RELATIVE IN PURSUIT

The quick wit of nine-year-old Charles Bonti Wednesday night saved him from the fate of Blakely Coughlin. Kidnappers had taken him early in the evening, while playing near his home at West Basin street and Fremont avenue, Norristown, but late at night he managed to elude them and was returned safely to his home.

The daring abduction attempt, coming as a sequel to the mysterious Blakely Coughlin thirteen-month-old baby, from the nurzery of its parents' home just out side of Norristown, has aroused the residents of the town.

At 8.30 o'clock that night children ran to Paul Catanese, uncle of Charles Bonti, and told him that two men had driven up to where they were turned. playing in a small car. They asked which one was Charley and immedistely whisked him into their car and

The police have a fair description of the abductors and expect to make arrests soon.

FIREMEN GIVEN LONG HUNT FOR FIRE

A fire in a hedge at Meadowbrook, the estate of Mrs. Carter, in Lower Merion just beyond the West Conshohocken borough line gave the George Clay and the Conshohocken No. 2 fire companies a run and a long hunt for the fire early Tuesday evening.

Report had it that the home of S. Gordon Smyth was afire and the companies went there. Mr. Smyth was great throng of people come onto his lawn making inquiries as to the fire.

Mr. Smyth had not heard the alarm and new nothing of the fire. The nremen sent out parties into various sections making inquiries and after a long hunt found that a fire had been discovered in a hedge on the Meadowbrook estate which was extinguished before the firemen arrived.

Where the alarm came from is a mystery which the firemen and the Bell Telephone Company are trying to solve. The Telephone company is making an investigation in an effort to find out who sent in the alarm.

.. AIR TANK EXPLOSION

A few minutes after & o'clock Tuesday evening the whole lower section of town was shook by the explosion of an air tank at the works of the John Wood Manufacturing Company. People believed a serious accident had occurred and many made their way to the railroads and canal bank.

The cause of the excitement was an air tank located in the open space between the tank shop and the new galvanizing shop of the company on the berme bank. The tank exploded without warning and was hurled through the brick wall of the galvanizing shop. No one was working in the shop at the time and the only damage done was to the wall.

NO EXCUSE FOR COAL BOOST

The American stricken without reason or excuse over the coal supply

This statement made last night by George H. Cushing managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Association. He declared that there is not now and shortage, and, furthermore, there is no danger in the near future of any coal shortage in this country.

Mr. Cushing placed the blame for much of the coal shortage agitation, which, he said, had thrown the country to the verge of panic, on "too much Governmental agitation of the danger of a famine."

Since last November, Mr. Cushing said, there had not been a day when some Governmental agency had not been busy "frightening the people with a coal famine," but no excuse, he added, for the present high coal prices prevailing in the open market.

DRIVES CAR TO OWNER

The Buick roadster stolen from the garage of Vincent Wood, superinendent of the J. Wood department of fhe Alan Wood I. & S. Co., at his nome in Resement, on Monday, was returned to him late Wednesday afternoon in a damaged condition. The machine was driven into the garage by the man who stole the car but he was accompanied by State trooper Tipton, who arrested him and took him before Magstrate Joseph C. Hunter, at Wayne, and was held without ball for trail at court on the charge of stealing the machine.

The man arrested is Horace Smith, colored, of Bryn Mawr

Smith drove into Mr. Wood's driveway on Monday in a Velie machine No one was at home at the Wood house except a Smith asked for assistance to repair his tire and she told him to go nto the garage and he could have the oan of an air pump. Smith drove the Velie into the garage and jumper into Mr. Wood's Buick roadster and drove away. The police were notified of the theft and the first trace of the stolen car was had at Ambler where a garage man notified the State police a colored man had had minor repairs made to a Buick roadster which answered the description of the stolen

Trooper Tipton at once began to hunt the man and the car and traced both to Coatesville and thence to Parkesburg where he entered a garage and demanded the car. At first the garage people denied such a car was in the place but the officer sisted it was there and he was taken to the rear of the garage where he found the car and Smith sitting in it, Smith had met with an accident dur ing his night drive and the fenders of the car were badly damaged, and the good tires had been exchanged for two badly worn tires. Tipton got into the car and ordered Smith to drive to the Wood home, On the trip to Rosemont, they passed a number of local policemen none of whom recognized the car. Smith said that he had driven through Norristown three times and was not detected.

