

CLUBS HELD LUNCH CHEST DRIVE

The Conshohocken Recorder

83D YEAR

100 W. HECTOR ST. Leader-Review THURSDAY, OCT. 16, 1952

FIVE CENTS

Conshohocken Goal $101,600

Rev. Chester T. Winters Directing Protestant Participation and the Rev. John P. Kiniry, Catholic Efforts

The Conshohocken Community Chest on Sunday will launch an annual, intensive two-weeks drive for funds, continuing until Nov. 1, inclusive.

Goal of the community-wide drive is $101,600, highest in its history. Of this amount a minimum of $50,000 is scheduled to swell the fund now being set aside for the proposed Fellowship House to be built in the Mary H. Wood Park, Conshohocken.

In virtually every church of the community, Sunday, clergymen will join actively into the huge drive by asking all-out support of their congregations. Churchgoers will receive official drive contribution envelopes, later to be collected by them.

Miqnon Parents To Accept Son's Navy Cross

Posthumous Award Is Second Highest Military Decoration

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gaul, 16 Manor Rd., Miqnon on Saturday will be presented America's second highest military decoration, the Navy Cross, awarded posthumously to their son, Sgt. William M. Gaul.

Sgt. Gaul, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, lost his life Sept. 14, 1951, while serving as a platoon sergeant in the First Marine Division in Korea.

The presentation of the medal and accompanying citation which relates his extraordinary service and heroic action in a battle with the Chinese Communists will be presented his family at 9:30 Saturday morning in the Fourth Navy District Headquarters, 121 N. Broad St., Philadelphia.

Dr. Weissman Lectures in N.Y.

He Appears Before Congress of Optometry

Dr. Stanley P. Weissman, Conshohocken optometrist, delivered three lectures on "Remedial Reading" at the New York All-State Congress of Optometry, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Mark T. Wain Hotel, Elmira, N. Y.

Theme of the three-day sessions was "Optometry as a Factor in Reading Achievement." He lectured on "The Visual Problems of the Third Grade Pupil." The thesis was a masters' degree at Temple University. He also is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College of Optometry, Oak Lane.

Captain in the Air Corps in World War 3, Dr. Weissman served in the Pacific theatre. He has delivered numerous lectures on remedial reading, on which he is fast gaining recognition as an outstanding authority.

Mounted Deer Head Mounted on Pole

The hunting season is calling its shadow early. This particular shadow fell upon Fayette St., at Seventh in front of Conshohocken High School. Casting the unusual shadow was an eight-antlered mounted deer head, measuring three feet high and two feet across. The hunting trophy was discovered attached high on a utility pole in front of the school. As Robert C. Landis, superintendent arrived for duty, Police were notified. Street Friday of the borough street crew brought the deer to earth—but not in usual hunting fashion.

Gets Bid to Rally He Set Up

Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania

Conshohocken, Chestnut Hill and Roxborough Gain Fame Through Distinguished Daughters

To this area has come the distinction of representation by three among 10 Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania who received top honors in Harrisburg last week in civic, social and cultural work.

The three award winners are Mrs. Ruth Sprague Downs, of Narberth, Pa.; Mrs. Virginia Wireman Cate, of Mayfair House, Lincoln Drive and Johnson St., Germantown, and Dr. Ruth Patrick Hodge, of White-marsh Twp.

Mrs. Ruth Sprague Downs, of Narberth, launched in this dramatic, sympathetic manner, upon the story of her unique work among the blind which is receiving statewide recognition through her role as one of Pennsylvania's 10 Distinguished Daughters, reigning over Pennsylvania Week.

Mrs. Rogers, 78 President Dies at Home

Services to be Held Monday Morning

Mrs. Anna C. Rogers, 78, wife of the late Patrick Rogers, died this morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Stephen Pishock, 106 W. Elm, Conshohocken.

A native of Ireland, Mrs. Rogers was a resident of the borough for many years. She was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

The funeral will be held Monday morning at the Pishock home, with solemn Requiem Mass in St. Matthew's Church. Interment will be in St. Matthew's Cemetery.

