BRAVE GIRL BATTLES WITH BURGLAR

YOUNG WOMAN SAVES HICKORY-TOWN HOME FROM BEING BURGLARIZED—FIGHTS WITH POWERFUL MAN AND IS KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS—FAMILY DID NOT HEAR SCUFFLE—BURGLAR ESCAPES.

A fierce battle between an athletic young girl and a burglar which ended by the girl being beaten and badly bruised and rendered unconscious and the burglar making his escape, occurred late Friday night at the home of S. C. Fisher, on the Germantown Pike between DeKalb and Arch streets, Norristown.

The girl who proved herself a heroine is Miss Edna Dennis, 18 years old, of Delanco, N. J., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fisher.

About 4 o'clock on Saturday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher heard groans coming from the hall way near their bed room and Mr. Fisher arming himself with his revolver investigated and found Miss Dennis in an unconscious condition at the head of the stairway. She was removed to her room and a physician summoned. When she was able to talk, she told the following story:

She said that some time between 11 o'clock and midnight she was aroused by a noise in the dining room. The family had retired early and Miss Dennis went to her room shortly afterward.

She describes the noise as being like the thud of a heavy body and the clink of silverware. Miss Dennis drew on a kimono and cautiously descended, taking care not to arouse the Fishers lest her fear be ungrounded. She says she groped through the dark hallway to the dining room, and at this juncture she heard a shuffling as though some one were crouching nearby.

"Who's there?" she demanded in a low tone. "What do you want?"

There was no answer. Instead the shuffling was heard again. This time it sounded as though the unseen person was crawling into the kitchen.

A light was burning dimly outside the kitchen window. Miss Dennis decided to dash into the kitchen and take a chance on seeing the intruder in the flickering light of the lantern outside.

She says that no sooner had she entered the kitchen than a short, powerful man arose by her side and grasped her by the throat. Miss Dennis is a muscular, active girl, whom outdoor sports have given remarkable strength and cool, steady nerves.

She began to wrestle with the man and succeeded in staggering with him across the room to the kitchen table. The man had twisted her arm behind her. As he slowly drew her hand it struck the table. Her fingers touched the handle of a knife and she seized it.

She gave a mighty wrench and freed the imprisoned hand. She then swung the knife above her head and was about to strike her antagonist with the blade when he struck her a powerful blow behind the ear with his fist. She dropped, dazed. As she fell she struck the table, upsetting it and cutting a gash in her jaw.

She says she recovered her senses and looked around but the man had fled. The door was open. The knife was still clenched in her hand. She managed to stagger to the stairs and crawl to the top landing where she fainted.

Neither before, during or after the struggle did the girl scream. Neither did the Fishers hear the combatants stagger around the room nor the table fall with the girl. Mr. Fisher heard a low moaning four hours later. He sat up and called to his wife to listen. The moan was repeated. Fisher grabbed his revolver and went to the hallway. He saw Miss Dennis lying close to the staircase, and when he reached her side she moaned again. He struck a light and at once saw that a terrific fight must have taken place.

He telephoned for a physician, and Mrs. Fisher tried to restore the insensible girl to consciousness. The doctor revived her after some effort and she told her strange story. The police are investigating but have little clue to the stranger's identity, as Miss Dennis is unable to describe him further than that he is a white man, about five feet eight inches tall and powerful.

THE WEST SIDE WATER QUESTION

THE SUPPLY BEING FURNISHED CONSUMERS IS UNFIT FOR USE AND PRESENT INDICATIONS POINT TOWARD A REPETITION OF THE TROUBLE EXPERIENCED TWO YEARS AGO WHEN THE PIPES BECAME CLOGGED.

The urgent need of the West Conshohocken Town Council purchasing the water system in that borough and placing it under municipal control, as favored several months ago, in the report submitted at a mass meeting of the citizens, by the special committee appointed by Town Council is being manifested more clearly every day.

Two years ago the entire service was put out of commission by the refuse, collected on the sides and bottom of the reservoir, finding their way into the service pipes and plugging them up so tight that it was impossible for the consumers to get any water for several days.

