Many Features at Store's Celebration

Strawbridge and Clothier's beautiful Main Line store, situated close to Lincoln Highway at Ardmore, was two years old yesterday.

In celebration of the event, one of the finest and most interesting summer openings ever staged in this part of the country, is being held, opening yesterday and continuing through tomorrow.

Special features for the anniversary celebration and summer opening include the personal appearance of Dr. Milton Theeman, well known bridge expert, who will answer questions on contract bridge each afternoon from 3 to 5; personal beauty advice from a representative of Elizabeth Arden; suggestions for matching perfumes to your personality from Mr. Johnstone, noted perfumer and creator of exquisitely blended perfumes; Madeline Jenne, who will give courtesy make-ups; the Haas Family, ping pong players, nationally known, who will give instruction in this sport; John McVey, well-known golfer, together with free demonstrations of newest household appliances.

The Main Line Strawbridge and Clothier store opened its doors, May 12, 1930, and in less than two months, began expansion. For two years it has grown steadily, proving that a suburban community appreciates a store of Strawbridge and Clothier character. "We came into this new territory to serve old friends," said an executive of the store yesterday. "And we have added thousands of new friends."

The store is open evenings until 9 during the celebration.

Members of the faculty are to select three from each grade which they judge the best. These will be forwarded to the women's organization. A committee of judges will choose the five winning essays from the fifteen contributions they receive.

Officers of the council greeted 356 boys and girls of the Spring Mill school at a meeting Wednesday afternoon at Spring Mill fire hall, North lane. Speakers were Francis E. Collins, Conshohocken historian and Mrs. Ella Wister Haines who made explanatory remarks on four reels of a motion picture depicting Washington, first president of the United States under the constitution, from boyhood to the White House, then to retirement in the peaceful environment of Mount Vernon.

I. A. Horne, supervising principal of Whitmarsh township schools, introduced the speakers. Mrs. Cressman presided at the meeting. Miss Cordelia Bechtel, principal at the Spring Mill school, assisted by several members of the faculty, escorted the youngsters to the auditorium.

Mr. Collins asserted Whitmarsh township is rich in historical possessions. He spoke of its importance in Continental annals and the original settlers.

Ernest E. mentioned the purchase of 5000 acres in this section from William Penn, the building of the grist mill in 1697, which now is being operated by Charles Frankel's feed dealer, introduction of the lime industry here by Mrs. Jasper Farmer in 1686, and ownership by Peter Legeaux, wealthy French scientist, of the palatial dwelling and land now the property of Spring Mill Fire Company.

Visits of Washington to the Legeaux homestead, as well as notable that included Benjamin Franklin and General Lafayette, also supplied material for the historian's talk.

The event marked the second visit of the Spring Mill pupils to the historic property in the last four months.

Asks $20,000 for Lost Love of Wife

Franklin C. Walker, of Ambler, values the love of his wife at $20,000, and because of alleged alienation of his wife's affections, Walker filed a suit against Harold Richmond, of Ambler, seeking that amount.

The couple was married May 4, 1927. Walker states that his first estrangement of lost love on the part of his wife was last January. He said Richmond "started to interfere with the marital relations of his married life." Walker claims that Richmond started to visit the Walker home during the absence of the head of the house, and also took Mrs. Walker on automobile rides.

The husband and wife are now separated. "Due to Richmond's improper influence over her," Walker claims.

Walker alleges that his home was a happy abode until Richmond entered and upset their contentment. The plaintiff states the affair kept up for three months, and because of the actions of Richmond the husband has lost the wife's affection. He claims that Richmond effected his purpose "in a brazen and open manner, and that such conduct on his part has been public." He further alleges that Richmond, "by artful methods, wifely, deliberately and completely robbed him of his wife's affections."

The Second Anniversary of Our Main Line Store

Two Years
Have Proved
We Are Right

This store opened its doors to the Main Line May 12, 1930. ✦ In less than two months, July 1, 1930, we began the work of expansion. ✦ November 1, 1930, the enlarged store was in full business activity. ✦ The succeeding increase in business resulted in the opening of our Main Line Men's Shop, September 12, 1931. ✦ For two years we have been steadily growing, proving that our ideal of suburban store service is practical, workable and appreciated. ✦ We brought to the Main Line practically all the shopping facilities of the largest metropolitan stores. ✦ So far as possible we made it equally advantageous to shop in Philadelphia or on Montgomery Avenue; prices on the same merchandise at the same time always being the same in all of our stores. ✦ Special price advantages are frequent. Merchandise is always fresh and new. ✦ The interest of our personnel, in this store and in this store's friends, has increased with each new day. ✦ We came into new territory to serve old friends, have added thousands of new, and to all we acknowledge, with appreciation, the friendly reception accorded us.

