Agony of Christ on the Cross

Nothing Ever Changes His Love for Man

What happens when the people speak? United we stand, divided we fall, a great leader said. Probably more so than any country on earth, America needs public opinion. Its largest businesses appropriate millions for the purpose of establishing and maintaining good public relations.

Politicians pay huge sums for services performed by public relations experts. And public opinion polls are part of the American scene, like cherry blossoms and lilacs and a survey with the fringe on the top.

But what happens when the people speak? Is it always good? The people demanded that Christ be killed. They were united. They were adamant. Herod and Pilate were willing to set the Saviour free, but the people refused to listen.

"Crucify Him!" they shouted. We the people speak. The cry to destroy Him rises from more throats today than ever. Communists want Him done away with once and for all. And every American who denies God and the power thereof, aids and abets the Red cause.

What a vivid picture is painted in the New Testament of the characters responsible for killing Christ. St. Mark, St. Luke, St. John describe in a few words the type of men and women in the mob that was openly against the Saviour.

That mob is not dead and gone, but more active than ever, and is organized in every village, town and city in the land. Read how the people conducted themselves in pressing false charges against Christ, and you will feel as though you are in some smoke-filled room where vital decisions are made, behind the scenes at a political convention, an executive session of a racketeer labor movement or sitting in on a rival big business deals.

Men and women have changed . . . for the worse. He knew they would. That is why He prophesied, soon after conquering the grave: "Then shall they begin to say unto the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, cover us," St. Luke 23:30. To get away from atomic fallout?

The people speak. Then, now and the future. And Christ's words echo from the cross: "Forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do."

Nothing ever changes His love for man. Repentance and redemption were accomplished by the will of the people, the people who shouted in favor of the release of the murderer — Barabbas — and the crucifixion of a Just Man. They thought it smart, a moral victory. They didn't know, but His death freed them from the penalty of sin and opened wide the gates of Heaven to all who believe. In their scorn and derision, their will ran parallel with God's will. God's way is the best way. Never let Him go.

'Alleluia, He Is Risen' To Echo Easter Sunday

"Alleluia, He Is Risen!" These words will be echoed again and again in the Christian churches on the day that Jesus Christ was resurrected from the dead — it will be Easter Sunday. Also marking the end of the Lenten period is the most joyous day in the Christian Calendar and ranks along with Christmas Day, the day that Jesus was born.

Maundy Thursday services will be held tonight in celebration of Good Friday, including the three hours of agony from noon to 3 P. M. when Christ hung on the Cross, and the Resurrection on Sunday, Easter Day, will be sung by choirs and soloists.

Easter sunrise services also will herald the day of Resurrection. Highlight of the Easter morning worship at First Baptist Church, Fourth Ave. and Harry St., will be music by three choirs, dedication of children and sermon, " . . . He Appeared to Me Also . . ." by the Rev. Warren D. Russell, Jr., pastor. Believers Baptism will be observed at the evening service at 8 Sunday. Dr. William E. Griffiths, pastor of First Baptist Church, Norristown, will speak at an Easter sunrise service at 6 Sunday morning at Plymouth Valley Church, 701 Germantown Pike, Plymouth Valley. Breakfast will follow at 7. The Rev. Adrian Mumford, pastor, will preach "He Is Risen Indeed" at 9 and 11 Sunday morning. Three hours agony service will be placed from noon until 3 P. M. ## Amusement Tax Gets 2d Look And Is Dropped

Solicitor Doubts
Enactment Would
Hold Up in Court

Lafayette Hill — A proposed 10 per cent amusement tax, estimated to yield $200 in annually, was side-tracked by the board of supervisors of Whitemarsh township Thursday night after two supervisors concluded too many kinks were involved.

The board lopped a like sum off the 1956 budget a second later to bring it into balance without that revenue.

Elmer L. Menges, solicitor for the township, expressed doubt about validity of the proposed ordinance, although he said it was modeled after the one used in Plymouth township. He warned that problems of enforcement would arise, particularly with respect to activities sponsored by civic organizations in the public interest.

However, Menges declared, there would be no end to the amendments if an attempt were made to spell out every possibility in the ordinance. If it is to be adopted, the solicitor asked the board to stick with the form presented. There will be bugs he added, and they can be eliminated only by years of experience.

He said he understood the school district had considered the same tax but discarded it because of its questionable legality. Most of the income would be derived from country clubs and pools.

R. Lincoln Hain, of the west district, said he felt the ordinance would be hard to adopt in view of the solicitor's opinion and wondered about its usefulness for revenue.

Morton H. Pettegall, Jr., president of the board, said he concurred with (Continued on Page Seven)

Steam Kills Grandchild of Norris Davis

Concord, Mass. — The 13-month-old granddaughter of Conshohocken residents was suffocated by steam escaping from a radiator as she slept in a bedroom at home, Sunday afternoon. She was Barbara Jewell Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison S. Horn, of this community. Mother of the child is the former Miss Virginia Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris D. Davis, 123 E. Fourth Ave., Conshohocken. Tucked in bed shortly after the noon hour, she was lifeless when her father went to arouse her as customary two and a half hours later. Because of intensely cold weather during the last few weeks, an air valve had been loosened on the radiator to increase the heat. The dense steam ate up the room's oxygen supply. Father of the child is an electric engineer employed by a firm in Cambridge, Mass.

Home Owners Protest Industrial Invasion Of Cold Point Tract

Lafayette Hill — Aclamming Cold Point an "utterly and completely charming, historic community" home owners vigorously protested an application for downgrading an 11-acre tract located at Butler Pike and Flourtown Rd. at a public hearing conducted by the board of supervisors of Whitemarsh township, Thursday night at the township building.

A Philadelphia cabinet maker, willing to invest $850,000 in construction of a school-type building because of the accessibility of a railroad siding connected with the Trenton Cut Off, nearby, exhibited a large architect's drawing, which, he said, indicates the structure would harmonize with the atmosphere of the neighborhood. Morton H. Pettegall, Jr., president of the board, and R. Lincoln "Bob" Hain, of the west district, agreed the supervisors should take the application under advisement. Thomas White, Sr., vice president of the board, was absent.

The supervisors also withheld decision on an application filed for a change in zoning necessary to allow construction of a swimming pool opposite the Harmonville fire house. Mrs. Martha Sheron, daughter of the late Dr. Percy Corson and owner of the 11-acre tract, was represented by her husband, James Sheron, in her application to change the Residence A zone to limited industrial. Sheron conceded the tract might be developed for 40 or 50 homes but reported an industrial offer had been received which he said was more in keeping with re-assessment values placed on the property.

Warwick A. Rieder, operator of Rieder Bros. cabinet makers at 39th St. and Powelton Ave., Philadelphia, told the supervisors of his proposal to erect a school-type building there to house his operations. Employing about 60 persons, it will represent an investment of $800,000 and occupy a building 200 by 375 feet, he said. The plant will front on Butler Pike and the Flourtown Rd. area will be held for future use Rieder continued.

Replying to questioning by property owners, Rieder said only the spray room has been worked on a double shift. He said that with Presbyterian Hospital only a block from his present plant there has never been any complaint about noise. He said he expects to find a good labor market in Whitemarsh but will bring key men with him. Factory workers belong to an AFL union, he added.

Elmer L. Menges, solicitor for the board, expressed doubt about the 80-foot set back line for the building, noting limited industrial re-zoning. (Continued on Page Seven)

Down to the Sea in Ships Richard Ridington Is Now Third In Command of SS United States

Conshohocken — A one-time borough lad who dreamed of sailing great ships over the fabled Seven Seas as he manned his first motor sailboat on Barnegat Bay, has climbed another notch in realization of his vision. Richard Ridington, 33, who grew up at 11th Ave. and Wells St. and attended local public schools, has been elevated to the post of chief officer, third in ranking command of the superliner SS United States, the world's fastest ship. Only two men who outrank the handsome, six-foot, 166-pound former Conshohockenite on the giant, three-year-old 78 million dollar vessel that transports the famous blue world, are the captain and executive officer. Before his current advancement, Ridington held the post of first officer. On his current voyage to Europe, he is second in command. He also will fill in as executive officer on the next sailing of the $5,000 ton ship launched with a record-breaking sendoff in June, 1952. A member of its executive crew since it first was floated, Ridington has several times acted as third and fourth officer. (Continued on Page Eight)

Baby Is Scalded Severely by Hot Fat; Condition Today Fair

Connaughttown — Fourteen-month-old Theresa Whinery is in fair condition today at Sacred Heart Hospital after sustaining second and third degree burns of the face, head, arms, legs and upper part of her body. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terrance J. Whinery, 514 New Elm St., the tot thought she was "helping mother" get the family dinner Wednesday last week for her Daddy, three sisters and brother. She ran to the front door to see if her eldest sister, Jean, a nurse at Norristown State Hospital, was anywhere in sight on her way home from work.

