Joint Board To Discuss School Budget

12th Grade Project And More Teachers Created Problems

Plymouth Meeting — A special budget meeting of Plymouth-Whitmarsh school board will take place at 7:30 Wednesday night to discuss expenditures for enlarging the school to accommodate a 12th grade.

The hiring of additional teachers and expansion of facilities to take care of 200 additional students will increase the budget. A proposed raise in administrative salaries will be discussed. An increase in the starting salary of new teachers has been approved.

The proposed relocation of the football field will be discussed. A spokesman for the board said it may be necessary to delay some of the improvements to the field.

Preliminary budget figures were submitted at a meeting Thursday night.

Revised plans for the football field to avoid costly removal of rock formations under the proposed site were submitted by Joseph Wigmore, architect. They were studied and taken under advisement. The plans call for the field to be behind the school.

Miss Betty Coppershaw, of Penns Grove, N. J., and Gene Roberts, of Walnutport, Pa., have been employed to start in September.

Miss Coppershaw, a senior at West Chester State Teachers College, will teach physical education. Roberts, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in 1951, has been teaching at Statington High School. He will teach mathematics.

Approval was granted for three field trips. Tenth grade geometry classes will visit the Burroughs Electronics Corp., Paoli, April 20 to observe "Eudice 2d," giant electrical brain. Eighth grade science classes will visit Franklin Institute March 29. Students participating in the Delaware Valley Science Fair will take their exhibits to Franklin Institute Saturday.

Faculty attending conferences will be Kenneth Childs, industrial arts department, state industrial arts conference at Millersville State Teachers College, March 18; Ellwood Jacoby, mathematics department, National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Boston, Mass., April 13 to 16, and Miss Ellen Alman, business division, Business Teachers' Association in Philadelphia, April 7 to 9.

The dinner, sponsored by Lee employees, will feature talks by A. A. Garthwaite, president; E. E. Leach, vice president; and D. H. Handy, treasurer. Ralph V. Falconero, assistant treasurer, will be toastmaster.

Democrats File Exception To Ruling

Seek Change To Five Wards In Plymouth Twp.

Norristown — Still maintaining that a more equitable division of Plymouth Twp. for voting purposes would be five wards and not four as recommended to the court by a board of commissioners, two Plymouth Twp. Democrats today filed exceptions with the court.

The exceptions were taken through Attorney Morris Gerber representing Mrs. Helen Reed, 813 Elen Rd., and Jacob Gruber, 119 Pleasant Ave., both of Plymouth County.

The three-man commission was appointed by the court after a petition was filed by Attorney A. Benjamin Scirica, on behalf of various township residents and voters who asked that the present two-ward division be increased to four wards.

After hearings, the commission of Atty. Thomas E. Waters, C. Raymond Weir and Roy E. Smith recommended the four-ward plan as being the "more feasible and equitable plan."

Four exceptions taken by Mrs. Reed and Gruber to these findings include:

1. The four-ward plan is "based upon speculation as to anticipated future growth of homes and as such is contrary to the law."

2. The recommendation, "with each ward electing one commissioner and a fifth commissioner being selected as large makes for disproportionate representation in that the proposed third ward has 622 registered voters and the proposed second ward has 1,209 registered voters."

3. "There is no reason for having one commissioner elected at large because the township can be very equitably divided into five separate wards with each ward having its own commissioner."

4. The report, "in justifying the present disproportionate representation by estimating future growth is all the more reason why the township should be divided into five wards at this time."

Because of the exceptions the court may fix a time for a hearing.

DEATH IN A GARDEN: Agnes Nesbit Montgomery, 5, of Winterthur, near Wilmington, Del., died under this heavy art object that toppled while she was at play Sunday afternoon in Spring Mill. Fresh earth shows where girl's head was crushed (arrow) and also covers blood on concrete slab that struck her while at play.

Garden Antique Becomes Instrument of Death As Girl Is Crushed

A small child playing alone by a lily pond 30 feet from the residence where her parents and brother were being entertained, died violently under a heavy top piece of a Chinese ornament Sunday afternoon at Spring Mill.

Nobody saw the tragedy happen. The girl's father found the body, pushed away the object. He saw at once there was nothing he could do—nothing anything could do.

The sharp edge of the object had cut through her head on an angle just under her eyes, and smashed her face. Death had come instantly in the quiet garden, in the center of a planting of hemlock and rhododendron, just off a narrow path beside the lily pond. There the ornament, English in tralling about it, had stood for years. What made it topple? Had the child attempted to climb it for an inquisitive look into several intriguing outlets through which incense might once have poured? Or was five-year-old Agnes Montgomery merely picking it up, fresh with its flush of spring?

Nobody knows. She had been with the family and then her mother discovered she was gone. Dad went to find her.

The tiny victim of the stark tragedy was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Montgomery of Winterthur, Del. The father is director of the $20,000,000 Winterthur Museum, one-time home of multimillionaire Henry Francis du Pont. The Montgomerys occupy a home on the 1000-acre estate.

Scene of the unique accident so suddenly stilling little girl's play was the home at Barren Hill and River Rds. of Matthew E. Sharpe and his wife, Elizabeth K. Sharpe, dealers in antiques. The Sharpes are old friends of the Montgomerys. The visit Sunday was both a social one and an errand to view an antique. A young son, William, 6, also accompanied them.

Montgomery served as executive secretary and associate curator of the Winterthur Museum, which houses one of the finest collections of American furniture and furnishings in the nation, from its opening in 1928.

$55,000 Damages Favored By Court For Legless Youth

Swanson Bolts GOP In Race for Sheriff

Fights Organization for First Time In Opposing Prison Superintendent; Judge Taxis Running Against Smillie

Norristown — The lines of battle in the May 17 Primary Election are now clearly drawn with the expiration of the deadline for withdrawal of nominating petitions.

On the County-wide scene, John S. Magill, of Flourtown, is unopposed on the Republican ballot for Clerk of Courts.

Peter J. Reilly, warden of the County Prison and Organization candidate for Sheriff, must face Axel Swanson, Jr., an independent Republican from Whitmarsh Twp.

Other area residents seeking office include Elkins Wetherill, of Cold Point, who is unopposed on the Republican ballot for treasurer. John Roney, of Ambler, is unopposed for controller on the Democratic ballot.

A bitter contest is expected for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Orphans' Court between Attorney Frederick B. Smillie, of Sandy Hill Rd. and Belvoir Ave., Plymouth Twp., and Judge Alfred E. Taxis, of Norristown, who is running on both tickets. The Republican organization is backing Smillie, while Judge Taxis has the Democrats' support.

Swanson, former tax collector in Whitmarsh Twp., said today that many friends had called him urging that he stay in the race for sheriff. They promised they would support him as the primary.

Swanson, 49, is anticipating widespread support in the upper end of the county, and from the large circle of friends who consistently have gone along with Sheriff Samuel M. Glass for years. There was no indication, however, that Sheriff Glass would endorse Swanson.

Coroner Dr. John C. Simpson will have as his opponent Merritt W. Bosler, a Norristown undertaker. Dr. Simpson is being backed by the Organization for a full term in the coroner's office.

Mothers Map Campaign

Conshohocken — A campaign to publicize the need of new school facilities in the borough was discussed at a meeting of the Mothers' Club of the elementary school Tuesday night at the school, Third Ave. and Harry St.

Mrs. W. Milton Hadley, 918 Harry St., president, conducted the business session at the meeting.

Mrs. Hadley reported that the fire drill, sponsored by the mothers — a pie and cake sale — had proved highly successful and had netted a profit of more than $200. Mrs. Samuel Gabin, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, stated that response from the public was better than had been expected.

Barbara Monroe, an eight grader, was runner-up.

The spelling contest was conducted by Mrs. Ethel Webber, of the Commercial department, who will accompany the winners to the Montgomery County spelling bee in Norristown next month.

Eddie Slater May Settle For $25,000

Farm Boy Wheeled Into Phila. City Hall for Trial

Philadelphia — Judge Maurice W. Sporkin of Philadelphia Common Pleas Court No. 6, considered awarding Eddie Slater $50,000 and $5,000 to his father, Robert L. Slater, yesterday.

Eddie, 18, was pushed into the court room in a wheel chair to testify in a civil action against Wallis Smolinski, 48, of 8131 Ridge Ave., Roxborough, former proprietor of a taphouse in Conshohocken.

The youth testified while he was seated in the wheel chair.

James R. Calola, representing the defendant, argued for a verdict in the amount of $25,000 as a "practical manner." Judge Sporkin reserved decision pending payment of $15,000 in cash and a signed agreement for payments annually of $2000 for five years.

