MOLLY TELLS

Swarthmore College Student
Daughter of State Dep't Aide
Spends Summer as UN 'Interne'

No doubt anyone might jump to the conclusion that attractive Susan Nason, of Washington, D. C., gained a place among 45 university students from 36 nations around the world chosen for special work at the United Nations this summer because of the connection of her mother, Rachel Jones Nason, with the State Department.

I had nothing to do with it, Mrs. Nason, brilliant former Conshohockenite, disclosed, when asked the opportunity entirely through Swarthmore College and naturally I was much pleased that the college selected her from the various possible candidates.

And what mother would not feel pleased, dark-eyed, sensitive Susan was chosen among all other students at Swarthmore to participate in the seven-week Internship Program last concluded at the U. N. Headquarters in New York City.

Before we go into detail on the colorful project at this vital center, we should identify Susan as a granddaughter of Mrs. A. Conrad (Mary Bean) Jones, of Fourth Ave. near Hallowell St., who has played such an important part in the civic and cultural development of Conshohocken and who, at 92, still continues her interest unabated in the community's welfare.

Under the Summer "Internship" program begun in 1947, students from countries of the world attend lectures by senior UN personnel, Secretariat members holding important posts. Susan Nason's specific job was in the Department of Public Information, where she turned out dozens of newspaper-type stories based on reports of community development projects carried out by the UN technical assistance experts in cooperation with local workers. Many of these projects are in India, Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The program is designed to train the interns in UN activities and to make the organization better known abroad. Following their stay many of the interns take up careers in diplomatic, consular and foreign services of their countries and in journalism, law, public relations and similar fields.

Interns are chosen by a selection board, consisting of senior UN officials, from applicants who first have been screened by their respective UN missions. Four categories of interns are selected: international, those selected through their missions and paid by the UN; scholarship interns, recommended by their universities and paid by them; "auditors libre," who audit the program; and NGO interns, who are nominated by and represent non-governmental organizations.

With the regular Summer Internship program, the UN conducts a program in the Spring for servants of junior and intermediate standing and a one-year program, started last year, for students who alternate guide service with their internship in the summer.

Last year there were nearly 17 former interns working in the different delegations and missions, the Latin American and Middle East Far East delegations having the largest number. The United States Mission this year has three former interns. About 20 former interns are employed in the Secretariat.

Susan, at 22, is the daughter of a former intern, lived at International House, New York City. After working hours, she participated in group activities and social events. For most of them this was their first visit to New York. Four or five marriages between interns have taken place in the previous programs.

Gerard N. Widdington, Canadian member, and Philippe L. du Nouy, French member of the Secretariat, were in charge of the Internship Program.

Susan's mother must be of much inspiration to her daughter if she later plans a career along similar lines.

JOANNE, ROBERT AND PATRICIA MARIANO

3 Young Stage Stars Don't Let Fame Mar Quest for Education

Back at their desks in St. Philip's parochial school, Lafayette Hill, Robert Mariano, 12, an eighth grader and his sisters, Patricia, 11, a sixth grader and Joanne, eight, a fourth grader, spend the school day like any other pupil.

At night, it's a different story for these children of Mr. and Mrs. Guy N. Mariano, 3015 Malan Drive, Harmonville.

Topflight actors, singers and dancers, the trio takes off right after the family evening meal for Valley Forge Music Fair, near Devon, where they perform their roles in the popular musical, "The King and I," like long-time trouper.

Bobby, handsome, brown-haired and brown-eyed plays the juvenile lead, Louis, son of Anna, the American school teacher in the Far East court. His pretty sisters, brunettes Patty and blonde Joanne are convincing Eastern princesses.

The current show runs until Saturday inclusive. Then Bobby will take an important juvenile role in "Pete the Dog," opening Sept. 17 and continuing for two weeks.

Appearing at the nearby gay summer theatre is nothing new for the talented Mariano trio.

All three have been cast in every production there this summer, and in several of last year's shows, including "Annie Get Your Gun," "South Pacific" and "Showboat."

This summer, Patty did a dance routine with the Fair's chief choreographer, Bob Haddock, in "Plain and Fancy," in "Carousel." Bobby had a dance number with Virginia Bosler, a lead player who appears in the film version of "Oklahoma!"

The three had incidental roles in "Pete the Dog," the show which preceded the current offering.

The youthful performers' parents make sure that while their children lead a professional after-school-hours-life, the rest of their daily schedule is as normal as any other children and does not interfere with their school progress or health habits.

Out of school at 3:30, it is a strict rule in the Mariano household, that the children do their home-work at once. Finished by 4:30, they nap until dinner at 6:30. After dinner, they go to the Music Fair and right to bed when they return.

They are as much interested in childhood games and activities as any of their non-professional playmates and schoolmates.

Bobby, like many other boys his age, has an amateur chemistry laboratory in the basement. He is decided to be a "scientist if I'm not an actor."

The Mariano children's sparkling talent was "picked off a tree" to quote an old saying. They get it from both sides of the family.

Their father, now a wage and salary adjustment staffer with Sharples Corp., Phila. had his own professional orchestra, "Mariano and his Music," and played for many dances in his bachelor days.

His attractive wife, the former Mary Landay, a Philadelphia Irish-American, a good vocalist, sang with Mariano's band.

Mariano's three brothers all were professional musicians in earlier life. His father was a Phila. violin teacher.

The children had their first dancing lessons about three years ago. They have won acclaim in Conshohocken Kiwanis talent shows, in the every-Sunday Children's Hour on the air and in several Phila. talent shows.