"Not yet," the child ran into the kitchen to tell her Mommy, she crawled under the table and somehow without being seen she got up beside the stove where potatoes were frying in deep fat. Theresa pulled the pan over to the edge and spilled the contents. Her screams could be heard throughout the neighborhood. A neighbor rushed mother and baby to Sacred Heart Hospital. Mrs. Whinery had presence of mind to tear the clothes off where the hot fat was searing the child's skin.

A physician said today no skin grafting will be necessary at this time and he believes Theresa will have no scars about the head, although she may be scarred slightly on her arms and legs.

Easter Thieves Are Caught Prize Winning Plants Worth $2200 Found In Store and Garage

Stratford — Three Bridgeport men were apprehended Tuesday by Radnor Township police for theft of $2500 worth of Easter plants from the greenhouse of Alfred M. Campbell and Son, Lancaster Pike. Held without bail after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Agnes McNabb, on charges of larceny, were William S. Massantonio, 11, DeKalb St.; Charles J. Koresko, 18, 309 DeKalb St.; and John M. Biscotti, 25, 138 W. Second St., all of Bridgeport. Biscotti is on leave from the Army. Capt. James H. Bones, of the Radnor police said the suspects were accused of taking 550 prize-winning hydrangeas and azaleas, hauling the plants to Bridgeport where they stored them, apparently for sale to unsuspecting customers. The retail value was estimated at $2200. Police said 538 plants were recovered in Massantonio's home, in a vacant store at Second and Mill Sts., and a garage-store on Second St., Bridgeport. Massantonio was arrested at 1 A. M. Tuesday after a short chase on Old Eagle Rd. after patrolman John McKinstry saw his car pull out of a lot near the greenhouse. No plants were found in the car, but the patrolman's suspicion was aroused when he saw stems and buds scattered on the seats and floor. After questioning by police Massantonio allegedly admitted thefts on two previous nights, implicating the other two men. Biscotti, part-time employee at the greenhouse while on leave, was apprehended at work while Radnor police, assisted by Bridgeport authorities, searched. Alfred Campbell, one of the world's largest growers of orchids, is a consistent winner of top awards in the annual Philadelphia Flower Show. ## Quakers Uphold Librarian, Back Fund to Aid Her

Defense of Mrs. Mary Knowles
In Accord with Friends' Convictions
For 4 Centuries, Spokesman Explains

Philadelphia — An appeal for funds to aid in the legal defense of Mrs. Mary Knowles, librarian at William Jeanes Memorial Library, Plymouth Meeting, made at the Monday night session of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting Religious Society of Friends, is only a confirmation of an earlier project. Last October, the group first authorized collection of a fund to lend financial assistance to Mrs. Knowles, center of a year-and-a-half long controversy, after her refusal to testify before a Senate subcommittee about alleged earlier communist affiliations.

Thomas B. Harvey originally appointed to receive the contributions, was authorized to continue the campaign. The yearly get-together in the Friends' Meeting House at Fourth and Arch Sts., Phila. included the Knowles case with other alleged "present-day dangers to civil liberties" and made it one of the major issues of the week-long sessions, concluded yesterday.

Detour Starts Next Tuesday on Ridge Ave.

Roxborough — Everything possible will be done to keep local traffic moving through the section of Ridge Ave. which will be torn up next month for a major sewer installation and street paving project, city highway department officials assured businessmen at a meeting Thursday morning.

About two dozen merchants attended the session at The Willows, 9101 Ridge Ave., to air their worries about the detour planned while work is under way. They named a three-member committee to consult with the department in coordinating interim arrangements.

Henry H. Meigs, president of the planning committee for the 21st ward, who presided, appointed to the committee William McMaster, 8500 Ridge Rd., and Rev. Joseph M. Sullivan, rector of the parish of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Al Murray, district highway engineer, announced the detour — between Port Royal Ave. and Cathedral Rd. — will go into effect at 7 A. M. April 2 under the present plan. (Continued on Page Eight)

AS THEY PASS

Pre-Easter Cantata Is Directed By Day-Time Office Manager

By Elizabeth G. Collins

ALTERING ADJECTIVES IN AN OLD AXIOM, many a well-pressed business coat conceals a musical heart. . . . Latest local example: C. Robert (Bob) Buehner, of Andorra Acres. . . . Office manager of the big Container Corp. at Manayunk, he served as guest director at the pre-Easter cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," sung by 83 voices of combined Conshohocken choirs and another from Plymouth Valley Sunday night at Conshohocken Methodist Church before an enthusiastic audience of 350. . . . A professionally-trained baritone, Bob Buehner has 10 years experience in wedding the choral band, including two years with the Merchantsville Community Chorus and many more with the Conshohocken Methodist Church choir. . . . His wife, the former Mary Burt, a childhood companion in their native Merchantsville, sang in the choir. . . . A graduate of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, the director-singer was a member of the men's glee club there. . . . Craig, oldest of their three children, is studying clarinet. . . . He and sister, Elaine, six, are pupils at Barron Hill Consolidated School. . . . Youngest child is Joan, three. . . .

Many other workers at more prosaic day-time trades are musicians by night. . . . F. P. instance Conshohocken's Milt Hadley sets his carpentry tools aside evenings for the trumpet which he has blown skillfully for 35 years. . . . Beginning his musical career at eight, he first studied violin with his dad, also a player. . . . Replacing the study of violin with piano, he later decided permanently in favor of the trumpet, also strums a banjo, plays other instruments. . . . A one-time member of Norristown High School band, he conducted his own orchestra for 15 years in Bridgeport, now has one which fills many engagements at class reunions, dances, service and fraternal organizations.

Little wonder that the colorful posters advertising an annual fashion show-card party of St. Philip's parish, Lafayette Hill, next Tuesday have that professional touch. . . . Mrs. Frank Salemiuo of Center Ave., responsible for them, studied art at Dobbin's Vocational School, Philadelphia. . . .

Although Andorra Acres' Jim Kohler, a freshman at East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C., only recently has become a participant in college dramatics, he will play a major role as the prince in Cendrillon, to be presented at the college playhouse April 9 to 12. . . . The drama is the 11th presented since 1946 by the college dramatic club for children of the county public schools. . . . Jim, a son of the Frank Kohlers, of Taylor Rd., was graduated last June from Norristown High School. . . .

Both presidents in widely-varied connections, Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott, of Gulph Mills, are escaping biting north winds on a southern cruise. . . . Sailing March 16 on the Grace Line, their itinerary centers on the Caribbean and South America. . . . Mr. Elliott is president of the Phila. Life Insurance Co. . . . Mrs. Elliott is president of Central Montgomery County Council, Girl Scouts. . . .

Big 'C' Significant To Soap Box Derby

The big "C" is inseparably linked with the success of the fifth annual Soap Box Derby — and in turn, the civic development of Conshohocken is given inestimable impetus by participation in the big Akron event each August.

Let's elucidate how the big "C" plays a super-influence in the derby.

The first and most important "C" stands for Conshohocken itself. Our representative becomes a national symbol of this borough's civic-mindedness and its pride in children. Furthermore, the local champion attests to the community spirit that prevails here and our unstinted interest in developing the best citizens for future years.

If all these C's don't convince you that the Soap Box Derby merits united support in this area, let's emphasize — and it cannot be done too strongly — that from the date of the formal announcement in the Conshohocken Recorder and The Valley Forge Sentinel that this town will again participate in the national contest, these other factors for community betterment have moved into the spotlight:

Competition — good, healthy and constructive competition — prevails. There's the unquenchable spirit of true young Americanism to excel, to lead and to win. No better spark can be ignited for turning the thoughts and actions of our boys into proper channels that will equip them for the adult years ahead.