The Most Elaborate Display of New Merchandise Ever made in a Suburban Store

The Juvenile Shop has been turned into the gayest of Summer resorts. The kiddies are dressed for sea baths and sun baths and for capering on the turf, displaying fashions for Summer wherever they may go.

The Bathing Suit Department has opened for the season—emphasizing every type of White Suit made (we believe in white), and all the new colors—especially Summer's new blues.

Bathing Suit Accessories—whether you bathe in sea or sand or just loiter gracefully on the beach—you'll want to see these.

The new Department of Cotton Frocks is ready—they're a big success this season.

The Bridal Displays are beautiful, and the Bride's Five-hundred-dollar Treasure Chest is an education in 1932 budgeting.

The Sportswear Department is out in all Summer's new "knits" and "washables" and tailored cottons—with two to six sweaters for each.

Summer Jewelry and Summer Hand Bags, Summer Lingerie and Neckwear; Summer's new Gloves and Stockings and Shoes—the finest assortments possible—advance displays for our Anniversary.

The new Corseting Garments—and the abbreviated articles that take the place of them on the warmest days—are all in a beautiful, plentiful display.

Morning Frocks that "hit a new low" this year, for the quality, are as bright and pert as a May morning, in their rows upon rows of color.

There's a picturesque showing of Summer's Broad-brimmed Hats, and a full Summer line of White and Eggshell Coats.

In other words, we're celebrating our Second Anniversary with one of the most beautiful Summer Openings ever staged in this part of the country.

Comments on Happenings by Molly Matson

Class trips to Washington apparently a popular number with high schools at home and abroad, this week. Our West Conshohocken high school—just over an hour, as we hear our friends say so often—and St. Matthew's high school, are both enjoying the thrill of a class trip, or class trips, as you wish—to the Capitol City and a visit to the wonderful places of National interest that only Washington could sponsor.

But there, of course, you have been hearing all about the trips only it is such an important item among the boys and girls—graduates of the season—and as Molly is ever interested in the growing youth and school days, she felt she must say a word or two about the class trip to Washington. Not an everyday occurrence and a life-time remembrance.

And so she will just add that it is nice to know that the West Conshohocken and the Writton town, and neighborhood, are together on the trip. And oh, yes, they went by bus from Conshohocken, and one feels sure the ride in the bus through the beautiful country, and by cities, too, perhaps—will be one of the jolliest notes of the trip.

St. Matthew's seniors are making the annual trip over the Pennsylvania Railroad, and that marks a most interesting ride too. And any day it is good to think of them—boys and girls together, with a possible meeting of the other nearby seniors—east side, west side—in this beautiful city where everybody of such moment to everything and everyone throughout this big United States.

What it means, only those who have been there can understand just what a visit to Washington really stands for. We must see it for ourselves.

This time the itinerary of the trip is including the Naval Academy, and Molly hears West Conshohocken will visit it on the way down and St. Matthew's will "take it in" on their return.

And then there is Springfield, not so far away—we all have friends here, you know, and the seniors of the Springfield high school are in the Washington trip list of the week, and so it will be a gathering of the clans indeed with four neighborhood high schools on the class trip right—seeing tour of the Nation's capital around about the same time. A big week for the 1932 classes of the Conshohockens and neighboring schools.

Speaking of Washington recalls a very interesting something that happened incident to the visit of the National Federation of Clubs to Washington in cherry blossom time, only a very few weeks ago.

It was the day when the Woman's Club of Conshohocken was represented by the president, Mrs. I. Harold Shoemaker and Mrs. Samuel McCord. Mrs. J. L. Roth was a guest visitor with the Garden Club of Norristown.

In the course of the program of reception to the many and various clubs, the Garden Committee of Conshohocken, especially the Women's Club, were especially invited. Conshohocken not having a garden committee heretofore, there was no representation but Mrs. Shoemaker with her thoughts ever about her as is characteristic of Mrs. Shoemaker, always—rose to the occasion and immediately inaugurated a garden committee and appointed Mrs. McCord chairman.

Pastors Ask Prayers For Lindberghs

Sympathy for Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh was expressed last night by speakers at the convocation of Women's Missionary Societies of the Lutheran Church at Norristown.

The Rev. P. P. Pratteicher, D. D., Ph. D., L. D., president of the Pennsylvania Ministerium, the Rev. F. H. Knobel, D. D., L. L. D., S. T. D., president of the United Lutheran Church in America; the Rev. J. F. Kramlich, pastor of the Ropersford Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Paul Y. Young, D. D., pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Norristown, all commented on the finding of the body of little Charles Lindbergh. They urged their audiences to "pray for the bereaved parents and that the perpetrators of this crime might be punished."

A subdued group of women heard the news of the finding of the body, while they were at dinner at the home of the pastor. There were several bitter denunciations of the criminal or criminals responsible for the kidnaping and murder, but the news followed by the brief comment by the clergy-men, left the gathering stunned.

