NUMEROUS CONTESTS FOR COUNTY OFFICES

Republicans Have Many Candidates.—Democrats Have Contests for Commissioners

SOCIALISTS HAVE A TICKET

Aspirants for county offices have filed their petitions for places on the ballot of their respective parties to be voted for at the primaries, Tuesday, September 16, and there will be several spirited contests waged among the Republicans for the nominations.

The Democrats have a contest only for the two nominations for commissioners. The contestants are Harman Y. Bready, a member of the board of commissioners who seeks to succeed himself; Charles L. Baker, Norris-town; Dr. J. Rein Keeler, Harleysville and H. Benton Leedom, Lower Merion. There are no contests for any of the other offices.

The Republicans will have a lively fight Jacob Hamilton, of this borough, is opposed by Harry Mc. Bechtel, of Pottstown, for sheriff.

There are three aspirants for the district attorney nomination and all are waging a lively campaign. The aspirants are Frank X. Renninger, of Glenside, at present an assistant district attorney; Monroe Anders, Ardmore and Aaron S. Swart Jr., of Norristown.

Robert Miller, the present incumbent and George Yeakel, both of Norristown, want the nomination for recorder of deeds. For recorder of deeds there are three candidates and for the two director of poor nominations there are four candidates.

Horace W. Smedley, Ardmore, for controller; Irvin H. Bardman, of Schwenksville, for treasurer; J. Crawford Johnson, for clerk of courts, Norristown and John H. Dager, for surveyor, Norristown, are unopposed for their nominations while there is a contest on for the coronership, the meaneast paid office in the county, between William Neville, the present incumbent serving an unexpired term of this borough, and Dr. R. C. Hoffman, of Narberth.

The first legislative district has five candidates out for nominations, one of whom is unopposed. This borough has two candidates, Jacob Hamilton, for sheriff and William Neville for coroner. Norristown has eight candidates—two of whom are unopposed and both are for minor offices. Norristown will be the center of a lively fight, the contests centering on commissioner, district attorney and recorder of wills.

The Socialists have placed a partial ticket in the field leaving the district attorneyship and surveyor open.

Today is the last day for withdrawal of nomination petitions.

ROBBER SEEN ON THIRD STORY ROOF

A robber was seen Tuesday evening about 10:45 on the third story roof at the home of Sylvanus Nichols, of Hector street near Cherry by his son Raymond.

As Raymond was entering his room prior to retiring he saw a face at his window, but as soon as the person saw him he drew back his head. The young man quickly and quietly descended the stairs to the lower floor and told his father who scoured a revolver and with his son went to the rear of the house expecting to catch the burglar as he descended from the roof.

They could hear him climbing down over the rear porch but could not get to the outside in time to catch him. William Donovan, who lives next to Mr. Nichols on the corner of Hector and Cherry streets, was aroused and said that he had heard a noise just before awakening but thought it was Mr. Nichols returning home. There were marks on a window showing that an effort had been made to force it open on Mr. Donovan's side of the house.

About fifteen minutes before the occurrence Mr. Nichols had been in the backyard but did not hear or see any signs of a burglar.

As the face of the intruder was seen only part of his body that was seen, and that not clearly as both the young man and his father were in the dark, no description could be given.

Lee Officials Deny Paying Players For League Games

The officials of the Lee Tire and Rubber Company and the base ball team of that concern made statements today denying that they had ever given their players money for playing in the Industrial League games.

They also made statements and showed proof that "Carson" was eligible to play for them in last night's game. They produced a letter from President Spencer L. Jones of the Industrial League dated August 8, 1919 stating that "Carson" was eligible to play in any game following the receipt of that letter.

The officials said that they did not consider the protest of the John Wood Manufacturing Company's team would be accepted at the meeting of the Board of Arbitration as the letter from the president would prove that Carson was eligible.

They also want to show the public that they have been playing as first class sportsmen in the league and positively deny statements made on the Sherwood grounds last evening to the effect that their players were being paid for playing.

The Lee officials refused to let the John Wood team use "March" who had pitched for their team on several occasions, play with the John Wood team on the grounds that he had not been in the employ of the company for a period of five days prior to the game and was not eligible. They believe it is through this act that the manager of the Wood team is prompted to make the protest on the game.