Patty and Bobby scored another hit in "South Pacific," Rodgers and Hammerstein musical presented by the LaSalle College players last May in the college auditorium, Phila.

"Not to be overlooked was the amazing acting of a group of child actors who played Annie Oakley's brother and sisters," wrote a critic of the Mariano children's performance at last year's Music Circus. "The impassioned antics of Patricia Joanne and Robert Mariano held the audience in stitches with their Dogpatch type of cavorting."

Plymouth Meeting Village — The 26th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Chase, 4122 Pilgrim Rd., was marked Sept. 8.

West Conshohocken — The school board Monday night approved the appointment of Mrs. Jeannette Hennessey, of E. 10th Ave., as fourth grade teacher at the Bullock Ave. school to permit a split of the fifth and sixth grades which have been combined in the past.

Philip Benigno, who previously taught the combined fifth and sixth grade, now has the sixth year class while Mrs. Thora Cole, former fourth grade teacher, takes over the fifth grade.

Mrs. Benigno, principal, reported an enrollment of 124 pupils for the 1956-57 session compared with 115 at the close of school in June. The increase is mainly in the first and fourth grades.

A breakdown shows 26 in the first year, 18 in the second, 19 in the third, 26 in the fourth, 23 in the fifth and 12 in the sixth.

James Graham, secretary, discussed briefly the outlook for a joint venture with either the Bridgeport and Upper Merion districts or Bridgeport and Conshohocken. St. Helena's, Center Square Weekday Masses at 6:15 and 8 A.M. Monday to Friday, also at 6:15 Wednesday night.

The 37th annual card party and fashion show will be sponsored by the church Sept. 25. Men of the Parish met at 8:15 Monday night in the church hall.

The Penn Square women's group of St. Helena's Church met Sept. 4 at the home of Mrs. Mary McGuckin, 211 Brookside Rd. They discussed their plans for a fashion show in Allentown Nov. 8 and also their forthcoming Christmas bazaar.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tompkins, 621 Renel Rd., last week entertained his brother, Major Allen Tompkins, who is stationed at Seattle, Washington.

Mrs. John McGuckin, 622 Renel Rd., is registered at Brynmawr Hospital as a surgical patient.

MISS NANCY STIVALETTI
... daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stivaletti of 346 School Lane, Rock Horne, entered Bryn Mawr Hospital School of Nursing on Sunday, A. 1956 graduate of Plymouth Whitemarsh High School, Plymouth Meeting. Miss Stivaletti was in school band, senior chorus, and variety band; home and feature editor of school newspaper.

Band, Chorus To Open 1st H-S Session

Plymouth Meeting — A new type of open house and get acquainted session is scheduled next Tuesday night at the first meeting of the new fall term of Home and School Association of Plymouth Whitemarsh High School.

Members of the school band and chorus will perform for parents and teachers at the opening session in the auditorium of the school at 7:30 P. M.

Since the school is in the throes of building an addition and many classrooms are not usable during the construction process, teacher visitation in classrooms is not plausible.

School authorities are working on a program where students will take their parents to various sections in the school to visit with teachers. A map is being prepared showing where each teacher will be stationed.

This innovation in teacher visitation begins at 8 and ends at 9:30. Refreshments will then be served in the cafeteria by 12th grade mothers, hostesses for the opening session.

Charles R. Hausman, Lafayette Hill, will preside at his first session. He will introduce other officers on his staff. It is planned he will also name the class fathers and section mothers who will serve during the 1956-57 school term.

Rodger T. Dombrow, principal; Cardin D. Brown, supervising principal and James I. Graham, activities director, will be introduced. They, in turn, will present all the members of the faculty.

Parents of seventh graders will be especially welcomed during the session in order for them to become more interested in the organization and thereby showing an even greater interest in their child's school life.

Committee chairmen to serve the ensuing year will be named. A complete program for the next eight sessions will be presented by the new president.

Projects again this year include the scholarship loan fund and various student activities aided by the Home and School unit.

Plans for the opening session were formulated Tuesday night by the executive board at the school office. Present were Hausman, Jack Conrad, vice president; Edward W. Humphrey, Roger T. Dombrow, Edward Hansell, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred F. Shimer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. Melvin and Mrs. Harold C. McCuen.

Rehearsals In Gear for 'Tender Trap'

by JOAN PE'NEY

Whitemarsh Township—Rehearsals have swung into high gear for Whitemarsh Curtain Callers fall play, "THE TENDER TRAP." Pull of fun, romance and comedy, the play will be presented Oct. 12 and 13 at Barren Hill School. This show has the makings of the most unique, colossal, stupendous production yet given by Whitemarsh Township's little theatre group.

Once again the lovely Sally Watson will star—this time in the role of Julie Gullis, young and highly romantic, assistant to Earl Lindquist.

Mrs. Watson will be remembered for her magnificent performance as "Margot Wendice" in "Dial M For Murder."

As Julie Gullis in "THE TENDER TRAP," she falls in love with Charlie Reader, handsome young bachelor, but convincing him he would enjoy marriage better than bachelorhood is another matter.

"THE TENDER TRAP" is full of romance and is bound to leave all viewers in a happy frame of mind. The Curtain Callers feel that "THE TENDER TRAP," a departure from the comedy productions usually presented, will be "a hit."

Included also in the cast will be such township troupers as Dick Volkavie, Ruth Smith, Jane Ryan, Noreen Hanson and Bryan Rudder. Ruth Smith will also use her wonderful talent and imagination in designing the set for "THE TENDER TRAP."