Smolinski was the driver of a sedan that crashed into the rear of an automobile stalled on Ridge Pike below Manor Rd., Springfield Twp., on Christmas Eve, 1954, as Slater was pouring gasoline into the empty tank of the stalled car, while a friend, Edward Roth, of Roxborough, was holding a flashlight. Neither Eddie nor his friend had ever seen the driver they were helping.

"I didn't know anything from the time I started pouring the gasoline into the tank until I got awake at Chestnut Hill Hospital and found that my legs were gone."

Little Leaguers Support Urged

Budgets Also Set For Derby, July 4

Conshohocken — A budget of $1000 must be raised to establish Little League Baseball competition in the area, Edward Custer, of Little League Baseball, Inc., said at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night at the American Legion home, Second Ave. and Corbett St.

Twenty-five representatives of churches, service clubs and community organizations attended the meeting to discuss Little League members are Francis Carr, Charles Butera, Joseph J. Connelly and William S. Leedale.

Four teams of 12 to 14 boys each may be organized in the Conshohocken area, Custer said. Each team would be equipped with uniforms, baseballs and equipment. The funds must be raised and the contract with Little League, Inc., signed by March 31, Custer said.

Local organizations were urged to participate in the fund raising campaign. David Hayes is acting chairman. Planning committee members are Francis Carr, Charles Butera, Joseph J. Connelly and William S. Leedale.

A minimum quota of 50 boys must participate in the Soap Box Derby on July 4 or Conshohocken will lose its franchise. William Moore, vice president, said. It was pointed out that last year there were more sponsors than boys to participate. A boy may be sponsored for $25. Moore said. The derby for emphasizing the Soap Box Derby in the community was stressed, estimated budget is between $1000 and $2000.

Moore also pointed out the need for manual as well as financial support for the annual Fourth of July program. The burden of the program in the past has fallen upon just a few. Moore said. Assistance in preparation and operation is vitally needed, he said. The budget will be $1000.

Jury Awards Accident Damages

Norristown — A jury before Judge Forrest in Civil Court Monday awarded $17,900 to Helen M. Donovan, administratrix of the estate of Mary J. Harrington, E. Elm St., Conshohocken, who was killed in an accident on Jan. 15, 1953.

The award represented, largely, expenses incurred by the victim's funeral and was against Frank Markley, 395 E. Hector St., Conshohocken.

Markley was the driver of a car that allegedly struck the woman at Second Ave. and Fayette St.

Meditation For Women

Conshohocken — Five Methodist churches of the area will be represented by about 75 women at a Quiet Day Meditation all day next Wednesday at the Methodist Church, Sixth Ave. and Fayette St.

The Women's Society of Christian Service sub-district of the Northwest District is sponsoring the event, held for the first time here.

Mrs. Wilmer Bath, Jr., 505 Fayette St., president of the local unit, will welcome the assemblage. Mrs. O. Ottlinger of Spring City, conference spiritual life chairman, will preside. The Rev. James H. Brasher, pastor of the local church will sing, accompanied by his wife.

In addition to the local church, also represented will be the Methodist Church of Whitmarsh Twp. and three Norristown Methodist churches. Luncheon will be prepared and served by a committee of the local group.

Girl Injured By Automobile

Health Talk For BPW Club Monday Night

Conshohocken — Mrs. George Louden, Jr., of Norristown, a social worker at Norristown State Hospital, will speak at the March dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, 6:30 Monday at a Harmonville restaurant.

Health and safety will be the theme of the program. Mrs. Edward A. Lorenz, 301 E. Ninth Ave., will preside.

Election of officers is scheduled at a district meeting, Saturday afternoon at Haverford Hotel. Haverford Delegates from the local club are Dr. Ruth Brandt, vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson and Miss Marie Powers. Also attending will be Mrs. Edward A. Lorenz, president of the local club and district treasurer; Mrs. Beale McAllister, Mrs. Anna Fomason, Miss Ruth Staley, Clara Caine and Mary Elma Russell.

Miss Anna Dunne, a member of the local club, was registration chairman at one of a series of small business clinics, sponsored throughout the State by the BPW organization, last Saturday at Haverford Hotel. Also attending from here were Mrs. Lorenz, Mrs. Atkinson, Dr. Brandt, Miss Eleanor Lotz of Norristown, Jeanne Ferrier and Ethylene Erb.

Comedy, Harvey At Villanova Sunday Night

Conshohocken — A number of residents of this area will attend a special performance of the comedy "Harvey" Sunday night in the lunch house of Villanova University, Lancaster Pike near Spring Mill Rd., by the university's Belle Masque Dramatic Club.

Villanova University and Rosemont College students will form the cast. Directing the production is Rev. William Krupa, O.S.A., a graduate of Catholic University School of the Theatre, Washington, D. C. Proceeds will aid the Augustinian Mission at Nagasaki, Japan.

Presbyterian Aid To Meet Monday

Conshohocken — Mrs. Francis Sheldon will speak at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Association of the Presbyterian Church, Third Ave. and Fayette St., at 8 Monday night. Mrs. Anne Rogers will lead devotions. Hostesses will be Mrs. Theodore F. Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, Mrs. George McFarland, Mrs. Mary Bell and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.

Whitemarsh Twp. — Gay Laurine Derr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Derr, 324 E. 13th Ave., marked her third year recently.

AIRMAN 2/C and MRS. HOWARD T. WILKINSON

International Glamour Adds To Usual Betrothal Romance For Student in Mexico City

Every betrothal has its background of romance, but the engagement of the daughter of a former Conshohocken couple combines glamour of international calibre with the sparkle of the engagement ring.

The lovely bride-elect is Suzanne Abbey Smith, 20-year-old brown-haired, brown-eyed daughter of the Hamilton Carlisle Smiths, of Seaciff, Long Island, N. Y.

Her fiancé, a Marine veteran, is the son of Mrs. J. R. Godoy, of Mexico City, and the late Dr. Godoy, a practicing physician there for a number of years. Cincinnati is their home community.

He is an executive of the Chris Craft Corp. at Acapulco, Mexico, but plans to return in May to the United States, diplomatic service, becoming an attaché once again of the American Embassy in Mexico City.

Tall, slender and terrifically attractive, Sue is an exchange student at the Mexico City College, taking her third year as a Syracuse University major in art and Spanish.

The romance began shortly after her arrival in Mexico City last September. The bridegroom-elect attended the same college and also the National University of Mexico.

Sue not so long ago was selected as one of 10 out of 200 Syracuse coeds to pose for an artist-photographer who made a series of pictures of college girls. The ones which her grandparents, the Joseph W. Smiths, of 1018 Fayette St., Conshohocken, received from the completed group, show Sue's choice a happy one.

Although no date has yet been announced for this interesting international nuptial, the couple's residence is decided by the diplomatic connection. It will, of course, be Mexico City.

But that's not as far away from home for the Smiths as it would be for most of us. Already, Sue's father, a captain with the American Airlines, has flown there to meet his upcoming son-in-law.

"Ham" Smith, a pilot for American for 25 years, was selected by the airline to fly the four-motored DC-7 on its first history-making non-stop flight from the east to the west coast in '53. He has flown three million miles and 17,000 hours for American.

Former C. H. S. Girl Athlete Is Bride of Airman Musician

Conshohocken — St. Mark's Lutheran Church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday, when Miss Ruth Ann Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haines, 24 Forrest St., became the bride of Airman 2 c Howard T. Wilkinson, son of Mrs. Howard Wilkinson, 19 Cedar Ave., West Conshohocken, and the late Mr. Wilkinson. The Rev. Guy E. McCarney, D. D., pastor, officiated.

Miss Margaret Haines was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Jean Abrams, of Germantown, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Herb Ramey, of Norristown.

DeLorme Riesel, 19 Cedar Ave., uncle of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were C. Armour Riesel, 107 14th Ave., uncle of the bridegroom, and Robert Haines, of Jeffersonville, brother of the bride.

Miss Barbara Riesel was organist and Stanley C. Thomas, soloist. A reception for 100 guests took place at the parish house. After a week-end honeymoon trip, the couple will motor to San Antonio, Tex., where the bridegroom is stationed. They will live there.

Mrs. Wilkinson was graduated from Conshohocken High School in 1951, and was prominent in girls' athletic activities. She was employed in the office of Walker Brothers. Her husband, who also attended Conshohocken High School, is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base with the Air Force.

The bride wore a white pure silk gown, fashioned with a scoop neckline, full train and long sleeves. The neckline and sleeves were trimmed in seed pearls. Her finger-tip illusion veil was held in place by a half-crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid and Stephanotis on a white sash.