It is the custom and the rules of the league to have the managers of the teams report players to the president of the league so that the other contesting teams of the league may be notified that the player is eligible to play.

An official of the Ruth Glass team last evening stated that he had received a notice to the effect that "Carson" of the Lee Tire team was eligible.

Carson entered the employ of the Lee Tire and Rubber Company about August the fourth and was made eligible to play August 8.

RETURNED SOLDIER TELLS OF GREAT WASTE AND INEFFICIENCY IN ARMY AFTER SIGNING OF THE ARMISTICE

While the Price of Gasoline Was Soaring at Home, Soldiers Washed Motor Trucks with Oil and Gasoline While Within 100 Feet of a River.—Fire Extinguishers Filled with Gasoline and Used for Cleaning Engines.—Quantities of Food Left Exposed to Weather While Building Were Used to House Tools of Engineers.—Food Denied Soldiers and Sold to Germans.

A story of wanton waste and inefficiency, that should be ranked as criminal, in the American army of occupation is told by Wilford P. Lukens, 527 Spring Mill avenue, who entered the army November 2, 1917 and returned from overseas July 29, 1919 having served abroad since June 8, 1918.

He tells the story that the home people may know the wanton extravagance practiced in the American army while in Germany and months after the armistice was signed and while the people at home was suffering with shortage of food stuffs and extremely high prices for foods. Every instance here recorded came under his personal observation and he participated in many of them. It is a tale of such wanton waste that the people at home may think the soldier has used his imagination but he states that he is willing to appear before the proper authorities and give testimony as to what he saw and participated in. He claims many of the officers were inefficient and it was the spirit and knowledge of the privates and non-commissioned officers that were responsible for the real efficiency shown.

Private Lukens says the wanton waste raised the indignation of the soldiers to such an extent that they offered to give testimony and the chief mechanic of their unit is gathering evidence to be presented to the military affairs committee of Congress as the people should know what occurred in the army of occupation especially when conditions at home were laying a heavy burden on the people.

Mr. Lukens is an electrician and a radio operator. He was sent to Camp Mead and placed in the 312th machine gun battalion. His army papers showed him to be an electrician and a radio operator holding a commercial first grade license. He was transferred to Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. and finding the signal corps needed radio operators, he applied for a transfer but was placed in the 4th motor supply train. The signal corps needed and desired his services but his commanding officer refused to consent to the transfer. He served with the motor supply train and went overseas with the unit June 8, 1918 and served until discharged last month.

He said that during the war waste could not be avoided; delays were unavoidable owing to the constant movement of troops and no time was given to the study of the efficiency of the officers as the men did all in their power to keep things moving and in as good condition as possible. He was a member of Co B, and there were six companies in the train, each company having 32 two and a half tons Packard trucks. Their business was to transport supplies from the rail heads and various dumps to the front lines. He said the men in the train did splendid work in keeping their trucks in condition and operated them under the most adverse conditions and while there were delays in getting supplies to the constantly moving lines, their work was considered very efficient.

After the signing of the armistice, the unit was moved with the army of occupation into Germany. The soldiers were getting news regularly from home and were pretty well informed as to living conditions here, the high cost of foods and the urgent necessity for saving not only foods but all necessities of life, and the wanton waste that came under their daily observation so incensed the soldiers that they determined they would tell the people about it as soon as they were released from the army.

Officer's Inefficiency
Mr. Lukens said, when their unit got into Germany and they established a permanent station their commanding officer, a major, would issue his orders and they were posted on a bulletin board that all might read them. In one of the orders giving detailed instructions for the care of the motor trucks, appeared the instruction to "grease all spark plugs using the same kind of grease as is used for lubricating bearings." Had the order been obeyed, the veriest novice would have known not a truck could have been moved under its own power. The chief mechanic of the unit, a man with a fine knowledge of automobiles and qualified in every way for the position he held of course refused to obey the order, add to efficiency.

