Comments on Happenings By Molly Matson

The snow and ice of Alaska have melted. Socially, Molly means, years ago, when one almost shivered in geography class when one studied about the refrigerated country, its primitive condition, its location, its apparent lack of the things we call attractive, most of us listed it last among places one hoped to see, "some day when we get rich and travel".

One day these days, now Alaska takes its place with all other countries to attract the tourist, and holds up as a part of its unique charm, the very things that may have repelled our interest in earlier days.

Already, one local resident has "rekked" to this ice-decorated territory of America, and next week a second resident will begin the long journey. Aman-a-Bell, daughter of the W. Augustus Bell, of Mill road and Ridge pike, is already well advanced on an Alaskan tour. Next Thursday, Mrs. Deca Wentling—now residing with her daughter, Mrs. William Davis, at Fayette near Twelfth—will leave for Columbus, Ohio, to join a most interesting tour of Alaska, initiated by the National Farm and Home magazine and the Ohio Farmers publication. She will make the trip unaccompanied, but Molly feels sure with her sincerely friendly attitude and charm of manner, she will make many friends on the voyage. From Ohio, the tour will proceed by rail to Seattle, and will embark there on August thirteenth on the S. S. Aleutian of the Alaska Line, for Skagway, Alaska, its destination.

The entire trip will cover eight thousand, five hundred miles, Molly learns.

For a long time, Mrs. Wentling has cherished a deep-seated desire to see the land of the Eskimos, Re-

The Conshohocken Recorder

H. B. HEYWOOD, President. Established 1869. I. VING HEYWOOD, Treasurer. EDWARD M. DUDY, Vice-President.

New York City has taken the first action against the bootleg coal industry of this state. An ordinance aimed to stop the inflow of bootleg coal from this state into the city has been enacted and approved.

Pennsylvania's state system of highways is the greatest in the nation. At each session of the legislature, the system has been extended and on January 1 next, there will be under state control 40,600 miles of highways and in this vast system is included only 12,000 miles of unimproved roads.

Since Governor Sprout started the good roads movement in this state there has been a tremendous increase in motor traffic and to meet the constantly growing needs for quick, safe transportation, the state legislature has met the demands on a greater scale than has any other state.

Heavily travelled highways have been widened and while the state has given first consideration to replacing dirt roads with hard surface highways that the local residents may have access to markets throughout the year, much attention has been given to widening principal highways.

Motorists may travel to all sections of the state over improved highways which keep down the cost of transportation by motor vehicle and is a great attraction for tourists.

In each of the major parties there are three candidates for the nomination for burgess. Burgess Hampton in the Republican party is being opposed by the president of town council and by a citizen who is a native of the borough.

The candidates for the Democratic nomination are two members of town council, whose terms expire this year and one of the candidates is also a candidate to succeed himself in council, and a former member of town council.

All the candidates contesting for the Democratic nomination and two on the Republican ticket have had experience in borough government and know that matters of the greatest importance to the taxpayers must be decided in the closing days of this administration and in the early part of the next administration.

As candidates for burgess, these men should have definite policies for the safe guidance of the borough in the coming four years. The people should know their policies and purposes and each candidate should make his platform known. The people have a right to this knowledge as the new administration will have to adopt policies and make decisions in matters in which the pocketbooks of the taxpayers will play a very important part.

The Recorder will gladly publish the platforms of the several candidates if they desire to inform the citizens and taxpayers of their plans and policies for the advancement of the borough.

A majority of the citizens here have been indifferent to their right of suffrage and unless many more register at the next two registration days—August 11, 12—many citizens will be refused the right to vote, at both the primaries and general elections.

Under the old registration system there were 4809 persons eligible to vote in this borough. Under the new law 2164 have registered equal to only 45 per cent. of the previous registration.

West Conshohocken citizens have shown more interest in protecting their right of suffrage and the registration to date is equal to 64 per cent. of the previous registration. It is expected the next registration period will greatly increase the number of eligible voters.

