HEALTH BOARD SETS TIME TO CLEAN TOWN

All Residents Asked to Join in a General Clean Up of Town Starting Next Monday.

WELLS UNFIT FOR USE

The Board of health at its regular meeting in the borough hall last evening decided to join in the national campaign against dirt and filth and has designated next week, beginning on Monday, as clean up week for Conshohocken.

Dr. William McKenzie, president of the board, presided over the meeting and announced that the board will be active throughout his administration and proposed a plan, agreed to by all the members, for a division of the work and frequent surveys of the health conditions of the town.

James M. Morrison, who has been a member of the board for a number of years, resigned his seat. The resignation was accepted and the board will recommend his successor to town council at its next regular meeting.

President McKenzie suggested that as the board is composed of a member from each ward, each member will make inspections of conditions in his own ward with the health officer and will act in remedying ordinary matters without bringing them to the attention of the board beforehand. This plan is expected to give immediate relief to the citizens and preventing trivial things to grow obnoxious.

The people residing in Wilson's row in East Sixth avenue, complained that a drain in the rear of the properties overflows and permits surface water to drain into their cellars. The board will view the drain on Saturday and will make recommendations to remedy the matter.

A sample of water was taken from a well in East Elm street, the water from which is used for drinking and household purposes. It was found the water contained much vermin visible to the naked eye. The owner of the property was notified to immediately close the well. Investigation will be made of other wells in the lower section of town and if the water is found unfit for use, the wells will be closed.

Clean up week will begin next Monday morning. Health officer Roberts and all the members of the board of health will take an active part in the work of cleaning up the entire town. Every resident is asked to assist to the extent of cleaning their own properties. The board desires all residents to clean all rubbish from yards, alleys, corners and outbuildings. The board will have all public drains and gutters cleaned and will take the opportunity to have nuisances of long standing abated.

Health statistics show that many diseases are preventable if cleanliness is adhered to and that 50 per cent. of wear and tear on clothing and house furnishings is due to dirt and grime.

The members of the new board of health is: Dr. William McKenzie, president; First ward, Dr. George T. Lukens; Third ward, Judson W. Sage; Fourth ward, Alexander Young; Fifth ward, Samuel Roberts, secretary and health officer. The second ward membership is vacant owing to the resignation of Mr. Morrison.

EDWARD J. COLLINS

Edward J. Collins, a former well known resident of this borough died at his home in Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Collins was the son of the late Joseph and Margaret Collins who resided here for more than fifty years. He was born in Philadelphia, the family coming to Conshohocken in 1863. As a boy he was a pupil of St. Matthew's Parochial school. Later he was tenor singer in St. Matthew's church choir, a member of the old St. Matthew's Literary Society and always actively interested in church affairs and entertainments. He was very well known and had many friends.

Mr. Collins resided here until some years ago, when he was appointed chief engineer of the North American Building in Philadelphia. Several months ago, his health became impaired and he was obliged to take a vacation. Although his condition at times was alarming, he was not thought to be critically ill, and his death came very suddenly Sunday afternoon and was a great shock to his family and his friends. He is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters: Edward, Joseph, Francis, Mrs. Edward Donley, Sister Rose Cecilia, of the order of St. Joseph Sisterhood, and Madeline, all of Philadelphia. A daughter, Sister Celalia, of the St. Joseph Order died several years ago.

The funeral will take place Friday morning from his late residence 1351 North Second street, Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Michael's church. Interment in Holy Cross cemetery.

CONSHOHOCKEN A. A. TO HOLD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Conshohocken A. A. will be held in the Park House to-morrow evening. Among the business to be brought before the members for consideration, will be the report of the base ball committee and the advisability of proceeding with the erection of the grand stand on the new athletic field.

MOTOR COMPANY REPAIRS NEARING COMPLETION

The repairs and alterations now in course of operation at the sales and service station of the Sandone Motor Company, at Fayette street and Twelfth avenue are nearing completion and within a few days the company will open their place of business to the public.

The improvements which have been made have entailed an expenditure of several hundred dollars but the company has been liberal in their expense in order to better serve their patrons.

The company is an authorized Ford agency and nothing will be handled but Ford cars and parts. The building has been divided into compartments so that the service may be rapid and accurate.

When the place of business is thrown open to the public the company will be in a position to furnish any and all parts of the Ford car.

In order that the best service might be given the agency will open both day and night.

Only expert machinists will be employed, and each and every one will be specialists of the Ford car. The company is composed of Michael Sandone, a man who has had wide experience in the Ford machines and who has conducted agencies for the company in other places with much success. Associated with Mr. Sandone is Walter H. Reynolds, the Nationally known golf figure.

Since locating in this borough several weeks ago the company has disposed of thirty-one new machines and one Fordson tractor.