The services were in charge of Dr. Young with the Rev. Kramlich delivering the benediction. Dr. Pratteicher spoke on "Synodical Home Missions Problems" with Dr. Knobel dwelling on the activities of the Lutheran church in America.

The officers elected yesterday were installed today. They take office in July. The new official board of the Pennsylvania Ministerium consists of the following ladies: Mrs. W. K. Hauser, Pottsville, president; Charlotte E. Kostembade, Allentown, vice president; Mrs. W. D. Seyfried, Bethlehem, recording secretary; Miss Will H. CHAPTER III WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

Windy Riker, leading C. P. O. of the U. S. S. airplane carrier Saratoga, stationed at North Island, San Diego, sailed for forty days, as recalled when Steve Nelson, a smart, up-to-date, "new navy" C. P. O. is assigned to the ship's personnel. They have never liked each other. Windy's fists are the source of his petty authority over the sailors, an expression of power at which Steve scoffs. The ill-feeling between them flares into bad blood when Steve draws a reprimand for Windy by showing to the commander the real cause why a bomb failed to leave the wing of a plane at target practice.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"THE BARGAIN" Windy walked rapidly to overtake Steve before he entered the hangar, putting a pleasant and guileless expression on his face.

"Hey, Nelson," he called cheerily. Steve waited, somewhat suspiciously for Windy to overtake him, but made no protest when Windy tucked a hand under his arm and guided him off to the right of the entrance into the hangar.

"You see pretty smart about machinery," said Windy. "Guess you'd better take charge of the field lights tonight."

"O. K. if you say so," replied Steve, with a sidelong glance in which suspicion was not entirely absent.

"With you looking after the lights, I know everything will go off all right," continued Windy, still guiding Steve away from the hangar towards the latrine marked "Enlisted Men." Behind that Windy came to a halt.

"Oh, yes, another thing, Nelson. His fists plopped suddenly against Steve's chin and the latter staggered back against the lattice work, completely dazed, groggy, unable for the moment to put up any defense. The cheeriness was gone.

WINDY RIKER

Windy Riker, leading C. P. O. of the U. S. S. airplane carrier Saratoga, stationed at North Island, San Diego, sailed for forty days, as recalled when Steve Nelson, a smart, up-to-date, "new navy" C. P. O. is assigned to the ship's personnel. They have never liked each other. Windy's fists are the source of his petty authority over the sailors, an expression of power at which Steve scoffs. The ill-feeling between them flares into bad blood when Steve draws a reprimand for Windy by showing to the commander the real cause why a bomb failed to leave the wing of a plane at target practice.

Soldier Boys Surrender to Lutherans

St. Mark's Wins From American Legion and Remains Undefeated in Local Amateur League.—Rain Causes Postponement in Schedule

St. Mark's Lutheran church remained undefeated in the Amateur League by taking the measure of the American Legion on the Center athletic field Tuesday evening by a score of 7 to 4.

The game was a pitchers' duel between Robert "Perk" Smith and Joe Delaney with the local southpaw ace having all the better of the argument. He held the Ridley Park boys to two singles in the seven-inning battle fanned fourteen batters and did not issue a single pass. On the other hand Delaney allowed only four hits but one of them was good for a full trip around the bases.

Smith's only other hit was a two-base blow by Fairlie, which netted nothing as he was left stranded. Conshohocken's other run was scored in the second inning by Zadroga, who, by the way, made two of the four hits collected by his team. Frank reached first by virtue of his first single, went to second on a bad throw and then scored on a bad throw to third trying to catch his stealing. Conshohocken's only other hit was a two-base blow by Fairlie, which netted nothing as he was left stranded.

Conshohocken is now in third place, one full game behind Media, the leaders who handed Derry a setback in a close contest, and a half-game behind Radnor, who triumphed over Lansdowne to remain in second place.

The fielding of Willis Kirkpatrick and Andy Miller was of high order. The fielding of Willis Kirkpatrick and Andy Miller was of high order.

Conshohocken has two games with Radnor and one with Media, the teams in the lead. Conshohocken has every reason to cast longing eyes towards the championship.

Smith has been in a batting slump in the last three games. Conshohocken had six stolen bases against Ridley Park. Lawler's home run was his second of the season.

It was only the second game of the season in which Gormley failed to hit safely. Bartleson, of Lansdowne, was the other pitcher to blank the local outfielder.

Wally Novak, the second of the local boxers to go into action, will appear at the Wilmington A. C., Wilmington, Del., next Thursday evening to take on a rising slugger in the person of Frank Goldie, a Wilmington product.

Johnny Craven, local welterweight who has fought himself into the hearts of light fans where he appears, will appear, with skill against Tommy Conway, of Philadelphia, in Camden, N. J., next Friday night, in the semi-windup bout.

