R. R. Cannot Be Taxed For Road Repairs

Reading Co. Cannot be Taxed in Washington Street Improvement

SOLICITOR'S OPINION

Tax Collector Presents Resignation.—Gift Discussed

The borough can not assess the right of way of the Reading Company to help defray the cost of permanently repaving Washington street according to an opinion submitted by solicitor Robert Potts at an adjourned meeting of the town council on Wednesday evening as a result of this ruling, the Washington street ordinance was laid on the table and the property owners on the south side of the thoroughfare are to be notified that throughfare can not be made on account of the action of the Reading Company in refusing to pay their share of the cost.

The opinion is as follows: To the Borough of Conschockeen, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I herewith submit my opinion upon the subject, "Is the Right of Way of a Railroad Company Subject to Assessment for Municipal Improvement?"

"This question has been widely discussed in a great number of instances, and different conclusions reached in apparently similar cases. The latest authorities on the subject, however, recognize what is held to be the true and proper rule, that where the right of way receives the benefit from the improvement for which the assessment is levied, and there is no statute exempting a railroad company from local assessment in clear and unequivocal terms, it is subject to assessment.

"But in most of the instances, the authorities hold that the making of a local improvement, such as a street, is a benefit to the community, and that it can run its trains as well without the improvement as with it, and therefore that no assessment should be levied on the railroad company in Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, 33 Pa. 43, it is held:

"The Municipal authorities paved the Gray's Ferry road for a considerable distance at a place where it lies side by side with defendant's railroad, and now seeks to charge them with half of the cost, but they cannot do it. Their claim has no foundation either in the letter of the law or in the spirit. Not in the letter because the defendant is not liable for the land sought to be charged and have only their right of way over it. Not in the spirit because the paving of laws are means of compulsory contribution among the common shareholders in a common benefit, and as a railroad cannot from its very nature derive any benefits from the paving, while all the rest of the neighborhood may, we cannot presume that the compulsion was intended to be applied to them."

"This principle was applied in the case of Allegheny City vs. West Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 138 Pa. 375, where the court inter alia held:

"A strip of land all of which is occupied by Railroad tracks and which forms part of the roadbed along the common shore is not liable to a Municipal claim for the improvement of the street running parallel with the adjoining such roadbed, whether a railroad company owns the ground thereon, or only an easement thereon."

"It requires no argument to show that the paving of footways by the side of a railroad track can confer no possible benefit upon the property known as the right of way. Hence, the whole theory which justifies such charges falls in this instance. But this reason does not apply to a Railroad station where passengers assemble to take a train; much less to private grounds used as a freight station or a lumber yard."

THREE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Three men were injured slightly early yesterday morning when a motor truck literally was demolished in a collision with a milk truck and telegraph pole at Ridge Pike, near Conschockeen pike, Harmanville. A score of persons living near the scene were awakened by the terrific crash.

The truck, operated by Michael Wanick, Fifth street, Bridgeport, was going on the way to the Philadelphia wharf, Allen Hartman, Pottstown, driver of the milk truck was also found for Philadelphia. Peter Peter, Bridgeport, owner of the former vehicle, was accompanying Wanick.

According to a report made by Peter, the milk truck passed him further up the pike and when his truck crashed into it, was parked alongside the pike without lights and Wanick was unable to see it until it was too late.

Beter's lip was cut and Wanick's leg was bruised slightly. Hartman also was little injured. Members of the State Highway Patrol are conducting an investigation.

July Weddings For 3 Brides

Miss Sara Smallwood Has Pretty Church Wedding.—Miss Frances Rafferty Is Bride of Norristown Man.

The Methodist church was the scene of a beautiful wedding at noon yesterday when Miss Sara Smallwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smallwood, of East Fifth avenue, became the bride of John Keeler, of Norristown, Rev. Dr. R. P. Hartman, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony which was witnessed by a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Papp, of Detroit, Mich., attended her sister as matron of honor, and Barbara Jane Papp, another niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl. Mr. Keeler was attended by his brother, Harry Keeler, of Norristown, as best man. A half hour organ recital by the church choir, which was presided over by the bride, preceded the ceremony. Miss Lawson played the wedding march and incidental music during the wedding rites.

The bride looked lovely in a charming gown of white chiffon made with the fashionable uneven hem and shoulder cape and long light fitting sleeves. Her veil arranged in an exquisite bouquet of white roses with fluttering streamers.

Flowered chiffon in flesh and pastel blue tones with uneven hem, long sleeves and irregular neckline, fashioned the attractive gown worn by the matron of honor. It was trimmed with a sparkling rhinestone buckle at one side of the high length bodice. She wore a large picture hat of black horsehair with black velvet ribbons, black satin slippers with rhinestone buckles and flesh chiffon stockings. She carried a lovely arm bouquet of shaded pink snapdragons.

The flower girl was daintily gowned in flowered organza with yellow the predominant color note. She wore white kid slippers and carried a picturesque basket filled with white and pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Smallwood, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black and white chiffon over white silk with a black horsehair hat and black velvet ribbons. An informal reception at the church was followed by a breakfast at the Smallwood home for a bridal party and immediate families. Covers were laid for twenty-five, the house and tables being profusely decorated with garden flowers.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Keller left for a honeymoon trip to Boston, Mass., making the trip from Philadelphia by boat. They will be at home after August first at the Hamilton Court Apartments, Ardmore.

