More Inflation Seems Inevitable

Babson Discusses Relief and Social Security

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Massachusetts, June 25, 1937.—Strikes, Congress and Europe have knocked confidence galley-west. They are only temporary factors, and will not heckle industry indefinitely. Good crops this summer should pull business out of its current slump by autumn. As a matter of fact, these current disturbances are like a smoke-screen. They are obscuring our real problem—the constant trend toward inflation.

Today, though inflation is not making headlines, it is making headway. With stock prices drifting listlessly and business slipping downward, people unconsciously think more about deflation than inflation. This is the mistake made in every inflationary period. It is the biggest reason why inflation is so hard to control. If all were sure that inflation is coming, they would stop it. Like a severe disease, it makes its greatest progress in the incubation stages before the symptoms appear. They might have been no printing-press money in Europe if the majority of their people had been keen enough to recognize the trend during the critical "hatching" period. We must profit from Europe's experience.

New Kind of Insurance. Like everybody else, I have let inflation slip from mind during the last few weeks. Two recent Administration reports, however, have changed my back. The first was an address of Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA, which was read at the Babson Institute Commencement. Mr. Hopkins presented a serious doctrine. He said that cutting out the WPA would cost business a few pennies in taxes but for every penny saved from Uncle Sam it will have to give dollars to future depressions. The present government apparently feels that the WPA is here to stay. It wants business to consider the resultant increase in taxes as an insurance premium paid to delay the next depression.

Back in 1933 everyone honestly believed that our relief program was only an emergency measure. No one dreamed that such a vast handout would ever become a permanent policy—that millions would live on the public treasury forever! Federal authorities see little hope of getting rid of many welfare wards unless output jumps 20 per cent above the 1929 peak. Their contention is that not only has our population grown but fewer workers are needed because of labor-saving machinery. The increase in machinery since 1929, however, has been offset by the shorter work-week. Moreover, our population growth has produced only five per cent more workers than we had eight years ago.

What Permanent Relief Means. Hence, if output runs 5 per cent above the 1929 level, everyone should theoretically be back on private work. Industrial activity is nearly up to its old peak, but relief rolls show only slight losses. Moreover, there will be no drastic drop while the present easy policies are pursued. So long as governors and mayors swarm on Washington like mad hornets whenever a cut is announced, no economy can be made. Millions who never did work very hard will remain public charges if WPA is to be a permanent policy. The cost of their care will be about $2,000,000,000 per year. I see little hope of balancing our budget while this huge expense continues. As all history shows, there is only one outcome of reckless national spending: THIS IS INFLATION.

The second startling announcement from Washington was an obscure report that the Treasury would not have to borrow new money to pay its bills this year "because it could use Social Security taxes now pouring in." I believe in the basic principle of Social Security. I do feel, however, that the terms of the present legislation are not sound. I have long been afraid that the temptation to use the Social Security funds for the ordinary day-to-day expenses of the government would be too great for the Treasury to overcome. The recent notice from Washington confirms these fears.

Volunteering a Trust. Social Security money is in the nature of a trust fund. Washington is supposed to invest this money in government bonds so that when the time comes to pay out there will be a sufficient income to take care of all those who have contributed. Appropriating the receipts, as they come in, for running expenses and issuing bonds against them is a dangerous policy—ethically the violation of a trust. The Old Age Reserve Fund is expected to reach a maximum of over $45,000,000,000 within forty years. It must be invested solely in government bonds. Our federal debt today, although the highest in history is only $36,000,000,000. Hence, this encouragement, spending by Congress in order to create enough debt so that it can borrow all the Social Security fund and pay interest on it.

If we are to continue with the present law, the Reserve Fund provisions should be amended as follows: (1) The Social Security Board should be forced to acquire its government bonds by buying them in the open market. (2) The Social Security Board should be allowed to buy high-grade municipals—and possibly choice corporation issues. I do not think that United States government bonds are necessarily the soundest security in the world. They could suffer just as Germany and French bonds have suffered. The Old Age Reserve Fund should be diversified just as any soundly-managed trust fund.