Those who have seen "THE TENDER TRAP" will look forward with pleasure to renewing their acquaintance with an enjoyable romantic comedy. Others who have not seen "THE TENDER TRAP" are in for an incomparable treat.

For an evening of chuckles and guffaws leading to "sore sides" we recommend "THE TENDER TRAP." Don't miss it!

Mrs. DeFranco Recuperating

Plymouth Valley — Mrs. Pete DeFranco, 736 Renel Rd., past president of the American Legion Auxiliary Casey-Shepherd Post, and a Legion Auxiliary Council officer, is recuperating at home from a major surgical operation at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Aug. 27. She was discharged from the hospital Sept. 2.

Performing the surgery was Dr. I. R. Ravdin, chief surgeon, who was called in consultation during President Eisenhower's serious illness early this year.

Plans of Mrs. DeFranco to attend the national convention of the Legion Auxiliary, which opened Sunday at Los Angeles, Calif., were cancelled due to her hospitalization. She was named an alternate state delegate at the state convention in July in Philadelphia.

Mrs. DeFranco will be installed as second vice president of the Montgomery-Bucks Council next Thursday.

Pastor and Family Home from Vacation
Plymouth Meeting — The Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Wittmaier, of 32 E. Germantown Pike, and two sons, Jack, seven, and Bruce, 15, have just returned from a motor tour of places of interest in New York state.

The Rev. Mr. Wittmaier, pastor of Evangelical Congregational Church, E. Germantown Pike, was guest speaker Sunday at Booster Day exercises at Grace Evangelical Congregational Church in Lancaster. In his absence his pupil here was occupied by Robert Wilson, editor of the Evangelical church publication, from Myerstown, Pa.

The Wittmaiers' eldest son, Herbert N., recently returned from Cimarron, N. Mex., where he was on the staff of the Philmont Scout range for the summer.

Rain Fails To Slow Up Police Picnic

Plymouth Meeting—Plymouth Meeting Township's police department — and their families — take Ole Man Weather in his stride.

A minor cloudburst late Thursday afternoon failed to rout 40 adults and children, including patrolmen, wives, sons, daughters and township officials, enjoying the police department's annual picnic on the John H. Montgomery property, Narcessa Rd. west of Butler Pike, Cold Point.

Even though the building project on the grounds has progressed only to include a swimming pool, barbecue unit and bath-house, the group continued their merry-making despite the downpour. Pre-storm water sports featured the program, topped with barbecue supper.

Tor Jonassen Digs Among Ruins in N.Y.

A Lafayette Hill teenager, Tor Jonassen of 4125 Barbary Drive, and six Albany, N. Y., teenagers, are spending two weeks on an education adventure at Crown Point, N. Y., with Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Ismay of Nassau.

They are excavating and making records of historic French and English villages connected with Fort St. Frederick and Crown Point of pre-Revolutionary War fame.

The villages were discovered in the spring of 1955. They are located on the property of W. R. Slack of Hague, N. Y.

The boys have uncovered the foundation of a large building situated near the village market place. In parts of the foundation they have unearthed military and civilian buttons, coins, Indian artifacts, bones, several hundred nails, musket balls, buckshot, gun flints, musket parts, and bits of pottery, china, window glass, and rum bottles.

At present they are carefully exploring what seems to be a cellar with timbered stairs.

It has been estimated by careful research and maps located on two continents by Mr. Slack, that the village had a population of 3,000 to 6,000. During the spring of 1956, the foundation of another large building with several fireplaces, a large terrace, and cellar was uncovered. The two buildings apparently were joined and were situated near the junction of two clearly defined roads.

Plans are being formulated by Mr. Slack to reconstruct at least part of the villages in the near future.

Cancer Dressings, Hooked Rug, Dress Classes to Occupy Whitemarsh Clubwomen's Year

"Harmony, vision and purpose" is the state administration theme for Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs this season of 1956-57.

Mrs. A. Walter Holst, of Kerper Rd., Lafayette Hill, president of Whitemarsh Women's Club, revealed to the meeting of the executive board at her home Thursday night that the local club's ambitions should be realized through applying this motto.

To carry out this theme the state federation has formed a new department, "Religions of the World." However, the state project for the year will remain the same, giving aid and assistance to the Women's Medical College, East Falls, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Holst called to the attention of her board two important events for her club this month. At 10 A. M. Tuesday, Sept. 21, Mrs. W. J. Materno, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, will address the Southeastern District Meeting on "Federation."

At Barren Hill Fire House, beginning Sept. 26 and continuing every fourth Wednesday from 9:30 A. M. to 1 P. M., cancer dressing volunteers will meet under the chairmanship of Mrs. Raymond Campbell, of Plymouth Meeting.

The drama department, under chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Bloomsburg, will meet at 8:30 P. M. Sept. 19 at her home, 3008 Edmonds Rd., Lafayette Hill. Plans and program will be formulated at this time for the November production by the drama group.

Borrow with confidence where grandad did

HFC has provided cash loans since the days of the handle-bar mustache and the surrey-with-the-fringe-on-top. Yes, since 1878 millions of people have depended on HFC for money help.

This dependable service is now streamlined to meet today's demands. Loans are made in one day, on terms you select. But the friendly, helpful spirit is just as it was in Grandad's day. And that is why today more modern Americans borrow from HFC than any other company in its field.

ington Fire Co. and key townsfolk and firemen in the nationally-distributed publication.

Here's how the colorful highlight of the Lions birthday party came about:

An office secretary at Alan Wood Steel Co. noted the tribute to the "Washies" and Conshohocken leaders Tuesday morning when she checked the firm's morning copy of the Wall Street publication.