In this borough, there are contests in both parties for borough offices. The candidates will endeavor to have a big vote cast at the primaries and to do so there must be a great increase in the number of registered voters.

There has been grumbling about the inconvenience citizens are put to register. There is more grumbling about illegal voters and crooked elections. The new registration law will eliminate many illegal voters and will confine the right of suffrage to American citizens.

Many persons have voted illegally without knowing they did not have the right of suffrage. Many aliens, who have made their homes here, raised families, purchased property and paid taxes regularly, failed to become naturalized. They believed they had the right to participate in the government. The new registration law has brought to light many such cases. These residents will become naturalized or else will not vote.

More than half the citizens in this borough eligible to qualify for voting have failed to do so. Those who fail to register disqualify themselves from taking part in their government. Were the government to attempt to disqualify the citizens from participating in their government, there would be resort to arms.

Where Do The Rails Stand?

Babson Says Outlook Depends Upon Labor

By ROGER W. BABSON. Babson Park, Mass., July 30, 1932.—The Railroad and the utilities—their interests—are in the "doghouse". Despite huge gains in their volume of business, railroads are no higher than a year ago, while utility equities are considerably cheaper. In one case business is located in the "doghouse" and the other instance it is at an all-time peak.

Several weeks ago I discussed utility stocks and advised holding them for higher prices. Today I want to analyze the position of the American railroad enterprise in the entire world. Just as in the case of utilities the rails are suffering from bad business but from bad sentiment. Railroad security owners—more than public utility stockholders—are the "forgotten investors" of today. The only difference is that while power stockholders are being squeezed by politicians carrier investors are being milked by labor.

Everyone Has Stake. The railroad trouble has its roots, as the utility squabble has, in mismanagement in the past by bankers and lawyers. The industry had to be regulated for the public interest. "Square deal". As usual the pendulum swung too far and investors got a "raw deal".

"When I was in New York going to school and trying to get started," Doris says, "I thought Hollywood held the real ideal. I was sure that if I ever got there I would find so many attractive boy friends that the difficulty would be in choosing which one I liked best."

"Instead," Doris continues, "I have been out here six months without meeting a single man in whom I can really be interested. Dick Powell, opposite whom Miss Weston is appearing in 'The Singing Marine', which comes to the Norris Theatre today is married. The other masculine players in the film also have marital ties. In fact, according to Miss Weston, all of the nice men she knows are married."

Pioneer Unit at Obelisk. Camp Kiwanis, at Obelisk where close to half a hundred girl scouts from this area are encamped, will close tomorrow, the six local girls returning to their homes, Thelma and Betty Welsh, Margaret Brady, Rita and Helen Kehoe. Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Welsh, 407 East Ninth avenue, J. Welsh, Fomalont, 1628 Dufferin drive, were guests Sunday at Camp Kiwanis. Sunday is visitors' day at the camp. Sunday School was held in the camp grove.

On Saturday night, cafeteria supper was served by the Pioneer Units, to the younger group at the camp. The Pioneer Unit, just begun at the camp, comprises girls who have stayed at the camp four summers or more. Each group is twelve in all, one tent, 8 by 12. The "pioneers" sleep outdoors in the woods, do their own cooking at an outdoor fireplace, and attend to their own laundry work. This is the first time Pioneer Unit has been established at Obelisk.

What makes drabmy drives start mouths to watering and drives close to inspiration. In the berries! What makes deep-dish and juicy pies that by comparison turn ambrosia and nectar into third-rate hash? It's the berries! What makes muffins, dumplings and jelly and jam? It's the berries, and that's no slang!

How many kinds of berries are among those present in your cupboard? Blueberries, raspberries, huckleberries, members of the huckleberry family, inspire cooks from Maine to Quebec and Minnesota to Virginia. England called them "bil berries" and just as we do, like them in puddings, pies and muffins.

"Brambles" is the ancient name for blackberries, whose little brothers are called "dewberries," and whose cousins, raspberries, wild raspberries, and raspberries, were mentioned in the Iliad and were known to the Greeks as "Ideas" because they came from Mt. Ida! (Perhaps your grandmother called the black raspberries "thimbleberries" or still like the red raspberries better?)