Courage — here again the derby proves inspirational. It instills the red blood of every young participant to share on Independence Day in a sport that thrills as well as builds moral and physical stamina. It's not a dangerous game, but it does bring out the will to do one's best by putting into it one's utmost in mental and manual efforts.

Construction — the urge to do-it-yourself, so essential for advancement and eventual success in this land of enterprise and endeavor. No greater reward can anyone gain than the planning and construction of something that can be tested, first in zealous competition with one's young neighbors — and for the Conshohocken winner — the opportunity of placing his own handmade "soap box" in rivalry with the boy champions from all the states of this great country and a few countries overseas.

Citizensry — this is the greatest dividend of the entire setup. The moulding of finer, fairer, more capable citizens who will carry on the traditions of Conshohocken and at the same time expand its fame, its progress and its goals.

There are many other big C's that could be cited that evolve out of the Soap Box Derby for the good of Conshohocken and all its inhabitants, young and old. But the foregoing are the main benefits.

Here are sufficient stimulants to spur every true Conshohocken resident to get back of the 1956 Soap Box Derby. The time to lend all-out support is NOW.

Our goal for the Conshohocken race is the registration of 125 boys at the E. F. Moore Chevrolet Agency.

The more youthful participants who vie for the local title, the greater and more able the Conshohocken champion will be for the final test at Akron.

Sponsors are needed — every individual, business and manufacturing concern who has the best interests of the community and its future at heart should immediately underwrite a Derbyite.

If we go all-out — there's a BIG CHANCE that the boy we send to the Akron finals will turn out to be the NATIONAL CHAMPION.

Light-Parker Company Expansion Aids Town

A history-making mercantile event automatically was inscribed in the commercial annals of Greater Conshohocken last Friday when the spacious new headquarters of the Light-Parker Furniture Company formally was opened to the public.

This modern, progressive furniture center, on the southeast corner of First Ave. and Fayette St., is a tangible monument to the future business development of Conshohocken. It is visible proof that two successful and experienced businessmen, with a flourishing establishment in Wayne, have confidence that prosperous years lie ahead in this community.

But the intangible assets it gives the business balance sheet in Conshohocken are even greater than those apparent to the eyes of an approving shopping public.

Foremost, the new store attests to the faith of these two logical merchants—Frank Parker, with 28 years' experience and Jack Light, with 13 years' background of retail merchandising—in Greater Conshohocken and its people. It is conclusive evidence that they invest huge sums of money, after due deliberations and extensive surveys, feeling certain that sufficient business is already here for immediate returns and that the future holds unlimited possibilities as the town and its environs expand and prosper.

This manifestation of confidence and courage should be a source of encouragement to greater endeavors on the part of all other business firms and individual merchants in the area. It's a clarion call that Conshohocken can—and should be—developed into one of the leading retail business districts in the entire Schuylkill Valley!

One thing is sure — the Light-Parker Furniture Company will get its share of sales this season as well as in the subsequent months ahead, for it believes in newspaper advertising in carrying its messages to the public and as a consequence of this well-founded belief it will rapidly attract a wide clientele for all its merchandise, offered at lowest prices consistent with quality.

Final Days Green Days In Red Cross Campaign

Undaunted by the handicaps resulting from three snowstorms in eight days, the annual Red Cross campaign in Conshohocken and vicinity nears its climax with the zealous volunteers determined to surpass their goal of $13,000.

Vagaries of early Spring weather, according to Chairman Edward J. Fleming, actually added a touch of "disaster realism" to the drive, which in turn provided extra stimulus to the workers' effort to achieve success despite obstacles. And, oddly enough, the Easter vacation in the schools turned out to be one of the obstacles!

As we were being forcibly reminded in the last two weeks that the calendar does not make the weather conform to the season, there prevailed an air of optimism that better days were ahead. This atmosphere of assurance that community support in full measure will be attained radiated through the ranks of the Red Cross volunteers mainly as the result of Mr. Fleming's inspirational leadership. It was true leadership that flourished and waxed greater daily in the face of near-blizzards and other unseasonal barriers.

So it's spring in Mr. Fleming's mind — and GREEN days are at hand. And these green days will bring forth GREEN MONEY — in sufficient denominations and numbers to put Conshohocken right up among the community leaders in the American Red Cross campaign throughout the nation.

Give generously, today, please; tomorrow sure.

Fingerprints Identify Body Of Man, 75

Conshohocken — Fingerprints taken by Stanley C. Thomas, of 411 Spring Mill Ave., county detective and fingerprint expert, led to the identity of a dead man a little more than 12 hours after his lifeless body was found Monday morning in Plymouth Twp.

The man was Fred Reickert, 75, of 5964 Norwood St., West Oak Lane, a retired Reading railway car repairman. A daughter, Lillian, of the same address, who identified him Monday night at the Ardell Funeral Home, 300 Fayette St., said he had been missing since Friday night.

Elmer Boyer, a partner in the Colwell Construction Co., discovered the body in the middle of a road under construction at the company's housing development off Colwell Rd., when he arrived to begin work before 8.

The man was barefooted, wore no topcoat and had no identification. This difficulty was surmounted by county detective Thomas immediately taking fingerprints, classifying them and forwarding them to Phila., leading to the man's identity.

Harry Woodman, deputy county coroner, said death was due to exposure. The body was removed to a Phila. funeral home.

$200 More For Teachers Next Term

Director's Absence A Hardship, President Tells Dr. Kirkpatrick

Plymouth Meeting — A tentative budget of $440,927, providing a $200 increase in minimum salaries for teachers, was adopted by Plymouth Whitemarsh Joint School Board at a monthly meeting, Thursday night. The financial statement fixed a $3200 starting pay for teachers, effective in September. Of the total budget, $308,931 is earmarked for instructional services.

Recommendations of the budget committee were adhered to closely in adopting the tentative figure which is nearly $5000 larger than the one now in effect. The board tapped $475 from the proposed appropriation for the medical division, feeling those needs had been estimated too high. Cardin D. Brown, supervising principal, explained the bulk of the increase will go for teachers' salaries.

Dr. D. Wilkins Kirkpatrick of Plymouth Valley, a director, loosened some fireworks when he complained about teachers receiving additional remuneration for participating in extra-curricular activities. He criticized the policy adopted by the board at its meeting in February, observing that the board hired teachers with the understanding they would perform extra work.

He termed "outrageous" supplements for class sponsors and charged that the $1950 allowed for football coaching is "becoming big business."

Edward W. Humphrey, president of the joint board, defended the policy, commencing in neighboring districts, he said.

Humphrey finally stilled the doctor with the observation that Kirkpatrick's absence from meetings of the personnel committee, of which he is a member, and from regular board meetings was causing "a hardship on the others." He suggested that if Kirkpatrick knew all the background he would feel differently.

Mrs. B. Mitchell Simpson, secretary of the board, declared, "This is a teachers' market." She cited the scarcity of trained personnel as emphasizing the need for additional pay for extra-curricular activities. James Detwiler, explaining how the policy was arrived at, read the list of expenditures in Springfield Joint School District to illustrate the median figures in effect here.

Warren Isenberg joined Dr. Kirkpatrick's protest, taking issue with reimbursement provided the custodian for Saturday service at the building and asserted this sum should be charged to the Park and Recreation Board next year. This was covered in subsequent study of the budget.

The board referred to its insurance committee a $4 claim lodged by the owner of a dog hit by a school bus. It suggested the owner be reminded dogs should be confined.

That is the real meaning of Easter, not new clothes; not even the promise of bright skies and welcome warmth, flowering shrubs and birds singing; not self denial (for a season), or full churches with magnificent music.

"Sad is the world and cold and gray
If this is all of Easter Day."

Easter reiterates for us that love is stronger than hate; that faith and hope are eternal.

He rose!

And with Him, hope arose, and life and light.
Men said, "Not Christ but death died yesterday
And joy and truth and all things virtuous
Rose when He rose."

