MAN AND WIFE PERISH IN FLAMES

St. Gertrude's To Dedicate School Sunday Bishop to Officiate At Exercises On West Side

West Conshohocken — St. Gertrude's new parochial school, opened last Fall at Bullock and Merion Aves., West Conshohocken, will be formally dedicated by Rt. Rev. John F. O'Hara, Bishop of the Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia, at impressive exercises at 4 Sunday afternoon.

The $90,000, four-classroom school is the first building actually constructed for school purposes in the parish's long history. Classes were originally held in the church basement, later in a converted mansion.

More than 50 visiting clergymen, including several monsignors, will come here for the event, which will open with services in the church. Following a procession of clergy and the 150 pupils to the school, Bishop O'Hara will bless the outside of the structure.

Accompanied by his attendants, Bishop O'Hara will then bless the interior of the school, after which outdoor services will include addresses by the Bishop and by Rev. Francis Ragusa, rector, concluded with solemn Benediction. In event of rain, the final services will be held in the church.

Confirmation of a class of upwards of 50 persons will be held at the church, next Tuesday morning at 11, with Auxiliary Bishop Joseph McShea, of Philadelphia, officiating.

Rev. Father Fagan and Rev. Stephen Krstin, assistant rector, are in charge of arrangements for the dedication.

Assistant Golf Pro Appointed

Bob Miller Joins
Green Valley Staff

Lafayette Hill—Bob Miller, of Camden, former assistant golf pro at Spring Haven Country Club, Delaware County, has been made assistant pro at Green Valley Country Club, where the Spring season opened last week.

Continuing as pro at the nearby club at Ridge and Joshua Rds., Lafayette Hill, is George Griffin, Jr., of Andorra Acres, formerly of Conshohocken, who has held the post for several years in conjunction with his father, George Griffin, Sr. Both are widely known in the golf world.

The senior Griffin, stricken with a heart attack in December, is recuperating at his Logan home after seven weeks' confinement in Germantown Hospital.

Miller replaces Jack Robinson, assistant pro at the Green Valley Club for a number of years, who has accepted a post at Springfield Country Club.

George Griffin, Jr., won the Phila. Open Golf championship last September at Green Valley, and the same contest in 1952.

Mission for Men To Begin Sunday

Conshohocken—A one-week's mission for women of the parish will be brought to a close Sunday at St. Matthew's Church.

A mission for men of the parish will begin Sunday night and continue for one week. Special services are held every morning and evening. Conducting the mission are Rev. Alfred Myers and Rev. Gregory Moorman of the Precious Blood Order of Ohio.

Door-to-Door Campaign to Open Cancer Drive

Conshohocken — An all-out drive to surpass the 1953 collection for the American Cancer Society in the area, will be made in a whirlwind porchlight campaign from 7 until 9 Tuesday night, according to Alex Piermani, Jr., chairman of the 1954 campaign.

Captains were announced today by Piermani for the door-to-door solicitation. They are Joseph Gersbach, 445 Spring Mill Ave.; Raymond Matricardi, 639 Spring Mill Ave.; Louis Monaco, 135 E. Fourth Ave.; Jerome Kopensky, 226 E. Hector St.; Anthony DeMedio, 111 W. Ninth Ave.; Leonard Jacobson, 322 Fayette St.; Mrs. Arthur Lefkoe, 1414 Hallowell St.; Thomas D'Annunzio, Jr., 232 W. 11th Ave.; Matthew Moore, 12th Ave. and Fayette St.; Charles Butera, 420 Hallowell St.; and Frank Zinni, 611 W. Elm St.

Piermani also named Donald Moore as chairman of the business division. Arthur Lefkoe is serving as advisor. Pupils of both St. Matthew's and Conshohocken High Schools will aid in the porchlight collection.

Local Coupon Book Plan to Start April 22

Conshohocken — Unanimous approval for one of the finest sales promotions in recent years in the community — the coupon book plan — was given by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at a luncheon yesterday at the Conshohocken Association.

Residents of Conshohocken, as well as neighboring areas, were urged by the Chamber of Commerce to await the local plan, one of the greatest "hometown" promotions ever sponsored in this section of Pennsylvania, and far more exciting than other plans recently promoted in nearby towns.

The plan, which will be placed in effect by a majority of local merchants on April 22, is sponsored by the Chamber and is in no way connected with a promotion being sold by an outside agency.

Coupon books of the local Chamber, which have the approval of many churches of the community and civic organizations, will sell for only $2.50, while a portion of proceeds will go to the groups that sell the books, the remaining funds will be used entirely for promotion of business in Conshohocken.

The coupon plan, under direction of Nicholas J. Romano, chairman of the Retail Division, is being offered at a remarkably low price, and in return merchants will give to customers values that will total more than $100 in savings on each and every book.

"A majority of storekeepers already have signed up for the plan," Romano said today, "and we are going to contact others who may desire to be in on this genuine hometown promotion plan."

Romano stressed the fact that every dollar spent for the Conshohocken Merchants coupon books will return to the community in one way or another, and will not be used by out-of-town agencies that have no interest in Conshohocken. Preparations for direct mail as well as extensive newspaper advertising to give every resident an opportunity to purchase a coupon book will be undertaken next week, so persons will not be confused with any other proposition already spreading through the town by telephone.

Present at the meeting Monday when the go ahead signal was given the project by the retail committee were Peter Romano, Joseph Wilder, Nicholas J. Romano, E. F. Moore Jr., and Fred G. Berger.

Corpse Are Removed From Death Trap

JONES

Bodies Found In Plymouth Valley Home

Son, 29, Climbs Ladder
Into Bedroom Calling
'Mother, Mother' in Vain

Plymouth Valley — Fire snuffed out the lives of a 62-year-old man and his wife during a frantic attempt to flee their burning two-story stone home at Belvoir Rd. and New Hope St., before dawn today.

Found dead in night attire by firemen were Walter S. Jones, field sales manager for Westfield River Paper Co., West Conshohocken, and Ruth Beecher Jones, 54.

Concealed completely by the dense pall of smoke that filled the entire house when firemen reached it, the body of the woman lay close to the center of the living room, undetected by firemen in their vain trip to the second floor, hoping to save occupants of the dwelling.

Later, the gruesome discovery of the body of the husband was made in a first-floor bedroom, immediately behind the living room. Jones was found crouched against a window of the room, where apparently he had fallen, too weak from the effects of flame and smoke to open or break the window.

The position of the woman's body — the head toward the front door — indicated that death overcame her as she attempted to reach safety outdoors.

Walter E. Jones, 29, of 1205 W. Oak St., Norristown, the couple's only child, risked his life when, unheeded by firemen, he scaled a ladder standing against the house and entered the smoke-filled bedroom, frantically shouting "mother, mother."

The younger Jones, employed by Bors Chevrolet, Inc., Norristown, was summoned to the scene by a neighbor shortly after the fire was detected. He groped about the room until he was near collapse.

Struggling back to the ladder, firemen had to help him to the ground. He was given first aid at the scene.

Electric clocks stopped at 1:15 A. M. led Plymouth Twp. Fire Marshal J. Donald Tarbuton to place the beginning of the tragic blaze at that hour. He said the fire short-circuited the electric system, and darkness added further difficulty to the couple's efforts to escape.

Apparently the blaze originated in a bedroom. Fire officials blamed a discarded cigar or cigarette. The couple went to bed about midnight, it was learned.

Coursing downward, the flames burned a large area of the living room floor and at completely through the rafters between the room and the basement. Firemen said the blaze so weakened the floor where Mrs. Jones fell dead that only the heavy rug prevented the body plunging into the basement.

Although the living room was burned badly and the entire interior damaged by scorching heat and intense smoke, the exterior virtually was unscathed.

A woman motorist, after driving her husband to work, saw flames and smoke issuing from the upper part of the house as she drove by at 6:30 River Paper Co. in 1945.

Jumping from her car, she called loudly as she approached the house, she pounded on the door.

When there was no sign of life, she ran across the lawn to the adjoining name of Jerry Ragusa, from whom the Jones rented the dwelling.

Heleen Ragusa, wife of the landlord, called the Montgomery County Police radio room by telephone. Dispatcher Robert Davis alerted Plymouth Twp. Police Sgt. Vito Fusco and Officer Hugh Byrne and summoned fire companies. Barren Hill Rescue Squad also was called.

Fusco and Byrne tried in vain to gain entrance, Fusco climbing to the second floor to force a window, but terrific heat and smoke beat them back. Firemen of Harmonville and Plymouth companies, arriving minutes later, gained entrance by smashing glass in a front storm door, after donning gas masks. Two smoke ejectors also were quickly placed in use.

Fire officials believe the couple, awakened after the fire had gained considerable headway, groped their way downstairs through the billowing smoke and intense heat, and without light, hoping to reach the outdoors. Smoke and heat won the battle.

Miss Blanche Famous, also of 1205 W. Oak St., Norristown, a niece of Mr. Jones, said she talked with the couple last night. They spent the evening playing a cross-hand game of cards, she said.

Miss Famous said the couple was extremely careful about burning cigar and cigarette butts, and were not in the habit of tossing them around carelessly.

Mr. Jones is a native of Norristown. His wife came from Indiana. They about a year ago they resided in Colesburg, East Norristown Twp.

Dr. John C. Simpson, acting Montgomery County coroner, pronounced the couple dead at the scene and attributed death to suffocation by smoke.

Mrs. Jones was a sister of the late Chester E. Beecher, who headed a group which founded in 1925 the Glassine Paper Co., West Conshohocken. The firm became Westfield River Paper Co. in 1945.

Double funeral services will be held at 2 Monday at the D. Rae Boyd, funeral home, 718 Swede St., Norristown. Interment, Whitmarsh Memorial Park.

Holdup Attempt At Tavern Foiled

Spring Mill — Whitmarsh Twp. police are continuing an intensive effort to apprehend four men, one of whom was a sawed-off shotgun, who were scared off by a barking dog as they were apparently preparing to stage a holdup at Bruno's Restaurant, Hector and End Sts., Spring Mill, Thursday night.

John Hampton, 46, of Barren Hill Rd., Spring Mill, bartender, is given credit with foiling the holdup attempt. Defying the threat of the shotgun, Hampton left his position behind the bar and started for a back room, shouting for "Lady," a watchdog, to "come and get 'em."

PAL Five Tangles With 'Stilt' in Game Tonight

Conshohocken — The PAL team hopes to accomplish a feat that has not been done this season, stopping "Will the Stilt" Chamberlain when the local team meets the Philadelphia PAL five tonight on the Fellowship House floor.

A preliminary game between two teams of the newly organized Montgomery County Junior League will open activities at 7:15. Chamberlain, a junior who paced Overbrook High School to the city championship this year, comes here tonight with the finest record ever compiled in high school circles, and local stars are expected to have their hands full trying to stop him.