Upon arriving at the Wood home, the trooper ordered Smith to place the car where he had found it and the prisoner drove the car to its place in the garage. The maid, who gave Smith permishouse to identify Smith but she could speak. Smith exclaimed: "That is the woman who told me to go to the garage and get the pump." The Velie car left at Wood garage, the State police discovered belonged to Timothy Downing, of Glonces-ter, N. J. and when Mr. Wood reported that it was in his garage, inquirles were made regarding the car. Both cars were insured. The police regard the capture of Smith as an important one, and are now working on information, which they have, involving a number of accomplices of Smith and expect gang of automobile thieves. Smith, it is said, is an employe of the Krouse Motor Company, Philadelphia, dealer in second hand cars, He made a statement in which he said that he was to deliver a machine to the Curtis Publishing Company, but could not get into their garage and he came away and then drove through Lower Merion when he drove into the Wood place when one of his tires was punctured. Mr. Wood was greatly pleased at he capture of the thief and the re turn of his car. The State police told him they would capture the thief very soon but their work was done more quickly and efficiently than expected.

Haliman Wynn, superintendent over the State Highway system throughout this locality, is making improvements to the roads at Bird-in-Hand and nearby places. In addition to the telegraph poles and fences along the state road being whitewashed this year, the sidewails of the Bird-in-Hand bridge over the Guif creek have also been given a coating of whitewash, which although it cannot be said to improve the appearance of the structure, the color makes the bridge conspicous to the eyes on motor driv ers, and thereby assists in lessening the danger of accidents. Considering the heavy travel over Montgomery avenue in the summer season, and the dangerous curves, the accidents to motorists have surely been kept at a minimum. For many years that portion of the highway along the Gulf creek near the overhanging rock was one of the most dangerous places in existence anywhere, in that it was unprotected, no fence existed, and drivers of teams often found themselves floundering about in the waters of the creek or trying to gair their equilibrium following the scene -John T, Haines and granddaugh- which ensued from the wreckage, befor by her sons, spent the holidays with motor driven vehicle. FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1920.

The next President of the United States will be a newspaperman. It will be the first time in the history of the country a newspaperman has been so honored. Both Harding and Cox are publishers and active newspaper workers.

The State police are ever proving their efficiency as trained and the lowest for any one month and efficient protectors of the people and property. Wednesday inis year was $106,975 in February, atternoon, a State trooper riding in a stolen automobile with the and it was greater than in any month thief as his chauffeur drove through Radnor and Lower Merion townships and was seen by several policemen and was not molested. The trooper was taking the car back to its owner and the police were supposed to be on the look out for the car. This is but another argument in favor of having boroughs and townships policed by State police, men specially trained for the work.

Maintaining the Park.

In dedicating the Mary H. Wood park to the people of Conshohocken for their recreation and enjoyment, the speakers impressed upon the people that the park and its buildings are theirs. | Scott Gies, inspector of the canal, They own it. Their representatives in town council have absoulte control of the property with no restrictions whatever so long as the park and buildings are maintained for the recreation and the canal drawn by four horses, and enjoyment of the people.

The speakers also impressed their hearers upon the importance of every person constituting himself and herself a protector of the property—their property—against acts of vandalism and acts of disorder, that the park may be always safe and pleasant for women and children to spend happy hours there.

Many visitors to the park offered many suggestions for additional recreation features. Many of the suggestions have long structed and the tide ebbed and been considered by the park commission but unfortunately they flowed to beyond what is now Manacannot be applied because of lack of funds.

The endowment fund is $125,000 a large amount of money, but it must be remembered the commission is confined to the use of the income only from this fund. The income is not sufficient to provide additional recreation features at present and was insufficient to provide many of the improvements that have already been made. Public spirited citizens have made generous brought down the river next year, donations of benches, electric light poles and other articles val- however, to replace much of the railued at several hundred dollars. The commission has built walks road transporting. and with the cost of maintenance, the funds for the year will not admit of further improvements.