'Harvey' Benefit Show By Callers

by Ruth Beechley

Hold onto your hats! Here comes HARVEY. Why hold onto your hats? Because HARVEY is a six-foot pooka, a rabbit with mischievous tendencies, and a propensity for delighting audiences the world around. One of the most successful shows ever to appear on Broadway, HARVEY by Mary Chase has become a classic in theatrical circles and a favorite for amateur groups. It is for this reason HARVEY has been chosen as the next vehicle for the Whitemarsh Curtain Callers, to be presented Friday and Saturday nights, May 25 and 26 at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School. It will be a benefit performance for the scholarship loan fund of Plymouth-Whitemarsh Home and School Association.

Because of his deft touch and expert timing, Peirce Hammond, Jr., named director for this production, and working with him will be a fine cast including Nelson Harris, Carol Meehan, Ruth Beechley, Maxine Yancey, Miriam Johnston, Tom Dawson, Larry Smith, Don Watton, Mary Mannos, Dick Harsch and Dick Volkavie. HARVEY was first produced in New York in 1944 and played more than a thousand performances. Appearing in the original cast were Frank Fay and Josephine Hull, two old-time favorites. Later, Joe E. Brown also appeared in the role of Elwood P. Dowd and scored a tremendous success.

The story is as ageless as the human race and contains the kind of deep chuckles that send one out of the theatre with a deep glow of good will toward men. Gentle, beautifully mannered Elwood P. Dowd has "given up being smart," and recommends being pleasant. His best friend and drinking companion is a large, white rabbit whose name is HARVEY. HARVEY and Elwood do everything together, much to the dismay of Elwood's sister Veta, who is trying to launch her daughter Myrtle Mae into the social swim.

When Elwood appears at a tea and introduces his invisible friend to the ladies, her social efforts are a little less than successful. Veta determines that she will take steps to incorporate Elwood and rid the family of HARVEY, and the resulting mixups involving the staff of

Auto Mishap Injury Keeps Flowers Home

Children in Car Returning from Church School

Plymouth Valley — A local resident, still is confined at home suffering injury sustained Sunday morning in a collision at Virginia Rd. and Clover Lane as he drove his young son and daughter home from Sunday School.

The father is James H. Flowers, 34, of 726 Woodstock Lane, on the sales staff of a Phila. firm. Jolted from his sedan as another sedan struck it, he was treated at Montgomery Hospital for chest and skull bruises. He has undergone therapy treatment since.

The children, also suffering minor injury, are James eight, a second grade pupil at Highland public elementary school, who had abrasions of the right knee and a head bump, and Susan L. five, whose right cheek was cut. Both were treated at the same hospital as their father. Susan had to return for further treatment Sunday night.

Driver of the other car was Earl W. Mininger, 41 of Suderton R. D. 1.

Police said Mininger, moving west on Clover Lane, after leaving the home of relatives, traveled 64 feet on the lawn of the M. D. Hallman home at the intersection after the collision.

Flowers, going south on Virginia Rd., had just picked up his children at Plymouth Valley Community Baptist Church, Germantown Pike and Valley Rd. both cars had to be towed away.

Sgt. William Jordan of Plymouth Twp. police, investigating, aided by Patrolman Frank Mancini.

6:55 P. M. March 24, Hector and End Sta., Spring Mill; sedan and tree; driver, Peter Suvitsky, 34, of 407 Roberts Ave., Cedar Heights, treated at Chestnut Hill Hospital for chest and face injury. quires at least 1000 feet set back from residential areas with 50 feet of yard on either side of the building. He observed that the classification requires landscaping. Rieder said he already has plans along this line.

Col. F. R. Corson, whose home is in the neighborhood, spoke with emotion of the good residential area and improvements made by owners to keep their homes there in good condition. Residential owners will not benefit from the change, he asserted, but rather their values will decrease. Mrs. Corson seconded her husband's statements, declaring the change. She pictured it as a "charming neighborhood threatened by this whole residential area is vitally contradicted change."

Similarly intense opposition came from Martin J. Aronstein. He cited the historic characteristics of the section, saying the turnpike is the only new thing there. Applause greeted his statement. "We like it and we'd like to keep it that way," Aronstein strode to the supervisors' table to present a petition from the neighborhood urging that the application be denied.

After Fetterolf accepted a motion to adjourn the public hearing, Aronstein commented that people had wanted to be in the Sherron tract for a long time but they had been unable to do so.

Arthur Lefkoe, attorney, representing Lester S. Heft, who is seeking a change from B zone to business for his property off Butler Pike which newly organized Plymouth Valley Swimming Club wants to acquire. The tract is 653 by 415 feet and will contain off-street parking space in one corner off a 50-foot right of way into it from the road. Members will be by invitation and many are expected to come from the road. Membership will be by invitation and many are expected to come from the township. Lefkoe said. No objections were expressed. The property is opposite the Harmonville fire house.

In another zoning matter, William Logan Fox, chairman of the township planning commission, informed the board by letter of its support for rezoning a 45-acre tract at the northeast corner of Joshua Rd. and Cedar Grove Rd. now classed AA. The board recommended that the township downgrade the zoning, limiting it to use by light, clean industry. Desirability of making some land available for such industry was noted by Fox, who cited the discussion of a means of mitigating the increasing tax burden on owners of residential property in the township.

Supervisors authorized borrowing of $11,000 from Peoples National Bank until revenue is collected on the new tax duplicate. Of this, $10,000 will be used for the general fund and the balance for the light fund.

A letter was read from James W. Andrews, Joshua Rd., commending the police department for watchfulness over children and their safety, citing a personal experience.

Bridgeport—James Lee and Sons Company, carpet manufacturer, today announced acquisition of land in Rabun County, near Clayton, Ga.

Construction of an additional tufted carpet mill will begin immediately. Operation will be carried out at the new site by a recently organized Lee's subsidiary, known as Rabun Mill, Inc. The new mill will be operated in addition to its present tufted carpet factory at Bridgeport, company officials say.

Home Owners Get Assessment Notices In Plymouth Twp.

Plymouth Center—Notices of the new real estate assessment for Plymouth township will be mailed today, Raymond Flowers, assessor for the township, told the Plymouth Valley Civic Association at a meeting in the township building Monday night.
He explained the changes in valuation from 25 percent to one-third of the market price. This has enabled the board of commissioners to reduce its tax rate by four mills—down to five mills.
Indications are that the school board also will cut the tax rate although not a large reduction is anticipated, Flowers said.
Flowers reported the average price of homes in the valley is $11,500. On that basis their assessment will be placed at $3800 instead of $3600.
About 100 residents expressed deep interest in the report of the Plymouth Township Municipal Authority reciting progress toward construction of sewage disposal facilities the last 11 years.
The report, prepared by T. Allen Glenn, Jr., president of the authority, was presented to the commissioners at its March meeting. It was read by Charles Bogan, vice president and program chairman, at the meeting.
Interest was expressed by many questions on proposals to finance the project, estimated to cost about $2 million. Half of that sum will be realized by front footage assessment and the balance from issuance of bonds. Working plans are expected to be completed in a month.
The association was told of the urgency for securing a scoutmaster for the Plymouth Valley troop which is faced with liquidation unless one can be found before its charter expires in early May. Persons with suggestions for filling the post were urged to get in touch with Burton Kiphan, 12 Mill Creek Rd., Plymouth Valley.
Robert Firth, president, conducted the session.

Detour

The detour has been postponed twice because of rain and snow while feeling in the community was mounting that businesses would be cut off from access as a result.
The most recent plan to open the detour last Monday was held up because last week's snow prevented completion of repairs to Spring Lane which is being readied to carry the heavy Ridge Ave. traffic.
Mechanics made it clear to city representatives that they're mighty worried this part of upper Roxborough will be blacked out by the detour.