Because of the mention of Postmaster Meaney, she sent the copy to his sister, Miss Alice Meaney, a staff member at the Post Office. In the Post Office lobby when the paper arrived was R. Lincoln Hain, secretary-treasurer of the Lions Club and one of its founders.

"We can have some fun with that tonight at the dinner," Bob Hain said. "We'll surprise Jim and George with it."

Meaney's sister and other staffers were sworn to secrecy.

In the meantime someone telephoned George Rafferty about his part in the story. Surprise was out as far as he was concerned. But George was alerted about the Meaney secrecy and never said a word to his friend Jim.

Sam Glass, a subscriber to the Journal, also read the story later in the day, but he was alerted in time to keep it from Meaney.

Rounds of applause came from the group as Glass concluded the glowing newspaper tribute to his fellow Lions.

Another big handclap came when Glass summoned firemen-members to the front and presented crimson fire helmets.

Nothing So Good!

Registered as a master plumber in Whitemarsh Township, a resident of that area established in Ardmore on Sept. 12 that the base pay of a plumber here is $5 an hour.

This should be worthy of consideration by all students starting their freshman year in college. It should be news for seniors in high school or who may be inspired to pursue the teaching profession, or to go into medicine, science, banking, law, business, or ministry.

A plumber requires no special talent. He need not read or write, and somebody already has done his arithmetic.

Spelling is another requisite he can pass up. Yet, without having to complete high school or college, at week's end he has a take home pay exceeding $250.

Most judges in our courts annually earn little more than that.

Perhaps few of us ever pause to think how well off are others among us. Editors of small town dailies and weeklies, for instance, normally average less than $100 per week. Most editors find themselves putting in far longer hours than the average plumber. Often, indeed, the editor's hours are on a par with most physicians of any community. You see, the plumber pockets quite a lot of change on the side, selling appliances, pipes, sinks, bath tubs, toilets, etc., at a handsome profit, and collecting, of course, in many instances, at the rate of $5 an hour while making his sales pitch, traveling back and forth getting his tools, merchandise and apprentices.

The average workman must wonder why he didn't become a master plumber!

Judging and crowning of the beauty queen will take place on the stage of the theatre, which was improved recently at a cost of $100,000. Every girl living in the area who is 18 to 22 years of age is eligible to compete. Photographs of the first six girls whose nominations are received in the office of The Suburban Press and The Recorder no later than 9 A.M. Monday will be published next Thursday in this newspaper.

Frank Brady, of Suburban Motors Inc. of Roxborough, is offering three plaques to winners of the art contest, which already is under way through supervision of the fire department within city limits.

Richard Bireline, of Bireline's Oyster House, Roxborough, is offering a valuable trophy to the fire station having the best appearance and a high degree of achievement in the battalion.

The tiara to be worn by the beauty queen in the parade and while she is reigning at Westernman Field is to be donated by Pulaski Jewelry of Manayunk, according to an announcement by Fireman Leonard Schreider of the Special Task Force. A special float is to be provided for her accommodation and she will be the recipient of valuable prizes.

Announcement was made this morning that the Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School Band will be in the line of march.

The Rev. Father Murphy, of St. Matthew's parish, Conshohocken, contacted a committee member last night and said St. Matthew's School All-Girl Band has permission to provide music in the parade.

There is only one hitch—two huge buses with compartments for instruments must be obtained to transport girls and chaperones to parade area.

The committee will hold a meeting at 8 Monday night at The Willows. All individuals interested in safety and fire prevention are requested to attend and take part, according to the chairman.

Miss Ruth Van Selver, noted artist and illustrator, was introduced to the committee. She will select judges in the poster contest. Tentative plans for presentation of an award to a boy or girl representing the area in Montgomery County served by Weekly Review newspapers: an award to the boy and girl residing in a school in Roxborough, Manayunk, Wissahickon and East Falls, and the top prize to the child winning the contest from the balance of the territory within the Ninth Battalion.

A huge exhibit, in color, of the poster adjudged the best of the three is to be mounted on a float, which will be given a prominent place in the parade. The young artist said he has been alarmed on various occasions by double parking in the parade area, and the Conshohocken Post Office.

Opposing taking over the alley, Philip Gravinese, of the fourth ward, said:

"We can't keep our streets in good condition now, where would we get money to take over the alleys?"

The matter was referred to the street committee.

Stions cannot change the grades, but they may get relief through private litigation with the developer.

Because the zoning hearing on a proposal to redevelop property on Butler Pike from the Moseley project to Ridge Pike had not been advertised for the meeting, it was continued until 8 P. M. Oct. 8, the next regular meeting date. The proposal is to change the classification from C residential to commercial.

Inquiry by Commissioner John Thomas about a permit for the Outlaw Club to stage a rodeo in the township prompted a prolonged discussion of the operations of these rodeos and questioning of Plymouth Fire Co. representatives on proceeds from the event they sponsored there.

Henry Hensley, president of the SPCA, plans to be on hand at the rodeo to check reported mistreatment of animals.

William Turek, chief of the fire company, reported a $70 fee was paid for its rodeo and it netted $75. "We made $25 clear and stayed $22 here and there to make the rest," he reported.

Hensley remarked he was told 900 people paid $1.50 each in admissions and more than 600 used the concession stands. "Someone is getting their leg pulled," he observed.

Commissioners indicated the opinion that regardless of the issuance of permits for these events, they should be stopped when they constitute a fire hazard. Turek cited lighting difficulties and noted the inadequate parking facilities.