New Fire Truck To Be Put On Exhibition

The White chassis on which will be erected the Hale fire pump for Conshohocken Fire Company No. 2, is expected to arrive from the White Motor Company Cleveland Ohio, sometime today and will be taken to the hose house at the corner of Ninth avenue and Harry street where it will be placed on exhibition until the latter end of the week. All persons are asked to visit the hose house and personally inspect the chassis just as it is received. Next week the chassis will be removed to the plant of the Hale Fire Pump Company, on Spring Mill avenue where the work of completing it will be started immediately. It is expected the machine will be ready for delivery by the middle of July.

A meeting of the Apparatus Committee of the fire company was held in the hose house last evening and it was decided to pay the purchase price of the chassis ($4500.00) as soon as it arrives.

Last Saturday afternoon the Radnor Fire Company of Wayne came to this borough and gave a public demonstration in behalf of the local company. The Radnor Company is equipped with two pumps of the same type being purchased by Conshohocken Fire Company and the demonstration was to show the local people what the pump will do.

The first exhibition was given along the canal close to the temporary bridge. The water was pumped with a thirty feet suction pump. The pump worked at full capacity and did all that was claimed for it. Following the demonstration in the lower end of the town the machine was taken to Ninth avenue and Harry street and connected with a plug having a pressure of twenty one pounds and when working at full speed raised the pressure to one hundred and twenty-five pounds.

FIRE COMPANY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Plymouth Fire Company was held last evening. Charles Monticello and John L. Murphy who have been assistant chiefs of the company tendered their resignations and the same were accepted and J. Crossen and Tony Monticello were elected to serve the unexpired term. The committee appointed to have the rear wheels of the fire truck cut down to a standard size, reported that the work had been completed and the apparatus was out of service for only a couple of days. The report was accepted and the committee discharged. Several members pledged themselves to raise funds for the company of which they are badly in need. The company receives no appropriation from the township and the only donations received are from private individuals.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD'S ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Thirty-sixth Annual Meeting of the Presidents of the Branches of The Needlework Guild of America will be held on Thursday and Friday in the Rose Garden of the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia. The meetings will open at eleven o'clock; luncheon will be served on Thursday at half past one o'clock. Cards of admission are necessary for the Thursday morning meeting only.

The afternoon session of Thursday and all day Friday will be open to all who may be interested to attend.

Mrs. George N. Highley President of the local branch with a number of delegates will attend the meetings but Mrs. Highley will be the only one entitled to vote.

The Needlework Guild of America according to custom meets in annual convention in Philadelphia in alternate years. Philadelphia is the home town of the guild. It was here thirty six years ago a group of young women organized on the lines of the English guild founded a few years earlier by Lady Wolvorton. How well they succeeded is evidenced annually in May when women from half the States in the Union come as delegates to the yearly meeting. The meeting, which opens Thursday will be the largest ever held. There will be addresses by the founder, Mrs. John Wood Stewart, and by the president Mrs. Truman H. Newberry. Dr. Francis H. Greer will give the address of Thursday afternoon. Chairman will report and there will be reports from the presidents of branches. On Thursday evening Mrs. George Pales Baker gives a supper and reception to national officers and delegates, this to be in the Bellevue-Stratford ballroom.

On Friday there is a general conference of Branch Workers with Mrs. E. G. Sreuve presiding. The luncheon on Thursday is one of the festive features and during the sessions of the convention there will be community singing, led by Clara Yocum Joyce.

The object of the Needlework Guild is to collect and distribute new, plain, all suitable garments to meet the need of hospitals homes and other charities and to extend its usefulness by the organization of branches. There are now more than 500 branches in the United States. By these garments are collected and every autumn displayed at a meeting and later distributed. The annual contribution of two or more articles or a donation of money constitute membership in the guild through the action of the branches. The constant growth in the number of branches has been remarkable; even during the war period there was no diminution in the number of garments collected. The national office of the guild is in Philadelphia in the Franklin Building. The national secretary, Miss Rosamond Bender, is in charge. All sessions of the coming meeting, except that of Thursday morning are open to any interested person.

BLIND

Floyd Meredith in Argosy.

She told me of a motor ride
And of a cabaret,
Of men and girls, of wine and song.

She heard along the way,
She spoke of gold and jewels rare,
Of conquests she had made,
And then of death, in lower tone
As if she was afraid.

She had come out to see men,
In the twilight's after-glow,
To speak of her vacation
And the people we both know.

I listened, smiling once or twice,
For I was interested
To hear about this friend of mine,
And all she did and said.

From up above the moon looked down
With its soft silver light,
The stars just one by one came out
To beautify the night.

Across the meadows came the scent
Of that sweet new-mown hay—
And all the while she sat there,
She saw nothing but Broadway.