Employe Hurt Treading on Board

Miss Catherine McCloskey, 1008 Wells, Conshohocken, is injured at the bridgeport station of the Reading Railway at 6:30 next Tuesday night.

Fetterolf 'Invited' by GOP

Whitemarsh Head Says Oct. 21 Fete Was 'Citizens' Idea

Morton H. Fetterolf, Jr., chairman of the Whitemarsh Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, which is staging a large rally at the Barren Hill Fire House at 8 next Tuesday night, today received an invitation to the rally, which his citizens group has organized, from the Whitemarsh Township Republican Club.

Expressing great surprise, Fetterolf said he and other residents of the township received a postcard in today's mail which read in part:

"Whitemarsh Township Republican Club invites you to attend a pre-election rally . . . on October 21 at Barren Hill Fire House. . . speaker Samuel M. McConnell. . . 'The Washington Mess' . . . music and models."

The card was signed by Axel H. Swanson, Jr., president. "I thank it extremely kind of Mr. Swanson to invite me to this rally which for months I and my hard-working Citizens Committee have been organizing," Fetterolf said.

"But as for the models, I think I should point out that this is not to be a fashion show. There will be no models on hand unless they choose to be present as interested spectators to help in this great crusade for the election of General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon."

200 Carpenters Back Stevenson

Support Judge Bard For U. S. Senator

Unionized carpenters of a large area, affiliated with Local 1505, went on unanimous record in support of Governor Adlai Stevenson for president, and Judge Guy K. Bard for U. S. Senator at a semi-monthly meeting last night in the Andrew Lannutti Post home, 505 Maple, Conshohocken.

More than 200 men from many communities represented in the Local were present.

Discussion centered on comparison of leading candidates in the approaching election.

Citizens-for-Eisenhower Offices Open Till Nov. 4

The Citizens Committee for Eisenhower and Nixon has opened headquarters in eight Montgomery County Communities. It was announced today by County Chairman D. Rae Boyd.

Produce Dealer Dies on Way To Wharf; Son at His Side

A former Whitemarsh township resident collapsed and died early this morning while en route to his home at 435 P.M. The cause of death is being determined by the coroner.

End of PRR Service From Norristown to City Seen as Certain

Spokesmen Tell PUC that Company Is Losing $150,000 Annually; 10 Local Commuters Testify

Assembled to fight the Pennsylvania Railroad's proposed discontinuance of passenger service on the Manayunk-to-Norristown section of the road's Schuylkill Valley branch, at a Public Utilities Commission hearing Tuesday, 50 local commuters received a second jolt.

H. T. Allebachs Will Mark Golden Wedding at Dinner

The golden wedding anniversary of one of Conshohocken's best-known couples will be marked at an informal family dinner tomorrow night at the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown. Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Allebach of 1224 Fayette, were wed 50 years ago yesterday at the girlish home of Mrs. Allebach, the former Miss Katherine Gutwals of Yerkess, Pa.

Only surviving participant in the half-century ago ceremony will be among the eighteen guests from Conshohocken, Norristown, Fairview, Phoenixville and Harrisburg, who will join Mr. and Mrs. Allebach at the anniversary dinner. She is Miss Sara Gutwals, Phoenixville, a cousin of Mrs. Allebach, who played the wedding march on the Gutwals quaint reed organ.

Coming to Conshohocken a few months after the wedding, they lived four years at 144 E. Eighth. In February, 1906 they moved to their present residence.

Associated with Merion Westwood Mills, W. Conshohocken for forty one years, Mr. Allebach a native of Collegeville, headed its bookkeeping department for many years. He retired in 1937.

Joining the Conshohocken Presbyterian Church in 1913, Mr. and Mrs. Allebach have been among its most active members.

Elected treasurer of the church five years after he became affiliated with it. Mr. Allebach since has held the post. He is a former trustee of the church.

A member of Fritz Lodge, 420, Pfee and Accepted Masons, Conshohocken, for 40 years, Mr. Allebach is treasurer there also.

