Small Investors Must Wake Up

By ROGER W. BABSON
 (Copyrighted)

The stupidity or sloth of the average small investor is a real menace to business today. If any owner tried to run his business with the dumbness and indifference exhibited by stockholders toward their companies the sheriffs and bankruptcy courts would work overtime.
 Many stockholders cannot so much as give the correct corporate names of the companies they own. They pay no more attention to annual and interim reports than to speeches reprinted from the Congressional Record. The most dangerous trait of the average small stockholder, however, is his carelessness about proxies.

Real Owners of Big Business.
 Some investors treat a proxy like some kind of obnoxious circulating circular. The only way they happen to touch it at all is when fumbling in the envelope for the dividend check. This is bad, for the real ownership of our corporations is not vested in the huge stockholders. The "big shoes" do not own our companies. The directors do not own them. The true owners are the crowd of inconspicuous individuals holding, say, from five to a hundred shares each.
 Big business is nothing more than the total holdings of multitudes of little stockholders. If their ignorance can be lightened, their laziness overcome, and their consciences aroused, then we shall see a real reform. It is because the whole nation has so much at stake that I am appealing to small stockholders as the key-men.

Both your self-interest and your sense of social responsibility should awaken you to action. Write for correspondence with small investors shows that many of them are forever kicking about policies. They are forever yapping about Wall street and growling at Congress.

Job of the Year
 My advice is to stop squawking and swing into intelligent and effective action. Do at least one of several things. Attend your annual meetings. If nearby, of all the companies in which your money is invested. Why are we so far behind the British investors in this respect? In England, stockholders turn out in such numbers that annual meetings have to be held in large public halls.
 So far as attendance is concerned, some of the stockholders' meetings in the United States could be held in the rumble-seat of a small roadster. I believe in going to meetings. Go to church meetings as your duty to God; go to stockholders' meetings as your duty both to yourself and your fellow-men.

Find out, for each company of which you are a part-owner, whether there are separate, and perhaps warring, factions. When you open your envelope remember that the enclosed proxy may be more important to you than the dividend check. The latter merely reflects the past. It is water over the dam. The proxy, however, if rightly used, may boost dividends for many years to come. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Your decision in handling the proxy may decide whether you are going to get melons or lemons.
Make Your Kicks Count
 If you are not satisfied with what is going on in any company which you own in part through your stock holdings, voice your views where such expression will really count. It does no good to blatter to your family and friends. The thing to do is to write a letter to the management. You can enclose this with return of proxy.
 It is no use to scribble on the proxy itself. Such writing on a proxy has no legal standing or practical influence. Your hope of accomplishing something is through a concise, specific, dignified, but forceful letter to the management. Such letters get a great deal of attention and consideration if they come in sufficient number. You would be surprised.
 If you are not willing to take the above steps, at least you can do it to sign the proxies as all. It is beyond my comprehension how some folks in utter blindness slap their signature on proxies which may help to seal their own fate and that of thousands of other stockholders.

One of the most valuable lessons which I learned as a boy was to keep my signature out of questionable places. A dotted line should always be regarded as a signal for caution. When you have a proxy before you, putting your name on the line may be putting your head on the block!
Stockholders' Revival Needed
 Primarily what business needs most at this moment is no so much a change in executive directors, or in the Administration at Washington. Today's deepest need is for better stockholders—more alert, active, responsible stockholders. It is not a lack of intelligence.
 Investors have plenty of brains if they would only use them. They are smart enough in their chosen occupations. But when it comes to intelligent use of proxies, both intellect and energy are all gone. If the small investor's own private fortunes were the only things at stake, I would be less disturbed. This matter, however, has gone beyond the personal prosperity of any one individual or group.
 Our country depends for bread and butter on business. The very lives and homes of our people have become incorporated. Shall they be left wholly at the mercy of self-seeking politicians and lazy executives? Or will the real masters, the multitudes of small stockholders, come out of their comas, quit their futile scolding and show some true action?

 We hear a lot of talk against dummy directors. These are no worse than dumb stockholders. There is always complaint about absentee ownership; but there should be equal disgust at absentee-minded ownership.
Today is the ideal time for a stockholders' revival. Depression forces have been routed. Economic expansion is in swing!
 Business, as estimated by the Babsonchart is only 4 per cent below normal and is now 17 per cent above a year ago.

