the burden of proof as to why women should not vote to the anti-suffragists. I would suppose the question as to whether they should or should not vote depends upon their qualifications, the same as for men or classes of men. And what are the qualifications of a voter? To my mind it is not necessarily intelligence, not education, not even literacy, as some have said, but the fact that the individual has a particular interest to protect. The property owner wants to vote so as to have a voice in the laws that govern his property and to make effective the laws that control his life and his liberty. The man who has no property has but a single interest in voting, and that is to safeguard his liberty. To my mind the one qualification of a voter is that he should have an interest to protect, and what man or what woman has not an interest to protect? Woman certainly has a vital interest in making the laws and enforcing the laws which control her particular line of human activity. Suppose we do say that intelligence is one of the qualifications of a voter. I leave it to the sound judgment of every man here to look back in his personal experience, first to his school days and latter to his associations with women in any capacity and to say if he ever saw any real distinction between the intelligence of men and women. I absolutely fail to find any distinction in my own experience. It may very well be that men through generations of voting know more particularly the facts that govern voting than women do, but women hitherto have had no interest in knowing the facts. If they have the function of voting, can any one deny that they have the capacity to grasp the facts and vote intelligently? However, to my mind the woman's qualification for voting is that she has her own particular sphere which she wants to protect, and there we come to the same old story, "Woman's place is in the home." I certainly would not want to deny that. I suppose the place of ninety per cent. of the women is in the home. That seems to be her sphere, and it probably will be for a good many years to come. I certainly would be the last one to ask to take woman out of the home. I do not see why that has anything to do with the question of voting. There is no reason why she cannot stay consistently at home and vote. I do not know any men who have to quit their jobs to vote. I think it takes about fifteen minutes to go to the polls. I do not see why the anti-suffragists should think that because a woman is going to vote she is going to desert her home and her family and vote twenty-four hours a day and three hundred and sixty-five days a year. I believe it is incomparably for a woman to hold public office and continue to be the mother of a household, but when a man takes public office he has to quit his job, and if a woman wants to choose between public office and a "domestic job," it is not for you or me to thrust upon her what she does not want. I say she has a right to make that choice, and if you and I take that choice away from her we are committing an act of tyranny."

"The anti-suffragists say women should not be granted the right to vote because it would take them out of their place in the home and in the next breath they say they won't vote anyway, but that is only their inconsistency. Statistics on voting show that never more than eighty per cent. of the male voters come out and the usual vote is fifty or sixty per cent. There are, therefore, forty or fifty per cent. of male voters who probably do not want to vote. I suppose the anti-suffragists would say that because the fifty per cent. do not come out, we should take the vote away from the other fifty per cent. "What we claim is this: that there is very little difference between men and women after all. We all respond to the same emotions and to the same stimuli, we are actuated by the same motives, we have the same desires, we think along the same lines, and what appeals to the one appeals to the other."

"I have up to the present moment been arguing as though woman suffrage were something entirely new, but as a matter of fact there are eleven states at the present time in which women have exactly the same rights of suffrage as men. I am not familiar with all the facts, but I want to ask you whether you ever heard of any vicious reports from those states, whether families are being broken up and whether these terrible things are happening that the anti-suffragists threaten will happen if you give the vote to women in Pennsylvania. We find everything moving along nicely and find that they are more progressive in these western states than in the east. "One thing more. The Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that in order to give women the right to vote we must pass an amendment to the Constitution, and in order to have that amendment submitted to the voters it must pass two successive Legislatures. This proposed amendment passed the Legislatures of 1913 and of 1915 and will be submitted to the voters on November 2nd. I am here tonight to ask you men to vote for that amendment, thereby removing the last restriction upon the liberty of women and make Pennsylvania break the solid east of rock-bound conservatism and ignorance on this subject."

The Germans say they have been fooling the British by placing dummy periscopes on mines and when these periscopes were destroyed, the mine exploded and the British thought they had destroyed a submarine. The explanation was long in coming and loses much of its weight when it is known that commerce of the Allies is less molested today than at any other time during the war.

Thomas Sinclair

The sudden death of Thomas Sinclair, of Plymouth, was a shock to this community.

Mr. Sinclair was a true type of American manhood. He was known and appreciated for his deeds. While industrious in conducting his business, like all busy men, he found time to do for others and he took a deep interest in the affairs of his home community. Mr. Sinclair gave much time and study to the public school system and sought the opportunity to serve his fellows in the school board. He was elected and it is due much to his efforts that Plymouth township now has a consolidated school and the children will enjoy a better opportunity for education than ever before. Mr. Sinclair was again nominated to succeed himself, the vote given him being an expression of the full confidence the people had in him and his work.