Former secretary of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church Mrs. Allebach is a member of the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian Hospital, Phila. A member of the Women's Club of Conshohocken, she has served on numerous committees throughout the years.

One of Mrs. Allebach's three brothers, Vernon D. Gutwals, lives at 129 W. Tenth, Conshohocken. Mrs. Allebach has been a director of the Conshohocken branch, Needlework Guild 34 years.

Betrothed State's Name Determined By Britain's Ruler Over Opposition of Wm. Penn

MISS MARY ANN DARBY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Darby, 1317 Wells, Conshohocken, whose engagement to Robert J. Megay of Caca, serving with a Navy construction unit, has just been announced.

Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong — Beaver, Bedford, Berks — Blair, Bradford, Bucks...

In such nursery-rhyme fashion Molly long ago learned the counties of Pennsylvania — all the way down to Y — and the final York.

So effective a method was this of memorizing Pennsylvania's 67 political divisions that they can be conjured up almost instant — and this week came unconsciously Molly's mind as Pennsylvania Week is celebrated:

Instead of repeating the many and diversified advantages and accomplishments of the Commonwealth today, Molly will pass on a number of colorful sidelights that have cropped up in connection with the big week.

The name, Pennsylvania—"Penn's Woods"—usually believed to have been the choice of William Penn, handsome father of this, one of the original 13 states, instead was actually proposed by him.

Whether or not current State motto chose this particular week in mid-Fall for Pennsylvania Week because of it, but Oct. 14 is the birthday of William Penn.

History tells that "Billy" Penn even attempted to bribe the secretaries to forget the Penn, and leave the name simply "Sylvania." Molly, for one, is happy that his attempt failed.

William Penn was a fruitful author, too, penning many a profound treatise, such as "No Cross, No Crown," "Counterfeit Christianity Detected," "Address to Protestants of All Persuasions" and "A Key to Opening the Way to Every Capacity."

33 Enrolled In Art Course

Twenty boys and girls are enrolled in the children's sketch class, which opened Saturday morning last week under auspices of Conshohocken Art League in the studio in Mary H. Wood Park House, Conshohocken.

The children's classes are divided into two age groups: five to 11 years, meeting from 9:30 to 11 A. M.; 12 to 18 years with sessions from 11 to 12:30.

The adult class, open to all residents of the area over 16, held its second session Monday night, with Miss Lois Rapp, Norristown artist, as the teacher.

Nurse Weds Army Major

Major and Mrs. Edward J. McIntyre will return tomorrow from a honeymoon in Pittsburgh and will leave for home in San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. McIntyre is the former Mrs. Betty Cody Vogt, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Cody, of 205 W. Ridge Pk., Harmonville and the late Charles Cody. The couple were married Monday afternoon at 3:30 in St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

Mrs. James McDermott, Gulph Mill and Charles Cody, Pittsburgh brother, were the only attendants. The bride wore a street-length frock of ice blue satin fashioned on princess lines, black accessories and a matching corsage.

SERVED IN ARMY CORPS — Mrs. McIntyre is a graduate of St. Matthew's High School and Montgomery Hospital School of Nursing. During World War II she served as lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps and saw service in the European theatre three years.

Miss Collins Chairman of Co. Newswomen

Newspaperwomen from Allentown, Bethlehem, Doylestown, West Chester, Downingtown, and this area, attended the annual meeting of the Southeastern District, Penna. Women's Press Assn., Saturday afternoon.

Held at "Breezewood", Huntingdon Valley, home of Mrs. Adelaide Blaese, co-publisher of newspapers in Rockledge and N. Phila., the meeting was preceded by a buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Robinson McIlvaine, co-publisher of the Downingtown Archive and author of the best seller "It Happens Every Thursday", presided. Mrs. McIlvaine is state president of the organization.

Miss Elizabeth Collins of The Recorder edited the forms for the annual meeting of the newswomen's organization, was named chairman of a committee for organization of Montgomery Co. newspaperwomen. Miss Collins recently attended the annual meeting of the South Central District of the organization at the Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster. The Lancaster Newspapers, Inc. were hosts at luncheon before the session.