During the past few days many of the water consumers have noticed that when the spigots are opened a yellowish mossy substance, runs through the pipes and in a number of instances the flow of water has been almost entirely shut off by this accumulation.

The matter has been brought before the attention of the Water Committee of Town Council as well as the local Board of Health, and the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

Since the trouble of two years ago the West Conshohocken Water Company, composed of Reading Capitalists with Howard Ahrens as president, have made considerable improvements to the plant, notified the consumers of a sharp advance in the rates and fixed the selling price of the entire system (if the borough wishes to buy it) at $42,500.

At a mass meeting of the citizens in January called for the purpose of considering the purchase of the plant and placing it under Municipal control, a committee of seven citizens was appointed to confer with the officials of the Water Company, and obtain their lowest figure for selling the plant. The committee submitted an exhaustive report at a meeting in the early part of May in which they cited a number of instances where boroughs no larger than that of the West Side were operating their own water plants. All of the members individually favored the purchasing of the plant, as did many of the citizens present, but all expressed the thought that the price asked was exorbitant.

The meeting was unproductive of any definite action and on motion that another meeting be held on July 20th, adjournment was in order. There was no meeting held on July 20th, as Borough Solicitor M. F. Donnelly, and the Water Committee took up the matter jointly and were not ready at that date to submit anything new. However, the quality of water that is now being furnished which has been brought to the attention of Town Council and the Health authorities, and the demand for an increase in the rate to take effect the First of next year will in all probability cause some definite steps to be taken in the very near future, of acquiring control of the plant.

HAD TOES AMPUTATED.

Heavy stones, becoming dislodged from a huge pile fell on the foot of Tony Phanbagon, a laborer in a local quarry, on Friday, and the member was so badly crushed that it was necessary to amputate all five toes at Charity Hospital, Norristown, on Saturday.

Tony resides at 116 Maple street, and was standing near the pile of stones when several on top started to roll. He made a futile effort to stop the heavy rocks and while so doing, one weighing fully a hundred pounds fell with great force upon his right foot, crushing both shoe and flesh.

His cries for aid brought fellow workmen to the scene and they removed the stone from the member. At the institution every effort was exerted to save the member but it was deemed necessary to cut off the five toes, owing to the large amount of blood oozing and flowing therefrom. The operation was performed successfully and it is now expected that he will recover.

ROWDY PICNICKERS START A SMALL RIOT

START FIGHT ON A TROLLEY CAR ON SUNDAY NIGHT AND CREATE A DISGRACEFUL SCENE—MEN WERE DRUNK AND BOISTEROUS AND THEIR ACTIONS CREATED MUCH INDIGNATION.

Passengers on the trolley car leaving here about eight o'clock Sunday evening for Norristown, were witnesses to a most disgraceful scene at Cedar Grove lane, near Harmanville.

There was an all day picnic held on the Davis farm, in Whitmarsh township, along the North Lane, which was participated in by residents of the Conshohockens, Norristown, and Manayunk and other nearby places. There was a lot of beer at the place and the picnickers indulged very freely. As darkness set in and the crowd was ready to go home, a number of them boarded a trolley car bound for Norristown at the North Lane and when the car reached the next switch at Cedar Grove lane, a fight had been started. The car was crowded and the women passengers became frightened and jumped from the car. In a few minutes every one had left the car and a free for all fight was being engaged in and before the fight was stopped the whole neighborhood had been aroused and much excitement was created. Men, passengers on the car assisted the crew in separating the combatants and the car continued its journey.

Residents of the section were particularly annoyed during the late afternoon as some of the intoxicated picnickers were particularly insulting to persons traversing North Lane and much complaint has been made.

FOOLED THE UNDERTAKERS

When Undertaker Came for Body, Supposed Dead Man Ran Away.

Edward Murphy, who lives with his parents on Fayette street below Elm, has a highly developed sense for morbid humor and indulged in this on Saturday, to such an extent that he gave his family a severe shock and caused an undertaker to take a long drive only to find out that a morbid joke had been played.