The bride's attendants wore identical aqua ballerina length craysalette gowns with matching bandeaux and half veils. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow roses, daisies, daffodils and snapdragons. The bridesmaids carried yellow-orange delight roses, daffodils, daisies and snapdragons.

The bride was guest of honor at two surprise showers March 8 and 10. The first was a miscellaneous shower, given by Miss Doris Detwiler and Miss Joan Geperdt, both of Oaks, at the Detwiler home.

Guests were Misses Patricia Golias, Marion Murray, Ella Mae Graham, June Higgs, Margaret Haines and Mrs. John Haines, Mrs. Howard Wilkinson and Mrs. Mary Riesel, all of Conshohocken area; Janet Christman, of Trooper, and Mrs. Robert Detwiler and Mrs. Robert Wood, both of Oaks.

Guests at a personal shower given by Mrs. Peggy Pyle, 1120 Maple St., were Misses Barbara Riesel, Lillian Winner, Eva Vining and Mrs. Howard Wilkinson, son of Mrs. Margaret Allison, all of West Conshohocken, and Miss Ella Mae Graham, Mrs. Sarah Williamson and Mrs. B. F. Graham, all of Conshohocken.

PLYMOUTH WINS FOR 1955 STYLING OVER "OTHER 2" LOW-PRICE CARS BY VOTE OF ALMOST 4 TO 1

THOUSANDS PREFER PLYMOUTH'S STYLING IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!

A well-known independent research organization asked thousands of people—in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Dallas, Los Angeles—to compare the appearance of '55 models of the three low-price cars. Opinions were received from men and women—from people of all ages—from owners of all the different makes of cars. The results are below.

HERE'S WHAT OTHERS THOUGHT OF PLYMOUTH I		HERE'S WHY YOU'LL PREFER PLYMOUTH, TOO!
Compared with low-price car "A"	Compared with low-price car "B"	Plymouth '55—with THE FORWARD LOOK—is the only low-price car to offer you honestly new styling, instead of a mere face-lifting. It's bigger than the "other 2" cars (longer than car "A" by 8.4 inches!). It's lower and sleeker, with a host of styling advances that wins the most applause in the lowest-price field. See everything Plymouth has to offer today!
Plymouth is better looking	62%	Plymouth is better looking	66%
Car "A" is better looking	16%	Car "B" is better looking	17%
Almost 4 to 1 in Plymouth's favor!		Again, almost 4 to 1 for Plymouth!
(22% liked "both about the same")		(17% liked "both about the same")

Best buy now; better trade-in, too!

Top-Day Student Office For Ellen Whiteside

Chestnut Hill — Ellen Whiteside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Whiteside, of Germantown Pike, Lafayette Hill, has been elected to the top-day student office at Chestnut Hill College — first vice-president of the Student Self-Government Association.

Ellen, who will enter her senior year in September, is a science major, specializing in chemistry and physics. A graduate of Little Flower High School, she won a medal there for outstanding student. She was a Student Council representative in her freshman and sophomore years and has held a number of class offices. She attended St. Francis of Assisi elementary parochial school in Germantown.

She is a member of the Science Club, the German Club and the Mask and Fog Club, dramatic society in which she has been particularly active, taking part in virtually all of its productions during her time in college. In sports, she is a recognized star in swimming and also turns in an outstanding performance in hockey, softball, tennis and riding.

Ellen, fondly nicknamed "Sperky," is a member of the verse choir; participates in the school's radio workshop. This year a member of the student teachers club, her ambition is to be a high school teacher.

Her sister, Anne, a drama major, graduated from Chestnut Hill two years ago, and her brother, William, a member of the football team while at Notre Dame, took his degree magna cum laude. Anne is in dramatics school in New York.

A Mount Airy girl, Phyllis A. Hauser, daughter of Mrs. Harry F. Hauser, of 7135 Chew St., was elected treasurer of the Student Council.

Phyllis, who will begin her junior year next fall, is a graduate of Mount St. Joseph Academy and is majoring in history. She was president of her class in her freshman year and Student Council representative this year. She plays hockey and was junior delegate last summer to the National Federation of College Students' convention in Wisconsin.

Spring Mill School

Ronald Diesinger, nine, will be in Sacred Heart Hospital two more weeks, suffering a stomach ulcer. A pupil of Mrs. Ruth N. Earhart's fourth grade, he is keeping up with his school work, which is being sent to him from the class.

A member of this class, Larry Short, attended a safety demonstration at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School conducted by State Police.

Miss Nancy Claire Miller's kindergarten classes are having fun with colored chalk.

Study about circus life and making a circus mural is enjoyed by Mrs. Ruth Fuller's first grade.

Mrs. Ingrid D. Fleischer's second graders made Easter eggs for decoration in their classroom. The children are going to plant seeds and watch them grow.

Pupils in Mrs. Ruth W. Swanson's second grade drew amusing scenes after reading the story "Funny Pictures." They are cutting out pictures for long and short vowels.

They drew a big policeman for their classroom door after seeing a movie about an officer.

Miss Barbara Weigand's third graders welcomed a new pupil to their class, James Mitchell from Philadelphia.

James' brother, Thomas Mitchell, was welcomed by Miss Margaret R. Drennan's fifth grade class.

Groups of 12 at a time from Mrs. Mary Stella's sixth grade are visiting Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School to get acquainted and see the routine there. These pupils will attend high school there next year.

The school classes were entertained by a State Policeman who presented movies and asked the Safety Patrols to repeat their pledge.

The upper and lower grades enjoyed an assembly program when Officer Martin Keegan of the State Police and Roy Ganshaw from an automobile club spoke on Safety. Two films were presented, "One, Two, Three, Go!" and "Bicycle Safety."

Girls Lead Club Session

Plymouth Valley — Mrs. Richard Thomas, chairman of the Girls' Fellowship Guild of the Central Union Baptist Association, spoke at a meeting of the Women's Federation of the Plymouth Valley Community Baptist Church in Fellowship Hall of the church Wednesday last week.

Bingo Bills Introduced By Jones

Legislation Provides For Local Option Provides Safeguards

Harrisburg — Representative Thomas H. W. Jones, of Norristown, introduced bills into the state legislature Tuesday, providing for local option on the conducting of bingo games by local organizations.

A representative of the Second District, Jones said, "The borough councils of both Norristown and Conshohocken, where the majority of my constituents reside have gone on record in favor of having the people vote on the question of legalizing bingo games."

He said that volunteer firemen and fraternal orders in his district have also endorsed bingo. Church organizations and church members have, however, written to him, expressing their strong opposition to legalized gambling, he said.

The only possible course, he said, is to provide a way for the people to vote on the question themselves. The bills provide every possible safeguard for keeping out gamblers and racketeers, he said.

Provisions will be made to limit the prizes and size of games, which may be operated only by a bona fide member of an approved organization.

Merit Certificates Given Students

Conshohocken — Eleven students at St. Matthew's High School, Hector and Ash Sts., took part in a speech festival at Temple University on Friday when several received certificates of merit.

The students are members of the school's Forensic League.

Paul Hyer received a certificate of excellence in poetry reading; Joseph Plickel a certificate of excellence in public speaking; Patricia O'Donnell a certificate of superior achievement in public speaking and the Debate Club won five of eight contests.

Debaters were Germain Gersbaci, Dominic Costa, Brian Richards, Thomas Aubrey and Joseph Sullivan. Discussion participants were Robert Sonet, Peter Gale and Eleanor Dougherty.

Extemporary speakers were Robert Sonet and Eleanor Dougherty. Those in public speaking were Joseph Plickel and Patricia O'Donnell. Poetry readers were Paul Hyer and Albert Montemeyer.

Brian Richards, James White and Antonette Moriano also participated in the declamation contest sponsored by Reading Catholic High School, with 10 schools from three counties represented. Richards took second place honors.

BIKES ON PARADE — Children came from far and wide Saturday to Highfield Elementary School, Plymouth Twp., to have scotch-light safety stickers placed on bicycles and witness demonstration of safety by police dogs. Event was sponsored by Plymouth-Whitemarsh Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Refrigeration Fumes Chase Two from Home

Conshohocken — Fumes leaking from a discarded refrigerator in a back kitchen summoned No. 3 Fire Co. to the home of Philip Fondots, 121 W. Eighth Ave., and drove Fondots and his wife from the dwelling for several hours Sunday afternoon.

Responding to the call about 3, with jeep and gas masks, members radioed back for smoke ejectors, when they found the fumes excessive.

The Fountain Bad Company Ban Mutually Harmful?