Sewage Plans Read to West Side Council

Manager Herbert Presents Figures as to Cost of Combined Plant

BONDS SUBMITTED

Ford Street Repairs Discussed.—Committee to Meet Commissioners

Manager H. D. Herbert submitted to the sewer committee of West Conschockeen town council last evening the approximate cost of the West Borough joining with Conschockeen in maintaining a combined sewage disposal plant rather than each borough to operate an individual plant. He explained the kind of disposal plant necessary and the treatment of sewage and said that a license operator would be required to take charge and called attention to the fact that additional equipment is likely to be necessary from time to time as the borough expands.

He produced figures showing the cost of equipment at pump the sewage from West Conschockeen to this borough and the cost of the West Borough building and maintaining its own plant.

He said that the combined plant would cost approximately $150,000 and for West Conschockeen to build an individual plant would entail an expenditure of approximately $84,000. He pointed out that the West Borough would deliver about 300,000 gallons of sewage daily and to treat this amount it would be false economy to spend so much money for a separate plant. According to the figures submitted by Mr. Herbert it would cost the West Borough about $3200 annually to operate an individual plant, but by joining with this borough the cost would be $1600 annually.

The latest cost to the West Borough to combine with Conschockeen Manager Herbert figures would entail an expenditure of approximately $30,000.

Following the committee meeting President Costello called an adjourned meeting of council to consider the bond from the Philadelphia-Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company which was presented in connection with the proposed plan of extending the sewerage system to the borough. The bond was approved.

Solicitor Robert T. Potts, submitted a form of bond to be presented to the contractor. Potts as guarantor for Ford street were discussed and it was decided that the special committee appointed at a recent meeting of council again confer with the County Commissioners relative to the proposed plan in repairing the thoroughfare. In connection with the $5500 already given by the State and County.

A complaint was received about the lights being turned off in the morning before it is daylight. The secretary was instructed to write the Philadelphia-Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company calling attention to the matter.

Hallowells Held For Grand Jury

Ambler Men Remanded to Jail Charged With Murder of N. H. Heim

DULL OUT IN BAIL

Surprise Witness Says He Saw Cars Leave Garage With Body in One

President Judge Williams of Montgomery County Court, decided yesterday at Norristown, that a trial jury should decide if three members of the Hallowells family are guilty of murdering William Norman Heim, of Trappe.

The three Hallowells, Robert M.; his brother, Isaac E., and the latter's son, Harry, were remanded to the county jail without bail, pending action of the Grand Jury, which meets next month.

Charles A. Dull, former automobile salesman for Robert M. Hallowell, who was locked up a week ago with the Hallowells on a murder charge, was set free under $1000 bail to await action of the Grand Jury.

Freedom Fight Ends

Judge Williams' decision ended the fight of the suspects on a writ of habeas corpus.

An obscure junkman from Lansdale furnished the newest sensation arising from the death of William Norman Heim, a former inmate of the county jail.

Robert A. Hallowell offered me $50 if I would say I called him at 2 a. m. on June 21 to tell him the lights in his garage were burning." Sebastian Elieschewitz, the junkman, told a startling story Wednesday.

Mainly due to this declaration Hallowell and his brother, Isaac, were remanded to the Montgomery county prison without bail until today. Then their plea for release on a writ of habeas corpus will be continued before President Judge J. Ambler Williams.

Harry Hallowell, Isaac's son, was held under $10,000 bail and Charles Dull, Chestnut Hill, a former inmate of the Hallowells in $1000. Neither could furnish bond at once and were sent back to jail to wait the opening of Court at 9 a. m. yesterday.

One of the most exciting events in the program of sports at the Gulph Sunday school picnic at Chalfont was omitted in the chronicle of the news. It was the chicken race in which many took part. "Some one was sure of a chicken dinner," said Westwood, as the bird belonged to the person who caught it. But the chicken dinner did not materialize, as the member of the feathered tribe when liberated did not hold for the chickens. New Money in Demand There has been a "run" on the banks to secure the new currency that has been issued by Uncle Sam. People who confronted the paying tellers to obtain the new notes probably have never seen what is known as a shiplaster note. The shiplasters were in the denomination of 50 cent notes, 25 cent notes, 10 cent notes, 5 and 2 cent notes, respectively. With apologies to Uncle Sam, the new notes resemble the 50 cent shiplasters. During the time shiplasters were in use, a person mimicking the man enormously wealthy when his pockets bulged with many of these notes of small denominations. But the government is richer by approximately $2,000,000 a year by changing the size of the notes.

The dimensions of the 50-cent note of the series of 1875 is 4 2/8 inches by 2 1/8 inches; the dimensions of the new ones are 5 inches by 2 5/8 inches. The notes that have been in use for many years are 3 1/8 inches by 7 1/4 inches in dimensions.

ISAAC HALLOWELL

HARRY HALLOWELL

CHARLES PULL

ROBERT HALLOWELL

HALLOWELLS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

(continued from first page) Saw Pike Burn Something "I saw Pike about that time when he came out to burn something."

Elschewitz then declared he had seen Isaac Hallowell burning "rags" at it was not until he was quizzed closely that he discovered he meant "excelsior."

"Yes," he continued, "I saw Pike come out with a box of the stuff in a tin wheelbarrow."

Previously, Powell Heller, a garage employee, had testified the junkman met the place the day after Heim met his death, but when asked about this, Elschewitz insisted the witness was mistaken.

The testimony of the junk dealer upset the previous story that Robert Hallowell to the effect that someone summoned him to the telephone early on June 21, advising him the lights of the garage were burning.

