The property is the estate of Mrs. Mary Macaonary, who died several days ago. Mr. Pedrick's lease expires in a few weeks and he does not intend to renew it.

TOWNSHIP AUTHORITIES TAKE A HAND IN PREVENTING ROWDYISM.—GIRL BATHER HAS EMBARRASSING EXPERIENCE

The people of this community will not have to give up the fine sport of swimming at the public swimming pool at Potts quarry, which has been made available to the public by Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, the Community Center and the owners of the property, the Ancona Nurseries, because of the swimming of a few persons intent upon making the place unit for others.

During the summer, property has been destroyed and young men have come to the place under the influence of liquor and have had a rowdy time. During the past few weeks things were getting beyond control. The Boy Scouts have been maintaining order and guarding the bathers but at night, when the lights are extinguished, there was some peeing parties and damage was done to the bath houses. Things came to such a pass that Sunday afternoon a young man, intoxicated, pushed over a bath house in which a girl bather was changing her clothes. This act brought matters to a climax and brought the authorities of Whitemarsh township into action.

Rev. T. A. Armour, scoutmaster, and who has volunteered to take charge of the swimming pool at the Community Center, has given notice that order will be maintained and a violation of the rules will be punished by arrest and prosecution.

Life guards are on duty and with the Scouts will give the names of all who violate the rules and will give them to the township authorities or the grounds, which is private property, after ten p. m. To enforce this rule, the names of all who violate and license numbers of cars will be taken and turned over to the authorities.

Ample parking ground has been provided and that a watch may be kept at the pool. Cars will park in a designated space and pay a fee of ten cents.

Rules have been posted about the grounds and an officer will assist the Scouts in enforcing them. A license number will be made at the pool. A large number of the diving boards will be built and placed in service within a few days.

The water of the pool is clean and pure and will give the bathers and during the hot spell more than 500 persons have enjoyed the pool daily.

In Duncan, residing on Crawford Hill, was arrested Friday night along Ballige road, where a search was made for a stolen automobile. NIGHT ORGY ENDS IN DAYLIGHT CRASH

Collision at Norristown May Cause Death of Germantown Man

What the police say was an all-night drunken orgy culminated in an automobile accident Sunday morning about 10:30 o'clock on East Main street, Norristown, when one man received injuries that are expected to prove fatal. He is Warren Cornish 61 years old, of 21 Cemetery avenue, Germantown. He was taken to the Montgomery Hospital, where he is in a critical condition with a fractured skull and extensive lacerations of the left arm. Cornish has only one arm. The accident occurred when a coupe operated by James Raynor, 31, of Morton, Delaware county, of which Cornish was an occupant, crashed into a sedan of Morris Mitchell, a local merchant. His machine was being driven by the chauffeur, John W. Bazzel, colored, of 145 Ann street, and carried no other occupants. Examined at police headquarters by Police Surgeon Simpson, Raynor was pronounced intoxicated, and committed to prison by Burgess Hendrickson for a hearing on charges of assault and battery by automobile and operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Bazzel was also held on a charge of assault and battery by automobile.