Gooseberries—big fat "hairy ambers" were brought here by our first settlers from England, and we have the little ones and big ones, kin to juicy currants and elderberries, and preserves and "elegant" pies! Loganberries (which those who don't live on the West coast must eat from cans) are really "Bur-banks" created by crossing a wild blackberry with the raspberry, and raspberries (dear to the heart of the birds) are the only berries that grow on a tree instead of a bush!

For more berry-joke, you may go to the woods or the library—or best of all to the kitchen with raspberries. Rub your arm. Berries have the food value and will flag vitamin C in most of them.

Elmer Says...

Elmer's column gives expression to his personal opinions which frequently are at variance with the editorial policy of The Recorder.

Dear Editor. The political season is on. Our local politicians, like these budding debutantes, are coming out. But what else can you expect at this time of the year? Everything is coming out, including my hair. Bugs and beetles are coming out to annoy us. Clay is coming out from our principal streets to plague us. With dresses getting shorter, women are even coming out more and more to tease us.

No. 1. PHILLIP A. CHAIR. For Burgess. Mr. Chair has been a life long resident in Conshohocken. He has done anything exceptional but is ideally qualified to run for the job of burgess. He is calm and collected; in fact, he is so collected that one may say he is in one piece.

No. 2. PHILLIP ROOME. For Town Council. Mr. Room, like Mr. Chair, has lived his life in Conshohocken. He has never been in politics and is therefore as pure as a cake of castle soap. Personally, he is better with the soap than with the police department.

seth, Lynn Gilbert and Ma Brullow. Announcement was made last week by Universal of the acquisition of the Pamela Harris novel, 'The Family'. It will be used as a starring vehicle for Deanna D. bin in a production which will be made by B. G. (Buddy) De Sylva.

Lewis R. Foster, who has completed direction of 'The Who Cried Wolf' with Lewis Sto Barbara Read and Tom Brown, I been given another immediate assignment at Universal City. He will direct 'Mightier Than Sword,' by William Rankin. Rankin was a former Washington correspondent, having served for number of years with the United Press. His original story was entitled 'Washington Correspondent'.

Sylvia Simon, who was formerly Universal's director of screen tests has been promoted to a full directorship at Universal City and will handle 'Prescription for Romance,' a soap-styled drama, by John Reinhardt and R. Neville. No cast has been signed, although the production scheduled to get under way on August 2nd.

Jeann Rogers, pretty Universal starlet, was 'highly pleased today over receipt of news that she had been selected as the official sweetheart of Rho Pi Phi, international fraternity whose membership is composed of students and graduates of leading pharmaceutical colleges in the United States and Canada. Telegraphing acceptance to officials of the fraternity who opened a national convention in Boston, Wednesday, Miss Rogers said: "Naturally I am very happy over being accorded the honor, I shall make the trip east for the convention if studio shooting schedules permit."

Miss Rogers is a native of Belmont, Mass. She has just completed her role in "Repeating Missings" with William Gargan, Dick Purcell and Hobart Cavanaugh. Miss Rogers plays the heroine of this adventure and mystery story built around an airplane stowaway.

Over the week-end several changes were made in the B. G. (Buddy) De Sylva production, "Merry-G-Round of 1928" which has already been in production for a full week at Universal City. In the first place, Irving Cummings assumed direction of the production after a story conference, and Joe Valentine became his cameraman. Three new players have joined the cast—Barbara Read, Inez Courtney and Evelyn Brent.

Deanna Durbin's new picture, "100 Men and a Girl" is very near completion. Producer Joseph P. Pasternak and director Henry Koster expect to "put it in the can" by the end of this week. One of the pictures will be a sequence between Alice Brady and Deanna in which Deanna will sing "Music in My Dreams" by Frederick Hollander and Sam Gaslow. This is one of the numbers being published by the Leo Feist Music Company.