Mutual Basis Sounder. The entire Social Security program, however, should be changed immediately. Congress should put it on a mutual, or pay-as-you-go basis. If so, the government could begin now to take care of all people who qualify. Each year the country would know exactly what its old age assistance and its unemployment aid is costing. Assessments would then be made on business, just as the losses are assessed on the policyholders of a mutual insurance company. This would eliminate the gigantic reserve fund and all its complications. But if the present set-up continues, I do not see how ultimate inflation can be avoided!

Elmer Says...

Elmer's column gives expression to his personal opinions which frequently are at variance with the editorial policies of the Recorder.

Dear Editor,
The borough tax collector is anxious for his money. He has been quick to see that all of us got our little white bills for both borough and county taxes. Now it is up to us to worry as to how we are to get the money.

This is the time of the year we should take stock of our town. Let's ask ourselves if we are getting our money's worth from the taxes we are forced to pay.
For the taxes we pay we get poorly patched streets—bumpy, humpy roads that councilmen with pride would be ashamed of.
For the taxes we must pay we get a few traffic lights that the policemen disregard and even permit auto drivers to run past—a use-your-own-judgment policy.
For the taxes we pay, we are given weeds growing in the streets at this time of the year.

Remittances, Drafts, Checks, Post Office Orders and Express Orders should be made payable to the order of RECORDER PUBLISHING COMPANY, FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1937.

For the taxes we pay, we get a thorough engineer and a group of yes, yes men who permit an outside contractor to come in and tear up our fairly good streets to lay sewers any way they want to.
For our borough taxes, we get no abatement from the dust nuisance caused by council's failure to oil and roll the clay covered trenches. Our tax money makes our council sit and do nothing about this serious nuisance—even though they are fully aware of it and know how to correct it.
For our taxes, we get inadequate street lighting and during thunderstorms, none at all.
For our taxes, we get a red lantern and a rope hung on streets to protect our children while steepling in the winter.
For our taxes, our gas stations are robbed of cash.
For our taxes, gambling joints are permitted to thrive within our borough.

These same taxes go to maintain a borough hall that is smelly and is not a model of what hygienic surroundings should be.
The chief assurance we get from the money we give to our councilmen is that our taxes aren't any higher. But this is not for long. We suggest that the men in council make up their minds to spend the people's money in such a fashion that we will see some real and lasting benefits for all of us.
For value received—that is what we should be paying taxes for.

Whitemarsh Schools Hold Exercises For Large Class.—Awards to Honor Students.—Rev. David Noble, D. D., Delivers Address.

"Stones of Foundation", was the theme of Rev. Dr. David Noble, pastor of the Leverington Presbyterian Church of Roxborough at the fiftieth annual commencement of the Whitemarsh Township Grammar Schools, held in the auditorium of the Barren Hill Consolidated School, yesterday afternoon.

In his address to the members of the graduating class, Dr. Noble made use of the biblical story of David and Goliath. To each of the stones contained in David's pouch, he gave the names practice, persistence, preparedness, naturalness, and perfection. With these he attempted to show the graduates the necessity of such qualities, in modern youth.

Rosemary Keyser was awarded the Fort Washington Post prize for excellence in English and Mathematics, the Cold Point Community Club award for English. Jane Boyer of the Barren Hill School was presented with an award for best attendance.

Joseph Colubriole, received the title presented to the students portion of the program. Thomas A. Edison and Jane Adams were typical exponents of these traits in the minds of Charles Smart and Anna Makamowicz, who portrayed these great Americans. William Wurster spoke upon the class motto, "To live a well rounded life; be square."

The school orchestra, entertained with several musical selections. Mr. James H. Little, president of the school board presented the members of the class of 1937, with the diploma, significant of the completion of eight years of school-work in the local house of learning.