Frank Allen, a former University of Virginia star, but tiny compared to the 6-foot 11-inch Chamberlain, will lead the Conshohocken five, along with other former aces from both Conshohocken and St. Matthew's High Schools.

Methodists to Climax Centennial Observance

Rev. James F. Brasher, pastor of Conshohocken Methodist Church, greets Dr. John W. McKelvey, pastor of Lansdowne Methodist Church, who spoke at 10th anniversary banquet last night at local church. Rev. Richard B. Wells, center, former pastor, was a guest.

Conshohocken — Rev. Dr. Frederick D. Maser, superintendent of the Northwest District, Philadelphia Methodist Conference, will be speaker at the 10:45 Sunday services, part of concluding exercises in a week's celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Conshohocken Methodist Church.

The four male Harmony Trumpeters of Philadelphia will play. Dedication of two memorials will take place. The gift of Mrs. Maza Montross, Mrs. Marguerite Fisher and George Pitman, a new silver communion service, will be dedicated to the memory of their parent, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pitman.

Honoring the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Hannum will be a new reredos, the rear section of the altar, and a tapestry, gifts of their son, Ben Hannum and family. Special music will be sung by both choirs.

At 7:30 P. M. Sunday, Rev. John B. Oman, pastor of historic First Methodist Church of New Jersey, at Trenton, will be the speaker.

Social observance of the centennial took the form of a congregational dinner last night in the church social rooms, attended by 150 members and guests.

Dinner Guests

Spring Mill — Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Franklin Heller, Jr., 282 Barren Hill Rd., will observe the 17th anniversary of their marriage Saturday. The couple will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Smith, 922 E. Hector St., Spring Mill, at a dinner and theatre party in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Board, Council to Meet

West Conshohocken—The School Board will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the high school building and Borough Council will meet at 4 Wednesday night in the council chambers.

try, who was named pastor of Our Lady of Charity Church, Brookhaven.

Senior and Junior Woman's Clubs Sponsor Style Shows, Card Parties, Two Days Apart

Conshohocken — Daytime skirts for Spring and Summer have moved up two to three inches and have become pencil slim or whirlingly full. California influence in style design has leaped across the continent and also dictated the vivid rainbow hues of the Pacific coast to replace more conservative Atlantic coast hues.

Style shows of this nature came to the fore in exciting manner at an annual fashion show conducted by the Junior Woman's Club, last night, in the auditorium of Spring Mill fire house, and at a similar function of the Woman's Club, Monday night in the gymnasium-auditorium of Fellowship House. Traditional card parties were held at both shows. Last night, seven models representing a Norristown togger and accessory shop showed newest trends in morning, afternoon and evening attire.

Bouffant petticoats make many pretty skirts, even on daytime suits, "stand-outs." The baby look and the little boy look are featured, as are double-duty frocks, where a conservative jacket used during the day for business is removed to reveal a sequined bodice for dancing. Miss Ida Louise Bath, a club member, was commentator at last night's show. Mrs. George Griffin, general chairman, was aided by Mrs. Arthur Lefkoe, Mrs. Robert Lotz, Mrs. Joseph Turco, Mrs. Wilmer Bath, Jr., Mrs. Donald Hennrichs and Mrs. Paul Long.

At the senior club party, a record 300 attended. Staged by a metropolitan department store, the fashion show featured six professional models, showing California styles almost exclusively.

Keynote of the show was the "carefree approach" to fashion, carried out in peasant skirts, pleated and short, and bright, poster colors in every wardrobe phase from bathing suits to formal evening attire.

Actual length of the daytime suit skirt averages 14 or 15 inches from the ground, as compared to a more conservative 12 to 13 of last season, commentators noted.

Hand-decorated guest trays were attractive favors at the more than 50 tables in use at the card games Monday night. A musician from the store staging the show played the organ on the auditorium stage.

Mrs. Paul Miraglia was general chairman. Mrs. Armand Dotsworth, co-chairman. They were assisted by Mrs. Edward Oermann, Mrs. James Lynch, Mrs. Kenneth Heist and Mrs. Harvey Quigg.

Both models and modes were equally pretty at annual fashion show and card party of the Junior Woman's Club of Conshohocken last night at Spring Mill fire house auditorium. Left to right, Shirley Giannone and Mary Gigliotti, showing new Spring styles, with Mrs. George Griffin, Jr., chairman and Miss Ida Louise Bath, commentator.

Entertainment, Decorations Will Be Complete Surprise At Star Banquet Tomorrow

Theme of decoration and entertainment will be a complete surprise at the 40th annual banquet of Banner Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, at 6:30 tomorrow in the ballroom of the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown.

Older members no doubt will reminisce extensively about the chapter's beginning way back in May of 1913, when Mrs. James Peach and the late Mr. Peach, who lived in later years in Akron, Ohio, organized the group in the P. O. S. of A. Hall. Mrs. Peach is now a guest at the Masonic Home in Springfield.

Since then, the chapter has grown consistently into one of the most prominent in District 25 A and B, of which it is a member, and locally it has become one of the most active women's organizations.

Rev. Warren D. Russell, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak. Honored will be Mrs. Ethel McElane of Gulph Mills, completing her year as the chapter's worthy matron.

Attending will be more than 25 worthy matrons of other chapters in the districts, and their husbands. Hundreds of chapter members also will attend, together with a number of dignitaries of the order, members of the worthy matron's family and other invited guests totaling 185.

Mrs. Howard Vercoe, past matron, is general chairman of the committee arranging the banquet. Mrs. Elsie Vandegrift is chairman of entertainment and Mrs. Martha Wimmer, decorations. Both also are past matrons, who with Mrs. Vercoe have had the seat of honor at similar events in past years.

Second Member Of Ames Family Is Betrothed

Conshohocken — Announcement of the approaching marriage of a daughter and of the engagement of a son is made simultaneously today by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ames, 331 E. North Lane, Whiteland Twp.

Principals will be Miss Marjorie Ames and Joseph P. English, 3rd, of 926 Ford St., Bridgeport, whose betrothal was announced several months ago. The ceremony will take place June 5 at St. Augustine's Church, Bridgeport.

In the betrothal, principals are Pri. Chris Ames, now based in Germany, and Miss Constance Ann Petrolati, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Petrolati, 422 Union Ave., Bridgeport.

Miss Petrolati, a graduate of West Catholic High School for Girls last June, is a member of the staff of the State Employment Office, Norristown. Pvt. Ames was graduated in 1949 from Norristown High School, where he was an outstanding athlete, and last June from West Chester State Teachers College, majoring in physical education.

Miss Ames was graduated from Norristown High School in 1952 and has recently accepted a position as secretary to the purchasing agent at Graterford Penitentiary, after resignation from the office staff of Alan Wood Steel Co. Her fiancé is a graduate of a Philadelphia high school and is now studying electrical engineering at Pennsylvania State University. He is a veteran of four years' Navy service.

Twp. Project Playground Plan

Upper Merion Twp.—Upper Merion Home and School Assn. will meet at 8 Monday night in Room 112, at the elementary school.

Richard Gable, past president of Valley Forge Kiwanis Club, will present a plan of a proposed playground to be established in the area by the Kiwanians.

The Future Business Leaders of America, group of students at Upper Merion School, will conduct a sale of home baked goods prior to the session.

A nominating committee will be appointed at this meeting. A slate will be presented for election next month. Fred H. Lockton, president, announced.

Library Plans Discussed

Plymouth Valley — Plans to locate a library center at Fellowship Hall of Plymouth Valley Baptist Church, Germantown Pike at Valley Rd., was the major discussion at a luncheon meeting of the Missionary Book Club Thursday afternoon. The session took place at the church parsonage, when Mrs. John C. Myers, wife of the pastor, served as hostess.

Mrs. Charles M. Robb, a representative of Montgomery Free Library, Norristown, spoke of the possibility of locating one at the church.

The Bookmobile, which visits the area from Norristown each week, is not a satisfactory plan, members announced. With the present schedule, the unit arrives too early in the afternoon to avail the children use of the books, before they return from school.

The membership will discuss plans with officials in the church regarding the library.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Lee continued the discussion of the Book of Revelation.

Mrs. Richard Lukens, 815 Clover Lane, will be hostess at the next luncheon meeting April 29. Rev. John C. Myers gave the benediction.

Attending were Mrs. Alex S. Chemerys, Jr., Mrs. George R. Connor, Mrs. Nellie G. Furry, Mrs. Richard Lukens, Mrs. Carl R. MacLean, Mrs. G. A. Stout, Mrs. E. P. Thomas, Mrs. John M. Volk, Mrs. Gaston Stickler, Mrs. Richard Lukens, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Myers.

Mr. John C. Myers Home from Coast

Plymouth Valley — Mrs. John C. Myers, of Community Baptist Church parsonage, Germantown Pike and Valley Rd., returned last week after a three-weeks' visit in San Diego, Calif., with a daughter, Miss Patricia Myers. The latter is employed with an airline on the West Coast.

Enroute home, via plane, Mrs. Myers visited another daughter, Lucy Jo, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Peterson, in Keokuk, Iowa, where the Plymouth Valley pastor and his wife formerly resided.

Mrs. Myers left her Mar. 1 with Miss Margaret Carney, 207 Chelsea Rd., who is now visiting relatives in Honolulu.

Couple Selects Valley Forge For Nuptials Last Saturday

Valley Forge — George Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, was the scene of the marriage of Miss Louise Frederick, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Frederick, 47 Harry St., and the late Mr. Frederick, and Dante DiDonato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio DiDonato, 1245 Ridge Pike, Norristown, Saturday afternoon. Rev. John Robbins Hart, rector, officiated.

Given in marriage by a brother, Joseph Frederick, Jr., the bride was attended by Miss Mary Principle of Norristown, maid of honor. Salvatore Carfagno, Norristown, was best man.

After a week's honeymoon in New York City, the couple will live at the home of the bridegroom. The bride attended Conshohocken High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Norristown High School and Spring Garden Institute, Philadelphia and also attended Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. He is employed in the machine shop at Alan Wood Steel Co., Ivy Rock.

White satin, in Waltz length, with full bell style skirt, fitted bodice with a scalloped lace yoke and tapering sleeves, was worn by the bride. A scalloped fingertip veil fell from a pearl-trimmed coronet and she carried white roses and baby's breath, centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor wore a two-toned blue nylon net frock, with bouffant skirt and shirred bodice. A bonnet of self-material was adorned with pearls. Slippers were of deeper blue than the gown and

MRS. LENORE VAN BERG

Propper-van Berg Nuptials Sunday in North Philadelphia

One of the outstanding weddings of the Spring season will take place at 12:30 Sunday, when Mrs. Lenore van Berg of the Presidential Apartments and Judge Leonard Michael Propper, of 551 E. Walnut Lane, Roxborough, will be united in marriage by Rabbi David H. Wice at Congregation Rodef Shalom, 615 N. Broad St., Philadelphia.