Universal's new singing cowboy, Bob Baker, is to be launched in his first Western next week. It will be entitled "Three Rangers." The other two rangers are not as yet selected. Paul Malvern, associate producer, has gone to Cheyenne and Laramie, Wyoming where much of the picture will be shot on a spur of the Union Pacific Railway.

Universal this week bought a novel by Frances Moya Hart author of "The Ballamy Trail" and Charles Grayson, for the use of its newest singing star, Hope Hampton. The book is entitled "She'll Have Music." Universal immediately borrowed Sheridan Gibney, who with Pierre Colling won the Academy Award for "The Life of Louis Pasteur," to write the script.

Universal intends to take advantage of the best looking and most ambitious young stock company in Hollywood to put on a youth show par excellence. It will be entitled "Youth Marches On" and will be produced by Joseph Pasternak from a screen play by Elliott Gibbon. The cast will include Nan Grey, Barbara Read, Jean Rogers, Kent Taylor, Robert Wilcox, Henry Hunter, William Lundigan, Robert Spencer, Catherine Hughes, Frances Robinson, Loraine Wise, Eleanor Han-

"Perk" Smith Holds Paper Makers in Check and Iron Workers Regain Lead That Hamilton Team Won Thru Tuesday's Victory.

The W. C. Hamilton clan relinquished the lead they gained Tuesday evening in the Industrial League to Alan Wood vs Royal Scots.

From the batting standpoint "Peppy" Campbell, sensational Norristown athlete was the big asset in the batting attack.

Penn Square tallied four runs in the opening inning and had no trouble in maintaining the lead for the rest of the distance.

Rededicate County's New Country Home

their inability to provide, the burden must be assumed by organized society, acting through public or private agencies.

"This was the theory and the practice of caring for the poor brought by our forebears from England."

"Here in Montgomery County, the public agency charged with the care of the destitute is a corporation known as the Montgomery County Poor-District. For one hundred and thirty one years this organization has administered the public funds allotted to it for the care of the poor. It is managed by directors elected by the people."

"It had been my privilege to know a number of these men and women. They have been and are substantial citizens interested in their work. Theirs has been no easy task. To see that all those who are entitled to public assistance, receive it, and at the same time, guard the public against imposition requires good judgment and keen intelligence."

"To determine what is adequate food, clothing and shelter without being too niggardly or too generous requires a deep understanding of community and a wide knowledge of the county and prevailing living conditions."

"In short, a director of the poor must have a softened heart, and a hard boiled judgement, and this is a rare combination."

"During the last four years, I have been associated with the County Emergency Relief Board, charged with the administration of unemployment relief in Montgomery County. Our board had many problems to work out with the Directors of the Poor, and I wish to acknowledge the fine cooperation we always received from them."

"Particularly do I wish to thank Mr. McLaughlin, secretary, and Mr. Moore, their solicitor, for their help in formulating a practical working plan, by which the two organizations labored together in harmony, to relieve the distress caused by the depression."

The jurist commented on the fact that the population of the home was but slightly greater than it was 5 years ago. He said that at that time the inmates numbered slightly more than the 159 men and 69 women, who are housed in the buildings overlooking the Schuylkill river in Upper Providence township.

He commented on the fact that the population of the county had increased many fold, with no material change in the county home yards total. Judge Knight said that the recent legislation would tend to materially increase further commitments to the home, and that private agencies would be another factor in keeping down the population of Black Rock. He added, however, that the 300,000 population in the county would always find those requiring custodial care or hospitalization."

The jurist's speech was listed as being "the acceptance of the Montgomery County home for the taxpayers."

Congressman J. William Ditter made the address formally dedicating the buildings.

State Senator Bean opened the speeches with praise for the directors, J. R. Thomas, Royersford, J. Paul Krupp, Hatfield, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. R. Wilson, Abington. Thomas retires from the board at the end of this year, and the others continue in office until January 30. At that time the Montgomery County Poor and the boards in the other 66 counties of the state cease to exist.