GULF MILLS

William Wells and Emery Miller have returned from a trip to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heald and family have removed from the Arden road at Gulf Mills to Norristown. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McHale returned on Sunday from Atlantic City. The former was a week-end visitor at the resort, while Mrs. McHale enjoyed the ocean breezes for a week. John Black Jr., of the Matson Road, has secured a position with the Diamond State Fibre Company in Bridgeport. He was formerly employed at the Glassine Paper Company plant in West Conshohocken. Miss Catharine Margolis, of Philadelphia, has been visiting her sister Mrs. Harry Waeck, Jr., at Mechanicsville. Miss Margolis formerly resided here. Catharine Deber, Lodia D. Frances, Mary Housel, Mary Long, Elizabeth Moser, Evelyn DeHaven, Elsie Long, Elsie Weldie and John Goetze, from Gulf Mills, completed the course at the Bird-In-Hand school in Upper Merion last week. They will enter the consolidated school at the opening of the new school term in September. Those who completed the course at the Gulf school last term were Rose Fulton, Edna Lightfoot, Edna Smith, Mildred Cummings, Edna Wells, Anna Fisher. The latter pupils are also eligible to begin their studies at Swedeland in September. There will be some changes made in the staff of teachers in Upper Merion preparatory to the reopening of the schools. While it is stated that the same teachers, Miss Caine and Mrs. Youngblood, will return to their respective posts of duty at the Bird-In-Hand school, there is rumor that a change will be made at the Gulf school. A building is being erected on the triangular tract of ground between Montgomery avenue and the Gulf road at Gulf Mills and in front of the former Henderson Supplee residence. What the building will be used for is conjectured, but persons here state that it will be an automobile service station. This was owned by Henderson Supplee for many years and was acquired by the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company along with the dwellings and other property purchased from Mr. Supplee. About a year ago the erection of a cement block dwelling was begun on the ground, and while it was in course of erection a difficulty of some nature arose and it was never completed, the blocks being removed from the site. The ownership of that portion of the former Supplee realty appears to be a mystery to the villagers here, but they are of the opinion that it is owned by Isaac H. Clothier, Jr. who resides on "Sunnybrook Farm", near by, crons employed by Mr. Clothier reside in the former Supplee dwelling. This dwelling a few years ago was occupied by Joseph Kelly and formerly reported to have been the quarters of the realty. The large boulder mound erected by the Sons of the American Revolution is near the site. Earl Foy, Thomas Foy, Thomas Westwood, Oseola, and William Cook, Samuel Hallman, Fred Mosman and Raymond Shore, all members of Washita Tribe of Red Men of Conshohocken on Saturday attended the big event of the tribe, the open air adoption, athletic events, feast and other features, the place for holding which was kept a secret until it was over. The Tribesmen from here surmised some sylvan spot had been selected by Mathias Vercoe who led the way for his fellow Redmen. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fulton, and family, who have resided at Mechanicsville about fifteen years, expect to remove to Conshohocken in the near future where they have purchased a new home. Rose Fulton, their daughter, aged 11 years, who was promoted from the sixth to the seventh grade at the Gulf school last term, making her eligible to enter the Swedeland school, will not take up her studies at the latter institution of learning, but will enter the Conshohocken schools at their re-opening in September. Joseph Fulton has been employed at the fiber plant in West Conshohocken a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. George Shoffer, of the Ballingone road, entertained at a musical at their home on Thursday evening last. Talent from the Norristown hospital provided a fine program of music. About thirty persons were present including Mr. and Mrs. Brooke Moore, of Conshohocken, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roeder, Mrs. Angeline McDowell, Miss Margaret Priest, of Norristown, Mr. and

Mrs. John O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. William McDowell, Gulph Mills. In Thomas Buler, a well-known racing driver of this place, will enter his speedster, which he says is a French Bugatto, the only one of that type in America, in the auto races at the West Chester fair grounds on Saturday next. Buler says his car has been re-conditioned after the races in Atlantic City and is in good shape for the coming event. For a number of months Buler was a member of the State Constabulary in Florida and returned to his home here to enjoy a six-weeks' vacation. As he is taking much interest in auto racing he may not return South until late in the fall, and probably not at all. He was for some time employed at the Ardmore Auto-car works. A number of residents of this place who are members of the Fifty year-old Club of the Norristown Times Herald, will attend the picnic of the club to be held on Thursday at the Normandy farm of Ralph Beaver Strassburger, owner and publisher of the Times-Herald, at Gwynedd. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lobb and family, of Lanerch, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davidson last week. Mr. and Mrs. Lobb former residents of this place have just recovered from attacks of the grippe. John Zimmerman, engaged in the huckstering business is able to be downstairs following a serious attack of lumbago and rheumatism. He is still scarcely able to walk from the effects of the ailment. Miss Mary Reed, of Philadelphia, is spending a week with her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Baldwin at Mechanicsville. No services were held in the Gulf Christian church on Sunday evening and no evening services will be held during the month of August and part of September. The expectation is that they will be resumed either the second or third Sunday in September. Fred Sauter, residing on the Ballingone road, has received word from his wife announcing the safe arrival of she and her children at Liverpool, England. She sailed from New York on the Franconia, of the Cunard Line. Mrs. Sauter and children will visit relatives in that country, her native home, and will return the second week in September. The Ball team in the Junior Main Line League, by not appearing on the diamond on Saturday afternoon in the regularly scheduled game with the Gulf Sunday school boys club team, forfeited the game. The champions. The local team is the with Bryn Mawr for the first place in the second series of games in the league race. Bryn Mawr was the leaders in the first series. Twenty-four games constitute the two series for the championship. Much interest is being manifested in the sport and when the games are played on the Richey estate here many routiers are on hand to urge their favorites to victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightfoot, of Mechanicsville, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Mrs. Housel, of the Arden road Gulph Mills, has returned home from the Bryn Mawr hospital. While playing with a small dog belonging to a resident of Mechanicsville, Edward Smith, 8-year-old son of Norman Smith, of that place, was bitten on the lip by the animal. The youngster was taken to the Bryn Mawr hospital where a physician cauterized the wound. Results from the misfortune are unanticipated. The dog attacked the boy more in a spirit of play than viciousness, it is believed. Miss Anna Fulton of Mechanicsville employed in one of the departments in the Norristown Court House, is enjoying a month's vacation. Part of the time will be spent visiting an aunt in Germantown and Miss Fulton will also enjoy a sojourn at Cape May. The Rich-Sampler leaves the mill buildings at Gulf Mills from the McFarland estate and when they assumed control added machinery in addition to purchasing a portion of the machinery already in the mill, some of it having been disposed of to outside parties. The mill has been in operation steadily since the Rich-Sampler firm entered into the enterprise here, they succeeding a man named Goldfin, who operated the works when the accident occurred to the holders. The mill employs quite a number of hands, many of them living in the Gulf Mills district, consequently the shut-down will be a handicap to the villagers. In addition to making yarn the firm manufactures cloth of the oldest in this part of the country, cloth for the soldiers in the Civil war having been made there by George McFarland. The August meeting of the Gulf Mills-Mechanicsville Civic Association will be held in the Gulf