AUTO BANDITS CHASED FROM TOWN

Attempt to Get "Peg" McCall But Are Put to Flight and Escape.

STRANGERS TO DRIVER

In the same dare-devil fashion used in holding up banks and trust companies, three automobile bandits appeared in this borough shortly after ten o'clock on Saturday evening, descended on the cigar store of Louis McCall, located on Hector street between Harry and Ash streets but left the place in such a hurry that they did not have time to mount their car and disappeared in the lower end of the town with a furious mob in pursuit but too far in the rear to catch them. At 10:15 o'clock on Saturday evening, McCall was standing in front of the counter in the front part of his store when a short heavy set man walked to the door and asked to see "Mr. McCall". Just as McCall was about to ask the mission of the stranger he noticed another man peep through the glass in the door from the lower side of the store, at once he scented trouble and told the inquirer that McCall was out and that he would call him. As he started to go to the rear of his building the stranger also started to follow and a second man stuck his head in the door and said "that is McCall". McCall is suffering from a sprained ankle and unfortunately that is the only ankle he has as his other leg has been amputated above the knee and he uses an artificial leg, but he kicked and struck at the stranger and managed to run through the door leading into the rear of his place of business, snapped the lock, and grabbed a hatchet, laying on a counter.

McCall started out to the front of the store again and as he did so, he was followed by a number of men who were sitting in the back room. When the strangers saw they were about to be trapped they took to their heels and dashed down Hector street with a mob in pursuit. The men darted down Ash street and were still being pursued. When near Elm street they fired two shots from a revolver but the mob continued the chase and instead of getting into the taxicab at the corner of Elm and Ash they continued down over the railroad and were lost. After getting away from the glare of the electric lights the pursuers could no longer follow them.

The driver of the taxicab admitted that he brought the three men to this borough but did not know any of them and did not know what their mission was. He claimed that the men had engaged him at twelfth and Market streets Philadelphia, that they had paid him $10.00 for the trip but claimed that it was the first time he was over in the town and did not know how to get out. The chauffeur said he had driven the party up Montgomery avenue through Lower Merion and down through West Conshohocken. Two local men volunteered to show him the way to Philadelphia. The number of the license was procured before the car left McCall's.

In speaking of the incident McCall said that he is of the belief that some one who is familiar with the town is tipping off hold-up gangs about this town and fears that if extra precaution is not taken that a successful attempt will be made to rob on a larger scale.

ANOTHER MILL TO START

Workmen of Rambo and Regar, proprietors of the Hosiery factory located on Hector street below Poplar street, are now engaged in cleaning the machinery and preparing it to resume operations. It is the intention of the owners to start the plant as soon as possible, and are desirous securing female help. When running full capacity about thirty employees are engaged but the firm wants to engage about twenty experienced operators immediately. The plant has been inoperative since last October.

TRADE BUREAU MEETING

The Trade Bureau will hold an important meeting at the Lee Cafeteria this evening with the merchants of the town and start the formation of the Merchants' Association. Other matters will be discussed such as the closing of the stores during the summer months and the possibility of holding a big merchants' dinner in the near future.

All the merchants of the town are invited to be present at this meeting.

WANTED THE PENNY AND THE CAKE

Adam Kawsak, a Polish resident of Upper Merion, knows a little more about law and contracts today than he did a week ago, at least he paid for some knowledge last Friday afternoon and found that in this country a man is entitled to what he pays for.

Adam razed an old barn on his property recently and made a bargain with Anthony Talone, 108 Fayette street, this borough, for the sale of the lumber. Mr. Talone agreed to pay $80 for the material and gave Adam $10 in cash and a check for $70. Mr. Talone sent men with a truck to haul the lumber to this borough and when they had removed about half of it, Adam refused to deliver the balance. Talone gave notice that if the balance of the lumber was not delivered he would stop payment of the check which he did. This happened in March and all transactions ceased. Adam still held the check and about the middle of April he presented it for payment. As payment had been stopped the check was protested. Adam then went before Magistrate McLaughlin at Bridgeport and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Mr. Talone. Last Friday afternoon a hearing was held and when the facts were brought out the Magistrate ordered Adam to surrender the lumber he had sold when Mr. Talone would honor the check. The costs of the case were also placed on Adam. The lumber was surrendered and the check cashed.

Adam lost his profit on the deal by going to law and having to pay the costs.

The moral is: When you make a bargain stick to it.

COUNTY TO HAVE THREE LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS

In the reapportionment of the county into legislative districts which by reason of increased population gives the county five assemblymen instead of four as at present, the idea of dividing the county into five districts has been abandoned and according to deputy auditor general Charles Johnson, Republican leader of the county, five assemblymen will be elected from three districts. The first and second districts will each have one representative and the third district three. Conshohocken remains in the second district.