A syndicate of American bankers has agreed to float a half billion dollar loan for Great Britain and France without the borrowers putting up any collateral. The bankers are offered the loan at 96 and it will be offered to the public at 98. The interest is 5 per cent. The bonds will be issued in denominations as low as $100. The syndicate stands to make ten million dollars if the issued is subscribed and the bond holders stand to make the same at maturity of the bonds and have a profitable return in interest.

It is noticeable that the bankers interested in the syndicate are also interested in the companies supplying war munitions to the Allies and by the denominations of the bonds it is seen the appeal is to be made to the small investors. The guarantee for the payment of interest and principal of the bonds is only the word of Great Britain and France. The loan is a tremendous amount of money for even two great nations to borrow when it is considered the extent of their obligations. It is a matter of curiosity to know how much of the issue will be taken by national banks.

Manufacturers Want Trained Boys.

The American Foundrymen's Association in convention at Atlantic City has taken up the subject of proper training for boys fitting them for the future in industrial life. The Foundrymen have found that boys trained in private schools are more efficient than those who have received the public high school training.

The great majority of boys turned out annually from the public schools enter industrial life and that the industry of the country may advance, these boys should be especially prepared for their work.

The manufacturers are beginning to awaken to the necessity of becoming interested in the public schools. The schools have been wholly in charge of pedagogues and their aim has been to make the public school curriculum such as to fit the pupils for a higher education in the classical rather than the industrial arts, and such will continue until the business men and manufacturers of the country take a real interest in the schools, the world's greatest institution.

Latin and Greek have little to do with business efficiency, yet educators insist that young men and women spend a great deal of time in these studies which those who engage in business pursuits find of no value and forget after they are away from school a few years. It costs time and money to teach these studies, just as much time and just as much money as it would cost to teach something that would be of practical use.

When the business men of the country devote time to a study of the public school system vocational training will become a serious and important part in the preparation of the youth; the school curriculum will be a more practical one and the efficiency of the schools will be more highly developed. For the schools to give full efficiency they must have the aid of the industrial interests.

Four weeks from to-day will be election day. The voters will choose from among the candidates nominated at the recent primaries the men who are to conduct the county business for the next four years. While every indication points to the success of the Republican ticket, many contests have been lost by a surplus of confidence and a lack of work.

The independent vote in this county is a large one and will be a strong factor in determining the results in November. It is, therefore, important that these independent voters know the merits of every candidate and the more active the Republican candidates enter into the campaign the more sure will be success for never before has the Republican party placed in the field a more competent set of men for public office than is on the ticket today.

The Democrats are sure of one office: a member of the board of County Commissioners. He will be either Mr. Brady, a member of the present board, or Mr. Keck, of Pottstown. Mr. Brady has been charged with not being in accord with a policy for public improvements and especially the new Matsonford bridge, a structure that today is unsafe and the Commissioners have found it necessary to keep a watchman on the bridge to keep traffic at a snail-like speed. Mr. Brady claims that the charges against him are warrantless and place him in a false light before the people of this section. His running mate, Mr. Keck, is a well known business man and says he stands for public improvements. However, before election day, the people will want specific knowledge of the policies these men will assume towards public improvements.

With the Republican candidates for County Commissioners, the people are fully aware of their policies. In private and public business Mr. Hatfield has won success by keeping abreast with modern thought and modern ideas. Mr. Sullivan's record lays in Lower Merion township, where as chairman of the Highway Committee and later as President of the Board of Commissioners, the property valuation of the township has risen $18,000,000 and all has been due to the intelligent and efficient administration of public affairs. What has been done for Lower Merion can be done for the whole county and the best men to do it are those who have had experience and will not waste the taxpayers' money by the practice of false economy.

Every candidate on the Republican ticket is well known to the people. Their public and private lives will bear the closest scrutiny and no independent voter can choose better men to conduct the public business than the men whose names will appear in the Republican column at the November election.

THE TICKET AS NOMINATED

Jenkintown Times-Chronicle: Now that the nominations for the election have been made, the question is occasionally asked, will the Republican organization support the ticket as nominated, since a couple of the slated candidates were beaten? We say yes, most emphatically.

Nothing would disrupt the party in the county quicker than an attempt to defeat part of the ticket and elect Democrats.

McGraw, Heebner and Aiders are good Republicans, made their fight fairly and squarely and are entitled to the hearty support of the entire party. They are both fine men and as officials will reflect credit upon the county.

The organization made a mistake in trying to force Mr. Freed upon the ticket. He is a splendid gentleman, and we have great admiration for him but he has had his share of fat political jobs and it was very short sighted in those who encouraged him to come out for Controller.