At the inquest he said he arose at the alarm, went to the home of his brother, Isaac, and aroused the members of the family. Isaac supported his testimony by declaring he armed himself and made an investigation in the garage.

During Elschewitz's stay on the stand, Robert was visibly nervous and frequently stroked his chin. Isaac and Harry were calm, while Dull, dressed in a soiled mechanic's coat, was indignant.

Dr. John C. Simpson, who performed the autopsy on the charred body of Heim, was the first witness called. He declared the death was caused by burns after Heim received a fractured skull. He also described four broken ribs.

Upon cross-examination the physician admitted the fracture might have been caused by a protruding part of the automobile. He insisted, however, heat could not have caused expansion and subsequent fracture.

Dr. Simpson was followed by Robert Stinson, county chemist, who described as human blood, the stains found on Isaac Hallowell's automobile after the discovery of Heim's body. He, in turn, was succeeded by Irwin A. Horn, supervisor of White Marsh township schools, who discovered the car and body while returning from school.

Chief of Police Sherman Koons, of Springfield township, was called next. He produced a number of pieces of evidence, including Heim's personal effects not destroyed by fire and parts of the death car.

During his testimony he frequently referred to "the crime." Frequently chucked occasionally, but the reference passed unnoticed by defense counsel.

Witnesses by Bus Driver A short, stocky, black-haired bus driver, deliberate and confident in his testimony, joined with the sister of the victim in supplying fresh sensations at yesterday morning's continued hearing on the writs of habeas corpus.

This was Harry S. Hartman, of near Springhouse, employed by the Lehigh Valley Transit Company, who told the court while he was operating his bus on Butler avenue, a short distance from the Hallowell garage, about 12:45 or 12:48 early in the morning of June 21 three automobiles—two touring cars and a sedan—passed his bus and that on the rear seat of the second touring car he saw what he believed was the prostrated form of a man wearing a straw hat.

Continuing on his return trip to Lansdale after sighting the three cars, Hartman asserted he saw the Hallowell garage a few moments later and found the upper floor illuminated.

Cross-examination by Attorney William F. Dannehower, Jr., chief counsel for the defendants, failed to shake in any way his testimony, which he said he saw with his own eyes.

The most dramatic period of the hearing developed and was sustained during the entire time Mrs. Sarah Donahue, sister of Heim, occupied the witness stand.

WILLIAM T. HEIM

was successful in organizing a bank. "I am having difficulty in organizing the bank," he declared, according to a witness. "But I'll get it together. I never planned anything yet I didn't get. Where there's a will there's a way."

She said Robert promised to give her $500 if she could get her brother's widow to sign a certain paper. He laid great emphasis on finding the gear shift handle on Heim's car in neutral, also of the discovery of a "small white hole" in Heim's skull. Asked if he did not think the handle could have been thrown out of gear, he said he was unable to answer. Dannehower caused him to admit he fingered the underwriter's message.

Lynnan Powell Heller, an employee of the garage, was the next witness. Judge Williams questioned him minutely concerning his actions in the garage when he was asked to wash the stains from Isaac Hallowell's sedan—something he said Heim's reluctant to do because of Heim's death.

It was Powell who discovered a pipe similar to that used by Heim. The pipe was a rough bowl, the pipe was found underneath another car while Powell was washing the motor. He admitted, however, that another youth who frequented the place smoked a similar pipe. After Powell came Elschewitz, then Alvin Hancock, a gasoline truck driver.

Captain Samuel W. Gearhart, of the State police, was the last to be called. In the middle of his testimony he was interrupted by Judge Williams and forced to admit he did not suspect Harry Hallowell for Dull of first degree murder.

Suggests Additional Evidence It was after this speech that District Attorney Renninger arose and said: "I assume the court has heard sufficient evidence. If there is any question as to what took place at Millita Hill the night Heim died, or a question as to what motive there was in the alleged killing, we can show more."

Judge Williams then suggested that additional testimony be given. Captain Gearhart on Stand When the hearing opened yesterday morning, State Police Captain Gearhart was called to the stand. The officer was told to give a review of statements made by the Hallowells in the office of the district attorney while other persons were present.

Captain Gearhart told of interviewing Robert Hallowell on the Friday after the death of Heim, saying: "Robert Hallowell stated to me that he had seen Heim on June 20 and that he had seen Heim on June 21, 1929, at about 5:30 they went to the garage. Heim made telephone calls. At 9:35 they went to the home of Isaac Hallowell. Lewis and went home. He returned to the garage later. With his brother Pike they conversed with Heim. At 11 an old soldier came and Pike later went home. After talking with the soldier Robert put his car in the garage and went home. At 2 in the morning he was informed the garage lights were burning. He arose and went to the home of Pike and they both entered the garage; but the lights out and went home."

Captain Gearhart stated on July 1, Robert Hallowell in the District Attorney's office, said when he was ready to leave the garage a man came up and told him he had trouble on Bethlehem pike; that he went home, at about 11, Captain Gearhart said that when he returned to the garage he could not tell who the motorcyclists were.

As to Pike Hallowell, Captain Gearhart said that on the Friday night in question; at 7 he went with his family to Robert's house; there he saw Heim; saw Heim and Hallowell together; and about 10 that night he returned to the garage with his car. After his family had come home, and put his car away. (This is the car upon which the body was found.) He said Robert and Heim were there, and also Harry, a son of Pike; saw Robert talking to the soldier; later he went to the Porter store, secured some peppercorns, and went home. He said on the way home, which was shortly after 11, he saw the lights were out at the garage; he saw the Whippert car of Robert and saw the Heim outside the garage; later his son, Harry, came to the house and gave him the keys to the garage and the money from the office; shortly after 2 in the morning Robert came and told him about the lights, and together they went to the garage.