After a two weeks' honeymoon in Florida, the couple will live at 551 E. Walnut Lane.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fostadt, of School Lane House, Germantown. She is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, and she formerly was director of the research department of M.G.M. for stories in the public domain.

A widow, she has a daughter, Diane, five years.

The judge, son of Mrs. Julius Propper, of Wynnewood, and the late Dr. Propper, who was a practicing physician of Roxborough and Manayunk, is one of the youngest jurists ever elected to a full 10-year term in the Philadelphia Municipal Court. He was appointed by Governor John S. Fine in April 1952, to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Judge Nochen S. Winnet of Chestnut Hill, and won the election last November.

Ukulele, Island Songs to Mark Junior Club's "Trip to Hawaii"

Conshohocken—The strum of the ukulele, the swish of the grass skirt and the mellow strains of the songs of the Islands will all be heard at Mary Wood Park House, Fifth Ave. and Harry St., when Jeannette Nolte, of Dairy Council, Inc., takes members of the Junior Woman's Club on an imaginary trip to Hawaii as a feature at a next Tuesday night.

In a colorful program which she calls "Oh Boy—Poli!", Mrs. Nolte will describe the exotic beauty, recount the fascinating legends and play the beautiful songs of the territory which Mark Twain described as "the loveliest fleet of islands that lie anchored in any sea!"

Mrs. Nolte is a graduate of the Drexel Institute of Technology with a bachelor of science degree in home economics. As a member of the nutrition staff of Dairy Council, a health education agency supported by the dairy industry, her activities include the presentation of a variety of programs.

The appearance of Mrs. Nolte before the Junior Woman's Club has been arranged by Mrs. H. Russell Heffentrey, chairman.

Mrs. Robert Havener will preside. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Herbert Tucker, Mrs. Charles Loper, Mrs. Eugene Labowski, Mrs. Arthur Lefkoe and Mrs. Walter Stutler, Jr.

George Eustace, above, employed at the Whitmarsh Valley Hunt Club stables, W. Mill Rd., Flourtown, for 32 years, performs a daily chore under the watchful eye of one of his charges. The club will close May 1. George's brother, Robert, of Norristown, below, feeds fox hound pack. He has been associated with club for more than 16 years. Members have not decided what to do with hounds.

Whitmarsh Hunt Club, 36 Women See Founded 51 Years Ago, Largest City To Be Disbanded May 1

Flourtown - The development of the countryside into residential sites and the advent of the Turnpike in the area has been advanced as major factors for the disbanding of the famed Whitmarsh Valley Hunt Club, William Leeds Diston, president said yesterday. The date set for the closing is May 1.

Diston, whose grandfather was one of the original members of the Club, said that the action was taken at a recent general meeting of the members. The property, on W. Mill Rd., which includes stables, hound kennels and a large rambling clubhouse has been purchased by George D. Widener, noted sportsman.

Widener, Diston stated, plans to raise the existing buildings and a house will be built on the site by Mr. and Mrs. James C. Gentile, who presently reside nearby.

The clubhouse has been the scene of many social gatherings and parties during the years. Hundreds of debutantes have made their bow to society at dances and parties conducted there.

Over its grounds and that of the adjacent Erdenheim Farms, owned by Widener, the club has conducted two hunt meets a year. During several years the meets were staged on the property of members living in the area.

The annual Fall and Spring meets have been classic and high spots in events attended by society.

The club was founded in 1903 by a group of local sportsmen including James G. Leiper, Meadowbrook Ave., Chestnut Hill. At the start there were four couples of hounds. Today the hound pack contains 22 couples. Most of the packs are American bred, but a few are of Welsh ancestry. Diston disclosed that no action has been taken as to the disposal of the pack.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fuchaluger, who have been stewards at the club for the last 15 years, are busy making plans to move to Tampa, Fla. They expect to leave for the Southern city May 3 by motor.

Members of the Eustace family have long been associated with the Hunt Club. Edward Eustace, who formerly lived on Grove Ave. but recently removed to Ambler, served as a hostler for 33 years. He quit the club about a year ago to take a position with a defense plant.

A brother, George Eustace, still employed as hostler, has been there 32 years. Monday, he was still uncertain what he was going to do when the club closes its doors. "I've worked around horses all my life," he said. "Before coming to the Hunt Club, I had charge of the horses for the Springfield Twp. Police."

George said that one of the members of the club wants him to work on the farm, but he did not think that he would accept this offer.

Eustace revealed that at one time, the stables contained 42 horses and employed a staff of employees to care for and exercise them. Today there are only 21 horses stabled there, all of which will be removed by May 1.

Another brother, Robert, who resides in Norristown, has worked for the club for more than 15 years.

The club has 113 members among who the assets will be divided after the liquidation action has been completed.

Beside Diston, who resides on Millia Hill Rd., Whitmarsh Twp., other officers are Frederic L. Ballard, Jr., City Line and Thomas Rd. secretary; John H. W. Ingersoll, Penllyn, treasurer; James C. Arthur, Gwynedd Valley, Master of the Fox Hounds, and Frank Povers, chairman of the race committee.

Dessert Card Party Is April 24 at Inn

Plymouth Valley - Mrs. Robert Firth, 16 Laurel Lane, chairman of the ways and means committee in Plymouth Valley Women's Club, announced a dessert card party will take place at 1:30, April 24, at General DeKalb Inn, Norristown.

Canasta, bridge and other games will be featured. French pastry and coffee will be served by club members.

36 Women See Largest City

Plymouth Valley - Members of Plymouth Valley Women's Club and guests visited New York City on Saturday. Traveling by chartered bus, they visited Radio City Music Hall, the United Nations building and dined at the Brasserie.

Mrs. Robert Firth was in charge of the outing. Attending were Mrs. Edward Gaffney, Mrs. Raymond Holmes, Mrs. Robert Custer, Mrs. Mary Saylor, Mrs. Henry Jensen, Mrs. Robert Mariotti, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Joseph S. Pisan, Mrs. Betty Stevenson, Mrs. Jo Dutilleul, Mrs. Joseph Daniels, Mrs. John McCarthy.

Mrs. Lee W. Weiler, Sr., Mrs. Lee W. Weiler, Jr., Mrs. Pete De Franco, Mrs. J. A. Neill, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Kim Canyon, Mrs. Dorothy Siedel, Mrs. Robert Masser, Mrs. C. A. Bibby, Mrs. Ruby Smith, Mrs. Gladys Hoser, Mrs. R. J. Spratt, Mrs. Josephine Irwin, Mrs. Charlotte Bjornson, Mrs. Albert Raieberger, Mrs. Mary McCrenzi, Mrs. Sophie Compton, Mrs. Ella Anderson, Mrs. Robert Diehl, Mrs. Evelyn Wilson, Mrs. William Besunmont, Mrs. Anne Stout, Mrs. Joseph Catania.

Plymouth Lions List 3 Events

Plymouth Twp. - The Lions Club outlined plans for three events at a meeting March 24 at General DeKalb Inn, Norristown.

First will be a joint meeting with Plymouth Twp. Kiwanis Club April 28 at the inn. A Children's Day program is listed for 6:30 May 12 at Fellowship Hall, Plymouth Valley Community Baptist Church, Germantown Pike.

An annual Ladies' Night program will take place June 23. Officers, to be elected at the first meeting in June, will be installed.

Ray Brady and Roy Marburger, Norristown, presented a film on the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race. Birthday greetings were extended to Gene Panofsky, whose natal day will occur Sunday.

Vincent Jeffers will be chairman for the program at the next dinner session April 14.

Marines Induct Hunter, Lewis

Parris Island - A Lafayette Hill young man and a former Plymouth Meeting resident are presently undergoing a 12-week recruit training program at U. S. Marine Corps Depot, in Parris Island, S. C.

They are Richard James Hunter, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barth Hunter, of 4042 First Ave., Lafayette Hill, and Richard Dale Lewis, 17, son of Mrs. Margaret Edith Smith, of 29 Fayette St., Conshohocken, formerly of Plymouth Meeting.

The young men were inducted March 15 for a three-year enlistment.

Hunter was graduated from Springfield Twp. High School last June and was employed at W. C. Hamilton and Sons, Miquon. Lewis attended the same school and was employed in Norristown.

Guard Your Family STRIKE BACK!

GIVE to Conquer Cancer

KEEP YOUR PORCH LIGHT BURNING TUESDAY NIGHT, APRIL 6

All over our community next Tuesday night, hundreds of boys and girls will give of their time and energy to collect funds for the Cancer Crusade. They'll stop wherever they see a porch light burning to pick up your contribution.

Join humanity's most important crusade — the battle against man's worst enemy — cancer.

We know that we can win, many thousands have already been rescued from death and with your help still more can be saved.

Before you give, think of the 25 million men, women and children now alive who will die unless our crusade succeeds. Make your gift as important as you can, for cancer is a challenge of terrible magnitude.

Remember, your gift guards yourself and your family, too!

Late Easter Fine for Fashion Plates, But Poses Problem for Flower Growers

Suddenly it's Spring . . . and everywhere from indoors with seed catalogues and garden tools and big hopes that every tiny bud and plant will soon burst into bloom.

Florists, however, are anxiously eyeing their calendars and thermometers and hoping that they can retard the progress of Mother Nature.

For Easter is still two weeks and two days away and the florists' big problem is in holding their blooms back, controlling their growth so carefully that they will reach their prime just in time for use on April 12.

Easter is the Sunday after the Paschal full moon on or next after Mar. 21. In 1818, Easter Day occurred on Mar. 22, the earliest possible date. In 1845, 1856, and 1913 it fell on Mar. 23, and in 1951, on Mar. 25, but it will not come as early again in this century.

The holiday fell on April 25, the latest possible date, in 1886 and again in 1943. It will not come as late again in this century, falling as late as April 23 only in the year 2000.

The late arrival of Easter, florists agree, makes necessary more work than ever as they prepare for their busiest season. Mother's Day, Valentine's Day, and Christmas notwithstanding, they say, Easter is far and away the biggest "flower day" of the entire year.

"A late Easter definitely presents a problem for florists," said Leon Ratoskey, proprietor of Baldwin Flower Shop, 115 Fayette St., as he surveyed the colorful plants filling the greenhouses stretching back beyond his shop.

"The sun is so much more powerful toward the end of March that it hastens the flowers. Then one week of sun in April is the equivalent of two in February. When Easter comes so late in April, we have to grow everything on the cool side."

Peter Romano, proprietor of the Conshohocken Flower Shop, 111 Fayette St. concurs on the problem presented by a late Easter.