Mr. Anders had been promised the organization backing this time if he stepped aside the last time, and he explained this to his many friends in the county. They voted to make the promise good.

This is a lesson in honor we trust will not be overlooked in the future. Another mistake the organization made was in not endorsing the candidacy of John Faber Miller for Judge. He had been appointed but a few months, had been on the Bench long enough to let the people see that he made an exemplary jurist and should have had the O. K. of the organization.

Previous to his elevation to the Bench he was chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee, and led his party to victory on more than one occasion and this is an additional reason why he should have been endorsed.

We trust in future when a man has had a few good plums the leaders will see the wisdom of selecting new material for the big jobs.

It was hard to swallow the ticket arranged on account of the large number of "favorites" who had been chronic office-holders.

The ticket as nominated is splendid and we predict that it will be elected by unusually large majorities. We are for every man on it, and shall work for their election.

BETTER CHURCH ARCHITECTURE

Germantown Independent Gazette: ...

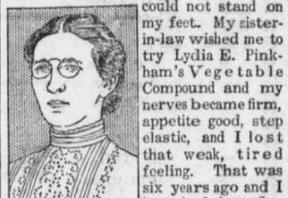

Churches built in recent years in Germantown and vicinity have, as a rule, been attractive specimens of architecture. This is not the case in all communities. However, the architecture of any building has an influence upon the character, tastes and habits of the people associated therewith. Ugly school houses and churches ought to be banished.

It is interesting to note that the General Council of the Lutheran church has recognized this fact. At its recent meeting in Moline, Ill., the Rev. Dr. J. F. Ohi, of Philadelphia, presented a report of the committee on church architecture which called forth a lively discussion. The Council adopted the recommendations of this committee which request all mission congregations to consult the committee on church architecture before building mission churches. The services of the committee are also at the disposal of any congregation to advise and give the benefit of their experience. As the committee is composed of skilled architects and clergymen who have made a study of church architecture. The Lutheran says it is believed that congregations will welcome this expert advice, and that as a result much more beauty and harmony and utility will characterize the churches of the future.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT OF PRIMARY VOTE

Democrats Object to Non-Partisan Count by the Officials.

THE WASHINGTON TICKET

Two of the three County Commissioners of Montgomery County have certified to the State Department at Harrisburg that 19,157 votes were cast for the six candidates on the non-partisan ticket for judge of the Common Pleas Court.

As the official count shows that Judge Miller received 9,906 votes, he will be alone on the ballot in November, if the count is accepted.

The official count gives H. M. Brownback 10,833, William F. Dannehower 3,928, Gilbert Fox 2,983, William P. Young 861, C. Henry Stinson 3,078, and Judge Miller 9,906.

Charles D. McAvoy, of Norristown, acting for William F. Dannehower, of Norristown, one of the candidates for Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Montgomery County on the non-partisan ballot at the recent primary, Saturday filed a petition for mandamus on the County Commissioners asking the Court to direct that they make a lawful return to the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the ballots cast at the recent election provided by the act of Assembly.

It is contended that the certificate sent to the State Department by the County Commissioners was not correct as to the number of voters who received ballots and voted at the primary election.

The following is the official count of the Primary vote:

Leading the Procession.

We know a man who bought four or five lots of cantaloupes early in the season, found them flat and tasteless, and banished cantaloupes from his table on the ground that farmers don't grow the kind of fruit nowadays that they did when he was a boy.

There are men who won't read anything but the news in the Sunday newspaper because they have come to the conclusion, after experience with other newspapers that the Sunday edition of "The Philadelphia Record," that all Sunday newspapers are unprofitable. But because a man has eaten cantaloupes that were grown in close proximity to a cucumber patch and cross fertilized with the cucumbers by industrious insects, thus partaking of the qualities of both plants, there is no reason why he should eschew Rocky Fords; and because he has been imposed upon with the common run of Sunday newspaper trash there is no reason why he should not acquaint himself with the contents of "The Sunday Record" and become a constant reader.

There is nothing flat in the flavoring of "The Sunday Record". Its news pages set the standard for its feature pages. You've heard of the lovable, native "Pollyanna"? She's a "Sunday Record" regular. You know the ordinary kind of colored "Comics" well. "The Sunday Record" comics are different and better. And there's "Willie Green," whose amusing antics on the farm have made a lasting hit! and a full page of fashions every week and a page of embroideries and a separately bound magazine section, with colored cover, handsomely illustrated, to which the best short-story writers in the country contribute.