"Were efficiency practiced along the same lines in civil life as in the army of occupation," said Mr. Lukens, "there would be no big business as business could not stand the great waste of time, materials and labor the inefficiency of army officers caused. The lack of knowledge or the indifference of officers to the business at hand was a matter for serious comment among the men. It was a common thing for an order to come to our unit to provide say ten trucks at a point 20 miles distant from our station. The ten trucks with drivers and assistants would be sent on the journey only to find upon their arrival that five trucks were amply sufficient for the work. This meant a round trip for five empty trucks and their crews. During hostilities there could have been cause for such a condition but after the signing of the armistice when the business of the army could be carried on with the same regularity and efficiency as in civil life, it caused the men to believe there were many misfits in places of authority and those men were incapable of handling their jobs. Carelessness and waste seemed to be the order of the day no thought as to the cost to the American people."

Washed Cars With Gasoline
"Our unit of the army of occupation placed no value on money, was indifferent to the high cost of living cared nothing for the additional taxes they were compelling our people to pay by their gross extravagance or the hardships they were working upon the people of home by their wanton waste of materials of which there was a shortage at home."

"When we moved from France into Germany, two of our companies spent the winter at Clotton and the Moselle river. We had 62 Packard 2½ ton trucks and our orders were to keep the trucks 'shining.' The river was about 100 feet distant from our camp yet we washed the trucks with gasoline using a light mixture of oil to give the trucks a nice finish. During the winter 1500 gallons of gasoline and large quantities of oil were used for washing trucks and short detail duties. It was too much trouble to carry the water from the river although it was only 100 feet distant. In my detail work, I visited many stations and saw the same practice invogue. There was no way to check the use of gasoline by the individual trucks as no individual records were kept as is the practice in business."

"The waste was not confined to completely washing truck but often times when a truck was washed an order would come detailing it on when the truck would be sent out and when returned the waste operation of washing would begin again and gasoline was the substitute used for water."

"Adenau was another German town at which we were quartered," continued Mr. Lukens, "and while there many Germans visited the station. We were engaged in our usual way of washing trucks with gasoline. Several Germans inquired what we were using and they were told: water. They knew what we were using and strongly protested saying they would have to pay for the gross extravagance. The station was a good sized one and the extravagance was great."

"There were two permanent stations at Neunahr, near the Rhine, and there was a good water supply tapped by fire hydrants but even with water so plentiful and handy (Continued on Page Five)

A MODEST HERO

Harry F. Dixon, a young Ohio lad, a comrade of John F. DeHaven, the young West Conshohocken boy who paid the supreme sacrifice in the cause of democracy in France, fighting with the Fifth Regiment in U. S. Marine Corps, has proven himself to be one of the most modest of the hundreds of thousands of the United States fighters to take part in the great World War.

Young Dixon, who is scarcely out of his teens comes from Ohio and had not that state any other men in the rank and file of the army the deeds of daring and bravery of this youth were sufficient to give him prominent recognition.

When war was declared against the Imperial German Government by the United States, young Dixon was one of the first to offer his services and he enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was sent to League Island, Philadelphia, and soon became a fast friend of young DeHaven. While the two were in training in Philadelphia, Dixon frequently visited the DeHaven home and made many friends here.

He went to France with the first contingent going over with General Pershing. He went through the terrible struggle and took part in all of the hardest battles. His deeds of bravery and heroism attracted the attention of his officers and he was presented with the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Medal. He has also a citation for extreme bravery in times of great danger signed by General Pershing. At the time the armistice was signed the young hero was seriously ill with the "flu". He recovered his health returned to this country with his regiment. He participated in the parade of his regiment in Washington last week. The parade was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh DeHaven, of West Conshohocken, the parents of John F. DeHaven. They met young Dixon and the following day he came to the West Borough for a visit.

It was not until after he had been talking for a long time that he even hinted that he had been decorated or ever cited for bravery. When questioned as to what had become of his medals and citation then he reached his hand in the inside pocket of his coat and displayed them. In speaking of his actions the modest young man explained that he only did his duty the same as any true American should do.

American Legion Charter Received

The charter of the local post of the American Legion has been received by Chairman Albert S. Allison who has called a meeting of the local soldiers this evening at 8:40.

The charter gives the organization the number of Post 58. It is now necessary to give the post a name. It has been suggested by one of the members to use the name of the first soldier from this district who fell in battle. Therefore the name of John DeHaven son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh DeHaven of West Conshohocken, will be the name suggested to the local Post.