Elmer Says...

Dear Editor,
 After much thought and a great deal of deliberation, I have come to the conclusion that tomorrow is August 1. In about another month, oysters and fall activities will be in full swing in Conshohocken again. I must admit I've never seen a cyster in full swing, in fact not even on a trapeze, but the idea is a good one.

Yes, sir, in about a month our school children will be plodding the main and side streets on their way to school. Will these schools be ready for the young boys and girls when September rolls around? The Third Avenue and Harry Street schools are being slowly "re-done" by the questionable procedure known politically as the W. P. A. project.

The question the citizens of Conshohocken should ask is whether or not the buildings will be really improved. Will these old buildings be less of a fire trap than they were last year? Will they do more than just "pass" inspection? After all, many a State inspected building is a fire trap depending on how, when and where the fire may start. Are the "re-made" or "make-shift" old buildings more healthful? Will they smell better than they did? Will the ventilation be better? Will our parents feel satisfied that their youngsters are in a room as good as should be?

Then again, how about the High School? Will September find the High School in the over-crowded state? Will the necessary alterations be made so that students will fit in the building? Last year there were so many high school students in some departments that the fact that the benches were inadequate to check accurately on attendance. Students could be out of the school building during class hours. Will our children this year be in school during school hours or will they be wandering around town?
 Has our borough been made ready for weather emergencies? That is, are they prepared for Fall and Winter weather? The snows of last winter caused a great amount of damage to our streets because of the fact that the borough was not prepared to remove snow fast enough. Fayette street is permanently marked and ruined by the persistent use of chains on the street. Local drivers were compelling to use chains because travel within the borough was impossible. Consequently more chain impacts were made to the fixed lane of traffic on Fayette street.

Past experience should serve as a lesson to our borough leaders. Prepare in the Summer for disadvantages of the Fall and Winter in both school and borough matters. Elmer...

U. S. Living Costs Rise During June

Cost of living in the United States for wage earners showed a further rise from May to June of 1.7 per cent, according to an announcement of The National Industrial Conference Board. The rise was due to a substantial increase in rent and in the price of food.
 Living costs in June were 4.9 per cent higher than in June, 1935, and 20.3 per cent higher than in April, 1933. The price of food increased 4.7 per cent from May to June. During June, food costs alone were 5.7 higher than in June of last year and 43.8 higher than in April, 1933.
 Rents during June were 11 per cent higher than a year ago and 23.8 per cent higher than January, 1934, the low point.

The total government debt is $3 billion dollars—approximately $1650 for each family in the United States.

Decree in Action Against Camp

Before a hearing on a petition for a preliminary injunction was held yesterday, it was agreed between the court, with Judge Knight presiding, and counsel for the interested parties that the matter should go over to the time for a final hearing. It was agreed that Judge Knight should issue a decree immediately as to the preliminary injunction. The action was Theodore J. Rennekamp versus William Goldberg and others, conducting Camp Kweebec.

The decree, as handed down reads: "And now, July 30, counsel for all parties being present the following consent decree is entered: A preliminary injunction is granted restraining the defendant, their agents and employees from conducting a camp near Mine creek, Conshohocken, and fully described in the bill of equity, in a noisy, boisterous and improper manner as to interfere with the rest, peace and comfort of the plaintiff. For the purpose of defining the words noisy, boisterous and improper they shall be held to mean in this decree the use of obscene and profane language at anytime, and the loud talking, shouting, singing, playing of musical instruments or blowing bugles after nine o'clock at night standard time. As to the other prayers of the bill the rule for a preliminary injunction is discharged. The defendants waive the right to a bond as required by the rules of equity practice."

The complaints sought to have the flow of Mine creek better regulated so that the complainant, a land owner below a dam built for a swimming place for the camp, will be as it was before the dam was erected. This matter will go over to the final hearing.
 The complainant is a Philadelphia resident, and the defendants are also residents of Philadelphia. The camp is located on Mine creek near Limerick.