The districts are as follows: First district—All that portion of the county lying on the west side of the Schuylkill river, and including the boroughs of West Conshohocken and Narberth and the townships of Upper Merion and Lower Merion. Population, 38,586; Number of assemblymen: One.

Second district—The boroughs of Norristown and Conshohocken and the township of Plymouth. Population, 44,001. Number of assemblymen: One.

Third district—All the rest of the county not included in the First and Second districts. Population, 116,923. Number of assemblymen: Three.

The legislative apportionment that had obtained for the past dozen years or more, cut the county into four parts. Starting with Lower Merion and crossing the river and following through the York road section, comprised the First district; Norristown, West Norristown, East Norristown, Plymouth and Conshohocken, West Conshohocken and Upper Merion comprised the Second district. Starting at Pottstown and following along the upper border of the county comprised the Fourth district and the rest of the county comprised the Third district.

In making apportionment it is necessary that the towns and townships comprising a district shall be contiguous, and there must be more than a certain amount of population.

Stole Pocketbook

While walking along Fayette street, at Third avenue, shortly before 10 o'clock on Friday evening, a young man rushed up and grabbed a pocketbook from the hand of Miss Margaret Kelly, of Ardmore, and escaped.

Miss Margaret Kelly and her sister, Miss Dehlla Kelly, both of Ardmore, came to this borough on Friday afternoon to visit another sister, Mrs. John McMullen, at 148 W. Eighth avenue. In the evening the Misses Kelly decided to take a walk to the business section of the town and were on their way home when they were accosted. When the youth grabbed the purse, Miss Kelly began to scream, but no one came to her aid immediately and by the time assistance had arrived the youth had made good his escape. The amount of money in the purse was very small, but the boldness with which it was stolen badly frightened both young ladies, who are of the opinion that the culprit belonged to the carnival which was showing a short distance from the scene of the robbery.

The young ladies returned to their home on Saturday, with no trace of the purse or any information as to the thief.

NEW JOB FOR G. O. P. LEADER

Announcement was made in Norristown that Charles Johnson, president of the People's National Bank, Norristown, is to be made disbursing deputy in the office of Auditor General Lewis at Harrisburg.

Mr. Johnson has been the Republican county leader many years. He was State Insurance Commissioner when deposed by Governor Brumbaugh and was succeeded by Charles Ambler, of Jenkintown. Mr. Johnson is treasurer of the Republican State Committee.

HORACE CASSEY CRITICALLY ILL

Horace Cassey, of Conshohocken Pike, Harmonville, and a former Conshohocken Police officer, is critically ill at his home and his death is momentarily expected.

COULDN'T KNOW HIM WHOLLY

Charley Smith, who used to lamp ties on the Kearney section, was summoned as a witness at an inquest. He had been cautioned that he must be very exact in his statements.

"Was the deceased a total stranger?" asked the coroner.

After duly pondering the question, he replied, "He was what I should call a partial stranger."

"Either you knew him or you did not," said the coroner sternly. "There is no such thing as a partial stranger."

"Well," he answered, "I don't know how else to describe him. He was a one-legged man."—Union Pacific Bulletin.

CAUGHT IN ACT OF TAPPING TILL

Elm Street Youth Caught Taking Money From Drawer at Neil's Bakery.

BOY GRABS POCKETBOOK

Mrs. Emma Neil, proprietor of the bakery at the corner of Hector and Harry streets, nipped an attempted robbery at her place of business in the bud on Saturday evening, and gave her the satisfaction of knowing what has become of money that has been missed at different times from her money drawer.

While in the dining room of her home while the evening meal was being served, Mrs. Neil heard the store door open. A trolley car was passing at the time and a prominent young man from Elm street came in. Believing that Mrs. Neil did not hear the door he immediately started to rob the money drawer which is underneath the counter directly back of where the wrapping is done.

Mrs. Neil came into the store to wait on the customer and was surprised to see him leaning over the counter with the drawer open and some paper money in his hand. When questioned as to what he was doing with the money drawer open the youth replied he was simply fixing the money. She commanded him to put the money down and to leave the store.

On Saturday afternoon the boy made several visits to the store but each time Mrs. Neil was in the store and he purchased a few cents worth of candy each time. It is Mrs. Neil's belief the boy was waiting his chance to enter the store during her absence.

Yesterday morning the boy and his sister came to the store to make apologies to Mrs. Neil for his actions. The sister made a plea for the uprightness of her brother. The family have been good customers at the bakery and Mrs. Neil has withheld making any prosecutions.

Mrs. Neil has been missing money for several weeks but could not detect her one taking it. On the Saturday previous to last week she missed a ten dollar bill but did not know what became of it. Last Saturday her sales were not any heavier than ordinary but when she counted up her receipts they totalled more than any Saturday for several months.