When he returned on Saturday June 22, Mrs. Donahue asserted Robert appeared to be excited and agitated. He seemed worried, she declared, and offered to employ her husband and to wait for father if he was successful in organizing a bank. "I am having difficulty in organizing the bank," he declared, according to a witness. "But I'll get it together. I never planned anything yet I didn't get. Where there's a will there's a way."

She said Robert promised to give her $500 if she could get her brother's widow to sign a certain paper. He laid great emphasis on finding the gear shift handle on Heim's car in neutral, also of the discovery of a "small white hole" in Heim's skull. Asked if he did not think the handle could have been thrown out of gear, he said he was unable to answer. Dannehower caused him to admit he fingered the underwriter's message.

PROFITOUS TIME to buy, right now. Conshohocken builders can put up a much better value in houses than our neighboring boroughs simply because we are going through that transition of development, whereas our land has not increased comparatively with theirs. There are only a few new houses in the group of construction and only one house to rent, and Sheriff Sales have been almost negligible. What a wonderful location to sell the outsider.

110 East Tenth Avenue is the very best all-around value we now have to offer. Considerable price, ground, house and location. The house and lot at $6200 is a particularly priced. There is an extra lot at $1000 making a total of $7200. This is the asking price, but an offer is $6000. Or if you prefer to buy house and a 20 ft. lot the price is $6200 and open to offer.

$6300, 110 West Fourth. A very fine twin brick dwelling all conv. fare location.

Upper Fayette St. is my unbounded confidence. Store and dwelling at 822 Fayette street that to me is one ideal spot for any business. Will sell the whole at $12,500 or Rent out either Store or Dwelling.

Sold 215 East Eleventh. We just disposed of this lovely home, and take pride in it, for we have our heartiest recommendation.

$4100, Twin Brick home on West Tenth Avenue, 6 Rooms, Bath. All asbestos Roof and a house so well built that it has our heartiest recommendation.

$7500, 800 Block Forrest. A nice home for workingman, in a most convenient location.

$7700, E. 6th Ave. Opp. Mary Wood Park. Detached dwelling all conv. garage.

$5000, Nice Detached house of 6 rooms, splendid East side location.

Lots! Lots! Lots! At a price that sounds almost ridiculous, 30 lots highly developed at $6000 and only $2000 cash needed. Why this doesn't require gambling instinct. This is just an out, and out good good buy with assured profits to the purchaser.

FOR RENT 2nd Ave. A beautiful twin brick dwelling all conv. Garage. Must be refined small family. $45. $25. House with conv. and lots of ground in West Consho. Fayette Street. Lovely Home with Garage. $45. $40 Apartment upper Fayette. 5 Rooms and Bath. All conv.

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1929.

People's time may be valuable, but it is not so valuable that it pays them to cut across their lawns or those belonging to their neighbors or the municipality. Plots of grass with their edges and corners all worn off, make a town or its homes look like a man with ragged coat and frayed trousers. "Keep off the grass" signs should not be necessary. When grass is grown for ornamental and landscape effects, people should guard it as carefully as they would some fine rug they bought to decorate their homes. A trim grass plot, with its edges and corners squarely cut, gives any location an air of finish and beauty. We should care for our public and private lawns in that manner here in Conshohocken.

Police for Whitmarsh

There is constant difference of opinion among taxpayers; the economical ones want to keep expenses down, and the progressives want all the improvements that are given to the residents of cities. In Whitmarsh township this contest is now in mild evidence. An effort is being made to get a regular police force for the township. All the residents want the protection, but some fear the added expense. Townships, like people, have to consider what they can afford and what they cannot. Safeguarding of lives however should not be measured in dollars. A police is needed and should be installed as promptly as possible.

Outings

Increased specialization in manufacturing processes, with the resultant monotony to workers, has produced a great need for organized play. According to a study of outdoor recreation for employees made by a large insurance company, employers are encouraging and supporting various programs of recreational activities because they realize that such a course of systematic play increases the efficiency of their workers.

Projects for outdoor recreation increase in interest each year. Almost every community has an annual outing or picnic.

What Do They Mean—Work?

A metropolitan editorial writer boasts of writing a full column of editorial every day for five years. Horse feathers! Those of us who earn our existence by laboring on "local weeklies" have written several times that for years, and also read and corrected galley proofs, set type, helped with the mail, wrote letters, solicited subscriptions and helped around the press.

We've had our exciting times, too. There was one day when we were waiting for a cut to decorate the two center columns of our front page. The dead-line arrived and the messenger boy hadn't shown up. What to do? We were forced to sit down and write a historical article from memory, in order to fill the gap.

Sweeping Your Own Place

"If everyone would sweep before his own door, the whole world would be clean." Thus runs an old proverb. It might be amended to read that we should not only sweep before our own doors, but also out in those back yards which many people with good looking front yards neglect. But the thought in the old saying conveys a great truth, which applies to us all here in Conshohocken.

There is a strong tendency for people to be critical of the things someone else does, or does not do, though meanwhile they are neglecting to do something that belongs to them.

People complain of the faults of government, federal, state and municipal, and then many of these same faultfinders decline to take an interest in the affairs of their own home town or to vote at elections.

Many of them complain because this or that organization has not done what they think it should to push their home town ahead, when these people themselves have declined at various times to do any work in such organizations.