Class officers are Richard Kahoe, president; Alice McCaughan, secretary; and Doris Beaver, treasurer. The class colors are cherry and white, the flowers, red rose and the white rose.
The invocation was given by the Rev. H. M. Bower, pastor of the St. Peter's Lutheran Church, of Barren Hill. Dr. Noble pronounced the benediction.
The class roll:

National Swim for Health Week

Weeks may come and weeks may go, but this is a "week" which if observed properly, means fun and better physical condition. For this is National Swim-for-Health Week! North, east, south and west, men, women, boys and girls are formally and informally observing this week, with indulgence in America's greatest summer pastime. The New York State, Norristown, is marking the week with an aquatic display on living models, which shows all the newest and most attractive fashions for this recreation.

Trim swim suits, that fit with that casual perfection everyone so admires, the new dressmaker suits, which combine a feminine charm with comfort and practicality, the attractive satin lastex and celanese suits. A riot of color, charm and comfort not only for Swim-for-Health Week, but for all the rest of a carefree summer.

APPROVES DISPOSAL PLAN
June 22, 1937.
To the Recorder:
In regard to your editorial of this date about refuse removal, it seems to me that the system suggested, that is, the 75 cents charge per $1000 assessed valuation and that would be done by borough employees and trucks is a very wise one and should be adopted at the earliest possible moment.
I hardly think any property owner would object to this system, as it would surely benefit everybody in respect to cleanliness and health.
Yours truly,

In This Corner

Somehow, for some inexplicable reason, baseball this year doesn't appear to have aroused nearly as much interest in Conshohocken as it did a decade or so ago.

Once a hotbed for the nation's pastime, the Ironcon has become almost dormant in its attitude toward localized baseball.

It seems that ever since the local team withdrew from the Montgomery County League and the Industrial League of ten or more years ago folded, the fans have steadily given ball games in this borough the absent treatment, with the exception of Pat Mellon's Club of five or six years ago.

Not that there aren't good ball players these years, because many good semi-pros have been developed in and around Conshohocken in the past few summers some of whom have nicked a name for themselves in fast semi-pro leagues, and one, Perk Smith, had a tryout with the Phillies.

But either there are other diversions taking their attention or the fans are just lax in turning out for the contests, there certainly is a noticeable decrease in attendance.

Even the high school games this year have suffered. The Golden Bears attracted the smallest crowds perhaps in the history of the school. But there is a reasonable excuse for this. The season this year was one of the poorest they've ever had. Hardly any hitters and as for pitchers and fielders—we won't go into that.

They won one game in the Suburban Three League competition to finish in last place. The victory came early in the season over Downingtown.

The schoolboys played the best they knew how, but it was a rather sad knowledge they had. Coach Mook didn't have a real seven-inning pitcher on the squad and the rest of the team for the most part was the color of the grass they played on. One or two of the boys appeared to gain experience with each succeeding game and showed subsequent talent in the hitting and fielding departments, but one or two can't play every position ubiquitously, and aren't allowed to bat for the rest of the team.

The old Montgomery county league used to furnish the fans with some fine baseball. You used to get a kick out of watching the players each Saturday afternoon they played at home, and if you were fortunate enough, to travel around the loop with them. If they weren't big leaguers—and some of them had been—you had the satisfaction of watching how Fidge Kepner or Pottstown burned 'em in or how Howard Lohr and Eddie Gerner of the Long Greensville only got those long baseballs a number of times being home runs; and viewing others who had had tryouts with various major league clubs. Lohr and Gerner still do a bit of outfielding with semi-pro outfits in Philadelphia. And they weren't any Spring chickens then.

The Industrial League this year is composed of some veterans who have been around in amateur and semi-pro circles for some time, players who possess natural ability and color, and the usual lot of "just fair" tossers who never seem to get any better no matter how much playing they do year after year.