The most important part of the business of the Post this evening will be the election of officers as communications are being received by the chairman to such an extent that it is impossible for him to answer them to the satisfaction of the Post and the parties sending them. The officers elected at this meeting will hold office until November 11 at which time another election will be held for the following year.

All soldiers interested in the organization are cordially invited to attend the meeting and especially those who have already expressed their intentions to become members of the Legion. An especially cordial invitation is extended to all the members of the G. A. R.

Child Dies Suddenly

Mildred M., daughter of William R. and Golden Woodward, aged 15 months, died at 4 o'clock this morning at her parents' home 179 Front street, West Conshohocken.

The child was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon. A physician was called to attend the child and pronounced the illness due to gastritis. The illness rapidly progressed until death ensued.

Funeral services will be held at her parents residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. J. Kennedy Moorhouse rector of Calvary P. E. church will conduct the service. The interment will be at Gulf cemetery.

A QUIET CHURCH WEDDING

A quiet church wedding was solemnized last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Calvary P. E. church by Rev. J. K. Moorehouse when Miss Grace Webb, daughter of Mrs. Ida Webb, of Harry street, and William O. Weinrich, of Holyoke, Mass., were united in marriage.

They were attended by the bride's brother, Earl Webb, who gave her away.

After the wedding the couple were served with dinner at the home of the bride's mother leaving later for New York City and Holyoke, Mass., to visit the groom's parents.

They will return to the bride's mother's home Friday where the bride will remain for about two months. The groom will leave for Chicago where he has accepted a position with a large rubber concern as a mechanical engineer.

During the war the groom served in the army and was commissioned as a First Lieutenant.

The bride and groom were both employed at the Lee Tire and Rubber Company, she in the office and he as a mechanical engineer.

BOILERMAKERS TO HAVE A PICNIC

The Boilermakers' Union, Local 559, will give a big picnic at Augustine Beach on Saturday, September 6. The union has chartered the steamer Thomas Clyde for the day and the Union are arranging to take over 1000 persons, members of the Union, their families and their friends. They will have the boat to themselves and the committee in charge of entertainment is arranging a fine program during the boat trip and at the beach. One of the features at the beach will be a game of base ball between two teams of the Industrial League.

APPOINTED COMMITTEEMAN

George W. Jones has been appointed Republican committeeman for the Fourth ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward Bailey. Mr. Jones for many years has been an active Republican worker, has served in town council and is very well known throughout the ward and borough.

Narrowly Escapes Death At P. R. R. Station

George Wood, of East Fifth avenue, narrowly escaped death at the Harry street crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday morning, when he fell while crossing the track in front of the 8.06 train as it was about to pull out from the station.

Mr. Wood was hurrying up Harry street from Washington street in order to board the train which was standing in the station. He went to the platform for the south bound trains and found the doors of the cars closed. He ran the entire length of the train but could not board it. He retraced his steps to cross the tracks ahead of the locomotive and board the train from the other side. As he crossed the tracks, he caught his foot in the signal wires and was thrown, his body lay across the track. The signal was given to start the train and the engineer not seeing the prostrate man started the train when the fireman saw the form of the man on the track. He called to the engineer who immediately stopped the train as the pilot of the engine within a few inches of the fallen man.

Mr. Wood regained his feet and boarded the train. He was painfully but not seriously hurt by his fall. He returned to his home on an early train.

A platform is maintained at the station for passengers for south bound trains in order that passengers may not be compelled to cross the north bound track to board and leave trains. However, few passengers use the south platform on this occasion the train was closed to passengers from the platform.

Big Sales of Army Foods

The people are taking full advantage of the Government's offering of surplus army foods and Postmaster Rafferty has a great number of orders. The supply of canned cherries and vegetable soup has been exhausted. Large orders have been received for dried beans and the canned meats are selling very rapidly.

There is great demand for canned fruits which greatly exceeds the supply.

The Herbert Hosliery Mills will entertain all their employees in their local plant, numbering about 150 persons, at a picnic at Spring Mount along the Perkiomen, tomorrow. The party will be transported to and from the grounds in motor trucks and a fine program of amusements has been arranged for the enjoyment of the party.