Wills Probated

Matilda Archer, Pottstown, who died June 26, left an estate valued at $4,800. The estate is divided into five shares for these children: Jennie Shoemaker, Blanche Strimel, Matilda Humbert, Florence McKnight, and William Archer. The daughter Blanche Strimel is named executrix in the will, written April 7, 1934.

William DePronfantine, Abington, who died July 11, 1936, left an estate valued at $6,000. Two daughters, Ethel and Minnie DePronfantine, are each bequeathed $300; and the balance of the estate goes to the widow, Ida DePronfantine. The wife and daughters are named executrices in the will, written July 16, 1919. The wife renounces her right to administer, and letters were granted to the two daughters.

Mary E. Duke Smyth, West Conshohocken, who died July 19, left an estate of $4,600. Three children are named as beneficiaries. Two sons, Francis A. Smyth and S. Gordon Smyth, each receive one-third outright; and the remaining portion is placed in trust for a daughter, Marion S. Wertz, with her children as final heirs. The three beneficiaries are named executrix in the will, written April 4, 1933.

Charles E. Longacre, Upper Providence, died July 12, 1935, leaving an estate valued at $3,000. The widow, Grace Longacre, is named beneficiary. Decedent suggests that if his widow remarries she divides the remainder of his estate among his other heirs. He further states this is but a request, which his widow may carry out if she sees fit. The wife is named executrix in the will, written January 13, 1930.

Margaret A. Hallman, Norristown, who died July 10, left an estate valued at $4,000. After making a bequest of jewelry to a granddaughter, Doris J. Hallman, decedent leaves the balance of her estate to a son, Raymond E. Hallman. The son is named executor in the will, written June 30, 1932. In a codicil written May 17, 1934, decedent directs that if her son is a non-resident of the state of Pennsylvania at the time of her death the Norristown-Penn. Trust Company is to act as executor. The petition shows the son is now a resident of Detroit, Mich. Letters were granted to the trust company.
 Emma A. Scannell, Jenkintown, who died June 9, left an estate of $2,000. Children are named heirs. A son, Frank Scannell, is named executor in the will, written September 8, 1932.

Cashed Forged Checks at Ambler

Joseph R. Vance, 40, escaped forger from the Montgomery county prison, is believed to have passed two worthless checks on Ambler Merchants sometime Tuesday. Warden Martin L. Horn conferred with Chief Fred Fluck, Wednesday, when he learned a man signing his name under different aliases, one of which was "B. A. Reese" had victimized Ambler residents with checks of $17 and $28.
 The Reese alias was used by Vance when he was arrested in Royersford in August 1934. He was turned over to Norristown authorities and after conviction was given two years. He escaped July 3 by digging a hole in the foundation wall in the prison and fleeing through the warden's apartment. The description of the bank check near in Ambler tallies with that of the escaped Vance. He is wanted in five other counties on similar charges.

Final Rounds Near in Net Tournament

Seeded Players Lead Advance in Annual Tennis Competition. — Surprises Spring in Opening Rounds as Newcomers Star.

Moving along at a rapid pace, the annual Championship tournament of the Conshohocken Tennis Club, nears the final rounds, with the seeded players leading the advance. The lesser lights having fallen by the wayside in the earlier rounds, the favored stars gird themselves to do battle with one another for possession of the coveted crown.

Lloyd Montgomery defending champ and seeded No. 1, Abbott Botta, No. 2, Aan Moore, No. 4 and Herb Webster No. 5, and Matt Nuttall, No. 8 head the parade of favorites as they move into the 3rd round. All being recipients of byes in the first round and victorious in the second round matches.

1st Round
Dave Johnstone was responsible for the first semblance of an upset when he eliminated John Harris, 6-4; 3-6; 6-3.
Les Robinson toppled Bill Yocum

6-2; 6-1 in a match dominated by Robinson steady play. Bill Martin pitted against Frank Preas won the first set 6-6 but lost the second set 6-1.
Joe Gotwals proved too much for Armour Rishel and won out 6-3; 4-6; 6-4.
Buss Donnelly advanced to the second round by virtue of a defeat over Biz Murphy. Henry Rollins upset Bill Stackey.