There have been a number of well played, thrilling games so far this season, which have indicated the calibre of playing the Industrial league has to offer. Several of the players in the league are members of semi-pro clubs in this vicinity which stand high in the ratings.

The member clubs in the league are John Wood, Alan Wood, Royal Scots, Spring Mill, Hamilton and Lavino have given several good exhibitions at the Athletic field. Right now John Wood rests in first place with the rest of the teams in the order above named.

Behind the four hit pitching of L. Stans, Sherwood trounced Barren Hill on the losers field, 10-1.

Two three base hits by Beau and Curly, lb, gave the Conshohocken team win for the second consecutive time. The locals will travel to Lansdale, Sunday afternoon.

Royal Scots Win in Clever Hurling Duel

Staats and Lees, in Rare Form, Give Brilliant Exhibition.—Final Score 1-0.—Hamilton Beats Boiler Makers.

Two walks, a single by Jimmie Ford, in the second inning, scoring John Deever, were the only run of the game was enough scoring for the Royal Scots to shade John Wood on the Center diamond, last evening, 1-0.

Witner Staats and George Lees, rival pitchers, were in rare form, each chucking their opponents four hits, two doubles and the same number of singles. It was the invincibility of Staats in the pinches, which carried the Norristown outfit to victory and a second place tie with the losers.

The winners might have fattened their score at the expense of Lees, had they not tried any fancy base running when they were on the paths.

A last ditch rally by the Jack Wood team, had the unusually large crowd of approximately 200 fans on edge. Speacht opened the latter part of the seventh by grounding out. Pitcher Lees fanned, making it two down. Elmer Weidner lifted one of Staats' pitches over the right field wall for a two bager. Boehm drew the fifth walk given by Staats.

Then Johnny Deem went deep off second to field Slater's sizzling grounder, which was ticketed for a single, to end the game.

Alan Wood took possession of first place in the Twilight League Tuesday night despite the fact they did not play.

They did not slide into the top position by reason of a forfeit they advanced in the standing because of the defeat of the John Wood team at the hands of the Hamilton Paper Makers.

The Boiler Makers got off to a one-run lead in the upper half of the first stanza when Weidner walked and was advanced to second as Boehm took first after being hit by a pitched ball. Wes Slater bunted to the pitcher and all runners were safe when Gault threw late to third to catch Weidner. Shore fanned but Weidner crossed the plate on Ritchie's sacrifice.

Speacht, the ace of the John Wood hurling staff, allowed only two hits in the first four stanzas but in the fifth the Paper Makers tallied five runs on only one hit. Lawler walked and advanced to second on Way's single. The bases were full when Gault was safe on a leader's choice with three balls and no strikes on Hayes. Becker relieved Speacht on the mound. Hayes worked Becker for the fourth ball and Lawler was forced across the plate with the third run. Traill bunted and was safe when Boehm made a wild throw to first way scoring on the play. Gault was out at the plate. Shore bunted to Ritchie. Wright was out second to first. Hayes scoring. Arnone walked and when Ritchie threw wild into center field trying to catch him stealing second, he followed Traill across the plate, two more runs scoring. The winners tallied two more runs in the sixth. Togo and Way both singled and they crossed the plate on Boehm's error on Hayes' grounder.

The Boiler Makers put on a rally in the seventh which netted three runs. Becker baited for Bodkin and singled. Priest baited for Alexander and hit to Gault who made a bad throw to second trying to get Beecher on a force play. Beecher going to third on the error. Becker grounded to short and Beecher scored on the out. Weidner walked and both runners scored on Boehm's double. Kerchener relieved Gault and retired the next two batters to end the game.

Local Team To Open With North Phillies

Conshohocken All Stars Will Open Season on Center Athletic Field Sunday.—Hannigan and Gill in Line-up of Local Team.

The Conshohocken All-Stars, a team composed of the cream of players in the Twilight League together with a few out-of-town players, will play their first game of the season at the Center athletic field Sunday afternoon with the stately North Phillies as the opening attraction.