"When the weather grows warmer, of course, all the flowers come popping out," he said, "it's much harder to hold them back than it is to hurry them along when Easter comes early. People outside the business probably don't realize the additional work involved for the florist when Easter Sunday comes so far along in April. Our growers have to watch the temperatures constantly and in many cases keep the plants covered with a special netting."

Many florists are using the netting to cover hyacinths. It is described as being like the camouflage net used extensively by ground troops during World War II. Parts of greenhouses and glass roofs are sprayed with whitewash as another means of tempering the rays of the sun.

The florists say the cool nights thus far have been decidedly favorable in their efforts to restrain maturity and a continuance of the present weather should find the blooms timed just right.

They predict an ample supply of flowers and that prices will be reasonable.

As the buyers' choice, lilies and hyacinths still lead the field in popularity, with azaleas, hydrangeas, cinerarias, tulips, calceolarias, and daffodils running about evenly in demand, depending somewhat on location.

Fashions in corsages, the florists say, vary only slightly from Easter to Easter, with the time-honored favorites, orchids, gardenias and violets still at the head of the list. Carnations are among the most popular of the newer flowers being used for corsages, because of the many new colors developed in recent years, and there is always, of course, a demand for varying hues of roses.

"The weather at Easter means everything to us," says Robert Hague, co-proprietor of Hague Bros., florists of Roberts Ave. and Hallowell St., Cedar Heights. "Three quarters of our business goes to the cemeteries and though people will buy flowers and go even in bad weather, if the weather is good, business is good for us."

"The most popular plant among our customers at Easter is the azalea. For Memorial Day it's always geraniums, but they run far behind at Easter, usually."

"This year," says Frank V. Heron, florist of 1515 Fayette St., it may be different—who knows?"

curved on Mar. 22, the earliest possible date. In 1845, 1856, and 1913 it fell on Mar. 23, and in 1951, on Mar. 25, but it will not come as early again in this century.

The holiday fell on April 25, the latest possible date, in 1886 and again in 1943. It will not come as late again in this century, falling as late as April 23 only in the year 2000.

The late arrival of Easter, florists agree, makes necessary more work than ever as they prepare for their busiest season. Mother's Day, Valentine's Day, and Christmas notwithstanding, they say, Easter is far and away the biggest "flower day" of the entire year.

"A late Easter definitely presents a problem for florists," said Leon Ratoskey, proprietor of Baldwin Flower Shop, 115 Fayette St., as he surveyed the colorful plants filling the greenhouses stretching back beyond his shop.

"The sun is so much more powerful toward the end of March that it hastens the flowers. Then one week of sun in April is the equivalent of two in February. When Easter comes so late in April, we have to grow everything on the cool side."

Peter Romano, proprietor of the Conshohocken Flower Shop, 111 Fayette St. concurs on the problem presented by a late Easter.

"When the weather grows warmer, of course, all the flowers come popping out," he said, "it's much harder to hold them back than it is to hurry them along when Easter comes early. People outside the business probably don't realize the additional work involved for the florist when Easter Sunday comes so far along in April. Our growers have to watch the temperatures constantly and in many cases keep the plants covered with a special netting."

Many florists are using the netting to cover hyacinths. It is described as being like the camouflage net used extensively by ground troops during World War II. Parts of greenhouses and glass roofs are sprayed with whitewash as another means of tempering the rays of the sun.

The florists say the cool nights thus far have been decidedly favorable in their efforts to restrain maturity and a continuance of the present weather should find the blooms timed just right.

They predict an ample supply of flowers and that prices will be reasonable.

As the buyers' choice, lilies and hyacinths still lead the field in popularity, with azaleas, hydrangeas, cinerarias, tulips, calceolarias, and daffodils running about evenly in demand, depending somewhat on location.

Fashions in corsages, the florists say, vary only slightly from Easter to Easter, with the time-honored favorites, orchids, gardenias and violets still at the head of the list. Carnations are among the most popular of the newer flowers being used for corsages, because of the many new colors developed in recent years, and there is always, of course, a demand for varying hues of roses.

"The weather at Easter means everything to us," says Robert Hague, co-proprietor of Hague Bros., florists of Roberts Ave. and Hallowell St., Cedar Heights. "Three quarters of our business goes to the cemeteries and though people will buy flowers and go even in bad weather, if the weather is good, business is good for us."

"The most popular plant among our customers at Easter is the azalea. For Memorial Day it's always geraniums, but they run far behind at Easter, usually."

Members Meet

New Teacher

Lafayette Hill — Members of the executive board of Lafayette Hill Cooperative Nursery School Assn. met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Herbert Lewis, Whitmarsh Hill.

They discussed the next session of the group at 8:30 Monday night in the school room of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Barren Hill, when mothers will have an opportunity to meet the school's substitute teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, of Germantown. Miss Dorothy Craig, Germantown, regular teacher, has been confined at home due to illness.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. Lewis, both of Whitmarsh Hill.

Mrs. Ann Miller, one of the founders of the nursery school, will be heard on a broadcast at 9 tomorrow morning.

At the board session were Mrs. Walter Darby, president; Mrs. Stanley Brittingham, treasurer; Mrs. Elsie Hawthorne, secretary; Mrs. Sherman Barber, Mrs. Rodney Lockard, Mrs. John Pfeiffer, Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. John Lord.

Eileen Brennan, right, Hughes Park, is champion speller of Upper Merion Junior High School. Elaine Meoli, 76 Ivy Lane, Bridgeport R. D. 1, will be the school's alternate in County contest.

Tire Industry Progress Cited By Executive

R. M. Brasaemle
Always Searching
For Improvement

Are we doing everything wrong? One of America's top production experts thinks so. He thinks just about everything we are doing is being done wrong. When we discover a better method, we discover the key to progress.

Robert M. Brasaemle, of Trooper, vice president in charge of production, Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation, is constantly in search of improvement. Finding it means only the adventure of a new quest toward something better.

Recovering from an attack of illness that required treatment for a week at Sacred Heart Hospital, Brasaemle briefly reviewed, at his desk the other day, some of the progress he has seen in the tire industry since his first introduction to it in 1911 at Akron, O. Demand for safer, longer wearing tires is a constant force for improvement.

"In the United States, 55 million automobiles are registered," he said. "Of that number over 700,000 passenger cars are 19 years old."

The production executive, who grows more than 100 rose bushes at his home, and likes golfing also, went to school in Akron, and joined Lee of Conshohocken in 1926. He has worked at Goodrich, Diamond Rubber and Firestone, and his two brothers are still in the rubber business at Akron.

Brasaemle served with honor in the offensive division of the First Regiment in World War I. He has a mortar outfit which had more World War I front line action than any other outfit in Europe in 1917-18.

In Norristown, he married Miss Mary Evans, on June 23, 1933. They have a daughter, Margaret Ann, a freshman at Dickinson College, Carlisle.

A Mason, he is a member of the Society for Advancement of Management, the First Gas Regiment Association and Plymouth Country Club. He was born in Richmond, Indiana, in 1895.

'Firemen's Friend' Is Next Story

'Firemen's Friend'—a series of articles on the Hale Fire Pump Co. and its important role in the production of fire pumps in peace and war will begin next in this newspaper.

During 1954, Hale is celebrating its 40th anniversary. The story of its growth and expansion is of interest to all, one that now finds Hale Fire Pump Co. among the leaders in its field in the entire country.

The history of the company, stories from employees, as well as an array of pictures, both by Weekly Review photographers and a number of older prints from the Hale files, will vividly add the name of another "industrial family" to the interesting list of manufacturers who call Conshohocken "home."

There's a Human Side—One of Top Talents—To the Lee Story

By Harold McCuen

We leave Lee of Conshohocken this week, after two months devoted to compiling and writing "Thread to Tread," truly a Horatio Alger story with a strictly local setting that has attained nationwide prominence.

We leave reluctantly and with regret, but our work is done and we move on to the next story in the series of Schuylkill Valley industrial articles which are being presented by this newspaper as a public service.

The experience has been most pleasant, the spirit of cooperation of Lee management and employees excellent. Time and again we returned to the business and executive offices, to tour the plant, large photographic equipment with us, in our quest of data and pictures for the six weekly installments concluded today.

E. E. LEACH (at desk) and ROBERT M. BRASAEMLE... together, they climb to success in one of America's major tire industries.

Explains Lee Slogan To Lions Club

Derivation of the slogan "Lee of Conshohocken" was explained to members of the Conshohocken Lions Club at their weekly meeting at Colonial Inn, Spring Mill, by George Duck, advertising manager of Lee Tire and Rubber Company.

"When speaking of any other tire, the average American thinks of Akron, Ohio, home of almost every tire on the market, so we decided to emphasize our location here," the speaker said.

In the afternoon the organization made a tour of the Lee plant.

generally, deep-rooted in the astounding growth of Lee of Conshohocken.

We would have liked, for example, to have written at length about Mary Glass, at a desk at the left as one enters the business office at Spring Mill, and her friend of many years, Mary McGrath, at the switchboard. The former, a resident of Cedar Grove, is believed the oldest employee of the firm. Miss McGrath on vacation this week in Miami, has answered all incoming calls for a quarter century. She lives at 110 East Ninth Ave., Conshohocken.

Then, just to mention a few others of the vast army of efficient employees, there are Dominick Kelly, of 347 East Eleventh Ave., employed 50 years at the Lee plant; Frank Chell, 9210 West Chester Pike, Upper Darby, operator of a high-speed sewing machine that trims and sews at the same time, an employee for 29 years; William Keyser, of Audubon, who came to work a year before his fellow employee, Chell; Pete Sivitsky, of 407 Roberts Ave., Cedar Heights, who completed his 10th year at Lee's in February; Tony Santoni, of 210 East Sixth Ave., Conshohocken; Mike Sparano, of Trooper, former man of the warehouse and William Dunlap, of the research and development division. Each has contributed something of value to "Thread to Tread."

A. A. Garthwaite and Son Dedicated to Greater Achievement in Industry

In the 70-year history of Lee of Conshohocken father and son teams have been commonplace.

There are several remarkable teams on the Lee production lines at present. Perhaps most outstanding is the team of A. A. Garthwaite and son, Albert A. Garthwaite, Jr.

When the Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation was formed in 1915, A. A. Garthwaite was named vice president and treasurer, and, in April, 1939, a month after the death of John J. Watson, he became president and general manager.

The principal product manufactured in 1915 was the Lee puncture proof tire which was made under patents granted J. Ellwood Lee, founder of Lee Tire and Rubber Company of Pennsylvania, predecessor to Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation.

Dynamic, public spirited and civic minded, A. A. Garthwaite gives to charitable and civic efforts the same forceful enthusiasm and determination that have brought Lee of Conshohocken to a major position in the tire industry. His son is well on the way to success and happiness by following in his father's footsteps all down the line.