People complain because their home towns do not make faster progress, when many of them keep disorderly looking places, which help give a decadent appearance to their neighborhoods and to the whole town.

People complain because business does not go ahead faster in their home towns, and then some of these same people send considerable amounts of money off elsewhere to buy goods, when these articles could just as well be had at home. Or they do slack and indifferent work in their jobs, which makes it difficult for the business they work for to grow and expand. A little less criticism of those around us, and a little more self criticism and remedy of our own faults and shortcomings, would help social and business progress in any community.

When all is said and done there are but thirteen truly great things in Life. They are: Dreams, Religion, Tradition, Temptation, Occupation, Birth, Death, Failure, Success, Knowledge, Love, Memories and Ignorance.

Captain Gearhart said both Robert and Harry agreed as to what lights were burning. From Harry Hallowell the police captain learned that Harry was at the garage on that Friday night; that he saw Robert leave, and also saw Heim leave before the garage was closed; he locked the garage and took the keys to his father, and then started for his home; he saw the two automobiles outside the garage; he stopped at a roadside stand on his way home.

Cross-examined by Attorney Dannehower, the police captain admitted Harry had talked voluntarily, without counsel, and answered the questions freely. Harry Bond is Pasted. Charles Dull, one of the four principals, was released yesterday when he furnished bond in the sum of $1000, as directed by Judge Williams, after hearing evidence produced by witnesses yesterday, which was adjudged and admitted not to be sufficient to ask that Dull be held without bail on the charge of murder.

Bail in the sum of $1,000 had been named for Dull Wednesday, and $10,000 for Harry Hallowell, but this was only to be valid until the hearing was continued yesterday. The bail named yesterday for Dull is for his appearance before the September Grand Jury.

Attorney William F. Dannehower, in an address to the court, made an endeavor to have Dull discharged, because of lack of evidence against him. This was refused, however. Attorney Dannehower then asked on what charge Dull was being held, and he was informed he would be required to face the Grand Jury on whatever charge was preferred by the Commonwealth.

Before setting bail, Judge Williams asked District Attorney Renninger if there was any danger of Dull becoming a fugitive from justice, if he was out on bail. "I don't think so," answered Mr. Renninger.

The bail was then fixed at $1000, which bond was signed during a short recess which was being held.

Stevenson's testimony. Detective Stevenson told of holding a conversation with Harry Hallowell about a broken pipe which was found, as alleged by Powell Heller, a witness yesterday, which pipe was said to have been given to Harry Hallowell. Stevenson said at first Harry denied anything about the pipe, and said he would look for it the next day he is said to have pointed it out on the floor to Stevenson. "What is it doing there?" Stevenson said to Harry. "That is where I threw it."

"Was that the one Heller gave you?" he asked. "I think it was," he is alleged to have answered. Heller had previously denied the pipe which Harry Hallowell gave Stevenson was the same one he had given Harry.

Last Witness. The last witness heard was J. Clayton Reed, Ambler garage man, who repeated his inquest testimony, declaring he talked to Robert Hallowell after 3 o'clock on the morning of June 21.

In his story Hallowell maintained he had not left his house after 2:25 that morning. Reed said Robert acted in a peculiar manner when he stopped to talk to him. "He was nervous," said Reed. Reed said he had known Hallowell for several years. He said that was the first occasion this year Hallowell had talked to him.

On cross-examination Reed admitted to Attorney Dannehower he was in the garage business, and was a competitor to Hallowell to some extent. He gave as his reason for being out at 2 in the morning that he had been to a party, and after he returned home he got out the hose and watered some plants he had on his premises. He said he and the Hallowells had always been good friends.

The witness denied he had had any trouble with Robert Hallowell. Later he admitted that some years ago he had a dispute about an automobile.

The hearing yesterday failed to attract as large a crowd as on Wednesday, probably because most of the testimony was practically the same as given at the coroner's inquest.

Another phase of the hearing yesterday was presented at a time when it was believed the hearing was to end. After addresses to the court had been made by Attorney William F. Dannehower, Jr., representing the accused, and Attorney Alan Goldsborough, of Maryland, who was sitting with Mr. Dannehower, and a few opening remarks by District Attorney Renninger, Judge Williams said:

"If you want these three men held without bail you had better produce more evidence. District Attorney Renninger then reopened the case, placing more witnesses on the stand.

Attorney Dannehower's Address. "The Commonwealth has failed to show the man found in the burned car was Heim, has failed to show there was a murder committed, and has failed to show the death was not of an accidental nature," declared Attorney Dannehower in his opening remarks to the court. In his plea to have the four men released, Mr. Dannehower also declared that the Commonwealth's attempt to prove a murder had been committed it failed to name any motive for such a crime and that the Commonwealth failed to connect the four defendants with any criminal agency.

Mr. Dannehower said there was still evidence the fatality was an accident; that Heim had started down the hill, lost control of the car and that it dashed against the tree, overturned, and became afire. "Why, only recently," said Mr. Dannehower, "a local boy lost his life in an accident of a similar nature."

Speaking of the fractured skull, which the Commonwealth believed Heim had sustained before his car was wrecked, Mr. Dannehower said this might have been caused by Heim's head striking any solid part of the car when it overturned, just as had been admitted by the physician on the witness stand.

Mr. Dannehower claimed there was no convincing proof that any of the accused men had anything to do with the death of Heim and the presumption was not strong enough to hold in the case of Robert Hallowell there was probably cause for suspicion on certain points, referring to false testimony given by him, when he changed one story to that of a man coming to his house early in the morning to tell him about the lights burning in the garage. Mr. Dannehower said Hallowell was unable to tell who the man was who came to his house and feared to give such testimony when the finger of suspicion pointed at him.