While walking along Fayette street, at Third avenue, shortly before 10 o'clock on Friday evening, a young man rushed up and grabbed a pocketbook from the hand of Miss Margaret Kelly, of Ardmore, and escaped.

Miss Margaret Kelly and her sister, Miss Dehlla Kelly, both of Ardmore, came to this borough on Friday afternoon to visit another sister, Mrs. John McMullen, at 148 W. Eighth avenue. Do We Realize What We Have?

Do the people of Conshohocken realize the many fine things they have doing a great and quiet work for the public welfare?

At various times organizations have been formed by public spirited citizens to carry on activities for the public good and comfort. They have been organized without any general appeal for funds and quietly and efficiently launched for the purpose of doing good.

Conshohocken is about as nearly completely organized as are many cities and far more completely than most boroughs and small cities.

The organizations that are now functioning are the Free Library, the Mary H. Wood park, Visiting Nurse Association, Civilian Relief Association, Playgrounds Association. The annual expenses of these organizations, all which serve the public gratuitously, approximate $13,500 and of this amount only $1000 is derived by taxation. The borough and school district each contribute to the Free Library $500 payable out of the taxes.

The town has also been given besides the magnificent park and mansion house, a large plot of ground for an athletic field. A community association has been formed to use the park house as a center and to provide recreation and training for all who desire to benefit. The funds for this organization have been guaranteed to carry on the work for six months and it is believed the annual expenses will be about $2500.

The town has these various organizations covering nearly every community need and without general appeals to the public for funds. The people are very fortunate in enjoying such conditions and their existence should be an incentive for greater cooperation on the part of the people for town betterments and improvements.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Community Association offer opportunities for all the people to get together and bring into being the public improvements the town should have. With the public cooperating with town council and all the organizations that are now operating, Conshohocken will go ahead with great strides and will have a place in the sun.

Aiding the Foreigner.

The newly organized Community Association has as one of its purposes to give aid to foreigners, by teaching them the cause and effect of American institutions.

America has been termed the "melting pot" of the world. Heretofore the "pot" has been operated without direction and to correct this organizations have been formed and are devoting much attention to Americanization that foreigners residing here may receive instruction in American methods and mode of life that they may understand our institutions and be instilled with the desire to obtain citizenship.

The purpose of Americanization is to stop the necessity for foreigners forming colonies of their own in cities and towns and to have them use our institutions and mingle freely with the citizens.

The compulsory school laws in operation in many States provide for the Americanization of the young children, but the thousands of immigrants that are beyond school age must depend upon themselves or some patriotic organization for instruction before they are able to take a part in American life.

The history of this country records wonderful achievements by men who came here to seek and accept the opportunities offered. They came as poor immigrant boys, with no knowledge of our ways and language and with little funds, yet by hard work and accepting the opportunities offered to all, they achieved wealth and fame. The list of such men is a long one.

Conshohocken has a large foreign population and these people have segregated themselves that they may carry on intercourse with each other in their native tongue and practice the customs of their native lands. They have done this as a matter for self protection as the new comers were unfamiliar with the English language and American customs and institutions. They have retarded their own progress and their voluntary segregation has kept them from regular intercourse with the general public.

The Italians have recognized the drawbacks they suffer by remaining aloof from the general public and their lack of knowledge of Americanism. They have formed a Citizens' Club to teach citizenship. Many men have taken advantage of this opportunity to learn American ways and many have been prepared for citizenship. They have found the advantages their children are deriving by attending the public schools. They are taught the same subjects and in the same manner as are the American children and the schools are now annually giving to the nation thousands of children educated in the American way who are taking their place in society as useful and productive citizens. They are living in accordance with American standards and are influencing others of their nationality to do the same.

The Polish residents have not mingled with the general public with the same degree of freedom as have the Italians. They are teaching their children their native tongue and are maintaining their own schools. They have a perfect right to do this. They have a perfect right to maintain private schools and in this community, their schools are teaching Americanism. This however, is not true of all communities especially in the large cities where the foreigners have colonized. The immigrants beyond school age bury themselves in these colonies and never get the American viewpoint of things.

A wide spread teaching of Americanism will stop colonization and will bring the immigrant into close personal contact with American institutions immediately. The immigrant will welcome the opportunities to learn the language and to mingle with Americans, and when every city and town provides a means to teach the foreigners above the school age the things he should know of American life, then Bolshevism, Anarchy and the other radicalisms will find it hard to exist in strength.

Conshohocken offers a fine field for carrying on the work that can be used to establish greater activities and so long as the work is not carried on in a patronizing way but is offered as an opportunity for the industrious, who wish to improve themselves, it should prove a success and of great benefit to the town and the nation.