In the second round Lloyd Montgomery had little difficulty in subduing Len Markel. Abbott Botta met with stubborn resistance from Howard Ramsey before turning in a 6-6; 6-2 victory. Alan Moore won rather handsily from Buss Donnelly 6-2; 6-2; Herb Webster, overpowering John Milton 6-0; 6-0; Joe Leary emerged victorious in a match with George Rafferty, 6-6; 6-4. It was erroneously stated in a previous writeup that Rafferty lost to Al Moore. Bill O'Rourke turned back Wilbur (Lefty) Graham 1-6; 6-4; 6-4. Bill Rosenberger of North Wales was carried to 3 sets by the fine play of Dave Johnstone, before accomplishing his objective, scores 3-6; 6-2; 6-3. Les Robinson triumphed over Bart Thwaites 6-4; 0-6; 6-3. Matt Nuttall defeated Walter Sylvester 6-1; 6-2.

In the women's division Kathryn Wood defeated Blanche Abbey 6-3; 8-6. Irene Murray and Mary Pheran put on an interesting match with Irene's greater experience carrying her to a 6-3; 6-2 victory. Betty Davis, top seeded and defending champion, won by a defeat over Margaret Berryman, while Mae Hipple second seeded advanced by the same route over Ella Berryman. Additional matches played Thursday. Bill Martin met Henry Rollins in a second round match, with the more experienced Bill winning 6-2; 6-1. Al Moore worked his way to the quarter finals at the expense of Les Robinson, with a streak of 6 straight to cop the set 6-3.

A. Wood Wins To Increase League Lead

up the burden of checking the menacing Wood clan. Weidner, the first man to face Gault, doubled and Becker and Boehm both trotted across the plate and Beecher pulled up at third. Pettine was retired at first on a hit to the pitcher but Arnold was walked and the bases were again filled with runners. Slater, who had already hit for a single and home run, was the next man up. Gault, however, pitched to him and forced him to hit a grounder to second base from where he was thrown out at first to end the game.

The Paper Makers got their last two runs in the lower half of the sixth inning. Gault opened the session with a resounding homer over the right field fence and they managed to push over another run before the side was retired.

Woody Becker had a perfect day at bat, collecting two singles in as many trips to the plate. The fielding of both Little and Boehm was brilliant, both making sensational stops and throws of hard-hit balls.

Comments on Happenings by Molly Matson

Riding in a real stagecoach and seeing many quaint sights is Mrs. Abbie Douglas, resident of East Ninth avenue, who is spending two months in Detroit and Dent, Idaho, twelfth as the ancient stage is, its route is quite a limited one, as it takes visitors only about the grounds of the Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn. "It is drawn by two horses, and seats twelve persons," Mrs. Douglas tells us, and just to hold to the illusion of other days, tintype photographs were taken of the party seated in the unusual vehicle. The old-time post office, the new "soletoke" apocryphal shop" and the old red school house where Henry Ford learned the three R's, are all included in the display, together with the little cabin in which immortal Abe Lincoln pored by candlelight over Blackstone's lessons. Mrs. Douglas relates, too, in an interesting letter to Conshohocken friends that they visited the old church called the Mary Martha Chapel, where a little concert all their own was played for them on the chapel organ. "There are about thirty historic buildings to visit on the Ford museum grounds," Mrs. Douglas says. "And a guide to enlighten you about everything. You may ask all the questions you wish. You may ride in an old-fashioned buggy, a phaeton, a sulky, a tally-ho or any of the antique vehicles which have been collected from all parts of America and placed there." Mrs. Douglas further reports that in the twenty days since she left Conshohocken, she has "been on the go steadily. I spent five days fishing, swimming and sight-seeing at Eight Points Lake, Lake Clair County, Michigan, 178 miles from Detroit. Later we visited Crystal and St. George Lakes, and from there to the Ford museum where we spent an entire day."