Christian church on Thursday evening and an interesting meeting is anticipated. The matter of selecting a new school site for the district, which has been the subject for much discussion since the organization of the association will again be brought up for further consideration. Another question to be discussed is the installation of fire hydrants for the protection of property in the lower section of Upper Merion township. All residents of that section in which the association is interested are requested to be present. BANK EMPLOYEE BAILED Ardmore Man Accused of Embezzling $9500 of Firms Money Norman C. Moore, the former Ardmore bank employee who confessed embezzling $9500 of his firm's money, was released from Moyamensing Prison yesterday when $5000 bail was furnished by Joseph Craven, 731 South Cecil street. Moore, an assistant teller of the Ardmore National Bank and Trust Company, was heard Thursday, when arranged before United States Commissioner Manley. When arrested in New York last week, Moore is said to have confessed absconding with the money on May 4, although believed to have returned to his home on Frazer street, near Fifty-seventh and Lansdowne avenues. Moore was unable to be found yesterday. READ THE RECORDER, $1.50 Yr.

The Athletic Field for Everyone.

It is planned to submit to the school board, at the regular meeting tomorrow evening, a proposal that the board lease the athletic field from the Community Center for specified periods throughout the year sufficient to carry on all the outdoor work in the course of physical education.

The Community Center has agreed to purchase the field and its purpose is to make of it a community field—for the use of every one—and it is desired to have the school district lease the field for its outdoor courses in order that the expense of upkeep will be light upon both the taxpayers and the Community Center.

The Center is willing to have the school prepare a schedule for the year for students' use of the field and for these periods it is proposed to charge a rental of $450 for the first year. At this figure, the school board can hardly reject the offer as the district is in debt and is in no position to make immediate purchase of a large tract of ground and fit it for an athletic field.

The school district has employed a male teacher of physical education, who will also coach the high school teams, for the coming term and if athletics are to be given the place in school life as is intended, the use of a field will be needed this month and the board should not delay in making a decision upon the rental proposal.

Past experience has shown that athletics upon a commercial basis cannot be carried on here and the Community Center proposes in taking over the field to use it solely for recreational purposes for the benefit of all who choose to use it and especially the children.

The outdoor work of the Community Center is principally in the school vacation period so there would be little or no conflict with any schedule the school might desire. There would be no conflict with the schedule of adult teams in the base ball season and that recreation in athletics might be carried on to the full and sports encouraged, a lease similar to that proposed to the public schools might be offered St. Matthew's school as non-conflicting schedules could easily be arranged.

As a matter of good business, to say nothing of the opportunity to co-operate in making a big extension of the town's recreational facilities, the district should accept the offer without delay so that the newly elected physical instructor will be able to work out his program for the fall sports and the high school students may begin to organize their teams.

A quick settlement of the field business should be made tomorrow night that the Community Center may complete its plans for the general public use of the field.

The Chamber of Commerce.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce met the facts fairly when they decided it is necessary for a re-organization of the body upon different lines than it is now founded else the body will die of general debility.

In its five years of existence, the Chamber has not accomplished what it sought to do for town and business betterment. The body was organized with a large membership and small annual dues. This policy was adopted with the thought that with many members there would be widespread interest and many lines of activity might be followed. The theory did not work out in practice. As in all other organizations, the work to be done fell upon a few with the result that much was started and little finished.

It is now proposed to reorganize the Chamber and make the memberships $25 each, yearly, instead of the present minimum of $2.50. It is believed the higher dues will attract members, who will take interest in the body and will become active, making the Chamber a live, representative organization that will yield a great influence for good for the business interests and the town in general.

With the reorganization, it is proposed to open an office, collect data of every business and town activity and have this information available to every one at all times. Later, should the plan work out, a full time secretary would be employed, but this is a matter for the future.

Conshohocken is in great need of an organization that will devote its activities to furthering the business interests and planning for the progress of the town. Town council is occupied with the operation of the borough and as this places many duties on the various committees, council has little time for planning big things for the future and working out the details. This is a work for a citizens' organization and the Chamber of Commerce is the logical body for this work.