Hon. William A. Bolton, Glenside, a member of the House of Representatives, was guest speaker, his topic, "Let's Level With the Public."

Davis Heads Recreation Unit

Owen Davis, Sr., 437 Ford, was named president of the West Conshohocken Recreation Council, at annual election of officers Monday night in the Council Chamber of the Borough Building. He succeeds Joseph Frey.

Jesse Kolbasowski was chosen vice president, succeeding James Carpenter; Mrs. James Carpenter was the choice for recording secretary, succeeding Mrs. Harriet Pierce; Mrs. Grace Havenor was retained assistant secretary.

Mrs. Owen Davis succeeded Alfred Risell as treasurer.

Harry Moser, of Audubon, was awarded a contract to enclose the pavilion in the park in order to store equipment during the winter. The enclosure will be completed so that the siding can be removed and the pavilion thrown open in the summer. The playground will be closed and the equipment stored as soon as the enclosure is completed.

Shower Fetes Choir Members

Two members of Calvary Episcopal Church Choir, Conshohocken, who will wed just an hour and a half apart in the church on Saturday, were feted by members of the choir recently at the home of Miss Marion Neville, 113 W. ### Francis C. Mason, Jr. Weds "Voice of America" Staffer

Miss Patricia Millicent Michaels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Michaels, of Rye, N. Y., and Manchester, England, was married on Saturday at Christ Church, Rye, to Francis Scarlett Mason, Jr., son of Mrs. Francis Scarlett Mason, of Plymouth Meeting and Jacksonville, Fla., and the late Francis Scarlett Mason.

Rev. Dr. Wendell Phillips, rector, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Landonau Club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an antique ivory tulle period gown with chapel train and her family heirloom veil was of Brussels rosepoint lace. She carried a bouquet of Calla lilies.

Miss Elizabeth White, of New York, was the maid of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Thompson of Illinois; Dr. Louis Friedmann, of White Plains, N. Y.; Miss Susan Kuehn, of Minneapolis, Minnesota; and the Misses Elizabeth Jane Allison, Marjorie Moore and Maris Toolston.

The couple will live in New York, where they are both with the Voice of America, the International Broadcasting Service of the Department of State.

The bride is a graduate of the Grier School and Wellesley College. She received her M. Sc. (Econ.) from the University of London in 1940. Mrs. Mason was presented in New York at the Assembly and in London at the Court of St. James in London, she was secretary to E. R. Millington, member of Parliament, a member of the editorial board of "United Nations World" and an editor of "Trade Intelligence." After her return to New York, she served as Research Assistant at the Liaison Office of the U. S. and U. K. during the United Nations Fifth General Assembly. She is the editorial assistant to the Chief of the North Europe Section of the Voice of America. The bride's father is President of the A. J. Michaels Co., Inc., New York.

Jaycees Plan Masquerade

President, Co-Chairmen To Address Students

Induction of three members was a feature of the semi-monthly meeting of the Conshohocken Chapter, Junior Chamber of Commerce, last night at Baumgart's Ridgeway Gardens, Conshohocken.

The new Jaycees are Adam Perattoli, Donald Champagne, and Albert Januzzi.

Announcement was made that a ladies' night Halloween social will be the next event. Members are invited to bring other couples as guests.

Robert Ehlinger, chairman of the "I Speak for Democracy" contest, reported that officials of both schools have signified willingness to sponsor student participation in the event.

Arthur Lefkoe, president and Jerome Kopensky, school contact committee co-chairman, will outline the contest and show a film "The Big Idea" at both schools on Nov. 6.

The Echo Yearbook Wins First Award for Third Year

Conshohocken High School's yearbook, "The Echo," won first place in its division for the third consecutive year in the 18th annual contest conducted by Columbia University Scholastic Press Assn., New York City.

Competing with other senior high schools of 200 or less enrollment throughout the United States, the lithographed publication was the choice of judges, together with Sharon Hill and E. Stroudsburg, who won similar honors in other divisions.