Speaking of travelers, Molly hears that the West Conshohocken party now visiting in Switzerland, is having a most delightful time. Mrs. John Adams, her son, Brooke and Florence Redington are the trio. The latest word from them is that they will attend the Olympic games in Germany, something that is enveloped with glamor for most of us, whether we know a distasteful swimmer or a polo player from a bank vault. At present, this party that Molly is sure is getting the most out of everything they are witnessing, is visiting at Sur-Laussanne, where the former home of the attractive Mrs. Adams, who as the pretty little Swiss girl, Hortense, lived there before coming to America and wedding an American. Returning to her home for a visit, she was there when the guns of the World War roared their opening message, and experienced quite a little difficulty returning here. This is her second visit to Switzerland and since her Mr. Adams and her son having her second year ago, Miss Redington writes to relatives here that they arrived in Holland, went to Switzerland, saw a Nazi parade at Basle, Switzerland, the Swiss-German borderland. Then down the Rhine, the party went to their present charming quarters. They will return shortly before Labor Day.

Honored at Birthday Party Arranged in complete surprise to Mrs. John Adams, who is the guest of honor at an attractive birthday party held last night by Dr. and Mrs. Robert Keller at their home in Oak Lane. Twenty-five guests were present including a number of local guests. Pink gladiolus and pink carnations prettily decorated the refreshment table. A number of gifts were presented to the celebrant.

Miss Tweedie Is Hostess Miss Mary Tweedie, 441 East Tenth avenue, was hostess to the Kill Kare Club at her home last night. Following games, refreshments were served. Summer flowers decorated the house. Members present were Mrs. Matti Nulia, who recently removed to Tenth avenue and Fayette street, Mrs. David Johnstone, Miss Irene Murray, Miss Helen Griffith, Miss Clara Rodenhagen, Miss Ruth Giles, Miss Hazel Bland and Miss Mary Adams, who is spending today at Riverview Beach.

They will also visit the Thousand Islands, and returning will stop at Kingston, N. Y., and Niagara Falls.

Thibault to Be Soloist

Famous Vocalist Sings Tomorrow at Dell—Jascha Heifetz to Appear Next Thursday

Conrad Thibault, noted vocalist, will appear tomorrow night at Robin Hood Dell in a program of unusual interest. A number of local residents will hear him. One of the music world's greatest soloists, Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, comes to Robin Hood Dell in Fairmount Park next week as one of the high points of the most impressive summer concert season ever arranged in this city.

Appearing with the men of the Philadelphia Orchestra, Mr. Heifetz will play next Thursday night, and is expected to attract one of the largest gatherings of the season. Mr. Heifetz, principal conductor of the Dell this season, will be on the podium. Mr. Heifetz has selected for his offerings that evening, Tchaikovsky's "Concerto in D major for Violin and Orchestra," and Gausson's "Poems of El Flat Major for Violin and Orchestra."

For the balance of the evening's orchestral program, Mr. Turbi will offer Brahms' "Tragic Overture," and Franck's Symphonic Poem, "The Wild Huntman." Ballet also Next week will also see another beautiful ballet performance by Catherine Littlefield and her Philadelphia Ballet. Miss Littlefield will present her program on Monday and Tuesday nights, with Saul Caston conducting.

The ballet will perform in the lovely "Soiree Galante" of Chopin; the lilting "Viennese Waltz" of Johann Strauss, and the haunting "Bolero" of Ravel. The choreography for each of the numbers is by Miss Littlefield, with Alexis Dolinoff, premier danseur and ballet master and Dorothea Littlefield, Miss Littlefield will appear with the entire group in "Soiree Galante." In the "Viennese Waltz," the principal characters of Ljaji and the Archduke will be danced by Miss Littlefield and Mr. Dolinoff, while the "Bolero" will be danced by Dorothea Littlefield, Mr. Dolinoff and four groups.

The success Miss Littlefield's ballet met with on its appearance at the Dell earlier in the season is expected to be repeated in greater measure at the coming performances. Mr. Caston, the associate conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra and one of the most popular conductors at the Dell this season, has selected Handel's "Water Music" for the program before the ballet.

A. Wood Wins To Increase League Lead

Defeats Royal Scots to Remain Unbeaten.—Homers Help Leaders in Victory. Hamilton and Royal Scots Meet on Monday.

Alan Wood increased their lead in the Twilight League last night when they defeated the Royal Scots by a score of 8 to 5.

The game was evenly contested for the first four innings with both sides hitting freely and the count being deadlocked. The Champions tallied three runs in the lower half of the sixth and this proved to be the margin of victory.

Francis started on the mound for the Iron Workers but after two were out and two runs had crossed the plate in the third inning he was replaced by Fraelich. The Scots added two more runs in the fourth but after that Fraelich settled down and blanketed them the remainder of the innings.