The game scheduled to be played on the West Side high athletic field Tuesday evening between St. Gertrude's A. C. and the George Clay Fire Company was postponed on account of the cold weather. The game will be played at a later date.

Local Southpaw Beats Joe Delaney in Fine Pitching Duel, Setting Deleo Team Down With Two Hits and No Runs.

Conshohocken High defeated Ridley Park in the high school athletic field on Tuesday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2 to remain in the race for the championship title of Section Two in the Suburban League.

Base Ball Briefs The race in Section Two is getting warmer every game with Media, Radnor and Conshohocken, all knocking to get it. Only one game separates the teams in the other named.

C. H. S. Idle Today

Conshohocken High has an open date in their schedule and as a consequence Coach Grinnett will allow the players to take things easy in preparation for the three league games to be played within a week beginning with the contest with Radnor on the Main Line diamond Tuesday afternoon. Media, the league-leaders, will play here next Friday afternoon and on the following Tuesday Lansdowne will be here for the final game of the schedule. However, Radnor has a postponed game in this borough, the date of which has not as yet been set.

Conshohocken still has a look-in for the championship as they are only one game behind Media and a half-game behind Radnor.

All of the local teams entered in the Pennsylvania Italian Bocce League will see action next Sunday afternoon. Conshohocken S. M. S. Club will open their home season at Fifth avenue and Maple street with the strong Coatesville team as their opponents.

Sts Cosmos and Damian and Plymouth, which opened up at home last week, will play away this week, the former playing at Wayne while Plymouth will travel to Norristown and try conclusions with Marchington Club.

A coincident of last week's games was the fact that all three of the local teams won by the same score. St. Tullio, shortstop; A. Hy-lenski, second base; E. Tulic, left field; J. Lesinski, pitcher; F. Kolanko, first base; Z. Bostic, catcher; Rydel, centerfield.

Eagles Schedules Hunting C. C.

Halted by rain and wet grounds for two successive weeks, the Polish Eagles will endeavor to get back into action on Sunday afternoon and have scheduled the strong Hunting C. C. of Philadelphia, to appear on the Meadow diamond. The Hunting team is one of the veteran clubs of Philadelphia and included in their yearly schedules are many of the leading semi-pro teams in the Philadelphia area and New Jersey. The team has a large following and will be accompanied here by a contingent of supporters, who are big fans of seeing the Eagles have their wings clipped.

The Eagles are taking the games most seriously. Rain daily since last Saturday has blasted all hope of practice but if the weather permits a long workout will be held tomorrow in preparation for the game. The Eagles have signed two new hurlers, both of whom will be on hand Sunday. They are Lefty Schultz and Johnny Graski, both of Manayunk. Schultz is the only southpaw on the squad, Graski, formerly of this borough, has seen action with Daytona A. A., Polish Falcons and the American Legion teams. Last year, in twenty-two games he pitched for Daytona, he had 195 strikeouts. In addition to pitching he is also a splendid outfielder. The addition of these two players will greatly strengthen the local team.

The Eagles will probably line up in the following order: Smith, third base; P. Tulic, shortstop; A. Hy-lenski, second base; E. Tulic, left field; J. Lesinski, pitcher; F. Kolanko, first base; Z. Bostic, catcher; Rydel, centerfield.

"Do you think horseshoes are lucky?" "If they are, then the horse I bet on yesterday was running barefooted."

Three Big Games For St. Gertrude's

St. Gertrude's A. C. has scheduled three big games which should furnish the West Side aggregation with plenty of opposition. Tomorrow they will cross bats with the Conshohocken All-Stars on the grounds of the latter team at the Mary Jane Guelcliff Park and on the following day will try conclusions with St. Laurentius, of Philadelphia, on the newly improved park at Rebel Hill.

In tomorrow's game Coach John Smith will use his ace hurler, John Redmond, on the mound with Hansel behind the bat in an effort to wrest victory from the fast-stepping All-Star aggregation. Either McDonnell or Mellon will be the pitching selection for the game against the Philadelphians with Costello doing the catching.

The Philadelphia team is an exceptional strong team and the boys are coming to the West Side confident of scalping St. Gertrude's. The Saints have been prevented from practicing this week but nevertheless feel certain of victory.

One of the biggest games of the season for St. Gertrude's will be played on Saturday, May 21, when the team will travel to Norristown and engage in their traditional game with the State Hospital team. For years this game has been a feature of the base ball season for these two teams and this year's contest holds forth as much interest as in previous years. In preparation for this game Coach Smith will have his entire squad out every night for practice in order that all of the players will be in the proverbial pink to give their best against their time-honored rivals. The Norristown team has the edge on the West Side nine in the number of victories won and Coach Smith is of the opinion his team has the best chance in years to turn back their opponents.