A request was received from James M. Baird, president of the Firemen's Union & Relief Association list whose work is thus recognized will ride on the float. The subject matter is fire prevention.

Miss Van Selver today is contacting art supervisors in public and parochial schools in the townships of Springfield, Whitemarsh, Plymouth, Upper Merion and Plym-Merion and the boroughs of Conshohocken and West Conshohocken. The art work is to be collected Oct. 2 and judging will begin immediately. More than 1,000 entries are anticipated. The rules are to be the same as those set up for children attending schools in Philadelphia, Miss Van Selver said.

Councilman Wilbur H. Hamilton will present a number of awards at Westernman field. Firemen stressed, however, that any one giving a prize will be invited to make the actual presentation himself. Judge Leonard Michael Fropser will speak.

R. Lincoln (Bob) Hain, secretary of Conshohocken Chamber of Commerce: Charles Wells, of 3027 Chestnut St., Barren Hill, assistant chief of Haverstown Fire Co., and Richard D. Welsh, president and Stewart Lyne, vice president of West Manayunk Fire Co., Belmont Hills, accepted appointment as a committee to consider the advisability of appointing judges who would determine which fire company outside city limits is doing the best "house-keeping job," providing the most outstanding service and maintaining the best public relations with newspapers, business and industry.

The contest would be patterned after the one conducted in Philadelphia, with modification recommended by the committee. Wells said he would endeavor to report back to the next meeting of the general committee.

If his committee approves the suggestion, a suitable award will be obtained for presentation during festivities at Westernman field, McCuen disclosed.

Brady also announced he would invite all children who enter the poster contest to take part in the parade. He said he will give each child a fire hat and probably at least one other gift. It was explained permission of a parent will be required for each boy and girl in the line of march.

Richard McCuen, advertising director of Weekly Review newspapers, is chairman of the committee soliciting awards. Business, industry, organizations and individuals may designate the type of prize and the purpose for which it is intended.

Winning posters will be displayed in the lobby of the Roxy Theatre, each fire station in the battalion and other places for which requests are being made by the committee. Also, the winning essay is to be read as a feature of the program at Westernman field. The winner will be given an opportunity to read his composition.

and Republican committeeman for the 4th District, calling for appointment of a full-time fire marshal for the township to serve also as part-time building inspector. He noted that the marshal is the only part-time position remaining in the township and suggested that the town be approached that stage and Hensley declared it can be considered as a part of the budget preparation which he will launch in October for each department.

An ordinance, enacted in August, was repealed after objections were received from the neighborhood to one-way traffic on School Lane between Isabella St. and Ridge Pike.

Rental of the township hall to the Plymouth Players Guild Oct. 20 and 27 was approved for $10 a night.

WILL J. DAVIS

Dead at 96

Whitemarsh Twp.—Will J. Davis, one of this community's oldest and best-known residents, died Sunday at his home, 1531 Butler Pike, after a several years' illness. He was 96 and the husband of the late Kate Ruth Davis, who died nine years ago.

A civic official and prominent churchman, he was engaged in the printing business for many years. Rites took place this afternoon at the Edward B. Russell Funeral Home, 925 Fayette St., Conshohocken, with the Rev. Clyde A. Benner, pastor of Calvary Episcopal Church, Conshohocken, officiating. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery, Norristown.

Masonic services were conducted last night by Fritz Lodge, 428 of the city, which he was a long-time member. A large number of relatives and friends paid a final tribute to respect last night and today.

A member of Calvary Church for 60 years, five generations of his family have worshipped there during that period.

A vestryman at the church for 51 years consecutively before retirement in 1949 he was for 48 years of that period vestry secretary.

He also was a former president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and for 10 years was a Sunday School teacher and a member of the choir.

He was a Whitemarsh Twp. school director from 1923 to 1941. A staunch Republican, he voted for President Eisenhower at the 1952 election.

A son of the late Charles and Jennie Whitehead Davis he was born in Conshohocken and lived in the community all his life.

Attending Conshohocken public school and the University of Pennsylvania, he learned the printing trade in Phila.

After serving as a journeyman printer for sometime, he became shop foreman of the Recorder, then located at Elm and Fayette Sts.

Later, he joined the printing department staff of Lee Rubber and Tire Corp., Spring Mill and after that the printing firm of the late Elmer Saul, Norristown.

Conducting a printing business of his own at his home for a number of years he retired about 1944.

Surviving only are two grandchildren, four great grandchildren and four great great grandchildren. He is survived by his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Edward Griffith the former Kate Wilson at the Fayette St. address. His other grandchildren is W. Stanley Wilson, and Joanne Ave. Ambler. His only daughter, Lillian, wife of the late Robert R. Wilson, died in March, 1955.

rector of Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School, said today:

"There will not be any game between the two schools this year. Maybe another year."

He pointed out the school already has approval of their nine-game schedule. Graham explained, "we have never scheduled games so close together—close boys play their final game Nov. 17. If we would accept the Thanksgiving date, it would mean our team would be out on the gridiron twice within five days. We feel that's too close," he emphasized.

Talks among school officials, coaches and others revealed the same feeling, Graham added.

He admitted the activities committee including Father Busco, Mrs. DiGiacomo and John Fetter, had not been contacted and would not meet "until the second week in October."

Rodger T. Dombrow, principal, in effect repeated a similar statement about "... schedule set. It would be a nice thing... but we should not change now... can't add games at this time."

"We have set forth certain principles to follow. We try to keep the schedule within the limits of capabilities of teenagers on the team. We feel the boys cannot take it physically if we keep adding games to their roster," Dombrow said.