A home run by Lawler with the bases empty in the second and another by Chot Wood with Mellor on base in the sixth aided greatly in the victory for the Champs.

Shay Cummins, with two doubles and single in three trips to the plate, topped the batters of both teams.

W. C. Hamilton and the Royal Scots will clash in Monday night's game.

The Scots got to Wood in the fifth inning and by bunting three of their four hits with two outs scored both of their runs. Skelly, the first batter to face Wood in this inning, singled. Nattie and Strunack filed out. Sedor singled and then Shorty Olkewicz doubled to left center to score both Skelly and Sedor. Conway was retired for the final out of the inning.

Harry Coven robbed Newt Lawler of a sure hit when he leaped in the air to spear a line drive over first base in the sixth inning. Olkewicz made a breathtaking catch of Monastero's bid for a hit to end the game. These two sensational catches were the fielding gems of the game.

The second game of the series will be played on the local field on Wednesday, August 12.

Strunack, in Form, Blanks Iron Workers

A. Wood Batters Fail to Register a Hit as St. Mary's Wins League Game on Local Field.

With Alex Strunack, former Upper Merion High hurling almost a perfect game, St. Mary's C. C. local entry in the Schuylkill Valley League and title winner of the first half schedule, defeated Alan Wood, first-half title winner in the Twilight League, by a score of 2 to 0 in the first of a three-game series at the Center athletic field Wednesday evening.

For six innings Strunack was a perfect hurler, not allowing a hit or walk. In the seventh he lost control just long enough to issue a base on balls to Dull, the only Iron Worker to reach first base during the game. A minute later Dull advanced to second base on a wild pitch and there he was stranded.

Schoolboy Wood was on the mound for the local leaguers for the first time without his tonsils and he also pitched a clever game, although his performance was far outclassed by his opponent. He allowed only four hits and issued two passes.

Both sides were retired in order until the last half of the fourth when Conway singled for the first hit of the game after two men had been retired.

The Saints got to Wood in the fifth inning and by bunting three of their four hits with two outs scored both of their runs. Skelly, the first batter to face Wood in this inning, singled. Nattie and Strunack filed out. Sedor singled and then Shorty Olkewicz doubled to left center to score both Skelly and Sedor. Conway was retired for the final out of the inning.

Two Homers in First Defeat Erdenheim

Penn Square, first-half title winners in the Montco League, defeated Erdenheim in an interesting game on the Erdenheim grounds Tuesday evening by a score of 3 to 1.

Hussie was on the mound for the homesteaders and while he allowed only five hits and fanned six of the opposing batsmen, he made the fatal mistake of pitching too many home run balls. Twice in the opening inning he served up home-run pitches, one to A. Chalk and the other to P. Brooks, and these proved his downfall.

Hussie was opposed by Buckwalter and after the first inning the game proved to be a real pitching duel. Buckwalter was picked for Erdenheim in an interesting game on the Erdenheim grounds Tuesday evening by a score of 3 to 1.

Nicetown and C.A.C. Clash Here Tonight

Night Baseball to Be Inaugurated at Athletic Field.—Game to Start at 9.—Floodlights Being Installed For Game.

Conshohocken A. C. will inaugurate night baseball at the Center field tonight and as an opening attraction for the innovation the local management has obtained Nicetown, of the Philadelphia League. The game is purely an experiment and it depends entirely on the attendance to-night whether or not other games will be scheduled. The management has gone to considerable expense to stage the contest. Floodlights have been stalled and the field will be brilliantly illuminated in order that the players will be able to see the ball. Additional expense will also be incurred in paying for lost balls. In order to allow time to install the lighting system, the regular Twilight League game between Alan Wood and the Royal Scots, scheduled to be played this evening, was advanced to last night.

In securing the Nicetown team for the opening attraction, the local management is bringing here one of the best known teams in the entire Philadelphia League. The North Philadelphia team has been the victims of a lot of bad breaks this season and while they are far below their usual standing in the league race they have been playing good ball and losing out by very close scores. During the five years the league has been operating Nicetown has won the championship three times. In price the team has the best catcher in the league and he will do the receiving in tonight's game. Wes Slater, always one of the leading hitters in the league, a member of the John Wood team of the local Twilight League and a resident of the borough, has been the regular right fielder of Nicetown for the past several years and will also be in his regular position to-night. The visitors will present their regular lineup although no mention has been made as to who will be the starting pitcher.