Tommy Hannigan and Danny Gill, coach and assistant coach of the local football team, have been signed for the new team and will be in the opening game. Hannigan is an outfielder and Gill is a pitcher, doing mound duty for the Barren Hill team of last season. Other players who will see action include Ritchie, Penn A. C. catcher; Norm Wright, Newt Lawler, George Pettigrew, Boehm, Besch, Weidner, Dennis, Lees, Beecher, Speacht and Billting.

The field has been used by the Main Line Giants on which to play their Eastern Seaboard League games. The venture for the colored team did not measure up to expectations, the attendance was small and the team lost money from the outset, with the result they have withdrawn from the borough.

The North Phillies is one of the oldest ball clubs in Philadelphia and are recognized as one of the leaders. Last Sunday they defeated Mt. Holly in a 12-inning game by a count of 6 to 5. They will have their strongest team on the field for the opening game in this borough.

Tattling on Topics Sports and Otherwise

If the price of beef keeps soaring, it will be rare when you get it no matter how well cooked it is.

A number of residents are expressing the opinion the dust bowl has been transferred from the West to the East and planted at Fayette street and First avenue, in the heart of the business section.

If the report is true that labor is so cheap in the South, that North Carolina man who is raising $2,000,000 to prevent Governor Earle's possible nomination for the Presidency in 1940, should be able to engage a lot of workers below the Mason and Dixon Line.

If Horace Jones, 2d., and Elsie Garthwaite can continue to show the same form after they advance to the senior class that they are showing in the junior class, Conshohocken will rank high in golfing for some years to come. Both of these youthful players follow in the footsteps of their elders. Spencer L. Jones, father of Horace, has won more than one championship and Mrs. A. A. Garthwaite, mother of Elsie, has been one of the leading women golfers in this section for a number of years.

What this country needs, as much as a good five-cent cigar, is a few "white hopes" who can crash through to victory.

Conshohocken's colored population was as jubilant as that of other places over Joe Louis' ascendancy to the fistie throne Tuesday night when he defeated Jimmy Braddock for the world's heavy title at Chicago.

Dealware will open their new million-dollar race track to-morrow at Stanton, about six miles out of Wilmington. A number of devotees of the sport from this vicinity will witness the opening races.

C.H.S. Athletes Given Awards

Sweaters and Letters Awarded Boys and Girls in Athletic Competition.—Alterations to Auditorium Necessitate Change.

Athletic awards were made at the Conshohocken high school on the closing day of school. Because of repairs being made to the auditorium the regular custom of making the awards at assembly was of necessity dispensed with and presentations were made in the various classrooms.

Sweaters and letters were awarded to boys who played on junior varsity teams for one year and on Varsity teams for two years. The same were awarded to girls playing on the Junior Varsity basketball team for one year and on the Varsity team for two years.

The awards were made by Head Coach John Mook, Track Coach Clarence Moll and Miss Helen Eisenberg, director of girls' athletics.

In addition to those who received sweaters and letters there were a large number of boys and girls who received varsity and scrub letters.

Those receiving sweaters and varsity letters were Anthony Clancy in football and a letter in track; John Bialark (captain) sweater in track and letter in basketball and football; Leonard Travinne, sweater in football and letter in basketball; Frank Wood, sweater as manager in football, and letter in baseball; Walter Maziarz, sweater in football and letter in baseball; Donald Lambert, sweater in football; Charles Ramsay, sweater in basketball and letter in football; Raymond Wanning, sweater in basketball and letter in baseball and football; Tommy Bruno (captain) sweater in baseball and letter in football.

Girls—Helen Svutsky (captain), Aimee Taylor and Ruth Hill, managers. Letters in senior year were received by Paul Long, Anthony Pettine, John Pudilinski and George Kurtz.