Murphy has recently been discharged from a Philadelphia hospital at which place he was treated for diabetes and come to his home here. While his health has been greatly improved, he has not recovered robust health and on Saturday he went to Kensington to visit friends. About eight o'clock the same evening, his family received a telephone message that Edward had died at the home of his friend. Murphy's wife and his brother immediately called upon a local undertaker and requested that he go to Philadelphia and secure the body. The local undertaker called upon an undertaker in Kensington and asked him to prepare the body and notify the coroner. The undertaker drove to the address given, with an ice box and other paraphernalia and was surprised to learn that Murphy had not died there, but his friends believing that something might happen to him gave an address in Frankford where Murphy said he was going. The undertaker drove to the Frankford address and as he was alighting from his wagon, Murphy ran out of the house and into an alley shouting at the undertaker, "that is the time I fooled you."

While the undertaker in Philadelphia was going on his wild goose chase, Murphy's family here, were making preparations to receive the body, when he walked into his home, thinking he had played a fine joke as he did the telephoning himself, and came home to witness the result of his silly action.

Owner Recovers Auto.

The owner of the five-passenger Cadillac touring car which was left at the home of Harvey B. Mest, in Stowe about two weeks ago by three unknown men who said they would return for it in a couple of hours, has been found. Or rather he has found the machine. The owner of the car is Lewis H. Brown, No. 2401 Seyfert street, Philadelphia. He came to Pottstown Saturday and claimed the car, which was given him by Mr. Mest, and which he took with him back to the city after having the necessary repairs made.

CRIPPLE KILLED BY READING FLYER

WAS WALKING ON THE RAILROAD AND STEPPED FROM ONE TRACK TO LET A TRAIN PASS AND WAS KILLED BY THE SOUTH BOUND FLYER. CARRIED CARDS WITH NAME OF CHARLES KLEIN.

An unknown man was instantly killed by being struck with a Reading Flyer due at West Conshohocken, at 1.27 P. M., Saturday afternoon about 200 feet north from Hall's crossing.

The man was a cripple and had been walking south on the north bound track when he saw a coal train approaching, he stepped over onto the south bound track and the noise made by the coal train prevented him hearing the approaching passenger train. The pilot of the flyer struck him and threw him on his hands and face on the right of way, instantly killing him.

He was not mangled but many bones in his body were broken and he was badly bruised. Patrick McShane, who lives near the scene of the accident found the body lying along the right of way and secured assistance and brought it to the West Conshohocken station. Coroner King was notified and came here to view the body and make an investigation. He found a few cards bearing the name of Charles Klein and bore an appeal to "aid a poor cripple." A couple of packages of court plaster were also found in his clothing. The coroner gave the body in charge of undertaker Carroll, at whose morgue the body lies awaiting identification.

The man was a cripple having had a broken leg which was never properly set and had two fingers amputated from his left hand. He was about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighed about 170 pounds. He was of smooth face and dark complexion.

The man is not known in this section and no clue was found upon him by which his relatives or friends could be located.

At noon to-day the body has not been identified and it is likely that it will be buried to-morrow.

A SNAPPER SUPPER

Large Snapper was Improperly Cured and Tongue had to be Substituted.

The members of the Up-Town Social Club had planned to have a fine snapper supper at their club house, at Ninth avenue and Harry street, on Saturday evening and Alex. Long and John Irwin were appointed head chefs to prepare the snapper soup. They secured a fine recipe for the concoction from the Eastern Shore of Maryland in which it was explained the proper curing of the snapper added to the deliciousness of the dish.

A large snapper was secured last week and on Thursday it was killed and then the chefs took the carcass in hand for the curing process. Instead of putting the carcass on ice after the animal heat had passed from it, it was to be laid in the air away from the sun's rays. The snapper was properly put away where the sun did not reach it, at it was night time, but the next day, when the sun again got on the job, the snapper was there too getting a fine sun bath. When the chefs arrived early Saturday afternoon to prepare the soup, the snapper was there with all its strength—in fact too strong for soup.