A layman's views by Harold McCuen

My son Robert delivered a message on the text, "Judge Not, that Ye Be Not Judged," at a service conducted by the Youth Fellowship of Spring Mill Baptist Church, Sunday night.

His mother and I were present to hear Bob's first sermon. We thought he did well interpreting a difficult text, which he selected without help from us. He told the congregation that contrary to common practice, he thinks young people should not be compelled to avoid the company of boys and girls possessing other than a good reputation.

How are youths to know of Christ's love, forgiveness and redemption, Bob asks, if they are denied association and fellowship with those teenagers already dedicated to the service of God the Father? Rather than being pulled down by temptation to commit sin they see other young people getting away with, they should be strong enough in the Lord to lift wayward youths heavenward.

Bob plays football at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School. He's strong physically and every indication is that he is growing in wisdom and stature with God's help.

Speaking from the pulpit of the Spring Mill church brought back fond memories. Twenty-five years ago, I delivered my first sermon there. At one time both my mother and father held office at the church. It was there that Christ came into my life while I was covering an evangelistic service for The Norristown Register, a defunct daily where I began my career as a cub reporter in 1925. The Rev. Robert Fraser, blind singing evangelist, was the preacher I was assigned to cover.

For a number of years, while working on either The Register or The Conshohocken Recorder, I gave considerable time to writing radio skits, publicity releases and a number of books for Bob Fraser and his wife Ella. One book was an autobiography entitled, "Overcoming Obstacles," for which I was the ghost writer. Another, "Port of Life," was a bit of fiction published under my name.

Our Bob is mechanically inclined, an apprentice in the composing room of this newspaper and he may study engineering at college. God may use him in the ministry. Bob is praying that his life may be guided by the Master and his footsteps guided into the paths of righteousness.

Highfield Elementary School, Plymouth Twp., will be represented in the seventh annual Montgomery County Spelling Bee in Norristown High School on April 1, by Kathie McCracken, left, of 3 Hilltop Rd., Plymouth Valley. Alternate will be Ginger Stringer, right, of New Hope St., Plymouth Valley.

New Magic for Mother

What magic Grandmother could perform with her old-time range! It was her pride and joy despite coal to carry, fire to maintain, ashes to lug. To-day, a modern electric range brings you real cooking wonders.

For you there is no guesswork. In a hundred ways electricity has transformed your life, giving you freedom from the never-ending drudgery of fifty years ago... happy leisure to enjoy your home, your family, your everyday life.

Ninth Ave., adjutant; Vincent Maraglia, 331 E. Ninth Ave., finance officer; Bernard Slater, 325 E. Ninth Ave.; Clarence Slavin, 233 E. Ninth Ave.; Richard Bate,

Cpl. George Zinni Discharged by Army

Conshohocken — Cpl. George Zinni, son of Mrs. Carmen Zinni, 433 W. Sixth Ave., and the late Carmen Zinni, was honorably discharged by the Army at Fort Hood, Texas. He returned home Tuesday.

Inducted on Mar. 18, 1953, he had basic training and has since been stationed at Fort Hood. He attended the public high school and played drums in the band. He was employed at E. J. Lavino & Co., Plymouth Meeting prior to entering service.

232 E. 10th Ave.; Edward Evans, 112 W. Sixth Ave., and George Clark, of Plymouth Meeting.

MAIL BOX

"AM I MY BROTHERS KEEPER?"

Why on a cold winter's night, when the doleful wail of the siren blows do I arise to answer the call? Many times, we who are "active firemen" ask each other this question.

We could, as so many others tell, reach out and feel the walls if they are cold we could pull the covers up and say "Well, it's not my place," and drift off to sleep again.

Conshohocken should be grateful that it has such men, a mere handful who do arise to answer the siren's call. We do not feel our walls; we do not ask who or where. We do not tarry. We rush with abandon because we feel there is an urgent need for our services.

Services which we give without any thought of recompense. Services which endanger our lives.

Services which endanger our health.

Services which keep us from our families for periods of time.

The citizens of our town have been as generous as their means permit whenever the fire companies have put on a drive to purchase a new truck.

Town Council has not been generous to the fire companies. The Washington Fire Company in 1950 purchased a 75 ft. aerial ladder truck costing close to $40,000. In 1952 they purchased a 1,900 gal. pumper costing, fully equipped, $20,000. This amount of $60,000 was paid for over a two-year period in the following manner: $10,500 was collected in a door-to-door canvass of the town. We felt this a very generous contribution on the part of our townspeople. Borough Council appropriated $1,500 to this cause, leaving $47,500 for the fire company to pay, and it was paid for by a lot of giving of time and effort and back-breaking work by a bunch of civic-minded and unselfish fellows.

Today the spirit of this same bunch of civic-minded and unselfish fellows is fast being broken as a result of Council's refusal to them.

It seems to be that Borough Council is determined, regardless of the cost, that they are going to balance the budget for the coming year.

Balancing the budget is one of those things that perhaps we would all like to do.

Each of us in our own home would like to balance our budget, too.

Our state government, we feel sure, would also like to balance their budget.

Our Federal government would like to balance its budget.

Balancing a budget is one thing, but in doing the balancing we feel there should be no curtailment of funds that are urgently needed to provide the very best in Police, Fire and Health protection. These things must be provided for by Borough Council. If Borough Council does not provide that which is necessary, then perhaps they best pray that the good Lord does not visit any catastrophe on Conshohocken.

We of the fire companies feel that we have given over and above what is expected of us.

We would very much like to continue this effort.

But, like everything else today, it costs money to operate. Money that we do not have. Money that Council can and should provide. Human life is held very cheap in other parts of the world. We don't like to believe life is held cheap here in Conshohocken, but Borough Council is leaving us no alternative. So, neighbor, speak to your councilman in behalf of your fire companies.

A Dispirited Fire Fighter.

Dear Mr. McCuen:

Was that your son, Dave, who took those pictures of the hearing over the proposed shopping center, which appeared in your March 17 issue of the "Recorder"?

If so, as an editor to another, let me congratulate you both on the best piece of news reporting by photographs that I have seen in a long time, and that includes the daily papers. The picture of Mr. Hain and Mr. Feisteroff was a superb character study, while that of Clark Zanzinger, a former commissioner over here in Radnor township, was first rate.

I'm sure your readers must be equally appreciative of this fine picture coverage.

Sincerely,
Daniel N. Ehart
Associate Editor

WON'T SOMEONE TAKE ME HOME? Looking for a home a black and white spayed female dog is bidded time at the S. P. C. A. shelter in Harmonville. Lassie is one year old.

THIS SOULFUL boxer puppy is a happy dog now. He was placed in a home this week by the Montgomery County S. P. C. A., Ridge Pike, Harmonville.

A Dog's Life Isn't Bad!

S.P.C.A. Has Its Own Rigid 'Adoption' Rules

Harmonville — A dog's life isn't so bad after all.

At least it is not for the 20 dogs and five cats placed in homes every month by the Montgomery County S.P.C.A., Ridge and Butler Pikes.

Using some of the same rules as child adoption agencies, prospective owners are checked carefully. Within two weeks to a month after adoption, an agent of the S.P.C.A. checks each home where an animal is placed to insure the home is permanent and the animal well located.

The dogs are housed in a neat white frame structure in individual pens leading to a 15-foot long outside run. Above each pen a short description of each dog is placed, such as "Spunky, black and white cocker, female, three years old, doesn't like children." Spunky sits quietly in her square sleeping box, peering out questioningly from under her big top knot of hair. Her eyes are mournful, yet trusting.

Animals end up at the shelter for many reasons. "He's just too much trouble to have around. He's destructive and chews things..." She doesn't like children... She was such a cute, little puppy, but now she's grown too big for our yard." These are the comments of the indifferent former owners.

S.P.C.A. officials have found that Spunky will find a happy home with a couple whose children are grown up; the dog who chews things will outgrow the habit in a few months and become a devoted, well-mannered companion, and the dog who's too big, will be a wonderful pet for children.

Alfred C. Wells, superintendent of the shelter said puppies are usually available as well as young grown dogs, some of which are pedigreed.

"Most people always want puppies," he said, "and often neglect the grown dogs in their favor. The older animals are housebroken and have passed all the difficulties of puppyhood and make devoted pets."

To help meet some of the expenses of keeping the animals a donation of $5 is asked for each male dog, $3 for females and $1 for cats. Female dogs must be spayed within 30 days of placing, except in the case of puppies, who should be spayed when six months old.

The Montgomery County shelter was granted a charter in Nov. 1916, although organizational work started two years before. Two men and a girl work full time at the shelter.