"We have tried to keep the team schedule down, not add more games," he concluded with a dread lullaby.

School Board Acts To Speed New Building

Conshohocken — The proposed new $600,000-plus public grade school came closer as a result of the monthly meeting of the school board, Monday night, at the high school offices, Seventh Ave. and Fayette St.

The board voted to retain Townsend, Elliott and Munson, Philadelphia, as bond counsel and Stanley B. Cooper, school district solicitor, legal counsel for a school authority "if and when named."

Dr. William E. Brandt made the motion seconded by John Z. Hoyer. The discussion made it plain that no school authority has yet been appointed, but such appointment may be the method used to arrange the financing of the new school.

Delay in beginning the new school was explained at the meeting as result of a "technical error" in "filling out early application forms for the State. These forms, it was revealed, did not bear the name of the county superintendent as required."

This had to be rectified and has delayed approval of a State appropriation to aid the project to the expected extent of half the cost.

One new teacher, Mrs. Miriam Fisher of Haverstown, was named high school typing instructor to take the place of Miss Sandra Sherman of Phila. who had accepted the post but was unable to fill her contract.

Mrs. Fisher was educated at Susquehanna and Temple universities and Albright College. She has taught in the York Junior College, York, Pa.

Emil J. Clavert, chairman of the teachers and textbook committee, emphasized that this is the first school year in many launched with an entire staff of permanent teachers and no substitutes.

Edward W. Germann, acting superintendent, reported the beginning of the new 1956-57 term, last Thursday as "smooth" with teachers meetings held Wednesday and "commendable favorable on all sides."

The high school's chief inactivity is the cafeteria, he told, too small to care properly for the students. He said 167 students were served in one hour, last week.

Dr. Russell C. Erb presided.

HANDS HIGH, EVERYONE, LET'S STRETCH — Pupils of first grade at Whitmarsh Elementary School respond to instruction from Mrs. Edith Rieser, teacher. Mrs. Rieser knows it is well to relax after a tough first session in class work, before going on to a favorite — coloring work.

The Recorder cameraman visited first grade at Whitmarsh Elementary School on Tuesday, second day of opening sessions. Camera records pupil aptitude in learning their three R's. Teacher: Mrs. Edith Rieser.

HUDDLE — Progress attained quickly with more fingers in puzzle, seems to be trend here, with Robert Farren, Richard Moreaux, Richard Elkin and Ellen Sadler all working together.

ENCHANTED — by Princess winning her Prince? Phyllis Robertson's big eyes mirror her fascination in picture book.

HELPING HAND — "I'd do it this way . . ." says Mark Tarver to his new school chum, R. Benjamin Barklow. Help from others is stressed in all elementary classes, and is good aim for youngster's future life.

KIBITZING? — While Steven McGonigal carefully colors work sheet under teacher's direction, Mark Tarver and Donald Singer look on. This, educators agree, is the way to learn — watching, seeing how it is done, then pupils going ahead with work by themselves.

FULL HOUSE — And everyone busy is theme in this Whitmarsh Elementary School first grade classroom. Teacher, Mrs. Rieser, in background, is preparing work for pupils for session after play time.

BANISHED — for a slight behaviour error, lad looks pensively at his classmates. He probably is contemplating exemplary department for balance of 1956-57 season, teacher says. Model pupil in foreground is Ellen Sadler.

Nixon Speech To Highlight GOP Rally

Councilman Wm. H. Hamilton, vice chairman of the Republican city committee, will be among the first to extend a "welcome to Philadelphia" to Vice President Richard M. Nixon when the campaigning candidate for re-election alights from a plane at International Airport at 5:25 P.M. Oct. 3 to address a rally at the Academy of Music that night.

Thomas C. Egan, campaign manager for the GOP ticket in Philadelphia, and other Republican leaders from southeastern Pennsylvania counties are also due to greet the Vice President as he arrives here from Boston to climax a 15,000-mile air tour that will take him to 32 states in 16 days.

Nixon will be accompanied by his wife, a party of some 30 newsmen, and a staff of 12 including Robert King, his chief aide, and Col. Leroy Green, administrative assistant to U. S. Senator Edward Martin.

Following his speech here, the Vice President will return to Washington to report to President Eisenhower on his findings and to make recommendations which are expected to influence to some degree, the scope of the President's own re-election literary.

Nixon said that Pennsylvania had been singled out for "special effort" in the GOP election drive and that he would make at least one more appearance in the state in the closing weeks of the campaign.

The World and Your Backyard

BY ELLEN-JARDEN NOLDE

ITEM: Senator Knowland, one of the leading opponents of the United Nations, and apostle of the doctrine that the United States is contaminated by any contact with "Red Russia," meaning the rest of the world, has been appointed a delegate to the eleventh United Nations Assembly, which opens Nov. 12.

ITEM: Sept. 20 will be the conference for the international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy. This will be the start of an organization proposed two years ago by President Eisenhower. The benefits that can come from atomic power in the fields of industry and health should be shared by everyone and not confined to the research and technology of one country. Also, even in peaceful use radiation has its dangers and all scientists should be alerted to any new information along these lines.

The purpose of the present conference is to set up an international convention or treaty which will set forth the rules that will provide these safeguards for the individual nations. And who is the United States advisor to this conference? Senator Bricker who has fought violently against the United States entering into any international agreements or signing any treaties, even those most humanitarian in nature.