Improvements will have to be made gradually as the funds to run the large turbine wheels in the permit and if the people will give their aid in safeguarding the park from unlawful acts and aid in enforcing the regulations, the park will be quickly developed into a most beautiful and pleasant recreation center.

As Mr. Cooper stated "public sentiment will be more effective than any police force in maintaining order and decency in the park" and this sentiment will be created when every resident understands that he or she is a part owner and should protect their property that its usefulness may grow and increase in value for recreation purposes each year.

The people are proud of their park and undoubtedly will aid in its preservation and progress.

The convention straddled between their platform and their standard bearer, and the "wets" are openly receiving Governor Cox as their champion.

No matter what may be said, the nomination of Cox was due to the influence of Tammany, Taggart, Nugent and Sullivan, none of whose records will show their labors have been for the public interest and advancement. Their purposes are purely thunder-storms they should examine political and to strengthen themselves at home.

The Wilson administration did not appeal strongly enough to the Democratic party for its convention to nominate an Administration man and this fact is particularly pleasing to the Republican press and party.

The number of papers fired and the rezenue received in the business of the department broke all records for any half year and preliminary, entries of papers indicate heavy business for the remainder of the year. The department was reorganized under an Act passed in 1919, and an increase in business occurred in each of its bureaus of the first half of 1920. In the six months ending June 30, the department turned into the state Treasury $1,009,908, against $404,171 for the same period of 1919. Of this revenue $877,280 was paid to the State as bonus on stock and bonds. The gross amount of capital stock on which the State was paid the bonus aggregated $263,548,909 in value agrinst $99,120,990, stock on which bonus was paid the Commonwealth in the first half of last year, when the

A PLAYGROUND MEMORIAL

As a tribute to the spirit of self sacrifice with which the young men of Harper's Ferry, West Virginia, entered the World War, the Parent Teacher Association of that town is promoting plans for purchasing and equipping a community playground and recreation center. Two fields will be used as playgrounds for child ren of all ages, and a third, waten faces the main street, will be equipped as a recreation center and atective resting place for the wayfarer. Here will be placed a simple memorial tablet, a speaker's stand, iron benches, the whole made beautiful with flowers and shrubbery. Already the school board has appropriated five hundred dollars toward the purchase, with the underby public subscription.

ON LOSES BY LIGHTNING

Figures issued by the Bureau of Fire Protection of the State Police Department show that since the State began to gather fire statistics, 3786 fires were caused by lightning, causing loss of $1,810,557. The figures also show that only twenty losses were sustained by fires due to lightning on buildings which did not have lightning rods. The losses in these fires were less than $50,000 of the total.

The bureau has issued a warning to people as this is the season of thunder-storms they should examine all lightning rods to correct defects, remove corrosion where rods enter the ground and see that cables or ends are far enough down to insure reaching damp earth.

Triple Tested Range Boilers

Every Electric Weld range boiler is triple tested. Conshohocken has reason to be proud of its products and the reputation made by the range boiler town is a credit to the community. Electric Welds are tested before brazing. The famous "test in black" comes before galvanizing. After galvanizing, the air test is applied. Therefore the name "Quality Range Boiler" has properly been given to a product of this town's careful workmen.

"Yes," said Mr. Frigate Bird, "I will tell some more. Under my bill I have a little orange sac which you have, too. Your colors, of course, are dull compared to mine, but you're a nice frigate bird for all that!

"We don't walk very well for our feet are so small and so delicate with no strength to them at all. Our four toes upon each foot are joined by webs and our tails are also a hindrance when we walk.

"We like fish to eat better than anything, and can dive down and catch fish from other sea birds before they've had a chance to eat their meal. That is a very good joke,"

All the frigate birds laughed hard. "And," added Mrs. Frigate Bird, "we only lay one egg in the spring, the early, early spring.

"Our nest was on top of a bush and was made of a little layer of