Wells said they have taken in all types of animals, ranging from a goat to monkeys. Once, a man asked them to take in a peacock which he found sitting on the roof of his car. The bird had strayed off a neighboring estate.

Stray dogs picked up by police are cared for at the shelter until claimed by their owners. The coming of spring has caused a great influx of stray dogs, filling the shelter to capacity. Wells advises owners to keep their dogs under control at all times to avoid having them picked up by police.

"The police are only doing their job," he said, "because neighbors complain about destruction caused by loose dogs."

Ann Kimbel, left, of Whitemarsh, won the spelling title of Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School, and will compete in the seventh annual Montgomery County Spelling Bee in Norristown High School on Friday evening, April 1. Virginia Hubbs, right, of Summit Ave., Fort Washington, was runner-up and will be the alternate. Both are seventh grade pupils.

Editor to Aid U. N. Program

Ed M. Anderson, of Brevard, N. C., president of the National Editorial Association, yesterday announced the appointment of Harold C. McCuen, editor of this newspaper, as representative of the association on the publishers' advisory sub-committee of the United Nations.

Request for representation on the committee originated with Theodore Smith, executive director of the United States Committee for the United Nations, in a letter to the executive committee of NEA on March 7.

Don R. Eck, of Chicago, general manager of the association, made known at the same time that NEA will participate as a member of the 1955 Council of Member Organizations in the UN.

McCuen is serving his first term as chairman of the community service committee of the National Editorial Association and the State safety committee of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Working closely with the editor in obtaining cooperation of several thousand publishers throughout the country in efforts for lasting peace is Mrs. Ellen-Jarden Nolde of Chestnut Hill. Mrs. Nolde is stationed at the UN building in New York.

History of Nails Traced for Lions

Conshohocken — Charles E. Pritchard, superintendent of mills, Alan Wood Steel Co., Ivy Rock, spoke on "Cut Nails" at a meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday night at the Spring Mill fire house.

He traced the history of nail making from its beginning in 1780. At present there are only three nail manufacturers in the United States, of which Alan Wood Steel Co. is one, he said.

Bill Sander of the Pennsylvanian Lions Club was a visitor. Birthdays of Dick Mercurio and Russ Barr were observed.

Ladies Night will be celebrated with a dinner and show at the Plymouth Country Club, Sandy Hill Rd., Black Horse, on April 12. Jim Rath is in charge of arrangements.

A zone rally will take place at Baumgart's Springfield Hotel, Flourtown, on April 23. A club visitation of the Overbrook School for the Blind will take place May 7.

she woke at 7, and went to a window to close it.

"I looked out and saw 14 of them milling around in the truck patch," Miss Wood said. She summoned help on the estate who managed to maneuver the visitors to the barnyard. Miss Wood, unaware that there was an accident, began the task of attempting to locate the owner.

Shortly after Miss Wood discovered the cattle, Fred Geasland, art instructor at Beaver College, Jenkintown, whose ultra-modern home sits high on the Spring Hill hills, across the Schuylkill River from the Wood estate, telephoned Miss Wood.

Geasland said he could see a lot of cattle roaming about and thought they might be hers. Geasland made numerous other calls in vain to residents of the area.

State police, who patrol the highway, arrived at the crash scene shortly after the accident. They quickly summoned reinforcements and started the round-up, but had no knowledge at the time where to find the stampeding herd.

W. Side Driver Imprisoned

Guilty of Hit-Run, Drunken Driving

Norristown — A West Conshohocken man was fined and imprisoned by Judge Alfred L. Taxis, specially presiding in Quarter Sessions Court Tuesday on charges of driving while intoxicated and failing to stop after an accident.

Joseph P. Lawler, Apple St., was directed to pay the costs and a fine of $200 on the drunken driving accusation. Then he was told he would have to pay the costs and a fine of $200 and serve 60 days in prison on the hit-run charge.

However, Judge Taxis modified the latter portion of the sentence by providing that if the fine and costs are paid, the jail term will be reduced to 15 days.

Lawler was arrested by Officer Jesse Zadroga, Conshohocken, on Feb. 27 after his car was allegedly involved in a collision with one operated by May E. Parry, Swarthmore, at Fayette and Marble Sts. The defendant pleaded guilty.

Michael A. Bossack, of the 400 block, Roberts Ave., Conshohocken, admitted his guilt to a drunken driving charge and was sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $100.

Bossack, 36, was shown leniency because of his outstanding war record and his business on the witness stand. He was arrested by Officer George Bland, Conshohocken, on Feb. 18 after his car was involved in a minor accident at 11th Ave. and Wells St.

Robert Fullers Parents of Daughter

Port Washington — Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Fuller, of 1212 Hartnaff Ave., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Nancy Ellen Fuller, on Feb. 18. Mrs. Fuller is the former Miss Mary Whitney Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Henderson, of 7205 Lincoln Drive, Mount Airy.

on a complete voluntary basis.

On March 6, 1955, a special meeting of the Conshohocken Fire Co. No. 2 was called. It was agreed by the membership to be put on record as seeking an increase in appropriations to the amount of $2,000.00 and, that the company also retain its drivers 100%, answering call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, in the event a suitable increase in appropriations is not granted.

LET IT BE KNOWN THAT: We the Officers and Members of the CONSHOHOCKEN FIRE COMPANY No. 2 feel as though we owe a debt of gratitude to the TAXPAYERS of Conshohocken, IN THAT, We are more than willing to fulfill our obligations, regardless of the decision of the Borough Council.

Driver Safety Show at Schools

Conshohocken — A driver safety exhibition will be given at 9 next Thursday morning at Conshohocken High School, Seventh Ave. and Fayette St., and at 1 P. M. at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School, Germantown Pike, Plymouth Meeting.

The program will be sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Co. and Gordon H. Fries, agent, 1501 Fayette St.

In road tests a specially equipped car will be used to demonstrate stopping distances at 20, 30 and 40 miles per hour. The tests will be conducted by George H. Tewkebery, Jr., safety engineer.

Family Aid Subject of VNA Meeting

Conshohocken — More than 50 area residents heard an enlightening talk on family service work at an annual meeting of the Visiting Nurse Association Tuesday night at Mary H. Wood Park House.

Miss Elizabeth Gaynor, 1107 Fayette St., of the Lower Montgomery Family Service unit in Jenkintown, was speaker.

Having worked with the agency more than three years, she cited several case histories from that area indicating the type of service available through the unit.

The speaker explained that with the institution of a fee for services, they are now drawing from higher income bracket families as well as others.

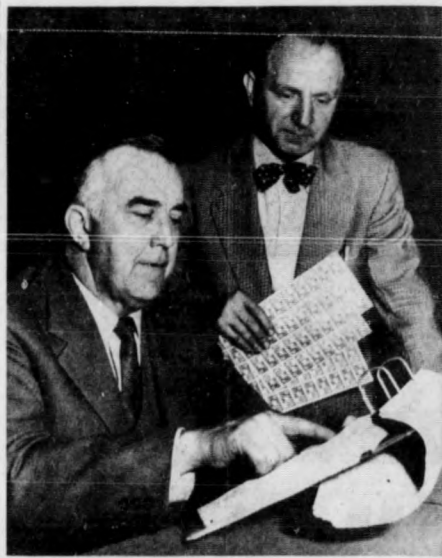

Lowell Wright, Montgomery County director of health and welfare, spoke briefly about the possibility of forming a family service unit in the area that would include Conshohocken.

The Rev. Stanley R. West, chairman of a special committee within the Visiting Nurse Society, to investigate the need and availability of family service for Conshohocken, also presented his views.

A lively question and answer period followed Miss Gaynor's talk.

Edmond Quinn, local baritone, presented several selections, accompanied by Margaret Collins, noted pianist. George Rafferty conducted the session.

A committee from the organization served refreshments.

$55,000 Settlement Considered for Eddie Slater

Eddie, then a student at Roxborough High School, lost both legs above the knee in the crash. Roth suffered a broken ankle for which he accepted settlement recently in the amount of $1800.

Smolinski has been an inmate of the Montgomery County prison, Norristown, since April 4, 1954. Serving a sentence imposed by Judge Dannehower of one and a half to three years on a plea of guilty to drunken driving, he was released on a writ to appear in the city court yesterday.

The youth's mother, one of the plaintiffs, was unable to attend. Roth drove Eddie and the farm boy's father to City Hall and wheeled Eddie into Room 253 where trial was held.

Previously the defendant had offered $15,000 in full settlement. The sum represented payment of $10,000 maximum coverage from the insurance company covering Smolinski and $5000 from Smolinski himself.