Conshohocken will depend on their regular lineup which has won all but one of the Sunday games played on the Center field this season. The team is well fortified with hurlers although the selection for to-night's contest has not been announced and will not be until the team takes the field.

The game is attracting considerable interest in this section and preparations have been completed to handle one of the largest crowds that ever attended an athletic event in the borough.

The game is scheduled to begin at 9.

Play City Line Sunday
Conshohocken A. C. has scheduled City Line for the regular Sunday game at the Center athletic field and another good game is anticipated.

City Line has been a regular opponent of local teams for a number of years and are no strangers to the followers of the game here. The team has played a long schedule of twilight and week-end games this season and will return to the Center athletic field for their first contest this season with an enviable record, and confident of given the C. A. C. plenty of trouble.

The game will get under way at 3.

Park Project To Be Finished This Summer

hours per month, in weeks of four days, 7 1/2 hours a day. In event of hot time, due to rain, they sometimes work longer, and extend the week to five days, to make up the time.

Although the WPA crew is required only to work on the athletic field project, Thiem has arranged for them to keep the entrance of the park and the area surrounding the fountain in condition. This is done by men who are slightly incapacitated, and unable to stand the more arduous work of grading and trench-digging.

Psychology comes into play in the treatment of any "difficult" worker. There are four main bosses who aid in the work of supervising. If a laborer is not producing sufficiently, or is not giving the cooperation that he should, he is transferred to another boss. Under a different leader, he may adjust himself and work properly.

"We experience practically no trouble at all," it was stated at the project. "All the men seem anxious to do their part, and seem contented that they are able to earn their way.

Workmen on the job range from 17 to 72. "One of our best workmen is a man 72 years old. Look at him now. He works steadily, contentedly, and as hard, if not harder, than any young man around here," Thiem stated.

No Politics Politics enter in no way into the execution of WPA projects, as far as it could be learned, at Buelliff Park.

"There is positively no question whatever of a man's politics when he comes on this job," the supervisor declared. "Politics are rarely mentioned by anyone. The government is entirely fair-minded in the work, and we are instructed to let politics enter in no way and not to permit any solicitation of any kind by political agents. If such things should occur, they are violations of federal instructions."

"We have never had any such solicitation here, to my knowledge, and if such were made, the solicitor would be ordered from the grounds."

Progressive Move WPA projects are not just hit-or-miss projects for temporary improvement. Thiem points out:

"They are all carefully worked out with the idea of fitting in with future community or county improvement, such as laid out by the Tri-State Planning Commission. The supervisor of the local project served as a member of the original advisory board of the Tri-State Planning Commission in Philadelphia.

"All WPA projects are working toward the completion of the progressive Tri-State Planning Commission's plans, which are the orderly development of this entire section, and look ahead for fifty years," the supervisor asserted.

He pointed out that there was no federal connection with the Tri-State Planning Commission but that when projects are laid out by the county WPA board, they are done in such a manner that they may be incorporated in the largest movement to expand, progress and offer finer facilities for healthy living.

Federal labor could be secured for the proposed swimming pool here, Mr. Thiem feels sure. "There is no better time to build a pool than now, when an actual government grant can be obtained. In any project, where the government is not asked to furnish much materials or equipment, the request will have more chance of going through."

Reinhold Thiem made virtually all the plans for the community parks in the Perkase-Sellersville section, now being constructed there.

V. F. W. TO HOLD PICNIC The first annual picnic of the Montgomery-Bucks County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the auxiliary will be held Sunday, August 30, at Lake View Park, Royersford. Among the entertainment features to be presented will be afternoon and evening concerts by the Boys' Band of Lansdale Post, No. 32.

Gym Pupils in Boxing Bouts

Pupils of Physical Culture School Give First Monthly Exhibition in Manly Art of Self Defense.—Winners Given Awards.