ITEM: One of the saddest spots in the world is the refugee camps that still exist in Europe. The United States made a gallant effort in the Refugee Act that for a time let down immigration barriers to some of these unfortunate could come in. The effort became merely a gesture and an ironic one when, because of unlimited red tape and immigration requirements, the Act expired before nearly the allowed number had been admitted.

Those in Europe who had hopes and promises are left with nothing. Their problems are not solved and homeless and wandering people are being discussed by a Committee on Migration now meeting in Geneva. The United States delegate? Pennsylvania Representative Walter who both legislatively and personally did more than anyone else to curb immigration and make the state a safe haven for refugees.

YARD? Whether we like it or not, the United States in order to hold its leadership must be concerned about other countries, their political aspirations and welfare of their people. Also, we dare not shut ourselves off from discoveries and advances in any field of atomic science.

IT APPRECIATES the wisdom that sends men who are unreasonably opposed to learn first hand about activities they have never troubled to think through. Try to watch the positions and actions of these men in order to determine if you want to re-elect them as representing you when their new term comes due.

Judge Propper Again Heads Club Committee

Judge Leonard Michael Propper, of the Municipal Court, was re-elected chairman of the admissions committee of the Golden Slipper Square Club. This is his second term. In June he was elected a member of the Golden Slipper Square board of trustees. He has been a member of the club for five years.

The organization provides a milk fund for school children, a coal fund for the poor and aid for the handicapped. It also furnishes entertainment for orphanages, hospitals and servicemen.

Willows to Feature Piano Recital

Blanche Day, formerly of the Wilby ranch, Roxborough, will play the piano Friday and Saturday nights, starting tomorrow, at The Willows, 9101 Ridge Ave., near Norristown.

The pianist at one time performed with Hoagy Carmichael and Frank Black. She also played the organ at the State House for a number of years. Recently she has been featured in USO shows.

To the Editor:
Our family wishes to congratulate you on the very successful editorial, "We Welcome the Good Editorial Company" in the August 9 edition.

We are some of the people you mentioned who continue our use of the library. Like many others, we are deeply distressed by the attack on Mrs. Knowles and the Library Committee and by the very "un-American" methods used in the House Un-American Activities Committee held in Philadelphia recently.

We commend your newspaper for its very American and democratic stand on this subject.

Sincerely,
Katharine M. Richards

Editor, Recorder:
With another indoor season fast approaching, the Fellowship House now seems an appropriate time to express my thanks and appreciation to you and your staff for the fine coverage and cooperation the community's recreation activities have received from the "Recorder" during the 1955-56 season. I would like to thank Miss Dedmon especially.

Rather than waste several letters please consider this as coming from the Fellowship House, the Recreation Committee, the Babe Ruth League, and the Church Softball League.

Thank you once again.
Sincerely,
W. S. LEEDALE
Recreation Director

To the Editor:
Realistic speed limits apparently are a safety factor most localities in Montgomery County overlook.

Nevertheless, I'm one person who's becoming increasingly conscious of the need for them as I read in your newspapers of your safety campaign. I would like to think that I am joining other motorists in safe driving habits BUT...

For example, driving into or out of Norristown on Ridge Pike, there is a strip marked 25 mph. I attempt to abide by that limit but every other automobile and some heavy trucks breeze past me. None of them are stopped although there are police cars in the area.

Isn't it about time, our township started fixing speed limits that are reasonable, that the police can enforce in clear, conscience, instead of this well, stupidity—that now exists.

Plymouth-Whitemarsh High Gridders to Open Season Saturday Night

Plymouth Meeting — A seasoned eleven, basing its offensive plan on speed, will launch Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School's 1956 football season, opening at 8 p.m. at 8 p.m. Saturday night at Bristol.

It will be the third meeting of the two teams which have won one game apiece so far. The Colonials were victorious 6-2 last year when the contest was played at Community Field, Conshohocken.

Two sets of twins — all returning lettermen — will spark the lineup announced by James Graham, activities director at P.W. Bill Watton will hold down an end position while his twin, Frank, will take the field at center. In the backfield are Harry Campbell calling signals with Tom, his twin, at fullback.

Other lettermen in the lineup will include George Palmer and Warren Myers, halfbacks; Ron Minges, end, and Bob DiNenno, guard. Also in the starting lineup are Louis Mazzetti and Bill Kull, tackles, and Bill Mokrychuk, guard.

Graham is predicting the team, using the split T formation under the coaching of Ronald Landes, will do well this year. "The boys have been working hard since practice started Aug. 30," he said. Several new hopefuls have come out since school opened Monday.

A number of returning lettermen are expected to see action against Del Hasa. They are Carmen Pastino, quarterback; Ricky Narciso, halfback; Charles Hallman, another back; Bill Thomas, center; John Ribble, sophomore, who will play in the defensive line; Paul Sugalski, tackle, and Roger Ward and Al Cannon, ends.

Assisting Landes on the coaching staff are Frank Marella, Robert Engel and Ralph Sene.

The Colonials will make their home debut Sept. 21 at Community Field, Conshohocken, against William Tennant, of Johnsville, Bucks County. Game time is 8 p.m.

The 75-piece high school band and squad of eight cheerleaders will accompany the team to Bristol for Saturday's game. Plans also are under way to take three bus loads of students, leaving the high school at 6:45.

Corn Roast For P. O. S. of A.

Trooper—Patriotic Order of Sons of America camps of Montgomery County District 2 will be entertained at 6:30 tonight at a corn roast by state vice president Taylor Pugh, at his home on Trooper Rd., Trooper.

Members of Conshohocken camps 18 and 121 wishing to attend may contact George Wright, district president, 103 E. Third Ave. or J. Earl McQuinn, county vice president, 499 East Hector St., both of Conshohocken, for transportation.