Miss June Oplinger, instructor in the commercial dept. of the high school, disclosed today that the publication was produced by the staff as a whole, without an editor. Miss Oplinger was advisor to the students.

A certificate attesting to the rating won by the "Echo" has been received at the high school.

Most of the students who helped compile the "Echo" have been graduated and are attending college.

The staff included Russell Gray, honor student, who is studying at Princeton University under a scholarship sponsored by A. A. Garthwaite, Lee Rubber and Tire Corp. executive; William Kumpf, valedictorian of the 1952 class, studying at Duke University, also on a Lee scholarship; Dianne Slavin, pianist, now at the University of Pennsylvania; Joan Webster, salutatorian of the 1952 Class, studying at Penn State College; Naomi Faust, pianist, at Ursinus College; Rose Flocco, in nurse training; Kenneth Heist, football and basketball player, at Muhlenberg College; Florence Homick, William Adair, Floyd Pachella, Walter Messinger, Bernice Sylva, Joan Markland, Naomi McCarron, Martha Jane McKay and Lena Mieloski.

The certificate, in part, states that "The Echo has been awarded a first place rating at the 18th annual contest at Columbia University."

Fetterolf

Supervisors said that early in September when he was appointed chairman of Whitemarsh Township for Citizens for Eisenhower by D. Rae Boyd, Montgomery County chairman, he personally set the Oct. 21 date at Barron Hill, contacted Congressman McClellan as the principal speaker and set up the organization of this group. Since that time his well-knit organization for General Eisenhower has made all plans for the rally, he pointed out.

"Mr. Swanson's post card was his first assistance in any way," Fetterolf stated. "The rally, which is expected to be well attended, has been solely thought up and set up by a hard-working Citizens group."

"I think it would be fine and certainly in the best interests of the election of the General if Mr. Swanson's organization will be present on October 21, but let's give credit where credit is due—to the Whitemarsh Citizens for Eisenhower."

The Springfield Township High School band and the William Bouillon Dixon Legion Post drum and bugle corps will provide entertainment from 7 until 8 on the night of the rally, the chairman announced.

Montgomery County Commissioners Fred C. Peters and Foster Willigans will be among the honored guests in attendance.

to the hardship of the commuters. Witnesses for the Pennsylvania Railroad said that passenger volume has declined more than 45 percent in the past five years and that the service was operated with an "out-of-pocket" loss of almost $150,000 during the last 12 months.

Extolling the passenger decline a spokesman, testified that for the 12-month period ending April 30, 1952, an average of 2,300 passengers used the service on week-days as compared with an average of 4,300 a day during 1947, a reduction of more than 45 percent.

"There has been no appreciable increase in patronage during the past 20 years, except for a temporary rise during World War II days when use of the private automobile was restricted," he said.

"Does this mean you may drop the Manayunk Philadelphia service?" Nathanson asked.

"We intend to continue the service on an experimental and temporary basis," Morris answered. "If the pattern of declining business continues we might be forced to drop it."

The matter of the Manayunk-to-Norristown passenger service rests with the Public Utilities Commission.

3 Nominated To Head District

Two from Flourtown Oppose Elias Slavin

Nomination of officers featured the October meeting of the fourth district of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association last night at the Lincoln of Cedar Heights fire house. Contests will be waged for both the offices of president and vice president.

Nominated for president were Elias H. Slavin, of 1917 Butler Pl., who has held the office for 20 years, and Charles H. House, chief of the Flourtown Fire Co., who is vice president, and Walter C. Smith, Jr., former president of the Flourtown Fire Co.

Competing for vice president are Charles Williams, of the Wyndmoor Fire Company; Carlton Woodward, Fort Washington Fire Company; and John Fisher, chief of the Lincoln Fire Company.

Albert B. Kerper, of the Flourtown Fire Co., was nominated to succeed himself as secretary-treasurer.

The election will be held in November.

The visiting firemen were welcomed by Bernard Weber, president of the Lincoln Fire Co.