1 DEMOCRAT NAMED FOR TOWN COUNCIL

REPUBLICAN CONTESTS

The Democrats are taking very little interest in the coming primary election for nominations for borough offices. The party has no candidates for the four vacancies to be filled in the school board and in only one ward, the First, is there a candidate for town council.

The First ward is the only one in which the party is showing any activity. The party has a big registration in the ward and the leaders are all young men who are going to try and place the ward back in its old position as a solid Democratic ward. Their candidate for council is Louis Kelly, a returned soldier and a popular young man.

The Republicans will make a contest at the November election to try and swing it for their party and have placed a ticket in the field to be nominated without opposition.

David Hayes, bookkeeper at the First National bank is the Republican candidate. Another contest will be for ward constable between Francis Connelly, Democrat, and Frank Ruggiero, Republican, the present incumbent.

The only contests for council are in the Third and Fifth wards and are among the Republicans. In the Third ward Elwood Noblit and David H. Ross, both former councilmen, are contesting for the nomination. In the Fifth ward there is a three cornered fight for the two nominations: President of council Williams is again candidate with Florence Jacobus and Millard Davis.

The other candidates for Republican nominations are the same as announced in the Recorder of last Tuesday, the only addition being Joseph Bartolo, of the First ward, who is a candidate to succeed himself for the office of high constable. He is running on the Republican ticket and is to be voted for in all the districts of the borough.

The West Conshohocken candidates are the same as announced last Tuesday in the Recorder both parties having a full ticket for all borough offices.

RESIGNS AS WORKS MANAGER

M. L. Wagner, who has been works manager of the plant of the John Wood Manufacturing Company for a number of years, has resigned his position and will become associated with the Pangborn Company, Hagers town Md. as superintendent of their factory. Mr. Wagner will leave here on September 30. Mr. Wagner has been very successful in his work and his many friends wish him every success in his new field.

Mr. Wagner will be succeeded by J. M. Winer, who now occupies the position as works engineer, and has been a member of the company organization for sometime.

WELCOME TO SOLDIER

A welcome home party was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hanton 452 Elm street in honor of their nephew Joseph C. Hanton who recently returned from overseas service after serving nineteen months with the 2nd Division. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

The rooms were prettily decorated with the National colors and American beauty roses. Refreshments were served. The splendid dancing of Mr. Francis Murphy was highly appreciated.

The guest present were from Conshohocken, Norristown, Philadelphia and New York.

Council to Decide 3rd Ave. Grading

The street committee has received bids in the readvertised proposals and have decided to have the bids opened at a special meeting of council, called for the purpose next Monday evening. The call for the meeting states the purpose as being: to open bids for and to consider the grading of Third avenue from Fayette to Harry street. The original bids received were said to be very high and the committee desires that council will decide as to the work.

OFFICIAL OF A. O. H.

Philip Crisman, a past officer of the A. O. H. is a delegate from this district attending the State convention now in session at Atlantic City. He is serving as one of the secretaries of the convention.

SCHOOL ADMISSIONS

The public schools will open on Monday, September 8 and all beginners must have a permit for entrance. Superintendent Eckert will be at his office in the Third avenue school all of next week to issue beginners' permits. All beginners must show certificates of vaccination.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Notice to Gas Consumers

During the past two years, the prices of raw material entering into the manufacture and distribution of gas have been rising. At present they are approximately 100 Per Ct. higher than in 1916. In common with other public utilities companies throughout the country, the Counties Gas and Electric Company has felt the burden, particularly through increased prices of coal, oil and labor.

In order to continue to give the consumers of the Company the high quality of service which this Company is rendering, it is necessary to increase its rates 10c per 1000 cubic feet, in order to partly offset the effect high prices have had upon its earnings.

While this Company desires to continue to bear its share of the burden imposed upon all by the high prices, it feels that in equity it should be relieved of some portion of the increased cost.

This Company has in the interest of its consumers, effected every economy possible in the operation of its business, and only resorts to an increase in rates as a last measure.