"Would you sustain a verdict of first degree murder if a jury so found it on such testimony?" Mr. Dannehower queried of Judge Williams.

The attorney for the defendants ended his plea with a request the three men be admitted to bail. "Congressional Address Court."

Attorney T. Alan Goldsborough, an acquaintance of the Hallowells who has become interested in the case, was given permission to address the court. The attorney, who is an orator of note, said: "Public sentiment leads to supposition of crime in this case, and places the suspicion on these men. There was no concrete evidence produced which would warrant the holding of these men without bail."

Attorney Goldsborough then went on to say he himself at the present time bore bruises from an auto accident, and he was unaware as to how he got them in the places they are located. This was told to overabundance the testimony that injury to his back if he had been driving the car.

"Not one thing has been shown as to any motive for such a crime, as alleged," said the attorney, and continuing he said it was unusual for a man in business, with much on their minds, to make mistakes in their statements. The attorney also said there was not one bit of evidence in the case to show that Heim was murdered.

SMILE

BY SAMUEL O. BROWN. When the sky is gray and cloudy, There is sunshine all the while, But the only way you'll find it folks is to smile, smile, smile.

When the jinx has holds upon you, You can beat it by a smile, Forget you're up against it, folks, And smile, smile, smile.

There are things you didn't accomplish, Just give them one more trial, For you are never beaten, folks, As long as you can smile.

When you're tired and blue and lonely, And you're troubles by the pile, Clouds will have a silver lining If you smile, smile, smile.

A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To the Recorder: I have been interested in reading your editorials in the Recorder about how to make Conshohocken grow into a big city and suggest that one of the best means to be taken to get this desirable end is to organize here a Chamber of Commerce.

Such an organization does splendid work in other cities and looks out-and-if properly officered, and with a membership composed of the merchants and manufacturers should very materially help to boom the town. A RESIDENT.

HERE'S AN IDEA

Hundreds of thousands of dollars, perhaps millions, were spent last week in this country merely to produce unpleasant, shocking noises, noxious gases and to inflict injuries upon scores of children.

It is hard to agree with the Recorder's hopeful correspondent of last week on the subject of progress and development of the race, when popping firecrackers is our method of commemorating the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This silly practice cannot be excused on the ground that it gives pleasure to children. Healthy children contain joy as naturally as ripe oranges contain juice. They get up in the morning enthusiastic, respond eagerly to any suggestion of holiday-making. It is the fault of adults if their high spirits are directed into improper channels.

Why couldn't some conception of the actual pride and heroism of that declaration be conveyed to them? Every one of the quiet gentlemen who signed his name to that paper staked his life on the act. What if all the money spent in the U.S. for silly, dangerous fireworks and other barbaric "fireworks" would be spent on the making of a superb motion picture drama of some of the historic events in this country's history? Not a cheap, commercial thing, but something into which actual reverence went, with minute research into the facts and a close adherence to the facts in the production. It could be shown in every town in the United States. And it would be an enthralling pleasure to look at it, and young persons would come away from it with some idea what the Fourth of July means.

START DEMOLISHING MANAYUNK STATION

Early Monday morning a force of workmen employed by Mr. Sorrentino, a house wrecker, descended on the Manayunk depot, with picks and crow bars. The first thing to disappear was the Union News stand followed by the south end of the platform sheds. The O'Neil Construction Company, who has the contract to erect the new station, is rushing work on the entrance to the south bound platform at Cresson and Carson streets and as soon as possible the ticket office will be removed to that corner and the entire depot which was erected in the late '70s, will be demolished.

Trains running through Manayunk, were shifted over to the south bound track that runs along the fence on the west side of Cresson street. Engine No. 697, due at 1:30 p. m. Standard Time, drawing a box car, three passenger cars made up the first train running south bound over the rails. The north bound rails will be removed to make room for dump trucks and steam shovels which are busy operating the excavations for the concrete foundations along the east side of the street.

Plymouth Meeting, Cold Point, Plymouth Center, Harmanville and Barren Hill virtually will be deserted tomorrow, when more than 1900 persons will attend the first annual Plymouth-Whitemarsh community picnic to be held at Forest Park, Chalfont. On the eve of the outing a general holiday spirit prevails in the communities.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS
SINCE Americans got interested in battlefields, from visiting France, they say our own battlefields in this country are getting a little more of the tourist trade. The people that go to France get taken out to the battlefields, and they see everybody else going, and they get a notion that going to see battlefields is pretty near as good as seeing art galleries and cathedrals.

So there was a young lady that had done all the battlefields in Europe, and was kind trying to cover all the points of interest at home too. She was wandering around at Gettysburg, and she met a young man that was trying to make a hit with her.

"Yes," says the fellow, "this is a mighty historic spot."

Game Ends When Last Ball Is Lost

Church League Game Ends After Two Are Out in Last Inning—Baptist Defeats St. Cosmos, Other League Games Played.

The Church League game between the Baptist and St. Cosmos on the Center athletic field last evening was brought to a abrupt ending after two men had been retired in the last half of the seventh inning when Earl DiJenno, pinch hitting for Pasquini, knocked the last ball in the hit over the grandstand. However, darkness had set in to settle over the field, making it difficult for the players to see the ball. The Baptist were leading by the score of 15 to 9 when the game ended.