"That's the best we can do," the defendant and his attorney had insisted.

The defense promised to submit a sworn affidavit as to his assets and his ability to meet the schedule of payments agreed upon. Acceptance of the offer is subject to approval of the court.

Smolinski contended yesterday he has "always wanted to help the boy and when I got out of prison I will give him a job."

The defense attorney informed the court that residents of the communities of Roxborough, Manayunk, Wissahickon, Conshohocken, Chestnut Hill and vicinity contributed $23,000 to the Edward Slater Fund in a drive conducted early last year.

He told the court that the com-

Flower Show Area Winners

Awards for Displays From Chestnut Hill

Chestnut Hill — A number of residents of this area won awards in the 28th annual Phila. Flower Show, which closed Saturday at Commercial Museum.

One of the most important awards of the week went to Miss Gertrude S. Butler and Mrs. Robert D. Anderson, of Mount Airy, on Friday. Their scale model of an Oriental landscape received the Helen Hope Debert award for the most outstanding flower arrangement of the week. This pair also won the blue and gold ribbon of the Garden Club Federation of Pennsylvania for the best arrangement of the day.

Mrs. J. Aubrey McCurdy, of Chestnut Hill, took third prize in a class featuring a composition using rocks and succulents, in Friday competition.

Thursday winners included: Mrs. Harry C. Groome Jr., of Chestnut Hill, third prize for a composition depicting a potter; Mrs. Philip Price, of Chestnut Hill, first prize for replacement of arrangement in room in class 502; Mrs. Clinton Brown, of Chestnut Hill, second prize for replacement of arrangement in room in class 504.

Samtmann Bros., of Wyndmoor, received first prize for commercial growers-cut rose section. Samtmann Bros. also won first prizes for other varieties.

A display of sweet peas earned a first prize for V. A. Lea, of Chestnut Hill, in the private growers section — sweet peas. In the same section, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener, of Chestnut Hill, took first prize for a collection of six varieties, and first prize for a collection of three varieties.

Four prizes were awarded to area residents as a result of Wednesday judging. Lea and Mr. and Mrs. Widener received first prizes for exhibits of carnations. Mrs. Groome won third prize in the section of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, Class 512 — The Classics. First prize for a composition in glass was presented to Mrs. I. Buten, of Mount Airy, competing in class 513 of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society section.

Lea and Mr. and Mrs. Widener also took first places in Tuesday competition. Lea received his award for an entry in the private growers section, miscellaneous cut flowers, and the Wideners for an entry in the private growers section.

On opening day, Monday of last week, the first prizes were earned by area representatives. Mr. and Mrs. Widener, Mrs. V. A. Lea, Lea, and Samtmann Bros. were winners.

High Court Upholds Ruling

Suit Against Firm Is Dismissed

Norristown — An equity ruling by the Montgomery County Courts has been upheld in an opinion of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court involving proceedings brought by George N. Leiper and the Philadelphia National Bank, trustees under the will of Agnes N. Leiper, deceased, against Heywood-Hall Construction Co.

In the proceedings decided here by Judge Knight, the action brought by the plaintiffs against the construction company was dismissed.

This involved a tract of ground at Plymouth Meeting Village, on Germantown Pike, Whitemarsh Twp., and concerned a question of drainage and water drains. The plaintiffs charged that water was draining on their property and sought an injunction against the construction firm.

In dismissing the complaint Judge Knight ruled that the owner of property on a higher level than that of a neighbor had a right to develop it even though it caused surface water to flow onto that of the lower level.

He held this was true where the owner of the higher land was not guilty of negligence in the matter.

"There is no doubt that these plaintiffs have suffered some damage," commented Judge Knight in his opinion. "When they develop their land for residential use they will increase the run off of surface water and perhaps damage the land lower than theirs, but in that case if conditions are the same it will be just as it is in this case."

Firemen's Action Would Boost Insurance Rates

10 to 30 Cents Per Thousand

Conshohocken — Fire insurance rates in this borough will jump an estimated minimum of ten cents per every $1000 of insurance per year on private property and an estimated minimum of 30 per every $1000 insurance on commercial property, if Washington Fire Co.'s threat to drop its paid drivers is carried out.

At the same time, the Middle Dept. Assn. of Fire Underwriters, deprecating the proposed dropping of the two paid drivers, urged that the Washington Co. and Borough Council instead consider the advantage of adding a third paid driver.

This is the latest development in the heated, months-long battle waging between Town Council and the Washington Co. over the latter's demand for a $2000 increase in the annual appropriation of $8500, on the claim that sum is inadequate to continue its present standard of service.

Council made a compromise offer of immediate payment of $500, or half an emergency appropriation of $1000 set aside for apparatus for the borough's two volunteer fire companies, Washington and No. 2, and an additional sum of $1500, "if available at the end of the year."

Washington declined this offer and formally notified Council that the company will drop its two paid drivers as soon as the present appropriation is exhausted, probably in May.

The company has had paid drivers to insure speedy movement of apparatus when a fire summons is received, since 1914.

A rough estimate of the increased cost to property-owners because of the higher insurance rates which will follow curtailment of fire service, is at least $5000, with similar increase in insurance on contents, firemen said they are assured by an insurance agent.

"It will simply mean," a spokesman said, "if the money is not found to increase the appropriation as asked, Conshohocken people will have to pay even more than that amount in insurance. In other words, the money will be going out of the borough to insurance firms, instead of staying here to insure the fire service we have."

Conshohocken's current fire service is at present rated as "Class C" by the Middle Dept. Assn. of Fire Underwriters. That is considered a fair rating, although communities with more extensive fire protection boost ratings two above it, Class I and Class B.

Family Aid Subject of VNA Meeting

Its fire-protection rating, which governs the fire insurance rates would naturally drop to a lower class and a higher insurance cost if the paid drivers are dropped.

"We regret to learn you are considering the idea of dropping your full time operators," writes the M.D. Dept. Assn. of Fire Underwriter, to the Washington Co.

"We have reviewed our last grading," the letter says in part, "and find the change to full volunteer operation would increase the deficiency from 2302 points to 2535 points... thus reduce the protection credit on all business properties from 47 to 44 per cent.

A more important point is concerned. Our minimum class rates for schools, small mercantiles, etc., have been kept at Class C (instead of Norristown's class B) because of the lack of one paid man.

"Our basis for class B reads: 'There shall be one paid man on duty for each apparatus required for the fire alarm response. In Conshohocken this calls for two pumpers and a ladder truck. Thus three men or duty instead of two, would allow us to publish class B rates which would benefit probably 90 percent of all properties in the borough.

"Rather than revert to full volunteer operation, we challenge you two fire companies and Borough Council to investigate maintaining three paid men, one for a triple combination in each of the two stations, and one for the new ladder truck."

That reversion to all-volunteer service, a Washington spokesman states, is, as in effect 40 years ago, will also probably increase fire rates in nearby sections. The Washington Co. maintains the only aerial ladder truck within six miles, its area of use reaching east to Lee Rubber and Tire Corp., west to Ann Wood Stee Co., north to North Lane, south to Gulph Mills.

Lavino Safety Record Extolled at Banquet

Black Horse — The human side of industrial safety was explained by Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, staff representative of the National Association of Manufacturers, at the 26th annual safety dinner of supervisory employees and officials of E. J. Lavino and Co., Plymouth Meeting, Thursday night at the Plymouth Country Club, Sandy Hill Rd.

Dr. Stockdale said in carrying out safety regulations supervisory personnel were directly helping to prevent disability and suffering.

R. E. Rhodes, general manager, reported that only two lost-time accidents had occurred in 1954, with an accident frequency of 2.61 per million man hours worked.

Guests were Walter A. Knerr, executive secretary of Manufacturers Association of Montgomery County; James Bohon, district representative of the National Association of Manufacturers; William Reid and Earl Bauer of Philip Carey Manufacturing Co.; J. A. Small; S. H. Dogole and Thomas Greer, of Globe International Detective Agency, and G. S. Housman, former general manager of E. J. Lavino.

Harry P. Gorman, personnel manager, presided.

Attending were: Main office—Lloyd W. Peters, Glen H. Latimer, Warren C. Iseberg, Richard W. McLean, Norman R. Rush, Howard E. Ferrer, Francis V. Tryson, Wilfred T. Rotenbury, Francis C. School Bus Hit By Milk Truck

10 Pupils Shaken Up By Rear End Crash

Fort Washington — Ten young pupils of Barren Hill Consolidated School were shaken up when a hauled school bus in which they were passengers was rammed in the rear by a milk truck at 1:35, Tuesday afternoon on Bethlehem Pike near Morris Rd.