But we have just touched the high spots in skipping over "Sunday Record" features. There are so many of them and their appeal is so skillfully directed to the different members of the family that the chief problem of the publishers must be how to make up the paper so that one copy may be equitably divided among several persons. If you have been taking a Sunday newspaper that gives you that tired feeling, try the Sunday issue of "The Philadelphia Record" and get over it. The highest praise we can give it is to say that it is the daily issue of Philadelphia's best newspaper on a bigger scale.

FALLS VERY GOOD IN FIRST HALF OF GAME

Then they Crumble and Locals Score Four Times in Twelve Minutes

OLD STAR A "COMEBACK"

East Falls was the second victim of the Conshohocken Champions on Saturday afternoon, in this borough, losing their annual tilt with Crawford's team by the one-sided score of 39 to 0.

Notwithstanding the previous heavy rainfall and the continued threatening weather, a crowd equal to the largest last season, were willing to take a chance on seeing the game played and ventured to the grounds.

The visitors by their unexpected strength, surprised everybody present themselves included and during the entire half Conshohocken was able to score only one touchdown and this came in the first period. Pownall, however, was robbed out of a touchdown in this period. He received the pass on a pass and ran around the visitors right end and across their goal line, but was tackled before he could get into the end zone.

The game was made more important to the locals by reason of a number of visiting foot ballers, taking advantage of their own season not opening until next week and coming here to watch the work of Conshohocken. Noticeable among these were Manager Raven, Coach Eavis and the entire Holmesburg team and the manager and a number of the Vincome team, of Philadelphia, who are anxious to arrange a game with Manager Crawford.

The local team was strengthened by the addition of Pottelger, the former college star and all who saw him in action are firmly convinced that he will be of as much use to the team as any of the stars of last season. Pottelger has not been in the game of the past two years and on several different occasions he fumbled the ball, but his manner shows that he is a natural foot ball player and by the time he plays two or three games he will have recovered all of his old-time perfection in handling the ball and when he does get back to himself, the natives will see a wonderful pair in him and Pownall. He is fleet of foot and wonderfully strong in advancing the ball and his defense work was of the highest order. Many times he broke through the visitors' line and down the man, carrying the ball in his tracks.

One of the most pleasant surprises that could have been sprung on the local management was brought to light in the last period. Coach Pownall had driven nearly all of the regulars from the scene of conflict and was confronting the enemy with a team of second string men, but the last sub to be brought into action was by no means the least. The coach had ordered Pfeiffer out and called to the side line for Black, when to the delight of the faithful and amid a sea-faring cheer, "Chunky" Black, old, bald-headed but as nimble as a kitten came trotting out to fill the same position he occupied on the Conshohocken team which represented the borough when the members of the present team were still clinging to their mothers' apron strings and too small even to go to the games. The old star performed the "comeback" to perfection and a shout from the crowd rent the air a minute after he started to play when he broke through the line and made an old-time tackle before his teammates awakened up to the fact that the ball was in play. "Chunky" said he was in his glory and if Manager Crawford will give him a suit he will be out there standing that Holmesburg bunch on their heads in a fashion that will make big Mike Dorizaz blush.

During the first half of the game East Falls showed wonderful strength against the locals and fought them hard on every play. The visitors put up a wonderful defensive game all during the half and while they held the locals in check they were too weak to gain much ground when having the ball in their possession, being compelled to kick repeatedly. In fact the ball was in the visitors' territory almost continually and Conshohocken's goal line was never in danger.

In the second half Bergey went in at tackle and when play was resumed Conshohocken played life a different team. From the first they started to play a terrific game which seemed to dazzle the visitors and scored at will. During the first period last twelve minutes the locals had crossed East Falls' goal line four times. The first touchdown in this period required only six plays before Pottelger carried the ball over the line. The time was three minutes. Conshohocken kicked off and Mitchell recovered the ball. It required only four plays and consumed just two minutes to score the next touchdown. The third touchdown was scored in two minutes. Shade scored these points after a beautiful run of forty-five yards. With five minutes yet to play Conshohocken kept battering at the visitors' line for about four minutes when Pownall skirted around East Falls' left end and received a beautiful forward pass from Pottelger. Just as he crossed the line he was tackled hard tackle turned a complete summersault and landed on his feet.

Feeling that they had scored enough points for one game Coach Pownall relieved all of his regulars with the exception of three or four men and put in practically a full team of substitutes for the last period. With such a weakened team East Falls was able to keep them from scoring in this period.