Letters were received by the following juniors: Robert Webster (three sports), Russell Wright, Daniel Thompson, Herbert Dennis, (manager), Robert McFarland, Vincent Bogdan.

Varsity letters were received by the following girls—Eva Thomas, Betty Hassinger, Josephine Alphonse and Mary Kozial.

COMPETITIVE GAMES The Men's Bible Class and the United Association of the Methodist Church will meet at the church Monday night, to participate in competitive games.

H. C. Jones, 2d Golf Titlist

Local Youth Captures 1937 Philadelphia Junior Boys Event on Merion Court.—Defeated Peter Page in Exciting Match Wednesday.

Horace C. Jones, 2nd, son of Spencer L. Jones, of 516 Fayette street a prominent golfer in his own right, captured the 1937 Philadelphia Junior Boys championship when he defeated Peter Page, a popular Haverford School golfer, one up, on the Merion West Course, Wednesday afternoon.

Pulling ahead of Jones on the 16th, Page fell behind when the Conshohocken boy laid down a drive which stopped six feet from the pin and sank it for a birdie two. Page falling behind with a par three.

Out of bounds on the eighteenth and trailing Page as a result, Jones wiped out the lead, with a beautiful chip shot stopping inches from the hole. Jones put halved the hole, giving him the title, after Page failed to sink a 20 foot putt.

In gaining the final round, young Jones stowed away August Olsen, Philadelphia Interscholastic Champin, 4 and 3 in an early morning match. The local youthful player has teamed with his father in capturing many father and sons titles in this area. Spencer L. Jones has also reigned as Pennsylvania and Philadelphia amateur titleholder.

SPRING MILL WINS

John Kelly pitched shut out ball as Spring Mill bested Mingo A. A. on the Center field, Wednesday evening, 1-0. Lefty Kelly hit a home run in the second frame to win the ball game for the Millers.

"RECORDER" WILL TRAVEL TO ITALY, THIS SUMMER

Always a "widely travelled" paper, the RECORDER will visit Italy this summer.

Throughout a three months' stay at a villa in the Italian mountains, the summer home of his parents, Rev. Victor Strumis, rector of St. Cosmas and Damian R. C. church, will read the RECORDER as usual. "I like the RECORDER so much, I couldn't do without it," he stated today. It will be mailed to him regularly throughout his stay.

In addition to mailing the RECORDER to every part of the United States and to Canada, the mailing list reveals that it is sent regularly to a number of foreign countries.

Riant Theatre In New Dress

Eight new modernistic lights will illuminate the interior, in easy-on-the-eyes indirect lighting fashion. Four of them, entirely of white metal, are ten feet in length and four are six feet. They are placed on the main wall panels and in the lobby interior.

Beautiful new covers, gray, red and sunbunny, adorn the seats.

Painted directly on the plaster of the main section of the wall east and west, are two giant murals, the work of a talented New York artist.

Directed personally by Benjamin F. Bacht, theatre manager, the effect of the wall pictures are symbolic of this community. To the right of the theatre, is an industrial composition, depicting the making of steel.

Basic industry. Idealized workmen are shown contributing their efforts to this vital branch of commerce.

Directly opposite is the second mural, a composition showing in classic, ideal manner, Conshohocken's "community side," its joys and pleasures. Both are done in the new, simplified modern style, executed in subtle hues.

The entire sound equipment has been revamped and amplified throughout, offering clear, improved reception. Expert sound engineers have directed the work.

The screen has been placed in the most modern condition. The stage curtains, new recently, have been refreshed and re-hung.

Handsome modernistic furniture of bright-hued leather and chromium has replaced the former furniture in the restrooms. The color scheme of pearl grey and French grey, has been retained in the women's waiting rooms, the divan and chairs fashioned of dubonnet and black metal and chromium, with shades harmonizing with the room.

A color scheme of black white and brown, is carried out in the men's waiting room, walls of tile and chairs of brown leather and chromium.