The work will be taken over by commission to be named by the county commissioners. This is the result of legislation passed at Harrisburg at the last session of the legislature. F. Kenneth Moore, solicitor, acted as temporary chairman, introducing Senator Bean. The invocation was by the Rev. S. H. Hess with the Rev. Thomas P. Dowd, pronouncing the benediction.

Main Line Grads Swell State List

Four Main Line colleges contributed three percent of the 10,859 students who were graduated from Pennsylvania institutions of higher learning this year.

Complete figures of graduations in the State were released today by Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction in the Commonwealth.

Main Line institutions to contribute to the graduation figure were Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Haverford and Villanova colleges.

It was the largest contribution that any suburban section of Pennsylvania made to the list.

Of the total students, men and women graduated, 9578 completed work in 56 accredited Liberal Arts Colleges, which included the Main Line institutions. The others were graduated from 14 State Teachers colleges.

Main Line colleges reported the following graduations:

Bryn Mawr, 126; Haverford, 69; Rosemont, 43, and Villanova, 149.

West Chester State Normal School, a nearby state institution, reported that 219 students were graduated.

Many Attend R. C. Miller Funeral

Attended by many people, including various county officials, funeral services for Robert C. Miller, inheritance tax appraiser and former Assemblyman and Register of Wills of Montgomery County, were held yesterday afternoon at the Mow-day funeral home, 619 DeKalb street.

Rev. Paul L. Young, D. D., was in charge. Masonic rites were given at the graveside in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Miller died at Montgomery Hospital early Monday morning, after a short illness.

William Torpey Funeral services were held this morning from his late home for William Torpey, 72 Radnor dairyman who was well known here, who died Tuesday at his home, King of Prussia road.

His wife is dead. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Helen L. McClintock, of St. Davids, and Mrs. Mary Brown, of Radnor, and two sons, Thomas and John, both of Radnor.

Unruly Motorist Rests in Jail

Not satisfied with being accused of an serious violation of the law, Augustus G. Needs, 52, of Schwenksville, talked himself into a second charge Wednesday night according to G. D. Myers, of the Pennsylvania Motor Police.

Needs was arrested on the Ridge Pike, Lower Providence Township, Wednesday night on a drunken driving charge. He was brought to Norristown and Magistrate George Meyer committed the defendant to prison under $500 bail for a further hearing tonight.

However, Needs according to Patrolman Myers, became unruly and bawdier as he was being escorted on the prison steps. As a result, he now rests in the Montgomery County Prison charged with drunken driving and disorderly conduct.

PRETTY PRELUDE

Prelude your summer dinner parties with a pretty touch. Pour vine-ripened Tomato Juice in the cube tray of your refrigerator, freeze to the mushy state and plant a Stuffed Olive in the center of each cube. Imbed Olive so the red center encircled by a green ring shows on top of each cube. Freeze until firm—then plop colorful cube in glass of chilled Tomato Juice and serve as first course with nippy cheese wafer.

Hardy Roses

She was purchasing her spring seeds for her garden, and her questioning was boring the salesman to the point of exasperation.

"And oh, by the way," she continued, "what is a hardy rose?"

"A hardy rose, madam," replied the salesman slowly, "is one that will allow you to dig it up every morning and night to see if it is taking root!"

In Aberdeen

Small Boy: "O loaf of bread, please."

Baker: "It's gone up another half-penny."

Boy: "When did it go up?"

Baker: "Only today."

Boy: "Well, give me one of yesterday's, then."

Rules for the Snob

During a discussion on social happiness Lord Houghton produced the reply of the perfect, self-satisfied snob.

"Special happiness," said he, "consists in being asked everywhere and going nowhere."

Two worthies were boasting about their native towns.

"Oor Provost wears a chain," declared the one impressively.

"We dinna hae tae keep oors on a chain," reported the other. "We let him gang loose."

FRACTURED FINGER

Mrs. George Lamon, Eighth and Spring Mill avenues, is suffering with a fractured index finger on her right hand, sustained when it caught in an automobile door. It is steadily improving.

The August meeting of Conshohocken School Board will be held Monday night at 7 at the high school.