There are many big things that must be taken cognizance of among them being the comprehensive plan for a metropolitan district, which includes the re-routing of the Lincoln highway; securing county aid for the county road, Fayette street, continued through the borough; regulating building and plumbing and a sewage system. The latter is the most important public question of the moment. Several years ago, the State ordered the borough to build a sewage system but the State was not in position to enforce its demands. Things are different today and a few days ago the Borough of Souderton was ordered to construct sewers. The order may come to Conshohocken at any time and when it does, it will be enforced. The lack of finances will not be an excuse and should the borough be saddled with a great expense without any previous knowledge, taxes will be so burdensome as to hamper the progress of the town.

The business interests of the borough are not organized. Each business is operated independently and according to the ideas of the owner. No effort is made to attract the public or to make general improvements in all the stores. No effort is made to study the wants of the people and no effort is made to attract shoppers. Local business men have been complaining for several months past of poor business and the retail business done here during the first half of the year was less than during the same period last year while the weekly pay rolls have not decreased. The people are still earning money regularly and spending it, yet the home business is falling off. This shows that there is something radically wrong and it is high time for the merchants to study the situation and take quick action to correct it.

Conshohocken should be one of the best business towns in the State and would be there were there an organized effort to hold the business at home.

It cannot be expected that the local people will do all their shopping at home. A certain proportion will always go to Philadelphia. This is natural, but there should be no cause to permit the people to go to other towns to buy their needs. Norristown has for years enjoyed a large Conshohocken trade. People prefer to shop there even though they can secure the same goods and at the same prices at home. Another competitor, which is constantly increasing its Conshohocken trade is Ardmore and both these places, which are proving so attractive for Conshohocken shoppers to take their dollars to, have strong, live business associations which have studied modern merchandising methods, made all the stores attractive and made an appeal to the shoppers which has been heard.

It is time that there is an awakening in this town and face the facts that an effort will be made to save the great and valuable home business to the home people. Outside merchants value Conshohocken business and make a strong appeal for it. They will continue to get it if the local merchants will not make a stronger appeal.

In these things the Chamber of Commerce can be a great aid and it is hoped the reorganization will take place as quickly as possible and the citizens and businessmen especially will see the great work they can accomplish for the welfare of Conshohocken and its people by organizing for active co-operation for the common good.

THE NORWAY SPRUCE

A tree that is found throughout our Keystone State as an ornamental tree and also planted rather extensively for forestry purposes by the State Department of Forestry, is the Norway spruce. It is a large tree usually attaining a height of 50 or 60 feet with a diameter of 2 feet. Specimens are known to have grown to a height of 125 feet with a diameter of 3 feet. The trunk is usually straight and continuous with the crown pyramidal in shape. The leaves are needle-like about 1/2 to 1 inch long. In May, flowers appear which later develops into cones 4 to 7 inches long.

The native home of this Spruce is in middle and northern Europe, but it is planted extensively in the United States where it thrives well. While a foreigner to our forest flora it is regarded as a fully naturalized citizen, and an extremely valuable addition to that. While it has been largely planted for ornamental purposes and wind breaks, it will, in the future, be planted largely as a forest tree. A noted European authority on forestry has said that Spruce is the best paying forest species in the world.

The wood of the Norway spruce is non-prious, medium hardness, straight-grained and works easily. It is not durable in contact with soil. Its weight is about 30 pounds per cubic foot. The wood is used in the manufacture of paper pulp, for general construction, interior finishing, basket-making and for masts and oars on small vessels. It is being grown at a profit for Christmas trees, although it is to be deplored that such young trees are sacrificed.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE TRACK RUNS ON

Out in the country the other day I stood on the hilltop and saw the railway track like a silver ribbon, running away into the distance. The sun was shining brightly. I could perceive a train many miles away. At night I stood upon the same hill and could see the track only for a little distance; beyond that it was swallowed up in the shadows. But I knew that the track runs on.

There are high moments in life when we can see the far reach of righteousness. And there is many a dark hour when doubt and uncertainty settle down all around us.

Indeed the moments of vision are comparatively few, they after, day all we can do is to keep the revelations of those moments in our memory and plod on through the fog and obscurity, trusting more to faith than to sight.

We cannot abide on the peaks. Most of our journey is through the valley.

The merchant at his desk must keep in mind his larger plans even when details would deny them.

The sailor must go on dead reckoning when there are no stars by which he can set his course. But he knows the stars are still there.

Even in love we come all too rarely to the mountains of transfiguration and most of the time we must struggle trinity forward with hope, believing what we have seen and hoping for what we shall see again.

Underneath the crowding evidences of the power of evil every man must believe in those eternal and far more potent cosmic laws of good.