Driving the truck was Merle E. Ferry, 34, of 113 S. Chestnut St., Lansdale. The truck is owned by Martin-Century Farms, Lansdale.

At the wheel of the school bus was Elmer Sage, about 49, 94 Germantown Pike, Barren Hill. He had stopped the vehicle to permit Daniel Russo, Jr. 9, fourth grade pupil to alight. Russo, a son of a White-marsh Twp. police officer, had safely cleared the bus when the crash occurred. The Russo home is on Bethlehem Pike at the site of the collision.

Both vehicles were headed east on Bethlehem Pike. Ferry told White-marsh Twp. police he dozed off, and when he awoke, saw the bus looming before him. He attempted to swerve but could not. He sustained several cuts on his right hand.

The truck, damaged to an estimated extent of $700, was removed by a tow truck of the dairy firm. The school bus, owned by Mrs. Vera M. Hillner, 638 Ridge Pike, Barren Hill, under contract with the school district, was damaged to an estimated $300, but was able to continue on its own power.

Sgt. John Lebold investigated. Classes are dismissed at 1:30 Tuesday, because of teachers' meetings.

boy and another boy ran into the right front of his car from behind a parked truck, as he drove on Elm St., below Poplar St. The boy's mother picked him up and he was taken to a local physician. Officer John Mazur investigated.

Shadows were lengthening when Sgt. Charles Young drove into the narrow driveway back of the property. He stopped in front of the small building where antique dishes could be seen through tiny panes of glass at a high angle. Standing by were the child's parents, a son, William, 6 seemingly looking in vain for his sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe. It was about 5:30.

Sgt. Young seated behind the wheel of the police car, handed the death certificate to the father, who had walked a few steps to the side of the car. He knew what the certificate would say, but he stood there, reading it slowly, reading it several times. Then he folded the paper and stuck it in his pocket.

The little boy couldn't understand where his sister was. They had come together to Spring Mill, they should be together now. He stared forlornly. Mrs. Sharpe asked her husband for the keys to the lock of the small building. He gave her the keys and she invited the youngster to go inside and see the various objects on display. He went in, but he didn't stay. Outside, a moment later, his mother embraced Mrs. Sharpe. "Thank you for everything," his mother said. The family stepped slowly into their station wagon, facing River Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe waved goodbye as the visitors turned away from the tragic scene.

Sgt. Young proceeded with the task of directing the photographing of the fallen object. Mrs. Sharpe objected vigorously to the presence of reporters. Having spoken, she Fashioned of concrete in four pieces, the heaviest section of the garden ornament, a hexagonal piece about two feet across, several inches thick and weighing about 300 pounds, struck the girl's head.

A second piece about 100 pounds lay across her legs. Overall height of the piece is four feet and overall weight, about 800 pounds. Whitemarsh Twp. police, summoned quickly to the scene, said.

The great weight and massive construction of the ornament precluded any thought of its tumbling, the Sharpes said.

Easter Bonnet Contest Opens

Conshohocken — The Jayettes are sponsoring an Easter bonnet picture contest for girls, between the ages of one and six years, Mrs. Jerome H. Kopenky, chairman, has announced.

The top prize winner will be awarded a $25 definite bond by the Jayettes. Second, third and fourth place winners also will be chosen.

The contest is open to all girls, living in the greater Conshohocken area, between one and six years old, except the children of Jayette members. Snapshots must be taken of the child, wearing her Easter bonnet, either full figure or half and mailed to Conshohocken Jayettes, Box 241, Conshohocken, Pa. Mrs. Kopenky said.

The name, address, age and telephone number of the child must appear on the back of the photo. Snapshots will not be returned, she said.

Snapshots will be judged upon a pleasing pose, pleasantness of child and appearance of child in her bonnet. Mrs. Kopenky said. She announced the purpose of the contest was to stir up the gay spirit and brightness that goes along with Easter time.

Petitions Fight Change In Zoning for Market

Thirty copies of a petition opposing a change of zoning sought by Andorra Nurseries Inc., and requesting that the supervisors of Whitemarsh Twp. refrain from taking any action on similar petitions until such time as they enact a shopping center amendment to the zoning code of 1941 is being circulated in the township.

Floyd E. Justice, Jr., 45 Corson Rd., president of Andorra Acres Civic Association, said the petition is similar to a resolution he presented the board of supervisors at a meeting March 10 in the township building.

Active in the distribution are Percy Thorne, of 7 Taylor Rd., and a neighbor, Russell H. Crange.

Justice said last night that the association is strongly united in fighting the construction of a proposed shopping center at Ridge and Butler Pikes, Harmonyville. The principal business would be a supermarket conducted by Penn Fruit Co., which would have 15 checkout counters.

The president of the association said it was unfortunate that the impression of dignity had been created at a public hearing March 10 at Barren Hill School as the result of a statement by a resident of Andorra Acres to the effect — vote at a meeting of the association March 7 in the shopping center controversy showed 17 for it and 17 in opposition.

The vote concerned a side issue dealing up to the subsequent adoption by a "large majority" of a number of resolutions opposing the petition for downgrading of about two acres in a tract of eight or more acres which have been in a commercial classification since adoption of the zoning ordinance in 1941.

Point 1 in the new petition concerns the anticipated heavy flow of traffic at Ridge and Butler Pikes in event the shopping center is developed. The petition avers construction of sidewalks and installation of street lighting, at township expense, will be necessary throughout Andorra Acres, presently consisting of 95 homes, for the protection of hundreds of children whose lives would be endangered because there would be more vehicular traffic through the development.

The petition adds that sufficient acreage is available at other locations where traffic would be no problem in the township. The objections are not identified.

UM Republicans Elect Koslowsky

Upper Merion — Frank Koslowsky, of Brandywine Village, was named chairman of the Republicans of Upper Merion Twp. at a meeting Monday night.

Koslowsky, heating engineer, is president of the Brandywine Village Civic Association. William B. Koch, of Candelbrook, was named secretary-treasurer. A Norristown attorney, he is president of the Candelbrook Civic Association.

The group endorsed for the May 17 primary Thomas McHale, township supervisor; Homer Bixler and William M. Keim, school board directors, and George Shoffner, auditor.

McHale, state insurance examiner and lifetime resident of Upper Merion Twp., has served on the school board for 12 years. Bixler is a past principal of the Swedeland School. Recently appointed to fill the unexpired term on the School Board of Robert Strimmel, Keim is a Lower Merion physics teacher, residing in Valley Forge Homes.

Recreation Board Will Interview

Plymouth Meeting — Applicants for posts as supervisors of Plymouth Twp.'s public playgrounds, opening July 5, will be interviewed at the township building, Germantown Pike near Plymouth Rd., at 8, Friday of next week, according to the Park and Recreation Board of the township.

Four playgrounds are expected to be opened in the new set-up, first operated by the township in its history. Three are already listed at the township building, Germantown Pike near Plymouth Rd., and Highfield. A fourth is planned for the Connaughtown section in the west district. Negotiations for the site are not yet completed.

Peter P. Stevens, of Plymouth Valley, line coach at Temple University, director of the new playground system, and Mrs. William P. Collins, of Conshohocken, director of girls' activities, met with the Park and Recreation Board last night at the township building to outline plans for the summer program.

Saints Win 7th In Court League

The Saints racked up their seventh consecutive second half win in the Fellowship House Major Basketball League as they turned back the Warriors 67-16. Pat DiAngelo registered 20 points, Ray Bedonco 20, and Joe Palladino 16 in the triumph. Gerry Gersbach tallied 9 and Joe Levinski 6 for the Warriors.

The Trojans eased into second place while the Victorians were losing. The Trojan victory was a hard-earned 50-48 tussle with the Panthers. Joe Nosek and Jim Mahoney paced the winners with 16 and 13 points respectively. Bill Beatty of the Panthers had 21, followed by Les Williamson with 14.

The Victorians had two tight contests, and could manage only a split as they edged the Warriors 28-26 and lost by one point to the Imperials 44-43. Don Thomas netted 15 markers and John Freeland 10 against the Warriors, while Gersbach tallied 16 and Levinski 11 among the losers.

In the Imperial game, Angelo Benedict tossed in 15 and Walt Sugalski 8 to lead the winners. Jack Duff scored 16 and Thomas 10 for the Victorians.

Trojans Regain Lead in National

The Trojans regained the lead in the Fellowship House National Basketball League as they edged the Little Midgets 21-19. Mike Ehrigide poured in 15 points and Joe Loman rolled in 15 points, John Galle 10, and Ben Cardamone 2 in the win. Joe Licata scored 7 and Francis Januszewski 7 for the Wildcats.