Father and son have the same hobby: sports cars. Albert, Jr., has had several. His favorite is a Bugatti, made in France. Majoring in mechanical engineering at Yale University in 1939, he derives great delight in tearing down a sports car and rebuilding it. His father drives a Bentley perhaps 20,000 miles yearly, inspecting the Republic Rubber plant at Youngstown, and the various branches maintained by the firm from coast to coast.

Albert A. Garthwaite, Jr., was born Nov. 7, 1916, at "Kincraigie," the family homestead on North Lane, overlooking the Schuylkill River, near the site of the old White Plains, N. Y., on Nov. 12, 1941. They have two daughters, and their home is in Bryn Mawr.

He completed his education at the Haverford School before enrolling at Yale. After graduation, he went to the Republic division for a year. He then came east and went to work in the research and development division, supervising the testing of truck and passenger tires. At present the firm utilizes the Pennsylvania Turnpike as a test bed, traveling between Valley Forge and Somerset daily.

During World War II young Garthwaite joined the Navy. He was stationed at Cramp's Ship Yard building cruisers and submarines for three years.

After the war he resumed employment at the Lee plant, joining Elden E. (Jim) Leach in the engineering department. Equipping the plant at Spring Mill and the Republic plant at Youngstown is under his supervision as vice president of Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation.

From The Recorder, April 14, 1939:

Albert A. Garthwaite, vice president, general manager and treasurer of the Lee Tire and Rubber Co., was raised to the highest executive rank in the company at a special meeting of the board of directors in the New York office, Wednesday.

As the new president, he succeeds John J. Watson, whose death occurred suddenly at Albany, Georgia, on March 30. He will continue in the capacity of general manager of the big local industry, but his post as treasurer has been relinquished in favor of William B. Dunlap, 625 Fayette St., who has served as assistant treasurer for a considerable number of the 28 years he has been with the firm.

Elevation to the presidency of this important tire and rubber industry, culminates 24 years of service with the company for Mr. Garthwaite. He served for the past twelve years in the threefold capacity of vice-president, general manager and treasurer. Prior to becoming affiliated with the Lee Tire and Rubber Co., he was associated with the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, New York City.

From The Recorder, March 31, 1939:

John J. Watson, Jr., New York financier, president of the Lee Tire and Rubber Co., and chairman of the board of directors, died at his home in New York City, Wednesday.

Mr. Watson had been connected with the Lee Tire and Rubber Co. for 25 years, and was president of the company since the death of his father, J. Ellwood Lee, and was later made chairman of the board.

WILLIAM F. HINDERSCHEID

same taken, extended periods of rain and cool temperatures have an adverse effect on sales.

"Fair and warmer" is always a welcome prediction. It ties in perfectly, also, with Lee's slogan for the year: "Let's all do more in '54!"

The sales director is certain Lee of Conshohocken and the subsidiary firm, Republic Rubber of Youngstown, O., will do more in 1954. That will mean assurance of full employment for more than 2,500 men and women on the Lee payroll.

Hindercheid travels 50,000 miles yearly, often by airplane. After a meeting of the board of directors March 21 in New York, he was scheduled to fly to Oklahoma, Signal Oil Company distributors.

His wife is the former Miss Mildred Greeley, of Akron. They were married Jan. 31, 1931.

Lee Purchasing Agent Says Tie-Up of Rubber By Walkout Is Serious

Situation Regarded 'Most Severe'

In 70-Year History of Tire Firm;

Production Is On Day-to-Day Basis

New York's paralyzing waterfront strike, termed "primarily a criminal conspiracy" by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Governor Thomas E. Dewey in a joint statement Saturday, threatens to shut down momentarily the vast Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation plant.

Started less than a month ago, the walkout, which is costing the port of New York an estimated million dollars daily, is responsible for the tie-up of 300 tons of natural rubber in the holds of ships carrying cargo bound for Lee of Conshohocken and Republic Rubber division of Youngstown, Ohio.

J. R. Shaw, Purchasing Agent of Lee Rubber & Tire Corporation, said the problem posed by the strike is perhaps the most severe in the history of the firm. "The closing of the plant due to lack of raw materials has never been so imminent as it is today," he said on March 29.

Shaw has kept rubber supplies flowing into the plant by diverting shipments to Newport News, Portland, Me., and other ports. But the struggle between the International Longshoremen's Association and the American Federation of Labor resulted on Monday of refusal by stevedores in other ports to unload cargo originally consigned to New York.

"We are operating on a day-to-day basis," commented the executive who buys $12,000,000 worth of raw materials and supplies annually. "Our only hope is that they keep the other ports open."

While the interview was taking place, stevedores were picketing the White House in protest of the Government's role in the ILA's struggle with the AFL, and, at the Broadwood Hotel, Philadelphia, an agreement was reached that there will be no shutdown in the port of Philadelphia or in other ports along the East Coast. New York strike leaders had sought to spread the shutdown northward to Halifax and as far south as Norfolk.

Despite earlier indications that Philadelphia would not handle "hot" cargo, diverted from New York, workers on Tuesday were unloading ships as fast as they came in.

The walkout started March 3. Synthetic rubber, Shaw explained, is in good supply, but it must be ordered 90 days in advance from the Federal government, sole seller in the country for synthetic rubber.

Shaw has many personal contacts in the United States and abroad. He attended Germantown High School and for 10 years before joining Lee of Conshohocken, he was employed in the freight traffic division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In 1925, he married Miss Pernella Scott, of Walden, N. Y. He and his wife live in Philadelphia. They have two daughters, Claire, wife of John E. Davidson, of Hattboro, and Betty, wife of Ole Olsen, of Merchantville, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen became parents of a daughter on March 27 at Woman's Hospital of Philadelphia, and the infant is Mr. and Mrs. Shaw's fifth grandchild. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson are parents of two girls, and Mrs. Olsen has a son, Russell, named for the purchasing agent. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen's first child is a boy, Richard.

An ardent golfer, Shaw is serving his second term as president of the Plymouth Country Club. He has been playing on the golf team five or six years. His handicap: 5.

Shaw has two assistants, John Webb, of Conshohocken, and Robert Gilling, of Philadelphia. His secretary is Mrs. Rose Weber, of Norristown, a former resident of Conshohocken, who joined the Lee firm three decades ago.

The department buys raw materials for Republic Rubber in Youngstown, O., as well as for Lee of Conshohocken.

Jim Leach Is Symbol Of Lee Tire Progress

One of five men who left their positions with Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O., in December, 1926, to accept employment with Lee of Conshohocken has risen from master mechanic to vice president and director of Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation.

In addition, he has become an outstanding civic leader, and his host of co-workers and friends multiplies as his tasks and activities increase.

For the record, his name is Elden E. Leach. Throughout the community, he is Jim Leach. At the Lee plant, he is Jim, and his promotion on March 1 to a position second to A. A. Garthwaite, president of Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation, hasn't changed it.

Where did the nickname originate? Jim Leach doesn't remember. "It's been with me for 40 years," he said, with a big grin. "How it was derived from Elden E. the name I was given at birth on Dec. 15, 1896, in Belpre, O., I'll probably never know," he added.

Jim Leach, a director of the Lee-Land Foundation, and the Community Center Corporation, was in charge of the highly successful Community Chest campaign in Conshohocken last year. He was instrumental in organizing the local USO, and serves on its board of directors.

LEE Conshohocken Tires

Lee Treasurer

First Hired

By A. Pouchot

Daniel H. Handy

Of Ambler Joined

Firm 27 Years Ago

The newest high bracket executive of the Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation is the treasurer.

Daniel H. Handy of 368 Fairview Ave., Ambler, succeeded A. S. Pouchot, treasurer and comptroller, on March 1. He was Mr. Pouchot's first employee, and his first day at the Lee offices was Feb. 7, 1927. As chief accountant he was associated with Mr. Pouchot all the intervening years until the latter's retirement.

A daughter, Mrs. Diana H. Dagerberg, of Fort Washington, is a teacher of English at the new Plymouth-Whitemarsh Junior-Senior High School in Whitemarsh Twp.

His is a varied career including two years' duty in France with the 14th Engineers, Army of the United States, during World War I. He might have been a railroad executive and he might have chosen the field of public service for a lifetime.

Interested in mechanic arts, he attended high school in Easton, Vermont, to try his luck. Completing his course, he secured employment in the claim department of the old New Haven railroad, Boston-Maine and Maine Central.

His next move was a step in the right direction, a position as field auditor for the Interstate Commerce Commission with headquarters in Washington, D. C. The ensuing ten years were spent with the commission.

In 1920, he married Miss Mildred B. Jordan of Watton, New York. They have lived in the area since he began his work as chief accountant in the offices of Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation in Spring Mill.

An angler, Handy is fond of fresh water fishing and frequently travels to Canada, New York and Vermont to try his luck. Fishing, he feels certain, provides clear insight into knotty problems that seem to have no solution seated at a desk.

When he joined Lee of Conshohocken, sales for the year were $10,000,000. Since, during the depression, sales dipped $2,000,000 under the low of 1927, but they gained ever since, reaching an all-time high of $8,000,000.

His successor as chief accountant is Ralph Falconieri, of King of Prussia.

At Akron, Leach was in charge of new construction. W. W. Benner had liked his work in Akron, and when W. W. resigned his position to become a vice president with Lee of Conshohocken, he brought a quintet of competent men with him. One of them was A. S. Pouchot, treasurer and comptroller as his retirement on March 1. Another was Robert M. Brasaemle, vice president in charge of production.

Jim Leach attended the Davis Miller Engineering School of Parkersburg, West Virginia. There he became acquainted with Miss Ethel Helen Pierson, of that city, and they were married Feb. 15, 1916. An only son paid the supreme sacrifice in World War I.

The Firestone plant was located about 150 miles from the master mechanic's home town, and after completing his education, he went to work in Akron, leaving there in 1926, to come to Lee, he became vice president in charge of plants in 1945, and a month ago he was made executive head of operations here and in Youngstown.

Fishing and golfing are his hobbies. He is a member of Plymouth Country Club.

College Glee Club To Present Opera

Chestnut Hill — The Glee Club of Chestnut Hill College will present its fifth annual opera, Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann," tomorrow night and Saturday night in the college auditorium.

Members of the club, assisted by a group from LaSalle and St. Joseph's colleges, will sing the opera in the original French, with Carl M. Suppa, director of the Philadelphia Operaplogue, conducting.

The role of Hoffmann will be sung by Jerome Puma, of the Philadelphia Operaplogue. The three loves will be sung by Carol Ann Toscano, as Olympia, the mechanical doll; Patricia Belcher, as Giulietta, the courtesan and Kathleen Masse, as Antonia, the singer.