The group welcomed and pledged their support to James M. Baird, Sr., of the Harlanville Fire Co.

Edward H. Chew denounced the practice of burning rubbish after dark and urged members to see that the law prohibiting this practice be enforced.

Two Freshman Awarded Prizes In Essay Contest

Announcement is made today of the winners in an annual essay contest on "Christopher Columbus," conducted by Conshohocken Council, 1603, Knights of Columbus.

Competition was limited to the freshman class of St. Matthew's High School, Conshohocken.

Richard Labovsiki, Fritz and Harry, received an award of $10. Elizabeth Blong, 1514 Fayette, was the winner of $5, the second award.

Girls were presented by "Practical Kelly," grades knight, at an annual communion breakfast Sunday in the auditorium of St. Matthew's grade school.

112 Students Visit First National Bank

In conjunction with the Pennsylvania Week celebration, 112 students of Conshohocken High School were guests of the First National Bank of Conshohocken, yesterday on a tour to observe the operation. This afternoon at 2, students at St. Matthew's High School also were taken on a tour of the bank.

and wrote simply, "Please transcribe this." I could find no blind person in America who knew Amharic.

"Finally, I evolved a code which worked. The U. of P. unearthed a French-English dictionary which had not been called for in 40 years. The Kraut Memorial Library in Germantown (Lutheran) loaned me a beautiful Amharic Bible. The McMillan Co. sent to England for a short grammar used by British soldiers stationed in Abyssinia during the war.

"What seemed an actual miracle to me, I found a missionary on furlough in Media who knew Amharic. She helped me with a lot of Amharic words that had evidently been badly printed on an old press."

Approximately 300,000 pages of Braille transcriptions are now credited to this snow-haired Narberth humanitarian.

Among her most treasured keepsakes are tributes from the blind of the world, whose darkened lives have been brightened by her unique aid.

"We marvel at the dogged persistence evinced by your tremendous works and we both know that such another Braille transcriber cannot possibly be in existence," wrote two students after studying her transcription of Advanced Calculus (1428 pages). Especially when we visualize mathematical expressions through which you had to wade in order that we might have them in comprehensive form."

Recently the mail brought a letter from a blind man in Addis Arabia.

"Honorable Lady," it read, "I have received the Gospel of St. John. . . . There is no mistake whatever in anything lacking. . . . I have presented your work to God. You will be happy to learn that I am teaching two blind people. God's grace be upon you. . . ."

For the story of Dr. Hodge, see page 1.

The little known Conestoga River Basin flowing through Lancaster County served as the proving ground for pioneering river studies by Dr. Hoth Patrick Hodge, Germantown Ave. and Thomas Rd. Whitemarsh Twp., which has culminated in the bright eye, cheerful scientist teacher being honored by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Hodge, whose river studies have had a far reaching effect with industrial and scientific organizations, performed her pioneering stream studies as a member of the staff of the Academy of Natural Sciences, 19th and Race. She is also on the biology faculty of the University of Pennsylvania.

It was in the summer of 1948 that Dr. Hodge, head of the Academy's Limnology Dept., led the Academy's first biological survey of the Conestoga. The work was done under the sponsorship of the sanitary Water Board of Pennsylvania.

Since then, the Academy has increased its staff and has made surveys of rivers and stream health in many parts of the United States and Canada, using techniques first developed by Dr. Hodge.

As a result of her studies, Dr. Hodge now owns a medal naming her as a Distinguished Daughter of Pennsylvania, awarded last Thursday at the Governor's Mansion at Harrisburg.

Gov. Fine was scheduled to make the presentation, but Senator Richard Nixon came to town unexpectedly, and the award was presented by Mrs. James Duff, wife of the U. S. Senator of Pennsylvania. The ceremony was part of Pennsylvania Week.

The method which Dr. Hodge pioneered was, in simple terms, the setting up of an index of stream life by which the health of a river might be measured. This was first worked out in the Conestoga Basin.

"In Lancaster, we had no idea what would come of it," she said. We have found out that in a natural stream not adversely affected by pollution a great many different kinds of plants and animals exist.