Lush told them Ridge Ave. is "the one road in and the one road out" of the area. He urged that the detour go through a more populated area than is planned. One optimistic view was expressed on this, however—that the route at least will take the heavy traffic away from areas where children might be playing.
L. S. Schneider, deputy streets commissioner and chief of highways for Philadelphia, asserted, "We're not here to hurt anyone." He pledged that everything possible will be done to help local conditions and declared the department feels the detour plan is the logical one for through traffic. He added the department is not "hog tied" to it but believes it will cause the least disturbance and inconvenience to everyone.
One outcome of the meeting was the department officials' pledge to ask Philadelphia Transit Co. for a reworking of buses during the three-month period the detour is expected to be in effect. The plan McMurray said he will take to PTC calls for northbound buses on Ridge Ave. to turn off at Port Royal Ave., continue to Hag's Mill Rd., along Hag's Mill to Spring Lane, on Spring Lane to Ridge, south of Ridge to Cathedral Rd., along Cathedral to Old Line Rd., north on Old Line to Manatanna Ave. The same route will be reversed for southbound travel.

The detour for other vehicular traffic will be via Port Royal Ave. to Hag's Mill Rd. to Spring Lane to Cathedral Ave. to Ridge Ave., for northbound cars and in reverse for southbound.

Schneider explained the location of gas and water mains in the street is the stumbling block which necessitates tearing up the street for sewer installation to the extent it will be almost impassable. The department tries to put in sewers six feet west of the east curb line but a large gas line was found there. The east side was ruled out because of a water main. That left the center of the street as the only place.

It would not be feasible to have anything other than light traffic going through Ridge Ave. while work being done, Schneider continued. He explained blasting of rocks in the excavation constitutes a danger and the contractor can't cover his work that much. One-way travel was turned down on that basis.

City officials were questioned extensively about the length of time the job will require and merchants expressed doubt about the 90-day period that has been mentioned. Schneider noted that Roxborough takes its name from its rocky ground and warned that how long the job will be can't be determined until the contractor gets under ground and finds what is there.
Both he and McMurray assured the merchants that it's to the contractor's advantage to get through the job as quickly as possible. McMurray noted that one strip on Stenton Ave. had been finished in 14 days.
Schneider noted that when the

Fire Radio Gripe Backfires From California City

Conshohocken — Complaint of Washington and No. 2 Fire Companies for the last month that they are being crowded off the fire radio because of south-of-the-border and western stations has backfired.
Officials of the Washington Co. have just received word that Richmond, Calif., is making the same complaint against Conshohocken.
"Those firemen back in Conshohocken should complain," according to a story in a recent issue of the Tribune, Oakland, Calif., near Richmond.
"They're bitter because they keep getting Spanish voices and music from a Cuban station on their fire radio system."
"This makes it difficult to put out Conshohocken fires. (The fire laddies say it's not easy to put out a fire when a samba is playing.)"
"So whose fire department radio comes blasting into the Richmond, Calif., fire department radio system, drowning out orders and generally upsetting routine?"
"Conshohocken, Pennsylvania," they say.

Dodge Dealers in 2900 Weekly Papers a Month

Chandler, Ariz. — "The home-town newspaper still stands out today as the basic No. 1 medium for our dealers' advertising."

So said Pete Moore, advertising director of Dodge car division.

Moore was invited to speak by Chrysler Corp. in an address to newspaper editors and publishers attending a winter meeting of the National Advertising Association, here.

For this reason, Moore said, his company in a normal month will use 1500 dailies and 2900 weeklies.

"From an expenditure standpoint, Dodge will spend more of our co-op funds in newspapers than all other media combined," he said.

Moore noted that Dodge dealers are invited in a factory questionnaire to recommend how Dodge co-operative funds should be spent. They are asked if they favor television, radio, billboards or believe, as Moore does, that the home-town newspaper is the basic No. 1 medium for advertising.

Moore was invited to speak by Weekly Newspaper Representatives, Inc., national representative of this newspaper with offices at 404 Fifth Ave., New York, 22 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. and 1730 Guardian Building, Detroit, Mich. WNR, Inc. placed national advertising exceeding $5,000,000 in weekly newspapers in 1955.

Lower Merion Studies Traffic Say Bottleneck Exists at Bridge

The Lower Merion Township board of commissioners recommended on Monday night that a traffic survey be made to determine steps necessary to break a daily rush-hour bottleneck at Green Lane Bridge.

The bridge, which connects Belmont Hills in the township to Manayunk, should be widened, the commissioners said.

Removal of one of the sidewalks on either side of the bridge, the commissioners contend, would ease the situation somewhat.

The commissioners on Monday night authorized drafting of a letter to be sent to both Montgomery County and Philadelphia authorities urging the survey.

The commissioners decided that the letter should say that the township has no financial responsibility but would aid in any other manner.

It was agreed that any bridge widening program should include a widening of Belmont Ave. One method of easing the situation would be to permit right hand turns at bridge for traffic leaving the bridge at the Main St. end, the commissioners concluded.

Trapshot Figure First Passenger In Ambulance

Conshohocken—Ten minutes after it was placed in service at midnight Tuesday, the George Clay Fire Company's new $10,000 ambulance was summoned to take national figure in the trapshooting world to the hospital.

The patient was Walter Beaver, 59, of 307 W. 11th Ave., North America's No. 1 marksman in 1948 and one of the all-time trapshooting greats.

Three weeks he suffered a heart attack. Removed to Montgomery Hospital, he was placed in an oxygen tent at once. His condition at noon today was reported improved, oxygen being administered only at intervals.

An electrician, he is employed by a Wayne firm. Driver of the ambulance on its initial run was Edward Campbell, son of Terence Campbell, chief engineer of the fire company. His aide was James Carpenter, Jr., son of the company president.

strong pressure from other individuals and groups outside the Meeting and has led to divided opinion within the Meeting itself regarding the continued employment of Mary Knowles.

A local officer of the Plymouth Meeting Friends said the "basis of discussion of the library case at the yearly meeting was one of spiritual values, rather than material ones."

She said a Phila. leader quoted "Biblical bases for personal freedom" and "weightier members—those whose opinions we regard highly—gave incidents in Friends' convictions since the 17th century which have affected our current attitude on the library situation."

Representatives named by the Plymouth Meeting Friends to attend the yearly meeting included Mrs. Charles Chapple and Mr. and Mrs. William Strauss, all of Flourtown; Fred Gloeckner, Conshohocken; Mrs. Leon Kuter, Mrs. Melbourne C. Browning, Jr., Plymouth Meeting; Miss Harriet Sheppard, Harmonville and Miss Doris Bradway, Plymouth Township. Mr. Gloeckner's wife, Dr. Louise Gloeckner is clerk, or head officer of the Plymouth Monthly Meeting.

John Archibald, Plymouth Valley former clerk of the Plymouth Meeting group, and Mrs. Archibald arranged the attendance schedule of the Plymouth Meeting delegates at the sessions.

Only a month ago, a statement over the signature of Mrs. E. Lane Crawford of Norristown, a birthright member of the Plymouth Meeting Friends, set forth that 800 citizens of the area favor dismissal of Mrs. Knowles as a result of an alleged subversive background and her failure to take the Penna. loyalty oath.

Wells Fears Free World Done Away With by 1985

Mount Airy — At the rate Communism is growing, there will be no free world by 1985, Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president and director of the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, warned Sunday as he taught the Mount Airy Men's Bible Class at Mount Airy Presbyterian Church.

Speaking on "America's Best Star," Dr. Wells took as his theme reference Galatians, Chapter 5, Verse 1: "Stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not again entangled in the yoke of bondage."

Dr. Wells urged the 112 men and 37 women, who heard his talk that they "give of their fortunes" to preserve the free world and further the Lord's work. He said that by fortunes he meant not dollars and cents, but time.

Basically, he told the class, Russia would like to destroy America, "because America has no one to bail out."

Dr. Wells said that the number of people behind the Iron Curtain has grown from 200 million in 1947 to 900 million today.

He deplored what he described as the inability of American exchange seminary students to argue the case for world freedom as against Communism. The Communists, he said, are very clever in debating the issue.

Dr. Wells returned a couple of months ago from a visit to West Germany.

Speaking to a group of school children in Cleveland recently, he related, he was asked by a 12-year-old boy: "Why should we get all fussed up about Communists?" He said that he replied with one sentence that he believed told the whole story: "Because they do not believe in God."

Dr. Wells was introduced by G. Howard Carey, president of the Bible Class. Because of two Easter services, Carey announced there will be no meeting of the class Sunday.