Did you once glimpse a great and beautiful love burning like a shekinah?

However gross may be the present darkness you must believe that the fire still burns.

The soul that will not go forward until he can see every step of the way to the end will advance but little. Most of the time we must be stepping out into the dark.

The man who is honest simply because he knows that honesty is the best policy, and is honest so long as it seems the best policy, has a poor quality of honesty for only that honesty is the best policy which is honest in the dark as well as in the light; only that man deserves to be called honest who is willing to go follow the path of honesty even when it seems to lead into the abyss.

None of us can see more than a little way most of the time. Fortunately we are if now and then, we reach some height where the great view unfolds and if afterwards, the darkness seems to close in, we can say to ourselves:

A "B. V. D." Correction

In a recent advertisement of underwear which did not bear the red woven "B. V. D." label we referred to same as being of the B. V. D. style. This was an error as "B. V. D." is not a style or type of or descriptive term for athletic or other underwear; "B. V. D." is the registered trade-mark of The B. V. D. Company, Inc. which should only be used to describe garments that bear the red woven "B. V. D." label. We make this correction in order to co-operate with The B. V. D. Company, Inc. in the protection of its trade-mark "B. V. D."

Two Sides to Tiers and Satin Crepe Make a French Frock

CIRCULAR ruffles placed one above the other give the twice-tiered sides that Paris has been exploiting this season. Chartreuse-green crepe satin edges itself with its own more brilliant underside in bands and tie that lighten the duller crepe of the one-piece frock. For a frock of this type that belongs to the leisure hours, the sleeveless effect is new and smart. It is also much more comfortable for the hot days ahead than the long, full sleeve which, however, is perfectly correct if one cares to wear it. The narrow hem and the close fitting at the hip keep our shadows from increasing even when the silhouette is rippled.

Some men clean up big fortunes in crooked dough. Look at the pretzel manufacturers. Musical World Celebrates 200th Anniversary of Piano

THE CRISTOFORI PIANO IN THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM, NEW YORK

GULBRANSEN REGISTERING GRAND PIANO

CHICAGO—Piano action of today is little changed from that of the first piano ever made, declared Harry Edward Frensd, in an address here in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the invention of the piano by Bartolomeo Cristofori in 1726.

On the harpsichord, the piano's predecessor, the player could do no more than make the music faster or slower, the notes always having the same gentle tinkle as the strings were plucked by quills.

the roll-played piano as an instrument of expression. From Cristofori to the Gulbransen registering piano is 200 years of continued advance with the simple modified harpsichord at one end, which changed the whole world of music, to the registering piano at the other, capable of playing the world's greatest music with individual expression and power of control.

OTT WINS HIGH OVER ALL IN SHOOT-OFF

Elkton Gunner Outscores Renninger in Extra Event to Capture Roxborough Prize

More than 100 marksmen participated in the "Roxborough Gun Shoot" at which eight double-barreled shotguns were awarded as trophies, in addition to other prizes. B. Ott, of Elkton, Md., a former Roxborough boy, won the high over all trophy, but only after a shoot-off with W. D. Renninger, of Collegeville, who had broken 49 in class C, shooting from the 19-yard line. Ott was at class A 21-yard shooter. Ott missed a target in his second brace and Renninger failed to connect with one in his first half. Of the 113 shooters no less than 25 won prizes on this system. Johnnie Rice, the Conshohocken ace, with the gun in class A on his 48, but had to shoot off against Al Schwartz, Class B, gun went to John B. Fontaine, of Philadelphia, who tied G. L. Sylvester at 47 breaks. He broke his 23 straight. Fontaine winning the shoot-off. M. P. Howland took down third trophy in this class, from the 20-yard line.

Renninger, of Collegeville, had a double chance in a gun as he failed to connect on his high over-score of 49 in the shoot-off with Ott, he still stood at the head of his class C shooters and won the gun for that class. E. Johnson, D. Jacques and P. Hess finished in the order named in class C, each having scored 43 breaks.

G. W. Wanklin, of Roxborough, landed the gun in class D on a 47 score. No less than four shooters tied for the runner-up trophy. L. L. Swartz, of Lansdale, won second prize, Paul North, W. Stewart and Caster, finishing in the order named, on 46 scores.

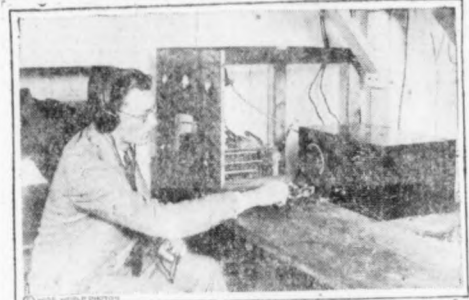

The Class E gun was won by A. F. Carr, a local marksman, who broke 48 in leading his class, the largest of the shoot, having had no less than forty shooters in it. B. Oakley, of Vineland, N. J., finished the runner-up on his forty-six total. Carr smashed his first twenty-five targets straight in rolling up his 48 score.