The game while it turned out to be a one-sided affair was just the kind of a game that the locals needed to put them in condition for the harder games to come. East Falls played them a better game than any team that appeared in this borough last season and deserve great credit for their showing all during the first half. The following is the summary:

Conshohocken		East Falls
Riggs	L. E.	Gotwals
Pennington	L. T.	Lukens
Mitchell	L. G.	Lees
Armitage	C.	Crooks
Pfeiffer	R. G.	Doyle
Schall	R. T.	Fiedler
Webster	R. E.	Donlon
Pownall	Q. B.	Hess
Jones	L. H. B.	Denby
Shade	R. H. B.	Pickard
Pottelger	P. B.	Lally

Touchdowns: Pottelger 3, Pownall 2, Shade 1. Goals from touchdown, Pfeiffer 3. Referee, Hopkins, Umpire, Clevenger, Timer, Lobb. Time of quarters, 15 and 12 minutes.

Substitutes: McCann for Doyle; Campbell for Webster; Williams for Riggs; Bergey for Schall; Fisher for Bergey; Kriebel for Armitage; Black for Pfeiffer.

The J. C. Brill foot ball team which was scheduled to be the opponents of the Conshohocken team in this borough next Saturday cancelled the game last Saturday morning and Secretary Hyde immediately got in touch with the strong Frankford A. A. team and persuaded them to come to this borough. Frankford had originally intended to play all of their games at home this season but their inability to secure suitable grounds caused them to abandon this idea and they are again arranging a schedule for games away from home. Frankford has been coming to this borough for several years as opponents to Reliance and the local team and the calibre of their teams is well known to the local fans. Last year Conshohocken scored only 18 points against Frankford and the Philadelphia claim to have a much stronger team this year than last. They expect to give the locals the greatest game they have ever had and no team knows any better than Frankford how good a team it will take to accomplish this. Frankford is anxious to win the game as they have games arranged with Holmesburg, Union Club, and Royersford and they realize what a great advertisement it would be for them at these laces if they beat Conshohocken. Manager Crawford is not worrying as to what is going to happen to Conshohocken and the only comment he has to make concerning the game that he hopes Frankford can send a team here that is able to defeat Conshohocken.

Conshohocken will meet Pottstown in this borough on Saturday, October 16. Last Saturday Pottstown met the Hill School, at Pottstown, on the latter's ground and held them without a touchdown. Hill School, however won the game by two field goals. Pottstown played a wonderful game against their great adversaries and if they play the same kind of ball against Conshohocken, the game will be one of the best to be seen here this season.

October session of criminal court began yesterday morning before Judges Swartz and Miller. Judge Solly, of the orphans court, will assist beginning today. He did not hold a session of his court in the morning because of his attendance at the funeral of his sister-in-law Mrs. Jerry March, of Jenkintown. He sat in the afternoon hearing his audit list. The jurors assembled in court room, No. 1, where the list was called. The charge to the grand jury was made by President Judge Swartz. While this was going on Judge Miller, sitting in court room No. 2 received the quarterly returns of the constables of the county. No special complaint was made by these officers of the law.

Grand Jurors Excused

When the grand jurors were called, two failed to answer to their names. They were: James Darby, tiremaker, of Conshohocken, and J. Brinton Jones, of Upper Merion. Frank C. Bowers, watchman, of Bridgeport, was excused on account of illness, while Elias Marley, barber, was excused on account of business. Darby arrived late and was informed that lateness was inexcusable, but as the grand jury had been instructed he was unable to serve. He was discharged but was told that he would not receive a day's pay. Edward Richards, of Norristown was chosen as foreman.

Petit Jurors.

On the petit jury list three drawn for jury were reported "not found by the sheriff." They were: Edward P. Schollenberger, of Pottstown; Warren L. Potter, of Hathoro; and Gabriel King, of Upper Providence. Sylvester Jates, of Jenkintown, was reported sick and unable to serve. J. Howard Ervien, of Cheltenham, was excused for the day to attend a school board meeting. Edward S. Three libels in divorce were filed yesterday morning in open court before Judge Swartz. The libellants are Sarah Heimbach, of Pottstown, who seeks divorce from her husband, Albert, on the ground of misconduct with two women of that borough; Benjamin Jones from Pearl Jones; and Edna Reiser from Edmund Reiser.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The following prices f. o. b. Detroit, effective Aug. 2, 1915:

Ford Runabout .....	$390.00
Ford Touring Car .....	440.00
Ford Town Car .....	640.00

No speedometers included in this year's equipment, otherwise cars fully equipped.

There can be no assurance given against an advance in these prices at any time. We guarantee, however, that there will be no reduction in these prices prior to Aug. 1, 1916.

PROFIT-SHARING WITH RETAIL BUYERS

On August 1, 1914 we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915 we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date.

We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.