Amusements

THE GARRICK

That fortune waits around the corner is shown in "A Splendid Hazard," an Allan Dwan production adapted from Harold MacGrath's novel, which is coming to the Garrick Theatre Norristown Thursday and Friday. John Fitzgerald, young American newspaper correspondent, is attracted to a young woman in a popular cafe. She reciprocates his interest but finds no medium of formal introduction. In a spirit of daring she drops a note at his feet challenging him to call at her home. He does so and within a few minutes finds himself involved in a mystery that takes him and the girl to the faraway Mediterranean sea and the Isle of Corsica on a thrilling hunt for buried treasure.

Saturday's Double Bill will include "The Highest L-w" and three acts of Vaudeville.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Pearl White, famous star who will appear at the Grand Opera House, Thursday and Friday in "Know Your Men", had a trying ordeal recently at the William Fox studio in New York. She had to stand in one position for an hour and twenty minutes while the cameraman manipulated his film so that he had a triple exposure.

In this scene Miss White walks downstairs, when near the last step she stops suddenly and sees Cupid's dancing. Not only are seven Cupids shown together but at intervals the star is shown with one little smiling youngster and his dart. It was exceedingly difficult for Miss White because the youngsters had a habit of doing the wrong kind of cup-jumping at critical moments.

Saturday's bill will include Bebe Darric's in "Oh Lady Lady."

URGES CHURCH ADVERTISING.

If ministers want their churches filled with worshippers, advertising will increase their congregations, according to the Rev. Ross H. Stover.

He is pastor of Messiah Lutheran church, 16th and Jefferson streets, Philadelphia, known as "The Friendly Church." Dr. Stover has prepared a pamphlet on "Church Advertising," which is being studied by ministers.

"Think of the wonderful means on hand through which we can advertise our churches—newspapers, circulars, cards, posters, handbills, magazines," he said. "Any event can be made known in a day to thousands of people. It seems ridiculous to think of churches having empty pews when we have so many excellent preachers, soloists and services. An empty church cheapens the cause."

County is Short a Million Homes; Effort made to Remedy Local Shortage

The question of providing adequate housing is one of the most pressing and acute problems confronting hundreds of communities. It is a problem not easy of solution or permitting of postponement. Delay only increases it and many obstacles to meeting construction needs of the country.

War restrictions curbed the number of homes to fall behind the normal needs of a growing population. This condition has been aggravated especially in cities which have a recent and great industrial development.

The housing problem in these cities is most acute. While many communities have been active in getting new industries, they have given little heed to adequate housing for the hundreds of workers the industries brought to the community.

Cities took pride in the amount of capital invested in their industries giving slight concern to the fact that sufficient and decent housing for the workers was also a very proper division of the industrial capital. It was a very natural oversight. In the past matter of housing had been left largely to the individual.

Perhaps if the War had not so disturbed industrial and social conditions the housing problem could have been taken care of itself. But the War resulted in sub-normal construction. Even communities which have shown only normal growth are facing a shortage in homes.

It was estimated by the Department of Labor that at the close of the War the United States needed a million homes. Just how much this need has been decreased or increased is a difficult matter to determine but from the general indications it is reasonable to believe that the shortage in homes has been increased since the estimate of the Department of Labor.

The restrictions placed by the government on building during the War reduced house construction to only 4 per cent of normal in November, 1918. There has been a marked increase in building since that time, but not nearly enough to meet the needs.

Every strike every artificial obstruction to building has made the crying need for housing more pressing.

This widespread lack of homes has put a heavy burden on renters and it has been felt especially in Conshohocken. Rents in many communities have been advanced from 50 to 100 per cent in the last year. This has automatically given some impetus to building, but the relief has been small.

The cry for more homes is going up all the time all over the country. The demand has become so imperative that it can no longer be left to individual effort for answer, but must be met by community or cooperative enterprise. This is what the Chamber of Commerce has now undertaken to do in Conshohocken. The smaller communities have smaller problems it is true, but they are just as acute as those confronting larger industrial centers.

The great demand for homes comes from individuals who have not sufficiently accumulated capital to finance building. They have sufficient incomes to meet the interest on the investment and also monthly payments on the principle if they are stretched over a long enough period. High wages have given them recently a greatly increased earning power, but they are able to make only a small initial payment.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

You know how it is—if you share anything with a friend it seems to grow bigger? That is the way it is at the Hospitality hotel.

The boy and the girl adventurers looked in astonishment at the brownies with the trays. The trays were being brought in for the banquet, and they were growing larger, and the brownies seemed to be growing bigger.

"Grow, grow, grow," the brownies all sang in a sing-song fashion. "Grow, grow, grow, so, so, so, so, we're to have a banquet."

In another moment a great gong sounded through the hotel and there was heard a great scurrying.