"This is not just a random group but they form a critically balanced food chain. At the base of the food chain are bacteria and algae. They are fed on by one-celled animals, protozoa, small worms, insects, snails, fish. They are composed of many chains. In a healthy chain, the series is intact. If you damage one series of links, the chain is broken.

"A river is made up of tolerant species and sensitive species. In the natural stream, you have a mixture of the tolerant and sensitive species. As the river becomes polluted, the more sensitive ones are knocked out, and only tolerant ones are left.

"I got the award because of this method."

Dr. Hodge indicates that the uses of the method are important to both science and industry. "We can help industry to know how to use a river without abusing it," she said.

"Good flowing water is as important as fire for a stable civilization," she continued. "It is imperative to maintain our rivers. The same groups have polluted the rivers and used them as open sewers. We can show industries how they can use a river and not abuse it, preserving our resources for the future."

As to local rivers, she added: "The Delaware River is just starting its great clean up. It still needs studies, as the dredging moves upstream. The Schuylkill also needs dredging." She said that the health of a river can be maintained by a two part program calling for checking pollution and by dredging.

Her youthful face lights up when she describes her pioneering as "very exciting." She said her interest in scientific studies began when her lawyer father allowed her to look into his microscope "if I was a good girl."

At seven, she acquired her first microscope and began to study many things under its lens: flies, grains of sugar, and many small objects. "I didn't get into diatoms until college," she laughs.

She also pays tribute to the many specialists with whom she works closely and whose teamwork has helped make her discoveries possible. They include: "a protozoologist, an entomologist, an ichthyologist, an algologist, and a chemist."

Asked if it was not a back breaking job to coordinate the findings of these workers, she laughed. "My back's broken," she said.

Mrs. Cate, a former resident of Roxborough, won her award for internationally recognized work as a silversmith and her work as director of the silver smithing and jewelry department of the Phila. Museum School of Art.

The newspapers are the Conshohocken Recorder, The Herald, The Suburban Press and The Review.

Mrs. Cate is the wife of James F. Cate, a partner in the coal and fuel oil firm of James F. Cate & Sons, Jammestown and Cresson, Manayunk. The Cates live at the Mayfair House, in Germantown.

In addition to the excitement which accompanied the presentation, Mrs. Cate renewed her acquaintance with another Distinguished Daughter, Mrs. Elaine Brown, a member of the Music Department at Temple University.

Mrs. Cate and Mrs. Brown were friends when both were members of the faculty at Temple. Both were thrilled at being chosen Distinguished Daughters.

Give Through Your Church To The Community Chest

DRIVE STARTS THIS SUNDAY

Quota $101,600

Your Community Chest is dedicated to the purpose of improving community life. A few weeks each year are set aside to raise funds for this worthwhile cause. Your church is dedicated to the betterment of community life every day in the year. It is altogether fitting then that the Chest Drive start in the churches. This year the Drive includes the building of Fellowship House as a part of its goal—and Fellowship House is a tribute to one of the essentials of all religion—THE BROTHERHOOD OF MEN!

Golden Bears at Full Strength For 20th Anniversary Contest

Inspired by four successive victories, including a 20-0 shellacking of Berwyn and a 26-14 decision over West Chester High in the opening of athletic relations between the two schools, both played on alien field, the rampaging Golden Bears of Conshohocken High will engage in their third away game and their first daylight encounter of the season Saturday afternoon when they travel to Bridgeport for the 20th renewal of the series with the Dragons.

The kick-off is scheduled at 2. The Bears, showing greater strength than the unbeaten eleven of last season, has but one blemish on their 1952 record. It occurred in the opening game when they went out of their class to meet the Norristown Eagles at Roosevelt field. They fell by the wayside, 21-0. Since then all opposition has been bowled over with comparative ease, with the exception of the game with P. S. D. when the Mount Airy eleven came here with one of their best teams and extended the cohorts of Coach Bonkoski in downing them 6-0.