WIDENING THE ROAD AT THE GULF ROCK

Workers employed by the State Highway department are making excavations along the base of what is known as Saw Mill hill along the Gulph road or Montgomery avenue at this place preparatory to the relocation of the Gulph creek in order to widen the roadway at a point near the famous overhanging rock. It has been pointed out by engineers that the roadway is very narrow where the immense rock projects out over it, and that with the increasing auto travel, the situation becomes hazardous. The state on several occasions endeavored to remove the old landmark, but met with such strong opposition by historical societies...

The excavation should be made to provide a uniform slope to the line. Above the line the excavation should be filled to a depth of one or two feet with gravel, cinders, or some other porous material, through which excess water can seep. Backfilling may be completed with compacted earth and the surface sloped away from the structure. If the soil retains excess moisture, or if the soil retains a liability to rise above the footing, special precautions are necessary. The usual treatment is to apply to the exterior wall two or more coats of portland cement mixed in the proportions of one sack of cement to two cubic feet of clean, well graded sand. All dirt and loose particles of mortar must be removed from the wall before the plaster is applied to obtain a strong, permanent bond. Another method of waterproofing is to coat the exterior surface with hot tar, pitch, or other suitable asphaltic preparation, using a broom or fibre brush. The plaster treatment is generally the more satisfactory. In extremely wet soils the asphaltic preparation on the plaster coating after it has hardened. A recommended method of making basement walls watertight is shown in the accompanying drawing.

Station VOQ, Aboard Polar Ship, Invites Call of Radio Amateurs

Edward Manley at his short wave transmitter aboard the "Morrissey."

The station most sought after by radio amateurs this summer is VOQ, aboard Capt. Bob Bartlett's schooner "Morrissey", cruising the polar seas off northern Greenland in quest of new arctic specimens for the American Museum of New York.

Through the assistance of A. Atwater Kent, of Philadelphia, the "Morrissey" was outfitted with special short wave radio transmitting equipment, with which the expedition hopes to keep in touch with stations of the American Radio Relay League throughout the entire trip. The radio work aboard the "Morrissey" is in charge of Edward Manley, of Marietta, Ohio, who himself supervised the construction of the sending equipment.

Manley's messages will be sent on wave lengths of 20 and 33 meters, for most part. At the farthest point north, in the vicinity of Etah, 700 miles from the pole, experimental work will be done at 15 meters.

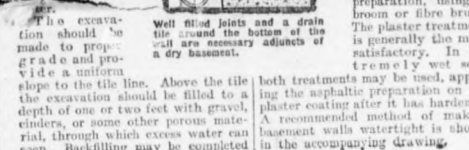

Radio reception aboard ship will be undertaken not only in international code, through a short wave receiver, but by the latest model Atwater Kent sets, of which two are installed on the "Morrissey".

Manley hopes thus to be able to provide diversion and entertainment for the crew and members of the expedition even well north of the Arctic Circle.

To stimulate interest among amateurs in seeking contact with VOQ, George Palmer Putnam, the publisher, who accompanies the expedition, promises a handsome polar souvenir to the member of the League who scores highest in maintaining communication with the "Morrissey". Whether this will consist of a polar bear skin, a set of walrus tusks or something else will depend on how successful the hunters are with rifle and harpoon.

How to Have a Dry Basement

A WATERPROOF basement wall is a necessity if the basement is to be dry. For well drained soil the most important precaution in the use of concrete blocks below grade is to make sure that joints are well filled with cement mortar and carefully pointed. If the subsoil is not sufficiently drained a line of drain tile should be placed entirely around the outside of the footing and connected to a suitable outlet. Under ordinary conditions this can be relied on to prevent excess water from entering the basement.

The excavation should be made to provide a uniform slope to the line. Above the line the excavation should be filled to a depth of one or two feet with gravel, cinders, or some other porous material, through which excess water can seep. Backfilling may be completed with compacted earth and the surface sloped away from the structure.

BASS FISHING

One of the finest small mouth bass caught in Pennsylvania this season was taken in the Nesquehanna by Walter Darlington, of Philadelphia. It was twenty-one inches long, had a twelve inch girth and weighed a shade over three pounds and twelve ounces.

Also from the Tobyhanna comes word of the largest brown trout that weighed five pounds and three ounces. The new leaders for honors was taken by a boy from the deep pool above Fern Ridge and was caught on a minnow. This brown trout had a length of twenty-six and one-half inches and weighed a fraction over six pounds.