Soap Box Derby Spreads Fame of Conshohocken Halfway 'Round World

Sponsors Letter Tells of Great Publicity

"Conshohocken has received some very fine national and international publicity, which you rightly deserve," wrote W. G. Power, manager of the advertising department, Chevrolet Central Office, Detroit, Mich., in a letter received Tuesday by this newspaper.

The letter was in reference to the publication of three photographs in the 1956 Master Soap Box Derby Guide Book in a presentation of how other towns promote the Soap Box Derby. It included also a reference to a bigger-than-life picture of the 1955 Conshohocken champion and his racer that was placed above the doorway of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York City during the Motorama in January.

"The picture used in the Motorama in New York was viewed by some quarter of a million people," Power advised Harold C. McCuen, editor of The Recorder and The Valley Forge Sentinel. The two newspapers are co-sponsoring the fifth annual Soap Box Derby to be held Independence Day in Conshohocken in conjunction with the E. F. Moore Chevrolet agency.

The Master Soap Box Derby Guide Book goes to 150 Derby Directors in the United States, two in Canada, one in Alaska, one in Germany and one in Ireland. In addition, Power wrote, some 50 copies go to General Motors Overseas plant locations and General Motors Foreign Distributors division.

In each of the pictorial presentations the spotlight is on Lloyd Lasky, Conshohocken champion, at Derby Downs, Akron, O. In addition, two pages published in The Recorder the last week in June, heralding the July 4 event, are re-produced in the book. The size is ample to make possible reading of all names of contestants, their ages and addresses and telephone numbers of the sponsors.

This means that sharing national and international publicity is each of the 42 sponsors who bought an ad in the double-truck that featured the 1955 Soap Box Derby supplement in The Recorder. The Recorder, incidentally, is the only weekly newspaper in the United States co-sponsoring a Soap Box Derby. Frank Allan, commander of Joseph Wagner Post 772, American Legion, is the 1956 derby director here.

Sales of Lees Carpets Hit New High in 1955

Bridgeport — Sales of Lees carpet yarn and worsted yarn products in 1955 totaled $71,343,009, up 15% over the $62,224,328 of 1954. This sales increase was accomplished without the sales of Columbia-Minerva hand knitting yarn division which was sold at the close of 1954. Lees carpets sold in 1955 were in the highest volume in the 109-year history of the company.

Net income increased 22% to $4.03 a common share compared to the all-time high of $6.22 a share in 1950.

During the year, the company's four regular 50-cent quarterly dividends on common stock were paid, as were the preferred dividends of $3.85 a share.

In his letter to stockholders, President J. L. Eastwick noted that capital expenditures in 1955 will approximate $6,000,000. The '56 expansion plans include the erection of an additional tufted carpet mill at Rabun Gap, Georgia, to be operated by a wholly-owned subsidiary known as Rabun Mills, Inc., at a cost of more than $2,000,000, and the expansion of yarn spinning and weaving facilities as well as new

Irish Free State To Send 1956 Entry to Akron

Detroit, March 28 — Further international flavor will be added to the 19th All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, O., August 12, with an official entry from the Irish Free State.

This will be Ireland's first participation in the great amateur coasting car racing event for boys, aged 11 through 15, according to W. J. King, All-American general manager and assistant advertising manager of Chevrolet.

As in 1955, there will again be entries from Canada, one from Alaska and one from Western Germany, King said, making a total of five champions from outside the United States in the field of approximately 150.

The opportunity for Irish youth to compete for the All-American title, the trip to Akron and a share in $15,000 in scholarship prizes and other valuable awards is the climax of a project begun in 1950 by Cyril McCannoran, an Irish youth worker. McCannoran was the prime mover on a committee of persons who organized an unofficial race for boys at Dunlerr in County Louth that year. His dream was to see an official Soap Box Derby race for boy-built, gravity-propelled cars held in Ireland with the winner going to America to compete in the All-American.

To carry forward that plan, he appealed to General Motors Overseas organization in London which, in turn, referred him to McCannoran Motors, Ltd., of Dublin. The McCannoran organization agreed to sponsor the Irish Soap Box Derby.

Because arrangements were completed only shortly after the first of the year, there will be only one Soap Box Derby race in Ireland this summer—a final event in Dublin sometime in July. Contestants from all of Ireland's 26 counties are eligible while youngsters from Northern Ireland may enter through the border counties.

In 1957, Irish sponsors plan to conduct official eliminations in the 26 counties and follow up with a final event in Dublin to select the champion for the trip to the 20th All-American in Akron.

King said arrangements for the 19th All-American are rapidly nearing completion. The list of officially sanctioned local races will be completed before the end of the month, he said.

Warehouses in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

During 1955 capital expenditures totaled $3,400,000, mostly for the establishment of the new tufted carpet yarn spinning plant at Dahlonega, Georgia, operated under the company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Pine Tree Company. This plant was expenditures for new plant and equipment to approximately $25,000,000, and increased the year-end book value per common share to $38.88. Year-end working capital totaled $24,500,000.

The company's balance sheet also included a new long term loan of $4,900,000 negotiated to finance its capital expenditure program.

"Particular attention has been paid during the past year to the field of merchandising our products and development of our management team," President Eastwick commented.

Estate of Mrs. Jacobs Appraised at $769,960

Norristown — Mrs. Ellen Newbold Cooke Jacobs, of "Sydney Farms," Marshall St. and Sandy Hill Rd., near Plymouth Twp., left an estate whose value more than triples the original estimate at the time of her death there at 82, last July 6.

The inventoried value, according to an appraisal filed in the office of Montgomery County Register of Wills Mayne R. Rothenberger, is $769,960.77. The original estimate was approximately $200,000.

The widow of George Jacobs, Jr., an attorney who died 35 years ago, the tall, imperious, grey-haired woman, at one time one of the nation's largest single breeders of Briards, French shepherd dogs, left a surprising will which remembers some of her socially-prominent Chestnut Hill cousins.

Major bequests were made to her attorney, Harry J. Alker, of Philadelphia, given $50,000, and to Stanley S. Furst, Lock Haven, Pa., formerly of Harmonville and Plymouth Meeting, Furst, according to developments, gained a handsome share of the three-quarter-million dollar legacy.

Bequeathed the 150-year-old, 19-room, three-story ancestral stone mansion of the Cooke family and its furnishings the 27 acres of land surrounding it with smaller buildings on it, the automobiles, kennels and pedigreed dogs, he got $5,000 in addition.

Now, it is revealed, Furst sold the big estate within a few months of becoming its legal owner, for a reported $75,000 to the five Genuardi brothers, proprietors of a Genuardi Supermarket at Jeffersonville. Their plans are to tear down the historic mansion, a smaller building believed to have originally been erected for slaves and other structures to make way for a modern market. The plans have been a bit slowed up by reported opposition of property-owners of the area, but a spokesman for the brothers said today that they expect to draw up plans in the near future.

It was a mutual interest in dogs which actually led to Furst, a former vice president of General Rectractories Co., Philadelphia, faring so well in the will of the highly individualistic woman dog-breeder.

Casualty meeting at a dog show during Furst's second marriage, the friendship with the woman many years his senior continued during his third and current marriage, he and his wife frequently visiting "Sydney Farms" during the last years of Mrs. Jacobs' life.

Chestnut Hill cousins included in the will of Mrs. Jacobs are Richard S. Newbold, of 8512 Stenton Ave., $10,000; Mrs. Ellen Newbold Lee, 7929 Winston Rd., $1,000.

Cheng Dick, a butler-houseman, reputedly of a high-ranking Chinese family exiled for political reasons, was bequeathed $20,000.

Mrs. Robert C. Butler, proprietor of the Butler Convalescent Home, Blue Bell, a cousin by marriage who lived with Mrs. Jacobs in the final months of her life, was left $10,000.

After a series of smaller bequests to relatives, former employees and charitable institutions, the residue of the estate was left to four younger cousins.

Tight Second Quarter
Costs Methodist Title

Conshohocken — A low-scoring second quarter spelled defeat for Methodist Monday night as they were trounced by Lutheran, 62-39, for the championship of the Church Basketball League at Conshohocken High School.

Methodist got off to a good start, with 13-14 at the end of the first session. Lutheran then put on the clamps, holding their opponents to two tallies while they netted 13 in the second quarter, bringing the halftime tally to 27-17. Lutheran Methodists rallied mildly in the second half, but couldn't overcome the tremendous advantage obtained by Lutheran. The score at the end of three sessions was 42-29.