Dorothy Wudyka will sing a double role, Nicklaus and the Voice of the Mother.

Others in the cast include John Lacy playing the various disguises of the Evil One, Anthony Silvestro as Spalanzani, Raymond Demski as Crespel, Harry O'Donnell as the Servant, Joseph Card as Schemel, and Paul Campi as Hermann.

Pastor to Celebrate

The Rev. Harvey Warner, pastor of Wissahickon Baptist Church, Terrace and Dawson Sts., will celebrate a birthday anniversary tomorrow. He has been serving the Wissahickon congregation 14 years.

MIKE FINN
Television produces some real "Cinderella" stories in its search for talent. Three months ago a young fellow named Tom Peters was working in a gas station in Anna, Illinois. He just dreamed about being an actor. Someone told him he was as good as Donald O'Connor. He believed it and went to Hollywood. There he tried out on a local talent show. Joan Davis happened to be watching, spotted Tom and signed him for the role of her sister's boy friend in the "I Married Joan" series.

This series, by the way, is growing in popularity. The latest surveys have put it in front of the rival "Godfrey and his Friends" show in national popularity. . . . the first time in many a moon that any of Godfrey's shows have been running second. The Redhead's "Talent Scout" show is still running high, however, as well as his morning radio and TV program.

Jack Webb, star of "Dragnet," (and of the "Dragnet" releases which are being shown as "Badge 714") reached the peak of his success with a recent profile by the national weekly TIME. The sincerity of the acting, the dramatic closeups of people, and the human interest touches given to the life of a cop, have made this series a favorite with more than 16,000,000 of the set owners in America, according to the latest Nielsen ratings.

You'll see the closeups and the action of your favorite show with new sharpness and realism if you have your picture tube face cleaned periodically, and have it serviced when necessary by our trained technicians.

John Days Wed 50 Years

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Day, 375 Delmar St., residents of Roxborough 33 years, will be observed quietly at home on Saturday.

Mr. Day, who will be 77 in May, was retired six years ago by the American Stores Co., where he was employed as a butcher 30 years. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge.

Born in England, Mrs. Day came to America in 1912. Able to continue with daily household chores, she will be 75 in July. The couple has no children.

Only kin of the couple is a nephew, Hanley Stafford, Television and film star at M. G. M., who also portrayed the role of "Daddy" in the former air program, "Baby Snooks." The actor's last visit to Roxborough was two years ago, when he presented the couple a television set.

Memory Lane

Contributions to this column are invited from old-timers. All communications should be signed with the writer's full name. Address them to Memory Lane, The Review, 4386 Main St., Phila. 27, Pa.

Mrs. James B. McKay, 457 Lyceum Ave., recalls the trolley cars on Ridge Ave. "And they were pulled with horses, too," she declared. Mrs. McKay, who was born and reared in the community, left here for 30 years after her marriage. After she returned she said, "My this place has changed."

Mrs. Margaret Schilling, 341 Flamingo St., remembers the days when she was a young woman. "I had a hat with lots and lots of feathers and right on the top was a big bird."

Samuel Leonard, 259 Cinnaminson Lane, says: I remember shopping as a kid on Friday night on Main St. and it was crowded on the sidewalks that we had to walk in the street. I'm not kidding."

Lindley V. Richter, 434 Fehin St., has a fond memory of the drive he used to take from Miquon to Upper Roxborough. "It was a beautiful ride and it was all by horse and carriage. And the horse knew the way."

Area Residents Sponsor Dinner

Chestnut Hill—Listed among the patrons and patronesses of a dinner to be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Tuesday in behalf of the United World Federalists of Philadelphia are a number of residents of this area, including: Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Miller, 8129 Winston Rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Page, 7208 Charleston St.; Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Adler, 7300 Huron St.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Holmes Perkins, 25 Summit St.; Rev. and Mrs. George A. Trowbridge, 19 E. Chestnut Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Drake, 7807 Winston Rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Crozer Martin, 6 Norrman Lane and Mr. and Mrs. John Carey, 8849 Norwood Ave. Principal speakers at the dinner will be James Michener, Pulitzer prize-winning author and Donald Harrington, minister of the Community Church, New York.

Rosalind Russell Pastes Column on 'Wonderful Town' in Her Scrapbook

March 29, 1954
THINKING OF YOU:
Do children sometimes startle you?
Well, at times, mine shatter me!
"Mother, do you ever hear of a name like 'Norego'?" (And at a time when I'm in the kitchen cooking dinner.)
"Never heard of such a name. It really couldn't actually be a name, could it now . . . you're kidding mother!"
"Truly, mother, it is a name. It is my sister's name."
"Then I really went out on a limb." "Now, you know Daddy and I never named any of our children such a name . . . what was it?"
"Norego, mother. And I'll tell you who it is . . . Lenore Marie Legaux McCuen, your youngest . . . She says her name is 'Mommy' when we ask, then we get her to repeat her right name after us and this is what she winds up with—'Norego' (for Marie) . . . and I know it in January. And when I wrote in this column about knowing a friend of hers, Dick Bartell, movie star in Hollywood, who is a native of Roxborough . . . I mailed the column to her with a brief note."
This is her reply:
"Dear Mrs. McCuen:
I . . . thank you for your letter and please accept apologies for the long delay in answering you, but the last few months have been such busy ones we sort of backlogged on the mail.
I not only enjoyed your letter but loved the piece in your newspaper that you were thoughtful enough to send. They are already pasted in my scrapbook for safe keeping.
Incidentally, so nice to know that you are friends of Dick Bartell. The good wishes contained in your letter were most appreciated . . . accept mine for you and your family.
I can feel good inside to think a person so busy can take time to dictate a letter to a perfect stranger."
Had a call from Betty Mae Kline Fisher in Cedar Heights. Her mother read about us being in Harrisburg, March 18-20, and about my standing in line at the Bureau of Motor Vehicles inquiring why we hadn't received our truck applications for licenses.
Mrs. Kline kindly invited our gang to see their farm next time we're up that way. She and her husband live in Mechanicsburg, near Harrisburg. By gosh, might just take her up on that invitation . . . and when our gang walks in, somebody, they pretty well get trampled . . . believe me!

many yards, including Mount Joy. Makes you wanna get on your jeans, get out and dig in the yard.
Our tulips, hyacinths and daffodils will bloom soon. Buds are popping on the trees . . . and the colts are leaving our family . . . gradually . . . so we'll all be able to enjoy Spring soon.
Hope that threat of snow doesn't come true.
Take care of yourselves . . . don't take a chance on the promise of Spring . . . don't leave your coat at home . . . it gets cool quickly.
God Bless.
With Love
Fran McCuen

(Frances McCuen, mother of four sons and five daughters, writes an open letter each week to readers of this newspaper concerning family life. The column features happenings at historic 230-year-old "Mount Joy," Spring Mill, where her husband's mother, Sara Righter McCuen, was born and an ancestor, Peter Legaux, French nobleman, lived many years.

This is view of historic house and barn, erected in 1735, that will be razed soon for development of Andorra homes in upper Roxborough. James Scott McMaster, grandfather of Mrs. Robert Slater, and his family removed to picturesque farm in 1888, established a dairy route served continuously for 45 years. Mrs. Slater's father, Robert James McMaster, oldest of five sons, was delivering 300 quarts daily, seven days a week, by horse and wagon, when he abandoned the route. He died in 1946. His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth McMaster, who lives on the farm, has been crippled by arthritis 30 years. Grandmother's undaunted spirit is legless Eddie Slater's inspiration in his present struggle.

Watch and Pray: Don't Fall Asleep

A Layman's Views

by Harold McCuen

Several disciples fell asleep while at prayer. On two occasions, Christ came upon them, while they were slumbering, just before His betrayal and trial. They should have been watching and praying.
Many Christians fall asleep in prayer, and often churchgoers rest their eyes while the minister or the Sunday School superintendent is praying aloud from the pulpit.
There probably is no record of anyone falling asleep in the presence of a president, king, pope or prince. But multitudes dreamily descend into the arms of Morpheus after having been ushered into the presence of God the Father.
Quite likely they do nothing wrong, except they should be watching and waiting. Mothers and fathers will tell you that it is not uncommon that a son or daughter fall asleep while they are engaged in conversation. God is our loving Father, and He understands our shortcomings. In His presence, we seek and obtain forgiveness, our minds are at ease; the heart beat slackens and before we know it, another day is upon us.
There is much for which to pray and we need not wait until we are so tired we fall asleep. A child of God can and does pray day and night, and he refrains from going about promoting strife, envy, bitterness, aggravation.
Tired, overworked, underpaid nurses need our prayers. Teachers need our prayers and divine guidance.
The Russians surely are in need of prayer. May they yield to the influence of righteousness and holiness and compound the confusion of their godless leaders.
Congressmen and senators and governors definitely stand in the need of prayer. So does the President of the United States. Also the high command of the Army, Navy, Marines and the Air Force.
In your own neighborhood there is much for which to pray. Remember those who live alone; the people, young and old, who are ill, and who suffer affliction, some requiring confinement in institutions. Pray for them.
Pray for the minister of the local congregation. Pray for the police officers that no harm befalls them in the performance of duty. Pray for wounded servicemen who are patients at Valley Forge and in similar hospitals throughout the country.
Pray for those who mourn the loss of loved ones.
Time is short; watch and pray and spread with zeal and warmth the love of God in Christ Jesus.

Frank Coltart, Golf Pro, Retires

Flourtown — Frank Coltart, 72-year-old professional at Sunnybrook Golf Club, Haws Lane, has retired. He is succeeded by Toby Costanza, who has been pro at Northeast Harbor, Me., and Uespe Island, Fla. Coltart lived at 8711 Old Line Rd., Roxborough.
Coltart, who came to this country from Scotland in 1921, was pro for 13 years at Philadelphia Country Club, Bala, before shifting to the local club in 1934.
Coltart, a red-cheeked, blue-eyed man, was pro at the King James the Sixth Club, Perth, and at Leicester and the Cherry Club, England. Twice he played for Scotland against England, first in 1909 and again in 1914.
The Coltarts have three sons, Rodney, sales manager of the Link Belt Co. in San Francisco; Bruce, former Philadelphia Open and PGA champion, who is pro at Seaview, and John, who is associated with the Gulf Oil Corp.
Coltart and son, Bruce, dominated father-son tournaments in this area and he teamed with his Clarence H. Vanderbeck, former U. S. women's champ, to win many lady-pro competitions.
Now that he is retired, Coltart intends to play more golf. "I've seldom had time while I've been teaching the game."