The marquee, extending for some distance over the pavement at the theatre front, has been extended to a distance of forty feet around the building. Of a rich red and stainless steel, it is non-equipped throughout its entire length, and is one of the finest marquee of its kind in the east.

Solid walnut wood is used in all the outside trim. A new cashier's booth has been erected, finished throughout in solid walnut.

A large "R", representative of the theatre, fashioned of mosaic, marks the center of the exterior lobby, the floor made entirely of mineral composition, with mosaic designs. Pale blue and orchid blend in the ceiling, in Renaissance design.

Taken as a whole, the new decorative scheme carried out at the Riant Theatre is one of rich, subdued color. A local artist, glimpsing it, stated "you never tire looking at a color scheme like this."

L. C. K. Ridginton, controller for the Novelty Amusement Company, Benjamin F. Bacht, manager of the theatre and Thomas Forsyth, assistant manager, have directed the intensive work of renovation.

The theatre has been completely transformed since we closed it June 12. "one of the theatre officials stated, "People of Conshohocken will feel as though they have a brand new theatre, we feel sure. The former standards, of good, clean entertainment—using only the best of pictures available, has not been changed, however."

ASCO Employees Enjoy Outing

"Total receipts for the day" showed a huge profit in the columns of fun, good-fellowship and genuine enjoyment.

This was the tabulation for the annual outing of American store managers and employees of the Norristown-Conshohocken district, held Wednesday afternoon and evening at Forest Park, Chalfonte. A number of the executives of the Philadelphia offices of the American Stores attended the event, voted by Conshohocken's delegation "the best outing yet."

A baseball game between the Married Men and "Those Still at Liberty"; new and old games, athletic contests, and plenty of camaraderie among the two hundred employees, excites and guests, featured the program. Supper, provided by the company, was served under the trees.

Among the local members of American Stores, attending were: John Skilton, manager, Leo Hickey, Russell Reiff, Howard Moore, Alfred Mattson and Mrs. Walter Squire, of the First avenue and Fayette street store; Charles Snyder, manager, and Miss Thelma Horst, of the Tenth avenue and Fayette street store; John Palmer, manager and Howard Smith of the Sixth avenue and Wells street store and Sylvester Dann, manager, William Dewees and Miss Gertrude Flynn of the West Conshohocken store. Members of the married employees' families also attended.

Among the executives present were: Joseph Bamford, general superintendent; Samuel Hillard, general superintendent, meat department; Claude Markley, superintendent of the district; Jessie Dietz, meat department head; John Martin, field man; Harry McMullen, meat superintendent.

Alfred Mattson was chairman of the food committee for the outing.

Former Policeman Files Slender Suit

Claiming he has been injured to the extent of $25,000 Herbert Albany, former Lower Merion Township police officer, filed a slender suit, in the office of the Prothonotary at Norristown, against William Parker, and William J. Parker, trading as William Parker and Son, of Ardmore.

Albany alleges that as result of certain remarks by and through at least one of said partners, to wit, William J. Parker, contrived not only to deprive the said Herbert Albany of his good name, fame and credit, abroad and to bring him into scandal and disrespect among his neighbors, and also to subject the said Herbert Albany to the loss of his position as a police officer of the Township of Lower Merion, did at various times and at various places and to various persons, including the superior officers of the said Herbert Albany, stating that he did not pay his bills, and that he owed them money and refused to pay the same.

BOB AND BARBARA RANCH - SHOPPING

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck went shopping for a ranch on their days off from their co-starring picture, "This Is My Affair," which is showing at the Norris Theatre, Norristown, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

Taylor denies that it will be a wedding present, explaining that he had always wanted a ranch, and that Miss Stanwyck was contributing her time and help in hunting for a suitable location, preferably in near-by San Fernando Valley.

The young film star, who has soared to world-wide prominence in such a short time, hoped to find an unimproved tract of land that he could landscape to suit himself, building a ranch-type home on it.