Tom Priest was high man of the day for Lutheran, swishing in seven goals and eight of 10 foul attempts for 22 tallies. Also accounting for double digits were Richard Freas with eight floor shots for 16 and John Priest with five goals for 10. Sharpshooters for the losers were Fred Gloeckner with 12 points on two goals and eight out of eight foul conversions and Wallace Evans with five goals for 10.

In a girls' preliminary contest the Lutheran ladies followed the lead of their brothers, downing Methodist, 23-27. The game was nip and tuck until the final session when Lutheran poured on the steam.

The Methodist girls got off to a 9-4 lead at the end of the first period, but Lutheran tied it up at 15-11 at the half. Methodist again led in the third quarter, 22-19, only to have hopes for victory dashed when Lutheran scored 10 to their five tallies in the finale.

Pacing Lutheran was Sally Kehr with eight goals and one charity throw for 17 tallies. Dee Ferrier led the losers with six goals and one free throw for 13 points.

In semi-final contests Friday night, Lutheran triumphed over Ballingomine Baptist, 55-41, and Methodist edged Presbyterian, 48-47. Ballingomine led, 9-5, at the end of the first session, but Lutheran bounced back to hold a two-point margin, 23-21, at the mid-mark and 33-31 at the end of the third period. The winners then took control of the backboards tallying 22 points to Ballingomine's 13 in the final quarter.

High men for Lutheran were Tom Priest with five goals and three free throws for 13, Richard Freas with six goals for 12 and Elzy Freas with two goals and seven charity tosses for 11.

Netting double figures in the scoring column for Ballingomine were John Lewkowicz with three goals and nine free throws for 11 tallies and Anthony D'Annunzio with four goals and seven charity shots for 10.

Methodist tallied a 14-11 margin over Presbyterian in the first session which their opponents whittled at, but never were able to overtake. The halftime lead of 22-19 had diminished to 36-35 by the end of the third quarter, but both teams tallied 12 points during the finale to give the victory to Methodist.

Frank Allen paced the Methodist five with six goals and three foul shots for 15 points. His teammate Fred Gloeckner tossed 10 counters through the hoop on five floor shots. High men for the losers were Douglas Lay with five goals and one free throw for 11 points and Robert Crawford with five goals for 10.

Lutheran was aided to victory by outstanding floor work of Elzy Freas and Jack Priest.

Wins Title
For District

Conshohocken — Kinahan Debate Society of St. Matthew's High School won the southeastern district debate title of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League in competition at Norristown Senior High School last Friday afternoon.

The victory qualifies the team to represent Chester, Bucks, Delaware and Montgomery Counties in the state meet at Pittsburgh April 29 to 30.

St. Matthew's students won a close decision over highly regarded Archbishop Prendergast of Drexel Hill in the regional competition. They were the only two debate contestants. The local school failed to place in poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, discussion or original oratory.

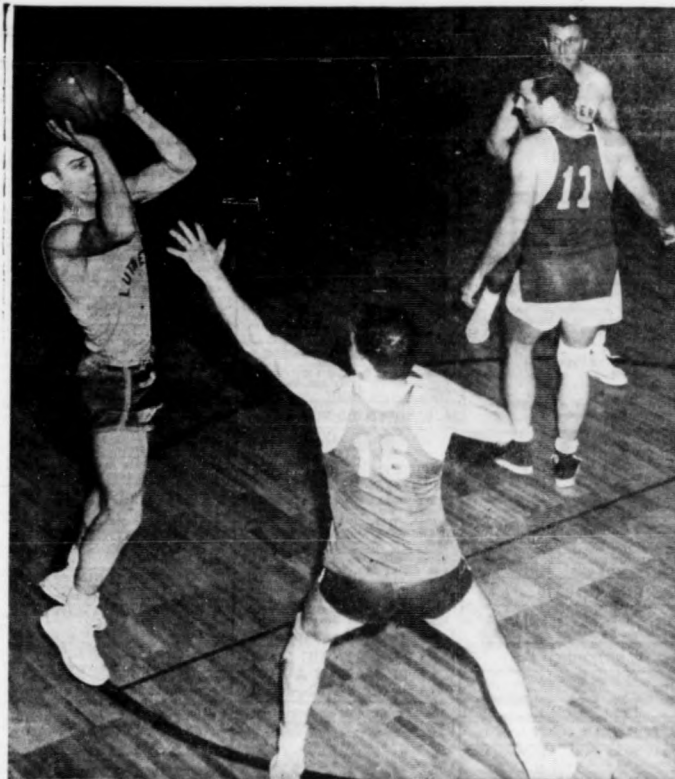

Debating the topic resolved: government subsidy should be granted qualified students for higher education according to need, Germain Gersbach and Brian Richards took the negative while Donald Costa and Peter Galle defended the positive.

Sister Miriam de Sales is faculty advisor for the Kinahan society which in 1953 won second place in the Catholic Forensic League finals for Philadelphia and finished third nationally. Last year the debaters placed third in the Philadelphia area competition to become regional representatives to the finals in Brooklyn, N. Y., in May.

Anthony Giradi led the Raiders with 10; Carmen Fiorentino had seven, Charles Sardo, two, and Eugene Cicchetti.

Steelworkers like their jobs

...and pay day is only one of many reasons

How long does the average worker stay on the job in the steel companies the country over?

One answer is—thousands of them spend an entire working lifetime in steel. A more detailed answer is in the pictures above and at the right.

Men don't stay on jobs in our free country unless they like their jobs. And steelworkers stay. Their average length of service with present employers is more than twelve years.

Pay day is pleasant because wage levels in the industry place steelworkers among the top 10 per cent of all industrial workers. ... And, since 1950, steelworkers' average hourly earnings have increased about four times as fast as the cost of living.

Steelworkers are safer at work than at home. In steel, safety is almost a religion. Accident frequency in steel is half the average for all manufacturing.

Among other benefits steelworkers enjoy are good working conditions ... most modern tools, processes and equipment ... insurance benefits ... vacations ... pensions.

There are more than half a million of these steady-going workers in the industry. The vast expansion under way right now to increase the country's steelmaking capacity by 15 million tons in just three years will create thousands of new jobs—good jobs, with good futures.

Steel is a rapidly growing industry. Production capacity increased 40 per cent just since World War II. Today, expanding even more rapidly, steel is constantly requiring new skills and offering greater incentive and opportunity for advancement.

No wonder steelworkers stay on the job. ... They know that—

Babe Ruth Baseball Unit Is Underway

League Forming For Boys 13-15; Meeting Tuesday

Conshohocken — Babe Ruth League baseball for boys in their early teens will be played in Conshohocken this year.

The league is now in process of formation and interested persons will meet at 8 P.M. Tuesday at the Fellowship House, Fifth Ave. and Harry St., to further plans for its operation.

William S. Leedale, recreation director for the Fellowship House who is assisting in the organization, said selection of team managers and securing men to serve as umpires will be the principal items of business Tuesday. Election of officers probably will be postponed until a later meeting, he said, because a slate has not yet been prepared.

The plan is to set up four teams each with 15 players. Leedale reported. Uniforms and other equipment will be provided by sponsors now being secured. All games will be played at Stutcliffe Park, W. 10th Ave.

Joseph Wagner Post 772 of the American Legion, which has sponsored a "knee high" team for the same age group since 1952, will drop out of the ninth American Legion district and lend its support to the new league, according to Frank G. Allan, post commander. This will enable a larger number of boys to participate in league activity, he observed.

Boys in the 13 to 15 age bracket will be eligible for the teams. Tentative boundaries are Conshohocken and West Conshohocken, Leedale said.

Tryouts are tentatively scheduled to take place early in May with play beginning later that month or the first of June, he continued.

Leedale noted that the Little League for boys eight to 12 years was launched last year and the Babe Ruth League will provide organized baseball for those who have outgrown the younger group.

Mitchell Shows New Lawn Grass

A new lawn grass—Meyer Z-52—developed by scientists of the Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Golf Association, was one of the features of the Henry F. Mitchell Co. exhibit seen by thousands of persons at the Philadelphia Flower Show. It is available through local garden supply dealers.