Regular monthly business meeting of Montgomery District 2 will take place at 8.

Plans for flag presentation to Cub Scouts of King of Prussia Presbyterian Church by camps of the district will be completed at this meeting.

Also final arrangements for flag presentation to Central Presbyterian Church, Stanbridge and Alby Sts., Norristown, by Washington Camp 502, P. O. E. of A. of Norristown at 10:45 A.M. next Sunday will be made.

Members of all seven camps in the district will join in attendance at this service.

Bowling League Seeks New Teams

Conshohocken — Montco Industrial League will roll for averages at 9 tomorrow night on the Community alleys with the first competitive matches set for Sept. 21.

The 12-year-old bowling league is seeking three new teams to replace the ones which recently dropped out. Information can be secured from Jim Cook at TA 8-1727 or the alley manager any evening before the first match.

St. Joseph's Prep. Next Of Mirrors

St. Matthews Win Grid Opener Over Bishop Kenrick, 13-7

Conshohocken — Showing power, speed and terrific blocking, plus a great last minute goal line stand, St. Matthews' High School gridder defeated Bishop Kenrick of Norristown 13-7 before an estimated 3,500 fans in the season opener Sunday at Community Field.

The Mirrors will play host to St. Joseph's Prep at 2 p.m. Sunday at Community Field. It is a non-league game with the Philadelphia school.

On the opening kickoff against the Bishops, the local squad, under the direction for the first time on Bill Brannan, drove the ball downfield from their own 35 to the Kenrick one before Joe Piazza broke off tackle for the first Mirrors touchdown of the new season.

Trying for the extra point, Matt Giorgio, place kicking specialist for the Mirrors, got a high pass from center and was another before he could rush the ball around left end.

Later on in the first quarter, the Blue and White drove from its own 44 yard line to the Bishops' 21 before being halted by a stubborn line.

In the second quarter, a brilliant pass play from Bob O'Connor to his twin brother, Dick, was nullified on a holding penalty against the Saints. A few minutes later the half ended with St. Matthews' leading 6-0.

After the Mirrors kicked off in the second half, an exchange of punts put the ball on the Kenrick 31 with the home team in possession. Six plays later Dick O'Connor went over from the two.

This time Giorgio got a perfect pass from center and his kick went straight through the uprights. The third quarter ended with the Mirrors ahead 13-0.

In the fourth quarter, the Kenrick band wagon started to roll. Their ace left halfback Danny Magee ripped off tackle for 47 yards to the Mirror nine-yard line before being stopped. With fourth down and nine to go, Magee threw to his substitute halfback, Joe Friel, who immediately was pounced on by a Mirror defender. As he hit the turf, the ball flew from his arms into the waiting hands of Joe Friel.

Magee's placement was perfect and the visitors closed the margin to 13-7.

After an exchange of punts, the Bishops drove to the Mirror 11 on a pass from Magee to Matozua but it was intercepted by the great defensive and offensive star of the day, Bob O'Connor on the three-yard line, and he returned it to the 35.

Woman Driver Faces Trial

Held for Grand Jury After Inquest

Norristown — Mrs. Jay Spatz, of 93 E. Lancaster Ave., Paoli, was held for grand jury action on a charge of involuntary manslaughter at an inquest Friday before Dr. John C. Simpson, Montgomery County coroner.

The 21-year-old woman was operator of one automobile involved in a two-car collision in which Edwin R. Howell, 31, of Henderson Rd., Upper Merion township, was killed.

Howell, driving the second vehicle, was the township's first traffic fatality of 1956.

The accident occurred Aug. 17 at Rt. 202 and Henderson Rd. Howell's car was hit broadside and turned over. He died shortly afterward from a compound fracture of the skull.

Chief John J. Boyle of the township police and Officers John Brennan and Joseph Mager testified Howell a septic tank manufacturer, was driving his sedan west on Henderson Rd. while Mrs. Spatz was traveling south on Rt. 202.

Sunday's contest also was the debut of Daniel Hoey, new head coach of the Bishops, whose father, John Hoey, is a former Conshohocken resident and former borough engineer.

Conshohocken — Conshohocken High School will open its football season tomorrow night against its traditional rival, Norristown, with a big gap in its line-up. Game time is 8 at Roosevelt Field, Markley and Sterigere Rd., Norristown.

Byron Law, co-captain and "triple-threat" quarterback, is in Montgomery Hospital, with a severe kidney injury, as a result of scrimmage with Ambler High School at the Ambler field, Saturday morning.

Able to return home after the game, Law's condition later required the services of a physician. Ordered removed to the hospital, a kidney specialist was summoned. Full extent of his injury awaits an X-ray report.

Major Harry F. Fox, athletic director of Conshohocken High School said "the feared Law is lost to us for some time."

"By" Law has been kicking the pigskin around for CHS ever since his "100-pound team" days back in seventh grade.

He has been a consistent point-getter for the Golden Bears, equally good as a passer, runner and kicker.

Law comes from one of Conshohocken outstanding "football dynasties."

Before him, older brothers Keith and Douglas more than made their athletic mark.

Doug Law, now of North Wales, was honored as the Golden Bears "most valuable player" of 1952 and was the winner of the Maxwell Trophy in Phila. the same year. Keith starred at Norristown High and Bucknell University, playing first offensive on the latter's undefeated team of 1952. He is now living in Shrewsbury, Mass.

Andorra Acres — Andrew Barber, 35 Corson Rd., was a birthday celebrant Sept. 8.