The members arrived for the supper and were deeply chagrined when they learned that the snapper failed in the curing and new chefs were appointed who got up a lunch which they knew something about, cold tongue and pickles.

The next feed of the club will be given in charge of chefs who will rely on the home recipes.

A Strayed Horse.

A small bay horse, blind of one eye and badly foundered strayed into the barn yard at the Tracy farm, on the Conshohocken pike, just above the borough line early yesterday morning. It is believed that the horse strayed away from some nearby farm.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

A NEW SCHOOL BOARD IS TO BE ELECTED.—FIVE COUNCILMEN ARE TO BE ELECTED AND MANY COUNTY OFFICES TO BE FILLED.—SEVERAL LOCALITIES ASPIRE TO COUNTY OFFICES.

Politics are becoming of absorbing interest. The Republicans are the first to start the ball rolling and many candidates are being presented for the nominations for the various County offices.

Little is doing in Borough politics, but as a whole new school board and five councilmen are to be elected, a lively campaign can be expected to be started in the next two weeks.

The School Code provides that the school board of this borough shall consist of seven members, who are to be elected by the vote of the borough. It is expected that several members of the present board will be candidates to succeed themselves.

In Town Council there will be five members term expiring as follows: First ward, Miles Stemple; Second ward, Ellwood Noblitt; Third ward, John Slinguff; Fourth ward, Frank McPhilly, who is a Democrat, re-Crossmore. With the exception of the Fourth wards representatives, all the terms expiring are those of Republicans and it is expected that all but Mr. Crossmore will be candidates for re-election. Mr. Stemple is a Republican and secured his election in a strongly Democratic ward, while Mr. McPhilly, who is a Democrat, represents a ward which is usually Republican, by a good majority.

For Republican nomination for County offices, this district has many aspirants. Health officer William Neville, who announced his candidacy for Coroner about a year ago, is already starting his campaign, his petition for a place on the primary ballot is being signed by many active Republicans and he has been assured of support by many good workers in various sections of the county.

Daniel H. Stewart, one of Conshohocken's best known residents, is a candidate for Register of Wills. "Dan" has been a transcriber at the Commissioners office for many years, and has a wide acquaintance throughout the county. He is just the type of man that it will be to the advantage of the citizens to elect to office. For the same office "Dan" is being opposed by Howard D. Whitehead, of West Conshohocken, who at present is Deputy Register of Wills. Mr. Whitehead has held his office for several terms and now aspires to be chief. He is well liked in his home town and is popular with Republicans throughout the county.

Another localite who aspires to fill a "hill" office is Joseph C. Moore, of the third ward. For a number of years he has been employed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds and knows every one in the county. "Joe" is the kind of worker who gets out after the votes and with his friends working with him in the "Third" is always good for a majority and has been a "life saver" to more than one county ticket.

Another localite who desires a minor county office is John Irvin of the Fifth ward. "Jack" wants to be Jury Commissioner. He is one of the stalwarts of the Fifth ward and is active in every fight to roll up a good Republican majority.

It has not been decided as yet whether the borough primaries will be held at the same time as the uniform primaries, which will be held on Saturday September 30th. It is stated in some circles that it would be better to hold them separate. However, this question will be determined within the next week or ten days.

Those who are mentioned as Republican candidates for the various county offices include:

President of the Orphans Court—William F. Selly, of Norristown.
District Attorney—Conrad S. Shieve and J. Ambler Williams of Norristown.

Register of Wills—Daniel H. Stewart, Conshohocken; Bert Campbell, Jenkintown; Howard D. Whitehead, West Conshohocken.

Recorder of Deeds—Henry T. Hunsicker, present incumbent, of Ironbridge; Joseph C. Moore, of Conshohocken; Samuel Yeakle, of Whitmarsh, and James Stretch of Lower Merion. He is also mentioned for

ADVOCATES DOING THE JOB RIGHT

UP-TOWN RESIDENT DOES NOT WANT AN EXPERIMENTAL PAYMENT LAID ON FAYETTE STREET.—DO THE JOB ONCE AND FOR ALL.—DO IT RIGHT.