Slater Fund At $20,000

Drive Considered Closed But Officials of Fund Still Accepting Gifts

The Edward Slater Fund, sponsored by Weekly Review newspapers, on Monday passed the $20,000 mark.
Howard Williams, president of the fund and executive director of Northern Home for Children, Wissahickon, said a number of organizations that had indicated an interest in helping the legless Roxborough youth are expected to report their contributions in the near future.
Mrs. F. A. Harold Sanders, treasurer, of 5812 Ridge Ave., Roxborough, said an additional several thousand dollars may be realized through a number of special events scheduled and through gifts of people who have promised donations, but have not sent them to date.
An 11A student at Roxborough High School, Slater lost both legs above the knees Christmas Eve while aiding a motorist whose automobile had run out of gasoline. His ambition is to be a farmer, and he is planning to raise crops this year on 20 acres he and a brother, Mark, will plow next month in Niquon. They will plant the ground in May.

Francis Ballard, . . . named co-chairman with Mitchell E. Panser, of the lawyers' committee for the 1954 Cancer Crusade. He lives at Ridge and Northwestern Aves.

YOUR HEALTH

MEDICAL SOCIETY STATE OF PENNA.

New blood for new babies.

Physicians now are removing practically all of the blood from babies suffering from erythroblastosis fetalis (a blood disorder) and putting in other blood.

The disease is caused by incompatible blood type factors in parents in severe anemia and jaundice.

There is a high death rate and survivors are frequently left with serious brain damage.

About ten per cent of cases of cerebral palsy result from brain impairment in erythroblastosis.

When the mother lacks a blood factor that is present in the red cells of her unborn baby she may become immunized to it, and produces antibodies against it.

These antibodies get into the circulation of the unborn infant and attack the blood factor present in its red cells.

The life span of these cells is reduced from 120 days to about six days.

Soldier in Korea Lauds And Aids Slater Fund

March 14, 1954 — Korea

Sir: I have just finished reading your issue of The Suburban Press which I received from my family back home. I'm stationed in Korea with the 3rd Engineer Combat Battalion which is attached to the 24th Division.

Your drive for the Eddie Slater Fund is a wonderful project. I've never seen such fine cooperation or support that is being given in order to help Eddie. There couldn't be a more worthy cause. I feel certain that the people who have contributed to the Fund must feel a deep satisfaction knowing that they have helped to secure Eddie's future.

Eddie was a personal friend of mine. I can still remember him as the fat boy of the Port Royal Ball Club which I played on. It will give me great satisfaction knowing that in some small way I was able to help Eddie.

Enclosed you will find my contribution of five dollars. I'm aware of the fact that my contribution may be late in reaching you; however, I would consider it a personal favor if you see that it reaches Eddie.

Tell Eddie that I have remembered him in my prayers over here. Give him my very best regards and tell him to keep his chin up. Congratulations are in order for you and your newspaper staff. You have done a splendid job. Keep up the good work and I know that your ambitions will be realized.

Sincerely Yours,
Pvt. Steve Munchak.

Library Tag Day Earns $182.31

Flourtown—A final report of the results of Library Tag Day, held Mar. 20 for the benefit of the Erdheim-Flourtown Free Library indicates that $182.31 was contributed by residents of the two communities. More than 100 volumes were also donated.

Civil Scouts of Erdheim collected $88.75 in their door-to-door solicitation, with almost 100 percent of those contacted contributing. The collection in Flourtown, conducted by both boys and girls, amounted to $93.56.

The committee in charge of the library said that the books donated are now being catalogued and will be placed on shelves for the use of borrowers in a few days. Among the group are Song of Bernadette by Werfel; For Whom the Bell Tolls, Hemingway; Toward the Morning, Hervey Allen; China Flight and The Promise, Pearl S. Buck; Age of Indiscretion, Clyde Brion Davis; The History of Henry Esmond, Thackeray, and Treasure Island, Robert Louis Stevenson.

Top Golfers In Slater Event

Leading golfers from every section of the city and suburbs are expected to take part in a tournament April 25 at Walnut Lane Golf Course for the benefit of the Edward Slater Fund.

The tournament will replace the annual municipal tournament at Walnut Lane and an outstanding array of prizes is being collected for distribution to leading scores, and for a special hole-in-one test.

Two of the top awards will be a set of golf clubs to be given by Jim Lawler, course pro, and a fancy leather chair, donated by Rudolph White, chairman of the tournament committee. Many other prizes, including sweaters, rain hats, golf clubs, golf balls, and other equipment also are listed.

The committee on arrangements has been meeting weekly on Tuesday nights to draft plans for the largest tournament ever held at Walnut Lane, and all golfers are urged to forward application blanks, accompanied by a $2 entrance fee,

'Good Samaritan' To Be Shown at Atlantic City

Dead Woodchucks On Lyceum Ave. Create Mystery

Four dead woodchucks found Sunday morning by Dr. Edward A. Eichman, 440 Lyceum Ave., in the block in front of his home, created an "air of mystery" in the neighborhood. Residents wondered how they had arrived in a sector normally not inhabited by "ground-hogs," as they are commonly known.

Dr. Eichman, upon discovery of the animals, notified Fred Ulmer, curator of mammals at the Philadelphia zoo, of 623 Fountain St., who is interested in the study of all types of creatures and their general location in the city.

Ulmer said the groundhogs were so badly battered by automobiles, it was impossible to determine if they had been thrown from a passing car or might have been wandering in the area. Woodchucks are frequently found in Upper Roxborough, Ulmer said.

Present regulations permit the killing of the animals at any time during the year, Ulmer said, so that some person may have shot them in another part of the city and disposed of them on Lyceum Ave. Groundhogs have been so numerous in recent years, the state lifted the law prohibiting hunting them from Sept. 1 to June 1.

James DiLullo Died Saturday

Press Operator Was 36 Years Old

Conshohocken — Solemn requiem mass was sung yesterday at St. Cosmas and Damian Church, for James Joseph DiLullo, husband of Lena (Licata) DiLullo, of 407 W. Sixth Ave., who died Saturday morning in Montgomery Hospital, after a brief illness. He was 36.

A native of the community, he was a son of the late Nicholas DiLullo, and Mrs. Mary (Masterpolito) DiLullo, of the same address.

A press operator with Philadelphia Uniform Co., Eighth Ave. and Harry St., 18 years, he was a member of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 118; the Andrew Lannutti, 221 W. Fourth Ave.; the Home Association; Washington Fire Co., and St. Cosmas and Damian Church.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Rose D'Orasio, 201 Maple St.; Mrs. Mary Lannutti, 221 W. Fourth Ave.; Mrs. Anna Camasso, Ambler; Mrs. Julia Mariani, Norristown; five brothers, Anthony, 333 W. Sixth Ave.; Peter, John, Philip and Angelo, Norristown.

A. Michalski, Jr., Steel Worker, Dies

Conshohocken — Solemn requiem mass was sung this morning at St. Mary's Church, Elm and Oak Sts., for Adam Michalski, Jr., of 148 W. First Ave., who died at home Monday after an illness of several months. He was 34. Interment was in St. Benedict's Cemetery.

An Army veteran who saw three years service in the European theatre, he was the recipient of the Purple Heart and was discharged in 1945. He was employed as an ingot tracer by the Alan Wood Steel Co., Ivy Rock, until his illness.

Surviving besides his parents are three sisters, Mrs. Stanley Koniewicz, Bridgeport; Mrs. Jack Bartz, Conshohocken; and Rose Marie, at home; four brothers, Chester and John Conshohocken; Leon, Bryn Mawr, and S/Sgt. Joseph, now serving with the Army in Germany.

Driver Blames Hiccups, Organ For His Arrest

Norristown — An attack of hiccups indirectly caused his arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Carl L. Hallman, 21, of the 1600 block Butler Pike, Harmonville, explained to Judge Knight Friday.

Hallman pleaded guilty and was fined $200 by the court. He was arrested on the early morning of Jan. 16 by Officer Russell Carfagno, Jr., as he was driving South on DeKalb St., a one-way thoroughfare for North-bound traffic.

Hallman said he had been home that night when he became the victim of a case of hiccups. He went out for a drink, he said, to relieve the condition.

At the taproom he visited, he discovered there was an organ. He became engrossed in conversation with the organ player because of his interest in such instruments, he being a pipe organ tuner, he said.

After leaving the place, because of the hazardous travelling conditions from sleet and rain he said he took the gamble of driving the wrong way on DeKalb St. to expedite his trip home. The officer spotted him at Oak and DeKalb Sts. and stopped him near Main St.

St. Patrick's Day Program at School

Conshohocken — Rosemary Duff, Edward Petrino and Robert Beatty presented readings on the life of St. Patrick at an assembly program March 19 at Conshohocken public elementary school, Third Ave. and Harry St.

SCHOOL TAX JUMPS 20 PER CENT

Edgar E. Mitchell, chief of police of Whitmarsh Twp., pushes button that turns on traffic light at Germantown Pike and Joshua Rd., Lafayette Hill, at 2 P. M. yesterday. In less than three minutes first violator (below) is caught. From left are Stephen Laubert, veteran public official; Vernon E. Wynne, traffic engineer of Montgomery County and Chief Mitchell; second row, Michael J. Laputka, secretary-treasurer and Morton H. Fetterolf, Jr., president of the board of supervisors of Whitmarsh Twp.

Calvary Church Given $10,000 in Highley Will

Norristown — Several charitable and religious bequests are contained in the will of Mrs. Mary W. Highley, 89, of 312-314 Fayette St., Conshohocken, who died April 1.

Mrs. Highley, widow of Dr. George N. Highley, left an estate estimated in value for probate purposes at $215,000 and upwards.

She willed that $10,000 is to be placed in trust with the income being turned over to Conshohocken authorities for the maintenance, care and beautification of the Mary H. Wood Memorial Park.

Bequests of $10,000 each are made to Calvary P. E. Church of Conshohocken, and Montgomery Hospital, of Norristown. Another bequest of $5,000 is to go to the Conshohocken Free Library.

Personal property, including jewelry, household goods and other items are bequeathed to a son, Charles C. Highley, of Glen Ridge, N. J.

A grandson, Charles C. Highley, Jr., is willed property at Spring Lake, N. J., and $25,000. A bequest of $25,000 is made to another grandson, Richard Beard Highley.

Other individual awards include: $20,000 to be shared by the children of the late Hettie Y. Halliwell; $2,000 each to Ruth P. Nixon, Raymond R. Rodenbaugh, Charles W. Lawrence, Mary D. West and Annie M. Dunlap; $10,000 to Arthur E. Spellacy, and $500 to Annie M. Douglas.

A sister-in-law, Nancy P. Highley, of Norristown, is left $10,000. The residue is to go to Charles C. Highley, trustee under a deed of trust.

Boys—and Girls, Too—Can Earn Free Bus Trip to New York City

Boys and girls living in the communities served by The Recorder are presented an opportunity today to earn an exciting tour of New York City by bus, all expenses paid by this newspaper.