With one-half of the schedule completed, the prospects of 50 BUICK "Special" 4-Door in Black, Radio, heater and Dynamoflow drive.

Eagles Beat Shenandoah, Meet Mirrors on Sunday

Coach Heavey Sure His Team Will Triumph
By UNCLE WALT HANNUM
St. Matthew's Mirrors will play their third consecutive game at the Center Stadium, Eleventh and Harry, Conshohocken, Sunday afternoon, when they welcome St. John's High of Manayunk in an annual engagement.
Kickoff time is 2 P.M.
The millions of Coach Heavey will be seeking their fourth victory of the season and should experience little trouble in achieving their goal.
The Eagles bowed to St. Patrick's of Norristown, 6-0, in their opening game and last week rebounded with a smashing 46-6 triumph over Shenandoah Catholic at Manayunk. The birds have a new coach this year in the person of John Dougherty, who succeeded Jimmy Auld.
In the short time he has been with the team, Coach Dougherty has done a commendable job. He has the boys in excellent physical condition, but he is handicapped by the number and size of players. St. John's is one of the smaller schools in Philadelphia, what the boys lack in size they make up in speed.
Coach Dougherty has been expending the week building up a defense calculated to hold the Mirrors in check both on the ground and through the airway.
The Mirrors are approaching the strength hoped by Coach Heavey all season and there is a possibility the team will be able to take the field with all their players available for the first time. Pete Brunl, who has been out all season, and Don O'Connor and Ron Greco, who were out due to injury last week, all backs, will be ready to swing into action.
It is certain that Al Hissner, who played such a dazzling game last Sunday, will again be started in the backfield, with Billy Nolan taking his place on the end.
St. Matthew's All-G-H band will enliven the occasion between halves.

Juniors Defeat Springfield, 12-0
Springfield in the first and second periods, Conshohocken High Junior Varsity football team, coached by George Hill, journeyed to Edenheim Friday afternoon and defeated Springfield High Junior Varsity, 12-0.
Irvin Dean, end, scored the first touchdown when he recovered a fumble and ran 45 yards to cross the goal line standing up. The try for extra point failed.
Carpen Reppatone made the second score when he received a pass from Allen Wolfe on the Spartan 25 and galloped to pay dirt. Again the try for the extra point.
The victory was the third in four games played by the Blue and Gold Gridirers. They triumphed over Norristown Radnor and Springfield. Their lone loss was at the hands of Berwyn.
The Junior Varsity will swing into action again on Monday when they will have as opponents at the Center Stadium the Ambler Junior Varsity team.

Bears Celebrate Victory Over Berwyn
In appreciation of their brilliant 20-0 victory over Berwyn High on Oct. 3, on the Main Line gridiron, the Athletic Association and coaches Vince Bonzak, Ray Weaver and George Hill entertained members of the Golden Bears football squad and their friends at dinner Monday night in the high school gymnasium.
Refreshments were served by the cheerleaders who did as good a job with the waiters as they have done all year in leading the cheering. Dancing was the concluding number on the program.

Woolens, in jewel tones, shown in many versatile models, held the spotlight, along with fashions for wraps and chic headgear modeled by club-women.

With fabric playing the foremost role in the fashion spotlight this season, woolens appeared in trended textures and nubby twills. Pineapple corduroy was spun in tight weaves giving the appearance of velvet from the spectator's view, while velvet came into its own in rich tones for lounging slacks and smart trimming that instantly transformed sporty tweeds for "after 5" apparel.

Smart hats featured jewel trims for bright new autumn shades in rich velours and striking winter whites presented by Sara's Millinery, Norristown.

Climax of the show was formal attire for a fall bride and two attendants, followed by a parade of milk slacks, heavier coats and fur neck pieces.

Doris Hackett, well-known fashion model and television fashion commentator, did the narration. The platform, backed with flowers and arranged with smart furniture in modern trend, lent an impressive background for the show.

June McAdams, fashion model and a former Miss America, appeared as mystery personality at the show's conclusion.

A daily firm presented two films on "The Romance of Ice"