To the Recorder:

The positive stand you take on the paving of Fayette street in your editorial of Friday is most admirable. The writer believes that the time has come when the people of our borough should enter into a discussion of the merits of the different kinds of paving offered, and its adaptability to the needs of our one particular important street.

It is well to know that in the "last analysis" as the saying goes, that the people have good sense as well as perseverance to get what they want and generally what is for the best interests of all concerned. We have had instances of this shown us at times, like the widening of 5th avenue for instance. It might be pertinent to ask at this date if anyone in the borough would like to have seen that question decided in any other way; an object lesson for free and full discussion.

Our borough fathers are confronted with some of the largest questions that have ever been put before our borough officers to decide; and it is a difficult task. No one is more anxious than they to decide these questions for the best interests of this and the coming generation, and no one will welcome more than they a free and full discussion by the people of the Fayette street paving through the columns of your paper as our only medium.

As I said or intimated a moment ago, we are building not alone for ourselves but for those who will come after us; and as those who come after us will have a share in paying for some of these things (I don't know whether the paving of Fayette street comes out of the loan or not, it doesn't matter) we should be large minded enough to think what Conshohocken will be fifty years from now rather than what it will be five years from now, and build accordingly.

We should hold up the hands and strengthen our public officials by making them know our wants and needs, and not leave it all to them to decide what we ought to have. Then by and bye when these things are done and done right, then we can say heartily "well done thou good and faithful."

Don't you see where we as borough people have this all in our own hands; and don't you see that a few more thousand expended now will stretch out and spread over many more years of the coming generation, a landmark and a monument as it were to the horse sense and sagacity of Conshohocken, to all the surrounding country.

And Conshohocken needs it; situated as she is, so delightfully, suburban to the third largest city of the country, on the banks of a river, her streets so ideal for beautiful and healthful homes, just fitted for the rearing of a new generation, which will be better and wiser than we, we hope; so different from the flat lowland which so many city and towns can only boast.

Here is a little bit of indelicacy which the writer hopes to be pardoned for. Too much of the taxpayers money has in years past been washed into the Schuylkill and gone on its way down the stream. The opportunity still exists to send more money in the same direction, for Fayette street still slants in the "same old way" and the water runs down it in torrents just as of old.

Hence in view of all the facts, the writer agrees with you as to the desirability of either "Brick or Warren macadam for Fayette street.

A LETTER FROM NEW MEXICO

A FORMER RESIDENT OF THE WEST SIDE NOW LIVING IN NEW MEXICO, WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER FOR THE BENEFIT OF RECORDER READERS.

Virsylvania, New Mexico July 21, 1911

To the Recorder: I now take time to write to you of another treat that is on record at the county seat of Taos. I have had a number of people in Conshohocken write and ask me to write more about this country, or about the trials we have in this Territory, as they are not like the trials we have in the East. This is the trial of "Dirty Dick Rogers."

He was a desperado of note in the Territory and Colorado. Several other less noted men who held life cheap in the southwest, and who had for several years defied the law, were also to be tried. The judge did just what he was told would cause his death—opened court on time—all the attorneys were searched, as well as the court attendants for fire arms and many were found. Some were upon the attorney's in cases, and each was fined fifty dollars for bringing his weapon into the courtroom. No one offered to resist and in all forty-two guns were added to the pile by the judge. Another time Mr. McKean told me, a boy was defendant in a case. He had some little land that was in jeopardy, and had no attorney. Seeing that the case was going against the young man unless he could obtain legal advice, the Colurt descended from the bench and conducted the cross-examination himself, closing with the remark: "It takes thirteen men in New Mexico to steal a poor boys farm from him. After their evidence was all in he instructed the jury to bring in a verdict on behalf of the defendant."

When later the foreman of the jury announced that they could not agree the judge discharged the jury, announced the verdict in favor of the defendant and told the sheriff to see that not one of the discharged men ever served upon a jury again in that county.