Newspaperboys serving established routes qualify for the trip, and will have an edge, in several instances, because of their training and experience in soliciting subscriptions and delivering papers to the home. But The Recorder territory is large, and many new routes are yet to be formed. Opportunity abounds.

Live-wire newspaperboys — and girls, too — also may earn additional money with which to purchase a variety of items, such as a new outfit, for mother and dad, sisters and brothers, or friends in school. They will be transported in a new, modern bus to and from mysterious, exotic New York City. The bus, seating 40, is to be chartered through Auch Inter-Boro Transit Co., 1516 Fayette St., Conshohocken. Jerry Nugent, transportation manager, is personally arranging the tour.

Frank X. O'Connor, circulation manager, said the outing will be a gala occasion.

A group of newspaperboys who serve The Herald in Chestnut Hill and neighboring communities will go on the same trip. They will visit the Statue of Liberty, Radio City Music Hall, NBC television and radio studios, Manhattan and many other places of interest. They will dine at the Paramount restaurant as guests of Weekly Review newspapers. And they will see Times-Square, Broadway and the Bowery.

Virtually every boy and girl qualifying for a route will be able to win this all-expense tour plus a sizeable sum of extra money. Full data may be obtained through Frank O'Connor, circulation manager, 190 W. Hector St. Conshohocken.

No appointment is necessary to see him.

Routes are open in Conshohocken, West Conshohocken and Whitmarsh, Plymouth and Upper Dublin townships according to the circulation manager.

A Widow, Mother of 6 Keeps Vigil

James Sutton Dies In Upper Merion As Pals Look On

It was a hot day for Spring. Storm clouds were gathering, but James Sutton, 10, on vacation from the Upper Merion Elementary school, due to observance of Schoolmen's Week, could not resist the tempting water of a quarry located near Valley Forge Garden cemetery on Montgomery Rd., Upper Merion Twp.

He plunged in and disappeared beneath the surface of the water. The storm moved in, thunder clapped and rain mixed with sleet fell in torrents. Rescue efforts were hampered by the cloudburst, and it was 12:30 before the rescue boat could be lowered into the water.

JAMES SUTTON

According to Hugh Biddy, 15, a pupil of the 8th grade at the Upper Merion school, he and Jimmy Sutton went to the quarry about 10 this morning.

Sutton asked Biddy to swim with him, but Biddy insisted the water was too cold.

Sutton, who was not considered a good swimmer, went into the water anyway, clothed. In a few minutes he yelled for help. Biddy said he held on to a cable along the quarry and tried to hand the Sutton boy a branch to pull him up, but he was unable to get it to him.

"He probably got a cramp because the water was so cold and he went down so quickly," Biddy said.

Biddy immediately went to the Peterson home, on Church Rd., near the quarry, to call for help. Also with the boys was Michael, seven-year-old brother of the drowned boy.

Nine years ago, Gerald Biddy, five-year-old brother of Hugh, was drowned in the same quarry when he slipped while walking along the wall and fell 125 feet. The incident occurred around Easter time also.

The victim was in the fourth grade at school.

Grappling hooks were procured through the aid of the Montgomery County Police Radio. Police Chief John Boyle and Joseph K. Shoemaker, president of the Upper Merion Twp. commissioners, came to Conshohocken and brought back the rescue boat of the Conshohocken Jaycees, unused until today.

The boy in addition to his mother, the former Pearl Roebuck, is survived by three brothers, and two sisters.

All-Time High of 42 Mills Enacted in Whitmarsh Twp.

$504,000 Yearly Budget New Elementary School And Kindergarten OK'd

The school tax bill will be 20 per cent. higher in Whitmarsh Twp. starting July 1. It will be 42 mills, an increase of seven mills charged in the last year.

Except for clever financial manipulation, the rate might have been 45 mills. It is reasonably safe to assume another increase will be unlikely a year hence, according to Edward W. Humphrey, president of the board of education. The board met last night at Spring Mill Consolidated School.

Education in 1954-55 will cost an all-time high of $504,000, compared to $417,000 for the present term. The assessed valuation is about $10,000,000.

The directors approved plans for erection of an elementary school on a 14-acre tract located on Joshua Rd., west of Flourtown Rd., Marble Hall, at an estimated cost of $750,000. Ground probably will be broken in June, according to Cardin D. Brown, supervising principal of the Plymouth-Whitmarsh School District.

The school will consist of 12 classrooms, two kindergartens, an all-purpose room and health and administrative suites. It will have characteristics identical to the Plymouth-Whitmarsh Junior-Senior High school, opened last September. Plans for the structure were turned over to the School Authority which convened in another room at the Spring Mill School last night.

According to an announcement by the supervising principal, registration of boys and girls for kindergarten to be established next September in the township will get under way on Tuesday, and will be continued until 120 who will be five years old before Feb. 1, 1955, are enrolled.

The principal emphasized that facilities at the Spring Mill and Barren Hill Consolidated Schools, where the registration is to take place, will not accommodate more than 120. He said parents should bring with them proof of a child's vaccination certificates and records of immunization treatment, in order to facilitate registration.

Non-resident pupils will not be admitted, the board stressed.

Cost of opening and maintaining kindergartens is included in the tentative budget. G. Rush Barr, Jr., treasurer, said. Also included are increases of $200 and up for teachers, administrative personnel and other employees.

In addition to the revenue anticipated under the new tax rate, an income of $30,000 is expected through imposition of the real estate tax.

Story of Hale Fire Pump Co. Begins Today

The story of the growth of the Hale Fire Pump Co., which will celebrate its 40th anniversary this year, begins today in The Recorder in the first of a series of articles, "Firemen's Friend."

Hale Fire Pump Co., although young in years, is one of the leaders in its field today, and proudly boasts an outstanding record in both World Wars.

Not only in war, but in peace as well, has this Conshohocken industry achieved fame for its fire pumps. The pump was so highly regarded that it was copied exactly by a Japanese manufacturer in 1925.

This incident and many others told by officials and employees of the Hale firm, will be told today and in succeeding articles in The Recorder.

Edward Slater, 17-year-old 11A student of Roxborough High School, who lost both legs above the knees on Christmas Eve when he was crushed by an automobile driven by Smolinski against a stalled sedan on Ridge Pike, near Manor Rd., Springfield Twp., is expected to take the witness stand.

Dr. John C. Simpson, of Montgomery County, examined the youth at the Slater farm in upper Roxborough on Tuesday afternoon and concluded that he was in good physical condition. "He will be able to testify," Dr. Simpson said.

Rev. Donald W. Scott, pastor of Roxborough Presbyterian Church, and a representative of this newspaper were present when the examination took place.

Eddie, for whom Weekly Review newspapers launched a drive for $25,000 late in January, is gaining weight and has the color of health back in his cheeks. The grin that won the hearts of the community (Continued on Page Seven)

Whitmarsh Sewer System Estimate Set at $1,000,000

Expert's Figures Cover Middle And West Districts; Delay Blamed For Boosting Cost in Springfield

Lafayette Hill — Installation of a sewerage system and erection of a sewage disposal plant serving the middle and west districts of Whitmarsh Twp. will cost 1700 property owners a million dollars, I. M. Glace, Jr., of Glace and Glace, consulting engineers, Harrisburg, declared in an address Monday night.

He was principal speaker at a semi-monthly dinner held by Whitmarsh Lions Club at Mickey Mouse. Present were members of the board of supervisors of the township, Morton H. Fetterolf, Jr., president; Thomas J. White, Sr., and R. Lincoln Hain, for whom the Harrisburg firm is completing a survey on the sewer question.

The engineer said the survey definitely indicates a need for the proposed system, estimated to cost $6 a front foot, a monthly sewer rental of $4 and probably $3.75 to $5 a foot line charge between the house and the main pipe leading to the sewer. It was estimated roughly that an owner of a property having a frontage of 60 feet would be required to pay from $500 to $800.

Should the supervisors set up an Authority and award the contracts, construction of the system and plant could be completed in 15 to 16 months, Glace said.

There is presently no plan for installation of facilities in the east district of the township, according to the engineer. In event the facilities would be deemed practical and feasible in the future, a tie-in might be considered with the City of Philadelphia in some sections and the main line serving the middle and west district in other neighborhoods, it was indicated. The cost would be pro-rata.

Rock excavation and removal of trees and shrubbery can increase the cost, the engineer advised.

He said the high cost of installation of lines at this time in Springfield Twp. "is because people of Springfield waited too long."

Springing up macadam highways, removing trees or working around them are costly items, according to the engineer, and Whitmarsh taxpayers would profit by not delaying action if they favor the plan, he advised.

Glace said the township is one of the "most rapidly growing sections in Pennsylvania."

The supervisors will meet April 15.

1953 Tax Deadline Set for West Side

West Conshohocken — Deadline is tomorrow for payment of all 1953 taxes in the borough, according to announcement by Mrs. Anna C. Ried, tax collector.

All property and per capita taxes must be paid, Mrs. Ried said, or liens will be filed against property at the Court House, and per capita accounts will be turned over to a delinquent collector and fines added.

Mrs. Ried will sit at Borough Hall from 3 until 5 P. M. and 7 until 9 P. M. tomorrow to receive payments.

Moore Chevrolet Shows Corvette

Conshohocken — The Corvette, most widely discussed automobile on the American highway today, makes its local appearance today at E. F. Moore Chevrolet Agency, 1218 Ave. and Fayette St.

A pioneering venture in the sports car field, the Corvette, built by Chevrolet, is the first plastic bodied automobile ever built by volume production methods.

Edward F. Moore, Jr., general manager, analyzes the Corvette by saying that the "vehicle" is not a racing car in the accepted sense that a European car is a race car. In the American tradition, Moore said, The Moore agency is open nightly until 9 P. M.

Driver Blames Hiccups, Organ For His Arrest

Norristown — An attack of hiccups indirectly caused his arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated, Carl L. Hallman, 21, of the 1600 block Butler Pk., Harmonville, explained to Judge Knight Friday.

Hallman pleaded guilty and was fined $200 by the court. He was arrested on the early morning of Jan. 16 by Officer Russell Carfagno, Jr., as he was driving South on DeKalb St., a one-way thoroughfare for North-bound traffic.

Hallman said he had been home that night when he became the victim of a case of hiccups. He went out for a drink, he said, to relieve the condition.

At the apartment he visited, he discovered there was an organ. He became engrossed in conversation with the organ player because of his interest in such instruments, he being a pipe organ tuner, he said.

After leaving the place, because of the hazardous travelling conditions from sleet and rain he said he took the gamble of driving the wrong way on DeKalb St. to expedite his trip home. The officer spotted him at Oak and DeKalb Sts. and stopped him near Main St.