St. Cosmos introduced DeVita as their hurler at the beginning of the game but the Baptist took kindly to his offerings at the outset and nipped him for five hits in the opening frame to tally five runs. Four more runs were added in each of the second and third innings. Gambone took up the hurling duties in the second inning and was also hit hard at the beginning of his term.

The game was marked by hard hitting by both teams, three home runs, three three-base hits and four doubles being made.

Earl DiJenno, former C. H. S. athlete, and one of several respected players in the local Church League, was the big noise in the victory of St. Cosmos over the Lutheran at the Center athletic field on Wednesday evening. Elzy Frea's team was a tough nut to crack and it took an extra inning of real base ball playing before the bats were able to break through the rally that brought home the bacon.

While DiJenno held his opponents to eight hits that were well scattered through the eight innings, two of them were for the circuit, one each by Palmer and Godshalk.

At the end of the seventh inning, the regulation game for the league, the score was knotted at five all. DiJenno set St. Mark's down in one two, three order in his half of the eighth and when the Saints took their turn at bat Pettine, all-around athlete, caught one of Rein's fast ones right on the seam and the ball went high and wide for a two-base hit. Two men were retired and it looked as though another inning would be necessary or else the game called on account of darkness when DiJenno, lugging his war club, slouched up to the plate. With the count two and two, he hit a pretty single and Pettine dashed across the plate with the winning marker.

The batting of Woodward, with three hits in as many times at bat, featured the game.

Six runs the first inning made it possible for the Methodist to gain an easy victory over the Primitive Methodist in a Church League game center athletic field Tuesday evening by the score of 8 to 4.

The West side team tallied two runs in the first inning but the Shouters came back in their half of same inning and grabbed off a cluster of runs, more than enough to win the game.

Primitive added two more in the half of the second stanza and the Methodist boys nipped one run in each of the second and third innings. After that the game was a real hurling duel and neither team was able to dent the plate.

The Shouters moved to be the hottest clouters as all the extra base hits were collected by them. In this respect Harry Campbell led the assault with a home run and a double. Bourne and Martin also hit for two bases.

Success "Stop!" yelled the film producer, and obediently the camera ceased clicking.

The producer then walked over to the leading man.

"Your expression is hopeless," he cried. "Try to look as if you really were indignant."

"I've done the best I can," retorted the actor, sullenly. "Nobody could do any better."

"Very well, your salary is reduced by $200 today!" snapped the other. "Now, that is the ideal! Hold it! Take, please!"

And the camera clicked once more.

Tennis Championships At Villanova

Two upsets featured the first round matches in the Villanova College Main Line singles championships yesterday on the Villanova courts. Dennis Buckley and Tom Fitzgerald headed fifth and seventh respectively, fell before the racks of two comparatively unknowns, Walter Woodbury and Raymond Hughes.

seeded men emerged triumphantly. James Lockwood extended Mahan to extra games in the latter's straight set victory, 7-5, 8-6. Lockwood led five to three in the first set, only to have his opponent come from behind to win out. The second set again found Lockwood in the van, five to two in games, and Smith, if

Director Webster has been engaged in arranging the tennis courts but this work is about completed and he is now ready to turn his attention to base ball and is anxious to start a strong league. Any teams that are already organized and desirous of joining the new league can do so by applying to the director at the athletic field morning or afternoon.

Scores of real bargains in men's clothing arrived this morning at the Bill Katz store, 53 Fayette street, on the Seashore Limited. As soon as the quality stock could be unloaded, a mammoth "Sea Shore" sale was started today.

"Therefore it is my opinion that the right of a railroad company is not assessable as such for Municipal improvement upon the street lying adjacent thereto. However, any other ground owned by a railroad corporation whether improved with passenger station, freight station or other building or unimproved, abutting on a street, is liable for municipal improvement."

C. S. Saylor, an agent for the Reading Company, addressed the members of the improvement committee in the opinion of the solicitor read just as he knew it would. He made it clear that should council see fit to close the grade crossing over the Reading and Pennsylvania railroads at Cherry street, the Reading Company, and he expressed his belief that the Pennsylvania Company also would join in the expense to enable council to proceed with their improvement.

Tax Collector Resigns. Tax Collector George Shaw notified council to appoint a collector for the 1929 tax duplicate as he is unable to fill the position. The resignation was not accepted. Mr. Shaw owes but $1009.95 on the 1928 duplicate and the new duplicate can not be turned over to him for collection until that settlement is made for the present duplicate.

Fourth Ward Playgrounds. C. A. Desimone, of Conshohocken Realty Corporation, who donated the land in the Fourth ward to be developed and equipped as a playground, was present to explain the status of the $2000 donated by the Harmon Foundation. He explained the money was turned over to the donors of the land with the idea they should act as trustees and see that the greater portion is used for equipment. He said the purpose of the contribution is to induce property owners to donate a portion of their land for playground purposes and that the Corporation donated the land with the idea of using the $2000 for equipment although he saw no harm in using part of the amount for improvement. If the minor part of the money is not spent for equipment Mr. Desimone expressed his belief the idea of the Harmon Foundation will not be carried out.

He suggested that council agree to 45 per cent. of the amount be spent for development and the balance used for equipment. He said he thought there were about 2000 yards of earth to be moved in developing the tract which would cost about $2000. He thought 1400 or 1500 yards could be moved for about $800 and the balance be used for equipment and they were the ones most interested. He, however, favored a committee from the Recreational Council acting in an advisory capacity.

The committees from the two bodies were ordered, on motion, to get together, elect their officers, prepare a schedule and report back to council.