On and after September 15th, 1919, the new rate schedule will be as follows:

	Rate Per 1000 Cubic Feet
	Gross	Discount	Net
First 10,000 cubic feet or any part thereof per month	$1.20	$.10	$1.10
Next 20,000 cubic feet or any part thereof per month	1.10	.10	1.00
Next 20,000 cubic feet or any part thereof per month	1.00	.10	.90
Over 50,000 cubic feet per month	.90	.10	.80

Minimum Charge: 30c per month.

DISCOUNT: A discount of 10c per 1000 cubic feet will be allowed on all bills paid at the office of the Company within ten days after presentation.

No discount allowed on minimum charge.

PLYMOUTH MEETING

Messrs Carson and Ewing of Hickorytown will recuperate at Seaside Heights N. J. during all of next week.

The Ladies Aid connected with the Plymouth United Evangelical church have arranged for their annual festival on Saturday afternoon and evening August 23rd on the church lawn.

Professor Dill of Norristown will instruct the Bible class at the Hickorytown Mission next Sabbath afternoon and have charge of the evening services.

Mr. Johnson of Harmonville is preparing to move into one of Jonathan Webster's houses at the Seven Stars. The Hallman residence in which he has resided for some few years has been sold to Mr. Skilton of Spring Mill, thus necessitating the vacating on the part of Mr. Johnson.

John Lynch has secured a position with the P. R. R. as clerk at the Raritan freight station in Bridgeport.

Mr. Lynch served as clerk to the Train Master at White Marsh Junction for several months, but was laid off when the Director General of Railroads compelled force reduction last Spring.

Labor Day will be celebrated at the Hickorytown Mission by a general clean up outside and in. The male portion of the Mission will give the grounds a complete going over, and the women folks will attend to the inside of the building by cleaning windows, floor and all other portions requiring their attention. Estates will be on hand for dinner and supper, and a social occasion will close the exercises of the day.

A P. R. R. Boarding car was placed on the Narcessis siding last evening in which the Company workmen will be housed while rebuilding the coal trestle leased and operated by the Samuel Rhoads Estate. The car went to the siding well supplied with substantial food stuffs for the men who will be detailed for the work of reconstruction.

The wrecking of eight loaded cars in a Philadelphia & Reading freight train Wednesday morning while passing through the White Marsh Junction yard, did considerable damage to the track for almost one quarter of a mile. So great was the damage to the track that a large force of workmen were called to the scene who worked all day, Wednesday and Thursday in repairing. The heavy rails were bent and twisted into various shapes and many of the ties reduced to kindling wood before the train came to a halt. The wreck appeared to have been caused by a truck jumping the track and breaking.

SPRING MILL

Jacob Staley will cease his military boy service with the American Magnesia & Covering Company tomorrow, preparatory to attending the high school at Barren Hill, as the Fall and Winter term will open September 8th.

Jesse Hansell of East Hector street George Greger and father of East Elm street and Joseph Hill of Manayunk spent Sunday at the Towns- end Inlet and caught 50 fine eels.

Lafayette paper mill is very busy. The pulp mill is running several nights a week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Raser, of Spring Mill, a son, Clifford.

The new piano at the Spring Mill Baptist church is greatly appreciated by the congregation.

The Misses Ruth Skilton, of Cedar Grove, and Mary Haverstack, of Spring Mill, enjoyed the week-end at Wildwood, N. J.

Mrs. Rogers, of Georgetown, Del., has returned home after spending a few days at the home of her son, Charles, of Cedar Heights.

Mrs. Charles Rogers and daughter Helen are spending two weeks at the home of her mother at Georgetown, Del.

About 20 couples attended the watermelon party given at the home of Harry Metz. A very enjoyable time was had.

Richard Gallagher, of Spring Mill Avenue, has secured a position at the packing department of the Andorra Nurseries.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. A. J. Davies, Minister
Announcements for Sunday, August 24, 1919:

LEE TIRE NOW HAS CHANCE FOR CUP

By Winning From the J. Wood Team Last Night the Lee Tire Team Has Made Possible a Three Team Tie For First Place—Game to be Protested.

Since winning from the John Wood Mfg. Company last evening the Lee Tire and Rubber Company's team has made possible a three team tie for first place in the league and possibly championship for themselves. They won by the score of 11 to 4.