The first exhibition in the manly art of self defense by the pupils of the Conshohocken Physical Culture School was given in the gymnasium at the K. of C. Building, Wednesday evening and an audience of more than 200 persons watched the youthful batters.

The bouts are arranged in the nature of contests with awards being presented the winners. Each month a pair of boxing gloves is awarded the winner of a bout between two boys not over eight years of age. At the conclusion of the series of bouts which are being held monthly to continue over a period of three months, a cup will be awarded the winner, to be decided by points. Points are given each month as follows: Ten points will be given the winner of each bout.

As an encouragement to all the boys, those who earn a draw or even those who lose the decision are given five points. The boy having the highest number of points at the end of the third month will be adjudged the winner. Three rounds constitute each bout.

Five exciting bouts marked the opening of the exhibitions. Donald Jones, 8, and Nicholas Vischio, 7, were the contestants for the boxing gloves and after an exciting fight of three rounds the decision was given Jones and he was the recipient of the first pair of gloves.

In the first of the bouts in competition for the cup, Leroy Shaw, 13, and Joseph Schank, 12 fought to a draw and each is credited with five points.

Arthur Schlagel 11, defeated Bobby Mitchell, 11, in the second bout of the contest and was given 10 points. Young Mitchell received five points for losing. He, however, came back in the next bout to win over Leroy Schlagel, 10, to gain an additional 10 points to give him a total of 15 points for the night. Leroy Schlagel receives five points. Kenneth Longacre, 11, and William Diesinger, 11, fought each other to a draw in the final bout and each will receive five points toward the cup.

As an added attraction there were three professional bouts of three rounds each, with no decisions. Midget Fox and Carl Volpe, two local lightweight, clashed in the first bout. Joey Hatfield, of this borough, and "Red" McQuinn, of Norristown, another lightweight duo, mixed it up in the second bout while the third and final bout brought together two welterweights, Joe Ciaccio and Tony Ciaccio, of Norristown.

The next exhibition will be held on the last Wednesday evening of August and the public is invited to witness the bouts without charge.

Norristown Police Chief Slated to Go

A complete reorganization of the Norristown police department is predicted next Tuesday night at the regular meeting of borough council. The most important change rumored is the removal of George Bausewine as chief of the department, which comprises 32 men. Bausewine has been chief since 1929. No reason for the rumored change has been advanced, but it is known that the safety committee of council at a meeting held behind closed doors, Wednesday night, passed a resolution calling for Bausewine's removal.

Members of the committee were sworn to secrecy, but at least one of the seven members talked and the information was known throughout Norristown, yesterday. Other changes are not rumored. One name mentioned for the position of chief is that of George M. Pratt, Spanish-American and World War Veteran, former Montgomery Sheriff and treasurer and a former Norristown borough council safety committee chairman.

Question Nephew of Man Sought as Slayer

Leonard Gallante, 22, Chestnut Hill, was questioned by District Attorney Frederick B. Smilie, yesterday, in the shooting of Harry "Big Harry" Weidman 57, Germantown, on July 20. The slayer, Leonard "Otto" Gallante, 30, Chestnut Hill, uncle of the younger man, is at large.

Young Gallante said he knew nothing of the actual murder, according to Mr. Smilie, but admitted being about the Chestnut Hill Hotel while Weidman and his uncle, and Miss Ida Quinn and a number of others sat in the hotel, before leaving on the ride which ended in Weidman's murder. Gallante was released in his own recognition after questioning.

CHEVROLET MORE THAN TWO MILLION KNEE-ACTION USERS SAY "World's safest, smoothest ride!" MORE THAN 2,000,000 Knee-Action cars are now in the hands of owners; and more people are buying Knee-Action cars this year than ever before. Ask any of these owners what they think of Knee-Action and they will tell you that actual owner experience, covering billions of miles of travel, has proved that it gives the world's safest, smoothest ride. You, too, will ride much more safely over all types of roads in a Knee-Action Chevrolet, because Knee-Action prevents front-wheel shimmy, gives easier steering and better braking control, and provides firmer, surer roadability at all engine speeds. You will also ride much more comfortably, because Knee-Action wheels "step over" bumps and holes, eliminate car pitching and tossing, and give every passenger a steadier, more enjoyable ride than can be obtained in any other way.