It was then that the boy and the girl looked about them in the hotel. The staircases were great high, winding ones, and the floors were of beautifully polished woodwork, though they could see some scratches on the floors which looked as though there had been a dance or a ball given there recently.

Pictures hung on the walls in enormous gilt frames, and in the hallway where they stood was the biggest coat and hat rack they had ever seen with so many coats and hats hanging there they felt they could never count them all.

The great scurry had kept up. Now the trays had not grown for a few moments. But they were enormous now, and the brownies were very much larger and the food looked as if it had been prepared for many, many people.

Now the hurrying and the scurrying sounded nearer, and from all parts of the great hotel the little creatures came hurrying.

"Off With the Roof!"

"Welcome, welcome," they shouted. The boy and the girl almost felt embarrassed that so many creatures were coming to welcome them.

The boy felt perhaps he should make some sort of a polite little speech. He thought a moment and then he said: "I do hope we haven't taken any of you away from other engagements."

"No, not a bit of it," they all began to say. "Not a bit of it. We always have had time to welcome guests. That's what we love about everything. That's why we live in the Hospitality hotel."

"Is this the only hotel of its kind?" asked the girl of a brownie who was standing right by her.

"Not exactly the only one, though there is no other just like it," said the brownie. "But I'll show you about before bedtime. Now we'll watch the banquet being made ready."

Again the great gong sounded, and once more the trays began to grow and grow until all the trays grew together and appeared like a long, long table with all sorts of food upon it. No longer were there any trays, every one was now a part of the great table, and as the table became a banquet table all the hosts and hostesses and the boy and girl and Master Thoughtfulness moved to one side. They could do this very easily, for the great hallway seemed to grow wider and wider all the time, too!

"Where have the brownies gone who held the trays?" asked the boy. He had no sooner said this than the girl added: "Why, they've disappeared. They were growing larger and larger, and then they went away entirely, but how strange we didn't see them go."

"Not strange at all," said a voice from under the long table. And there arose, rather slowly, the largest creature they had ever seen. He was fully as long as the table, and when he stood up he had to call out to a night watchman:

"Off with the roof, off with the roof, I'm standing up!"

"Yes, Night Watchman," he called, "off with the roof."

care or other control by guardian or other proper legal custodian, is growing up in mendacity or vagrancy, or is, or is becoming incorrigible, to certify the case to the Juvenile Court so to be proceeded in according to law in such cases.

STOP THAT ACHE!

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many Conshohocken people have used them and know how effective they are. Ask your neighbor: Here's a Conshohocken case.

Mrs. Jacob Fox, 228 E. 6th St. says: "About six years ago I suffered from an attack of kidney trouble. It started with a dull heavy ache in my back and I suffered sharp pains in the small of my back and loins. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and they proved their worth from the start. The pains disappeared from my back and kidneys. A short use of Doan's proved sufficient to rid me of all symptoms of the attack."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fox had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF MONTGOMERY CO., PENNSYLVANIA

No. 27 Term 1921 TO DAVID FOULKE, HANNAH ANN PRICE and BRIDGET KELLEY, or their legal representatives. Notice is hereby given to you that on the 1st day of April, A. D. 1921, Catharine Chest and Stephen Chest, her husband, presented their petition to said Court setting forth that they are the owners in fee of a lot of land in Plymouth township, Montgomery county, Pa., being lot No. 39, on the Foulke farm, Block 3, on the south West side of Foulke street, 29 feet North West from Light street; having a front on Foulke street of 29 feet and 140 feet deep, that Plymouth Iron Company, former owner, gave a mortgage to David Foulke and Hannah Ann Price for $10,000, dated August 29, 1914, recorded in Mortgage Book No. 89, page 157, secured upon premises of which the land of these petitioners is a part. That said mortgage was satisfied by David Foulke and as Attorney for Hannah Ann Price, but the power of Attorney from Hannah Ann Price to David Foulke does not entitle the mortgage to be satisfied. That Catharine and Hugh Chest, her husband, former owners, gave a mortgage to Thomas Kelley and William G. Smith, Administrators of Henry Kelley, dated November 22, 1873, recorded in Mortgage No. 92, page 129, for $40.25, said mortgage assigned January 13, 1874, to Bridget Kelley, (see Mortgage Book No. 131, page 201). Said mortgage was not satisfied of record.

That the indebtedness has been due for more than twenty-one years; that no payment on account of principal or interest has been paid for a period of excess of that time and praying the Court for a decree discharging the lands in the petition from the mortgages and payment thereof, and directing satisfaction of said mortgages by the recorder of Deeds.

The Court on April 7th, A. D. 1921, made a preliminary decree directing notice to be given to the parties named of the fact that the above petition was filed in the Court on April 7th, A. D. 1921 at ten o'clock A. M. at the Court-house in Norristown, at the time and place of hearing of all parties in interest, and in answer to the prayer of said petitioners.