With their standing now at 6 won 3 and another game to play with the H. C. Jones team whose standing is 7 won and 2 lost they have a chance to win and make the standing of the H. C. Jones Co., J. Wood Mfg. Co., and themselves at 7 won 3 lost for each of them.

Garrigan and Mossman were unable to stop the heavy hitting of the tire makers and left them make 12 safe hits while their team mates made only 4 on Moyer.

How The Runs were scored

Moyer's single in the first started the scoring for the tire men by scoring Kennedy.

The battermakers failed to score in the first inning and also in the second.

Maggio made a nice catch in center of a long high fly knocked by G. Ruser with two men on base, and helped to keep down the score of the Lee team. Carson's single in the second started a rally scoring Hoy and helping J. Ruser to cross the plate on the catcher's error. Carson then stole home when the catcher was looking for his mask.

J. Ruser's single scored the only run for the tire men in the third by bringing in Moyer.

Moyer made the first run for the battermakers in the third by walking and stealing second and third and crossing the plate on an overthrow.

McCall's single in the fourth started a rally bringing in G. Ruser. McCall then scored on Kennedy's single. Drennan's single scores Kennedy and Moyer. Desinger doubled but Drennan could not make the circuit.

Carson made one run for the tire men in the fifth by singling and scoring on John's error.

The battermakers failed to score in the fifth and sixth innings while Garrigan held the tire makers score less in the sixth.

J. Ruser scored the 11th and last run for the Lee boys by crossing the plate on Carson's single.

The battermakers made a rally in the seventh which was short and netted them but two runs Farrell singled and scored Maggio and came in on Moyer's single.

The John Wood team will protest the game on the grounds that Carson was not entered on the list of eligible players at the proper time.

JONES TEAM FALLS HEAVILY TO GLASSMEN'S HITTING

The H. C. Jones team fell heavily to the onslaught of Ruth Glass Workers heavy hitting batters, Wednesday evening by the score of 11 to 4.

Ferrier's double at the beginning of the first inning started the downfall of the Jones boys. Griffith followed him with another and brought him home scoring the first run. Williams then brought Griffith in by a single and ended the inning.

Kilpatrick's sacrifice in the first inning scoring J. Desimone, who had walked, started the scoring for the H. C. Jones team. Blake made the second run for the Jones boys by making a triple and coming home on Murphy's sacrifice. Williams scored the third run by making a single and crossing the plate on S. Desimone's single.

Blake walked Hastings and Ruth at the beginning of the second. Rein sacrificed and brings in Hastings. He then stole second on a pitched ball and drew catcher Desimone's throw to second giving Ruth a chance to score. Ferrier again made a double scoring Rein.

The Jones boys were unable to score more than one run in the second and were held scoreless during the remainder of the game.

Ruth's single in the third started the scoring bringing in Hastings. Ruth made a sensational slide head-first to second while Hastings was crossing the plate. Grauel's single ended the scoring by bringing in Ruth.

Ferrier filed to Donovan and came in on Griffith's grounder to Desimone. Griffith finished the inning by scoring on Kindregan's single.

Gaith beat out a bunt in the fifth and scored Rein. Williams' sacrifice scored Ferrier and ended the inning. The sixth inning was scoreless for the Ruth men and was the first and last that ended so.

As darkness was fast approaching the game was called but not until the glass men had scored two more runs which are not included in the official score. Rein and Ferrier got on base by singles scoring on Williams' single.

BATTLE OF IRON WORKERS

The Alan Wood Iron & Steel Co. of the Norristown Industrial League, will clash with the Alan Wood Iron & Steel Co.'s team of the Conshohocken Industrial League on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. on the Sherwood grounds.

This game promises to be a very hard fought contest as it is for the championship of the Alan Wood Iron & Steel Company. Both teams will have their strongest lineup as this will be their biggest game of the year. McCauley, the star pitcher for the Conshohocken iron workers, says he is in fine form and that he and his team are going to give the Ivy Rock steel workers a fine trimming.

RAIN AGAIN STOPS LEE-JONES GAME

The game between the Lee Tire team and the H. C. Jones team of the Industrial League was again postponed on account of rain Tuesday evening. With the postponement of this game the league season will have to be extended to next week.