Borough Manager Herbert reported he had attended a meeting in Philadelphia called by the Chestnut Street Sanitation to hear Dr. Appel, head of the State Sanitary Water Board, discuss the pollution of the Schuylkill river and had received much information. He said he was given the privilege to speak and said he explained Conshohocken and West Conshohocken are faced with a $700,000 debt to install sewers and the combined borrowing capacity is about $150,000 and said the boroughs are willing to proceed if shown how it could be financed but he was not answered. He said that all boroughs are cooperating in an effort to stop the pollution. He said it was stated that but one municipality had refused and the officials were taken into court and after promising to comply with the State's orders to install sewers the suit was withdrawn.

SISTER OF AMBLER POLICEMAN KILLED

Miss Agnes Kennedy, of Elkin Park, fourteen year-old sister of Chief of police Samuel Kennedy, of Ambler, was instantly killed Wednesday night when the car driven by the Ambler man collided with another driven by Abraham E. Jacoby, Fifth street near Diamond, Philadelphia, a retired policeman.

The Kennedys were returning from a vacation trip to New York state when the fatal accident occurred, marring the short stay which they had enjoyed so much. According to reports, Agnes was riding in the rumble seat of the car. She was thrown headlong when the car crashed, landing on her head and breaking her neck, which caused instant death.

It was a strangely coincident that both drivers were officers, and are careful on the highway. A clump of bushes is said to have obscured the highway at a curve and caused the crash. Kennedy is a former sergeant of the State Motor patrol and Jacoby was a former Philadelphia policeman.

Chief Kennedy had this week as his vacation from the Ambler force, Officer John Camburn was acting chief in his absence.

Paint Helps To Sell Homes

Keeping Property in Pink of Condition Is Always Good Investment.—Shrubbery on Lawn Also Has Monetary Value for Resale.

The resale value of a house is always an important question when the matter comes up for consideration. The exterior of a house is generally the first to stand in the prospective buyer and its condition very often determines what he thinks it is worth. If the exterior is in good condition it will influence him favorably and there will be a reverse opinion if the house is badly in need of repair.

Strangely as it may seem, there are many men who will spend hours and hours rubbing the paint work on their automobiles while they won't think of spending two minutes in making the exterior of their house a little better or at least keeping it up to the standard it had when they bought it. Of course, it is commendable that they should think enough of their cars to have them presentable at all times, but it is a bit odd that they will put more time on an object that in many instances costs only about one-tenth of what the house they are living in costs.

It is strange, too, inasmuch as there is an approximate turn-in value on the car, a price it is understood is arrived at by an automobile association or group. Sometimes the turn-in value may be a little greater, but it is generally around the quoted price in the book. With a house it is different. There are no hard and fast rules that apply to the resale value and the house that is kept in first-class order is always in a better position to be sold than the structure badly in need of repair.

Keeping the paint-work in good condition is always an important feature. In the first place, the paint helps to preserve the lumber there by eliminating a replacement expense, and secondly, it keeps the house looking spick-and-span. A good paint job is a good investment no matter how you look at it.

With the brickwork it is always important to keep the walls well painted. Of course, such a thing has to be done, but when it is necessary it should be done with haste. Many a fine brick wall has lost much of its natural charm simply because the owner of the house neglects taking care of it. The same goes for stone and other exterior materials.

Another feature that has much to do with the exterior of a dwelling is the shrubbery. A few dollars spent in some good plants will make the house look more expensive. It gives the structure that finished look and the older the plants become the more attractive the house becomes, provided, of course, the owner keeps the exterior in a good condition.

YOUTH DISAPPEARS FROM AMBLER STATION

Alvin Franklin Missing Since Wednesday Afternoon: Was in train. Under the pretext of summoning a taxi-cab, about 3:28 Wednesday afternoon, after stepping from a train at Ambler with his mother and another woman, Alvin Franklin, twenty-two, of Hartford, Conn., mysteriously vanished, and no trace of him has been found.

Franklin has been suffering from a nervous disease, and was being taken to a sanitarium by his mother. They arrived in Philadelphia Wednesday afternoon from Hartford, and there boarded a train to Ambler.

On the train Mrs. C. N. Franklin, the youth's mother, began talking to an Ambler woman, from whom she learned directions and other information. The mother spoke to the woman at length, and this seemed to disturb the boy.

When they reached Ambler, the train stepped from the train. The son said he would get a taxi. After waiting about fifteen minutes, the mother became worried. She called noting Chief of Police John Camburn, who immediately ordered a search of the train, believing the youth might have again boarded it.

The train was halted in Lansdale and a complete search was made. Again at Coopersburg the officials were asked to look for young Franklin. No trace of him was found.

Constable Morris and Officer Camburn made a complete search in and near Ambler, but the youth could not be located. Relatives in Hartford were notified. His father is said to be manager of an apartment house there. The mother remained in Ambler, hoping that some trace of Franklin might be found.

When he was last seen he wore a light gray striped suit, a light cap, and was wearing spectacles. At times he carries these according to his mother. He also carried a black suitcase when he stepped from the train. He is said to be about five feet ten inches tall, weighs 140 pounds and has fair hair and blue eyes.

FAILED TO STOP. Richard Mosteller, 5707 North Twenty-first street, was arrested Tuesday by constable Harry Steinmetz, of Whitesboro, on the charge of violating the motor laws in failing to bring his automobile to a standstill before entering the Germantown pike from the Butler pike. When arranged before Magistrate White the driver admitted his guilt and was fined $5 and costs.