The capture of these fish offers the best sort of an argument for heavier stocking of the streams. Several years ago the Nesquehanna was considered fished out. It is a fine bass stream just as the Perkiomen is a natural bass stream and it is not by any accident that there are small mouth bass in both waters.

Sportsmen who belong to the Bucks county fish and game association obtained a fairly large number of bass a matter of five years ago and placed them in the Nesquehanna at several points. The exact locations were jealously guarded and with almost everybody regarding the stream as exhausted the bass thrived and increased in size and numbers.

Last season, the secret having leaked out, bass fishing was good in the creek and this year it is better. But only persistent stocking will be able to continue it as a reasonable fair stream for anglers.

Now the story of the Perkiomen is a bit different. One man, the late Governor Samuel Pennypacker, was responsible for saving it as a bass fisherman's joy spot. For years he placed bass in the creek in large quantities and didn't confine his efforts to one spot. The small fish were planted at a dozen locations. After he died the work of stocking the Perkiomen was continued by anglers residing in Montgomery and Bucks counties and the time came when this creek became an excellent for bass fishing as could be had in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The news spread and men flocked to the Perkiomen, from other districts. It was fished too hard. At the same time difficulties presented themselves in obtaining young bass and restocking of the creek languished. At a few points new bass have been released but the Perkiomen is no longer a leader.

And as for trout and the Tobyhanna generally known that the stream has been heavily stocked during a long time. Several different groups of sportsmen have been placing both brook trout and the brown trout in the creek annually. The headwaters of the Tobyhanna have plenty of brook trout and in numbers.

nearly all of the pools there are both brook trout and brown trout. If the streams of Eastern Pennsylvania were supplied with all the young fish that they can support a whole lot of dissatisfaction in Philadelphia and surrounding counties would disappear. If the new hatchery near New Hope becomes a reality it will help.

This year demonstrated the fact that both brook and brown trout will live in the same pools and the former are able to take care of themselves. As stated the pools of the Tobyhanna contain both types, but there is an equally emphatic illustration in Bucks county has been stocked for a number of years with brook trout and brown trout. Fishermen have been taking both from the pools this season. They have been catching more charr than brownies.

MOLLY TALKS OF NOVEL FEATURES AT FAIR

There have been block parties and carnivals and benefits galore, but certainly one of the most attractive outdoor events that has happened this season is the Conshohocken No. 2 Firemen's fair. A real fair beginning last Friday evening, to last all the week, closing Saturday evening. Of course you know where it is being held—on East Ninth avenue, all the way from Fayette to Harry street. It is a lovely affair. The booths are so attractive in their gay and pretty decorations that when the crowds have gathered as they have been doing in the past four evenings since the affair started, it really looks like some staged colorful pageant. And they are having so many useful and interesting things on sale, as well as the desirable pretty things.

WIDENING THE ROAD AT THE GULF ROCK

Workmen employed by the State Highway department are making excavations along the base of what is known as Saw Mill hill along the Gulf road or Montgomery avenue at this place preparatory to the relocation of the Gulf creek in order to widen the roadway at a point near the famous exchanging rock. It has been pointed out by engineers that the roadway is very narrow where the immense rock projects out over it, and that with the increasing auto travel, the situation becomes hazardous. The state on several occasions endeavored to remove the old landmark, but met with such strong opposition by historical society...

THE BREAKING POINT

Will you wait for a moment after breakfast to talk to you?" I asked Curries one morning as he hurried, as usual, through his cereal and fruit.

time, that things were not going smoothly and I'm sorry, more sorry than you'll ever know. You've been a perfect brick about everything, too. I want you to know that it's to protect you from all evil and to keep you sweet and fine that I would prefer to have you stay away from Edie Mitchell and New York."

"No, we can't!" I flashed back. "You will talk to me, now, right away, or not at all!"

"But, Curries, don't you see what a terrible price you are asking me to pay?" I replied as I recognized that he was asking me to remain in conditions unchanged.

Strange, but true!

Several years ago we tried to boost our sales by making two grades of Frankfurters.

We thought the cheaper ones would mean more business.

Our Sales Decreased !!

You cannot have the penny and the cake too!

We make only the finest kind of frankfurters and bolognas. They cost a penny or two more than some, but what a difference!

doors—which consisted of palatial buff-colored apartments—after an afternoon spent in the brisk winds of a quickening Autumn.

For the first time in months my thoughts were absorbed in the immediate situation and its interesting people and so before I knew it, the car stopped, with its customary jerk, in front of one of the beautiful apartment houses and I discovered that its number corresponded with the one I had given the driver.

Before I reached Edie's door I heard voices. A piano was being played and someone was singing jazz music. I lifted the antique brass knocker.

"Sallie-darling!" and it was several moments before I could see into the room behind the enveloping embrace of Edie.