The Trojans also turned back the threatening Black Hawks, this score being 26-10. Ehrigide and Slovak were "hot" again getting 14 and 12 points respectively. Bob Pincavitch led the Hawks, with the remainder of their points spread among Steve Golas, Eddie Garback and Larry Przybyzanski.

In another game, the Silver Eagles stepped into a second place tie with the Little Midgets by defeating the Wildcats 23-9. Joe Loman rolled in 11 points, John Galle 10, and Ben Cardamone 2 in the win. Joe Licata scored 7 and Francis Januszewski 7 for the Wildcats.

The Little Midgets kept pace by knocking off the Wildcats 10-6. Minnick, Battle, and Jones did the Midget scoring, while Carmen Fiorentino tallied 4 and Anthony Girardi 2 on the Wildcat side.

Conshohocken — Hailed by his coach, Leon Macions, former Olympic aquatic star, as "the most promising swimmer" in the Philadelphia area, Larry Palacio, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Palacio, 208 E. Fifth Ave., is looking forward to a bright college career after his recent victory at Villanova University, which gave him the National Catholic interscholastic breaststroke championship.

Larry, a senior at St. Joseph's High School, Philadelphia, has been a member of the varsity swimming team there for the past three years. He will matriculate at Villanova in the Fall.

The Conshohocken youth also is a member of the Plymouth Country Club swimming team.

Larry, voted "best swimmer at the school" in the 1955 St. Joseph's yearbook, also was the middle leg of the 150-yard medley relay team which splashed to a new meet record of 1:24.5.

High School Coach Calls Larry Palacio 'Most Promising Swimmer in Area'

Conshohocken — Hailed by his coach, Leon Macions, former Olympic aquatic star, as "the most promising swimmer" in the Philadelphia area, Larry Palacio, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Palacio, 208 E. Fifth Ave., is looking forward to a bright college career after his recent victory at Villanova University, which gave him the National Catholic interscholastic breaststroke championship.

Larry, a senior at St. Joseph's High School, Philadelphia, has been a member of the varsity swimming team there for the past three years. He will matriculate at Villanova in the Fall.

The Conshohocken youth also is a member of the Plymouth Country Club swimming team.

Larry, voted "best swimmer at the school" in the 1955 St. Joseph's yearbook, also was the middle leg of the 150-yard medley relay team which splashed to a new meet record of 1:24.5.

Although he has been trying to beat the 100-yard breaststroke Philadelphia high school record of 1:04.4 set by Joe Verdeur, North Catholic High, 1946, Larry hasn't quite succeeded but has come mighty close. He was clocked in 1:04.8 at the Eastern Seaboard Championships held at Lawrenceville, N. J., Prep on February 26 when he won second place. His best witnessed pool time is 1:04.1. With plenty of practice this summer at the Plymouth Club he hopes to lower that mark.

Larry, who attended St. Matthew's grammar school before entering the Philadelphia preparatory school, remembers the days when he, like many another boy his age, was afraid of the water. He conquered that fear by daily trips to Sherry Lake (formerly known as Potts Quarry), Butler Pike and Cedar Grove Lane, where he learned to swim. The lake, incidentally, produced another swimmer of national prominence, Walter Heck, Jr., whose parents operate the place.

Following his "graduation" from Sherry Lake, Larry, when he entered St. Joseph's, was given his first lift to competitive swimming by Gordon Wright, of the coaching staff. Macions then took him under his wing in his sophomore year.

Last summer with the Plymouth club team, the local merman gained two firsts in the inter-club championships held at Whitemarsh C. C., competing against nine other clubs. He has won 19 medals. In every meet he has entered, he always has placed.

In 1953 and again this year, he helped St. Joseph's gain the city championships, and was on the team when it won Philadelphia Catholic League titles in '52, '53 and again this year. He twice has captured the Catholic League breaststroke championship — last year and this. Individually and as a member of a medley team, he helped establish three school pool records — the 100-yard breaststroke, 120-yard individual medley (breaststroke, backstroke and freestyle) and as a member of the three-man medley team consisting of himself, Messrs. Walker and Flynn.

Final Playoff Game Monday In Church Loop

Conshohocken — The championship of the Church Basketball League will be determined on Monday night when the final playoff game is played on the Conshohocken High School floor.

First Baptist and Methodist are the two remaining contenders for the title. Baptist claimed its right to contend for the title on Monday night when it showed magnificent team play to defeat St. Mark's Lutheran, 59 to 46, and go into the final game against Methodist.

Paul Righter with 26 points and Walter Swing with 20 led the winners in scoring, but it was the great rebounding and hustling of Doug Law that gave Baptist the spark to rally after Lutheran took a 29-28 lead following First Baptist's 20-8 lead in the first quarter.

The victors scored 21 four goals which was all the advantage they needed to win.

In the second game the Methodist team again showed great offense and defense balance to romp over Balligo, 55 to 32. It was the 11th straight win for the "men in green" who are anxious to gain the league title for the second straight season.

Ben Hannum again led all scorers with 23 points while Fred Gloeckner scored and contributed to the cause with good rebounding along with Walter Winterbottom, the unsung defensive giant for Methodist.

Monday night will see Presbyterian and Episcopal meet at 7 while the second game will be a girls'

Biddy League Dinner April 2

Spring Mill — Members of teams playing in the Whitemarsh Twp. Basketball League and their parents will be entertained at a banquet at 6:45 April 2 at Spring Mill Fire House, Hector St. and North Lane. William Belick, deputy commissioner of Biddy Basketball in this area, will be guest speaker. Awards will be presented and a sport film shown.

Contest between First Baptist and Methodist.

The final contest, scheduled for 9 P. M. will decide the league championship as Baptist tries for its second straight upset when it meets Methodist.

Girls from churches in the league will play an exhibition game at 8.

Club Will Add Room to Lodge

Conshohocken — Another room will be added to Conshohocken Hunt Club's three-room lodge at Renovo, Clinton County this year.

Plans for enlargement will be made at a quarterly meeting of the club, at 8 next Tuesday night at the home of Leroy Fisher of Berwyn, former local resident.

Comprising the club are Joseph P. Thomas, borough fire chief; Franklin R. Thomas, chief engineer of No. 2 Fire Co.; J. Warren Thomas of Fairview and J. Russell Thomas of Broomall, brothers; Joseph C. Thomas, J. Warren McQuirns, John D. Woodward and Edward Brown, this borough; Leo Lawler, West Conshohocken, and Fisher.

Bears Win Second Biddy League Title

Plymouth Meeting — The Bears won their second consecutive championship in the Whitemarsh Twp. Biddy Basketball League with an undefeated 7-0 season record, outpointing the Colts, 44 to 31, in the season finale Saturday at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School, Germantown Pike.

The loss dropped the Colts into third place. Terry Sukalaki was high scorer for the Bears with 16 points. Scoring 14 points for the Colts in the second half, Francis Higgins had a game total of 18. The Bears have amassed a total of 297 points in the seven-game league schedule.

In other league action the Colts clinched second place with a 26-10 win over the Tigers. Denny Shantz was high scorer for the Colts with 12 and Freddie Rau high for the Tigers with 14 counters.

Danny Carino was high man for the Owls with eight points, leading them to a 26-19 victory over the Eagles. Mike Heitz and Billy Sneathen scored six each for the losers.

The Rams squeezed out a 28-23 win over the Hawks in a close battle. Pacing the losers, Bobby Gontram garnered 18 points. Billy Murdoch, Richard Byerly and Jimmy Simmon scored six apiece for the victorious Rams.

The Bears and Colts with an all-star squad will play Plymouth Twp. squads in a post season wind-up Saturday.

Leopards Lead In American Loop

The Golden Leopards are out in front as the Fellowship House American Basketball League goes into its second half. The Leopards hung up two victories in defeating the first half Champion Blue and Gold 14-13 and the Golden Bears 7-4.

Francis Galle had 5 points, Richie Leddy 4, and Charles McGee and Pat O'Donnell contributed 5 between them in the win over the Blue and Gold. Pete DiDonato collected 7, Mike Howell 5, and Bobby Graham 1 for the losers. Against the Golden Bears, Leddy notched 5 and Galle 2. Paul Balzano had 3 for the Bears.

The Speed Kings shutout the Golden Bears 9-0 as David Dozier scored 4 points and Calvin Dozier and Ernie Mathis tallied 2 each.

The Navy uses more than seven million items in the construction of a modern Navy submarine.