JACOB HAMILTON, Sheriff's Office, Norristown, Pa., April 12, 1921.

HEIBERT U. MOORE, Attorney.

SPORTING EVENTS OF INTEREST HERE

For the second consecutive week base ball fans were disappointed last Saturday when rain put a crimp to the contest to be staged at the athletic field of the Lee Tire and Rubber Company between the Conshohocken Montgomery County League team and the Glenside team of the Suburban League.

The enforced postponements are proving a serious handicap to the local team as they are losing much practice that the players ought to have had that the men will not be in condition for all of them are playing with other teams and while they are keeping in condition and getting much needed practice the fact that the men are unable to practice together and perfect their team work means a serious loss as these are essentials to go toward the building up of a strong and successful team.

The date for the opening of the league season is fast approaching and only one more practice game is scheduled that will, the Haverford Professionals which is to be played in this borough next Saturday.

Although the weather precluded any possibility of a regular game, Coan Livingston had his men out on the field and practiced signals which will be tried out next week and which will be used during the season.

Next Saturday weather permitting the local team will line up against the Haverford Professionals in the final practice game previous to the opening of the season. The Professionals are a hustling combination of first-class players and if the locals are successful in defeating them the team will necessarily be in good shape. Hesselbacher has been signed by the committee as one of the pitchers for the season. He is considered one of the best semi-professional players in these parts and has an excellent record.

CLEARFIELD JRS. TO PLAY NORRISTOWN RES.

Next Thursday afternoon at 4 P. M. the local Clearfield Jrs. will play the fast Norristown High Reserves on the Golf Grounds. This will be the most important game of the season for the Juniors who are showing some real base ball. So far the locals are undefeated and after a 7-6 victory over the fast St. Augustine's Juniors of Bridgeport, they become favorites to win.

McTAMNEY JOINS FREDERICK TEAM

James McTamney, star base ball player of West Conshohocken, left yesterday morning to join the Frederick team, of the Blue Ridge League, for a try-out. McTamney is one of the best base ball players in this vicinity. As a member of the team representing the John Wood Manufacturing Company in the local Industrial League, and of St. Gertrude's, his great playing attracted the attention of minor league managers with the result that he has been offered a contract with the strong Maryland team. As a first baseman McTamney is looked upon as a finished fielder while as a batter there are few his superiors in any minor league. Jim leaves with the best wishes of a host of admiring friends for a successful start and a steady climb in the base ball world.

"JUPE PLUVIUS" SAVES MARRIED MEN FROM DEFEAT

Lady Luck in the shape of "Rain" once more smiled upon the Married Men of the Peoples Club and saved them from an inglorious defeat at the hands of the Single Men, who were all primed and ready to deliver a crushing blow to them on the ball field.

The rain proved a bonanza to the Benedicts as this will give them one more week to get in trim for the battle. Manager Bob Crawford of the Benedicts was all "Smiles" yesterday on account of the rain and he predicts a win for the Benedicts over the Single Men, who will prove to him next Sunday afternoon that he has been laboring under a delusion all season relative to his team's base-ball ability, although they have proved their ability along other lines of endeavor.

The game will come off at 3.00 P. M. next Sunday, May 8th, on the baseball grounds at 10th and Wells streets.

BASEBALL

The Merkel A. C. has two big games on for this week-end. On Saturday they will journey to Stratford and cross bats with the all Stars of that place. The members of the team will meet at their headquarters, Merkel's cigar store at 1 o'clock sharp and make the trip by automobile. Manager Douglass will use Thomas and Miller for the battery.

One of the greatest games to be played in this borough during the season is the game scheduled for the Meadow on Sunday afternoon, when the Merkel A. C. will meet Dan Schuler's All Stars of Norristown. This is a colored aggregation of star ball tossers, whose reputation is well known in this vicinity and a great game is anticipated.

Manager Douglass's holding in reserve his crack pitcher, Granel who will be paired off with Miller as the local battery. The All Star will pin their faith to Etzel and Evars. The All Stars last season were in the Norristown Industrial League.

The Flying Irish of Front street, would like to arrange games with any teams ranging between 12 and 14 years of age. Address communications to Thomas Kane manager, 207 Front street, West Conshohocken.

Coopers Creek Chemical Co., Gentlemen:

Just a word in connection with C-4 Motor Fuel. We have used this continually from June, 1919, at our Service Station, Broad and Wood Streets, and have found that it increases the efficiency of the motor, produces very little carbon, and materially increases the mileage. Our customers tell us that they like it so well, that they go out of their way to get it.

Very truly yours,
GOMERY-SCHWARTZ MOTOR CAR CO.,
F. H. YERGER,
Technical Manager.