"It was beastly of me not meeting you at the station—but you know my pet aversion. Listen though, honey, your arrival has brought me such a wonderful surprise. Edie has been planning the most glorious evening all in your honor."

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

PEPTIC ULCER

Speaking generally, any ulcer within the stomach or the first four inches of the upper bowel is called a peptic ulcer, and amenable to treatment as such. The symptoms briefly are: a considerable period of "nervousness" coupled with a very sour stomach; then, "gas" and bloating, palpitation of the heart, &c. There may be pain, more often uneasiness or distress, depending on the extent of ulceration. The distress comes several hours after eating—never immediately. In fact, eating usually relieves temporarily. Then—a dose of soda or salaratus (e. g., Peppermint) may or may not be constipating or vomiting, but this is always sour stomach in ulcer, except just after taking food. If your symptoms are like the above, it is highly probable that you have a peptic ulcer, and should keep in touch with your physician.

Many people think peptic ulcer requires operation; my own experience is that, many if not the great majority of cases may be cured without operation. It may take months of patience and rigid attention to diet will pay.

Being an acid condition, acids often cause distress if eaten. An apple raw may disagree, while harmless if cooked. Sometimes patients cannot bear orange juice except immediately after meals.

But the great principle to be observed in ulcer is, to eat only soft foods. All hard fibers, such as raw celery, radishes, &c. Sometimes cooked meats are injurious. Fried foods do harm—the nourishment must be soft, otherwise the ulcer cannot heal. Soft eggs, mushes, cream, mashed potatoes, soft breads and steamed fruits are useful. All hard or rasping substances must be avoided—no ulcer will heal under their use.

81 STORIES HIGH HIS DIAMOND TEETH GET A CAR YOUNG PEOPLE WORTH WHILE

Detroit plans a building of eighty-one stories, 873 feet high, another record broken by Detroit.

This is new, and therefore news. The late Robert Fitzsimmons, a real fighter from Australia, had large diamonds set in some of his back teeth to increase his beauty.

In Luling, small Texas town of 1,500 population, the inhabitants suddenly find themselves possessed of $2,000,000 cash in bonus money, paid by Edgar B. Davis, generous oil man. Davis got something over $12,000,000 at one time recently and decided to distribute it in the Texas manner.

The Van Sweringen plan to combine five railroads—Erie, Nickel Plate, Chesapeake & Ohio, Hocking Valley and Pere Marquette—probably go through.

Mexico City is in danger of complete isolation by heavy floods, all railway tracks within ten miles of the capital are under water and famine is feared because of crop destruction throughout the Mexican plateau.

That may be true, but this is CERTAIN. Religious warfare, its hatreds and bitterness, are far more dangerous than any flood.

Milk to be shipped from farms to cities in railroad tanks holding 6,000 gallons, the tanks insulated, making ice unnecessary, with 3/4-inch steel, two glass linings two inches of cork, and an outside covering.

Miss Ryan and Mary K. Browne, of California beat all the foreign women of Wimbledon and will bring back the tennis championship to the United States.

"I suppose you'll go home," he asked.

"Never!" I cried, "you needn't think you can treat me the way you have lately and that all I'll do is to calmly go home until you make up your mind that you want me back again. No, indeed, I'll not be tucked safely away in my father's arms to be disciplined as if I were a naughty child—or—"

"A girl, and especially a hard time in my mind," he said. It was the first compliment he had paid me in months.

"I won't be alone. I'm going to stay with Edie Mitchell," I announced.

It was still the masked Curries who spoke. Oh, for one little word some sign that would reveal the gesture of tenderness of love! Edie Curries with his outspoken manner and natural charm. This was not my Curries. This cold, unemotional person who was constantly hiding his innermost thoughts and moods.

"I'm afraid you've asked me to do what I cannot do," she said.

"There is nothing else to be said then, Curries, and as far as I am concerned, the interview is closed."

Always impulsive, the summer with its excruciating problems weighing upon my heart, had left me acting entirely upon the spur of the moment. So that evening found me on the train headed for New York, leaving at one for another slight of my heart.

"New York has always been to me a city of enchantment. I loved its hum and bustle and I was strangely thrilled as our train pulled into the Pennsylvania Station that large clearing-house of the world's humanity where tragedy and triumph walked hand in hand among its heterogeneous throng which is ever in motion. It has been many months since I had been in a large city and even the slightest of its 'caps' and the humming line of taxis served to increase my excitement.

We swung into Fifth Avenue. As usual its sidewalks, at this time of day, were alive with a stream of pretty shop-girls—most of them smart and youthful in their short skirts, slender heels and gaudy silk stockings. In no other Metropolis—not even in Paris—are the toppers of this class so alert to imitate the slightest innovation in the world of fashion.

White nurse-maids, most of them French, English or German, were taking their young charges, in-