The grass, which chokes out crabgrass, is a hot weather variety which is green from late April to late October and is brown or dormant between November and the middle of April.

Meyer Zopia is green and beautiful during Summer months when usual lawn grasses disappear in the heat and crab grass move in. It gives a dense turf and high quality all Summer, requiring little or no fertilizer, is disease resistant and needs watering only in the driest weather and less mowing than most types.

An economical grass, Meyer Zopia must be planted from plugs of sod which are inserted in the lawn at the rate of one to each square foot. A homeowner can purchase a few plugs, set up his own nursery and grow enough plugs for his own lawn and for his neighbors' lawns.

Kidz Like Unusual Furniture, Faces Glow At New Store Opening

March 26, 1956

HIT: Have you seen the new store opened Friday by Light-Parker Furniture Company at First and Fayette in Conshohocken?

What a dream... or better still, how that display of fine furniture can set a woman dreaming...! Jack Light and Frank Parker, proprietors, have done themselves proud in their new establishment. These two gentlemen deserve a world of credit, building a reputation in business in five years surpassed by no others in the area.

They are well-known now throughout Conshohocken, West Conshohocken, Roxborough, Manayunk, Wissahickon, Gladwynne, and over through the main line sections of Wayne, St. David's, Stratford and into the Upper Merion area, Colonial Village, Wayne Woods, King of Prussia, etc.

Mac and I didn't have any baby sitters left at home Friday night... three oldest at home were attending a performance of "28 Skidoo," and a Sadie Hawkins dance at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High.

Sooooo, we hauled our four youngest with us to the Light-Parker grand opening.

First of all, while waiting for Mac to park the car, the children and I examined the tastefully decorated windows.

An unusual treatment is given to the windows of the store in this respect... there are large plate glass windows, but actually NO DISPLAY SPACE for store windows, in the normal sense.

Rather than specifically "build up" display window space, the Lights and Parkers have, in an unique fashion, developed the available area into attractive "room settings."

This is achieved by sectioning off some of their floor space at the front of the store, by use of drapes, in sandalwood shade, pin-pleated and hung on traverse rods.

The windows facing First and Fayette at the upper side of the store at this time display an eye-peeling Italian Provincial dining room set. The setting is complete with table, chairs, and breakfast in lovely fruitwood cherry finish, side tables featuring leather tops topped by stunning lamps. Table centerpiece is an antique reproduction of a tureen in white ironstone, and similar accoutrements in the same ware are on the shelves of the breakfast, seen through the gridded doors.

In the lower window facing Fayette St., the setting is for a bedroom. Featured is an unusual type bed headboard complete with a tiny drop-leaf desk on either side, replacing the usual night tables, space for books, radio, lamps, clock and what-have-you. The double dresser boasts brass drawer-pulls and a framed mirror. The set is completed by a chest on chest.

Then walk into the store... We marveled at the rug... not just ordinary scatter rugs or even room-size rugs... No, wall-to-wall fine carpeting in sandalwood shade is the floor feature at Light-Parker! We are amazed. Must have cost a fortune!

And the fine furniture featured... YOU STILL HAVE TIME TO BUY YOUR GIFTS CARDS CANDY

Punny thing, we had the heater man in yesterday... and he spent two hours just cleaning and repairing certain parts... "No heat in the house for the 'little McToon' Tids..."

Then the heat was off again last night when I had Lenore Marie in the bathtub... "I hadn't noticed being cold too much, but when I put her sleeper on the radiator to get it warm," said unit was COLD... ICY FINGERS!

We quickly ventilated the place this morning to let out both smoke and fumes.

I've often read where animals will awaken householders in time of trouble of this sort.

With three dogs, three cats and a parakeet in the house, you'd think one of them would have had a sensitive nose.

Well, thank God we're still all here to tell the tale, even tho we all still feel "queasy in the tum-tum," (quoted from Bebe, six.)

City Surveying New Highway Along River

It May Run Along East Bank to Norristown

A city survey is being conducted presently to determine if a new highway is feasible that would skirt the east bank of the Schuylkill from a point near the Expressway interchange at City Line Ave. to Norristown.

Announcement of the study, results of which will be presented to the city in a month, was made today by David M. Smallwood, commissioner of streets.

The study has been underway for several months with a preliminary report already in the hands of Smallwood. He would not divulge the findings but he did say that if feasible, the plan will be submitted to the Pennsylvania State Highway Department requesting financial assistance.

"If the study proves the highway can be constructed at reasonable cost, it can be estimated that work on the road would be at least three years in the future," Smallwood figured.

"The new route would be essentially a truck road," the commissioner explained. "It would be designed to alleviate traffic on Ridge Ave. It would leave the latter route to passenger vehicles and trucks making local deliveries," he continued.

According to Smallwood, the route under study would carry the road from a point at Gustine Lake to a branch-off of present Main St. near Ridge Ave. It would continue along the bank of the river, over Venice Island and along the present River Rd. through Conshohocken into Norristown.

The firm, according to the commissioner, has concentrated early portions of the survey on the carrying of the road over the Venice Island and canal section.

The project, which will cost several million dollars, probably would include the filling in of the canal and would force scrapping of several plans that have been advanced for the land.

When he was asked about the present Schuylkill Expressway, Smallwood was quick to say the route which now speeds traffic along the west bank of the river will be overhauled in a matter of a few years. "Already there is a noticeable increase of the daily volume of traffic," he said.

"Growing traffic demands force thinking into the future. Not just next year or the following," he said, "but into the next decade," he concluded.

The World and Your Backyard

By ELLEN-JARDEN NOLDE

Lines from an Asian report: "Asia is, throughout the Asian people a desire for Western recognition of their dignity. We need to remember that although we have developed more rapidly than the Asians in industrialization they have preceded us in finding many of the ways to make life richer—culture and art—handicrafts—an exceptional love of beauty,—and unusual qualities of patience, reflection and repose."

"Let us not forget that while we have material and technical things to give, they also have things to give. And if we are wise enough to perceive and to take what Asia has to offer, the balance struck between us will not be one sided by any true measure of values."

Why is this in your backyard? If we do not now assist Asia the Soviet will. "The Soviet Union has been specializing for many years on training technicians. These technicians are at the same time thoroughly indoctrinated so that they can serve also as political agents. Also the technicians are at the command of the Soviet government, which can direct them to go wherever it wills. It is trying to in-sinuate them into key posts in lands which they hope to dominate."

"In the case of the United States, the Government can appeal but it cannot command. Also it cannot match the financial rewards of private business. The answer, it seems to me, must be found in a greater recognition on the part of our people of the inner or spiritual satisfactions to be gained by public service and aiding in the cause of human welfare.

In the thirty-eight countries which I have visited since becoming Secretary of State, I have almost always talked with gatherings of the Americans of our foreign service and related services. I have found them serving under conditions of hardship. But I also found that they derive satisfactions which are not readily to be found under conditions of greater ease and material prosperity at home.

What can you do about it? This is an exciting challenge to follow the example set by all our pioneering ancestors. Here once again is an opportunity to set out and create a new way of life, not only for ourselves this time, but for others.

"It is my earnest hope that more of our young men and women who are specially qualified to help others to help themselves will engage in this great adventure."

For information about serving two or more years in the fields of agriculture, business, welfare, health, or engineering in a foreign country, contact the American Overseas Service Bureau at Room 301 United Nations, N. Y.

INTERESTED IN NURSING? — Women who can meet personal, educational and physical requirements can qualify for the Nurse's Aide Service of the American Red Cross. They work as assistants to graduate professional nurses; take temperature, pulse, respiration; give morning and evening care; prepare and set up treatment trays for sterilization; assist with unsterile dressings; keep supplies and equipment in order; help set up clinic rooms and assist in emergency rooms. They serve in wards of civilian and federal hospitals; in out-patient departments and accident rooms; in clinics and in public health nursing agencies; in homes, assisting visiting nurses; in blood centers. Mrs. Jay Kershner, branch chairman of Nurse's Aide Service, right, is shown taking pulse and temperature of Mrs. John Shelly, vice chairman, seated, in a simulated scene in a home or in a hospital.