While Axtell was judge, Will Barden was for a time attorney general, for this Territory. On one occasion the judge indulged in some caustic remarks to some of the attorneys who had addressed him, as he frequently did. Breden arose looked Axtell in the eyes, and said: "Don't be too hard on the lawyers, your honor, you might be a lawyer yourself some time you know."

This quaint Mexican isolated town of Taos has the distinction of being one if not the only one of the towns west of the Mississippi in which a citizen was ever tried, convicted and executed by hanging, for the high crime of treason. In 1847 there was an uprising here known as the Taos Rebellion. A number of indictments were found, the accused men being mostly Mexicans, who lived here before the uprising, a circular letter had been sent out by Jesus Tafuya, counter-signed by Antonio Maria Tryllo, "senior inspector" and addressed to the various military commands urging them to rebel against the authority of the United States. We have declared war against the Americans, declared the article, and it is time that we take up our arms in the defense of our abandoned country.

Tryllo was tried here in the old courthouse which is still used and contains the same old rough wooden benches. Judge Job Houghton was on the bench, Tryllo was found guilty. The judge spoke as follows according to the records: "Antonio Maria Tryllo, a jury of twelve citizens after careful and patient investigation pending which all the safeguards of the law, managed by able and indefatigable counsel, I have been afforded you, have been found guilty of the high crime of treason. What have you to say why the sentence of death should not be pronounced upon you. Your eye your gray hairs, have excited the sympathy of both the jury and the Court. While each and all were not only willing but anxious that you should have every advantage at your disposal, that their high and responsible duty under the law to their country would permit yet you have been found guilty of the crime alleged to your charge. It would appear that old age has not brought you wisdom, nor purity nor honesty of heart. While holding on the hand of friendship to those whom circumstances has brought to rule over you, you have nourished bitterness and hatred in your heart. You have been found seconding the acts of a band of the most notorious murderers that has ever blackened the annals of history with a recital of their deeds. Not content with the peace and security in which you have lived under the present government, secure in all your rights, as a citizen, in property, in person, in your religion you have given your name and influence to measures intended to effect universal murder and pillage, to the overthrow of the Government, and one widespread scene of bloodshed in the land. For such foul crimes, an enlightened and liberal jury have been compelled to find you guilty from the evidence brought before them and by a sense of stern, but unmistakable duty, of treason, against the Government under which you are a citizen. And there only now remains to the Court, the painful duty of passing upon you the sentence of the law, which is that you be taken from hence to prison, there to remain until Friday, the 16th day of April next and at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day you be taken thence to the place of execution and hanged by the neck until you are dead, dead, dead, and may the Almighty, have Mercy upon your soul.

There are many other interesting facts told about this place, but the above will show our Eastern friends, that we have not a wilderness. The old Church, on which the traitors took refuge still stands, or at least, its tower does.

I was to see it myself, when I was in Taos, five weeks ago. In the window of McKean's office in Taos, is an unexploded shell, taken from the above walls.

JOHN S. RAMSEY

KEYSTONE ANNIVERSARY.

Representatives of This County Attend Dinner of the New Party.

More than 300 men at dinner in the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, Friday night heard speeches of which the tenor was mainly in celebration of what Keystone party had done in this State and in favor of keeping up the organization for the municipal elections of this year, and, as the party leaders put it, "the election of honest government legislature as part of the work of next year."

It was the "first anniversary of the founding of the Keystone Party in Pennsylvania." Two star speakers were United States Senators Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, and Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma. Mr. Clapp hammered, as an illustration of vicious law-making in this state, the new divorce law, by which its backers would abolish jury trials in divorce cases. Messrs Owen and Clapp made special pleas for the initiative referendum and recall, and the ardent Oklahoma Senator aroused the gathering to enthusiastic cheering by asking what would become of Boise Penrose if the recall were part of Pennsylvania's laws. There was a great deal of applauding, with occasional cheering while the speeches went on, the two visitors from the other States carrying off most of the honors. The veteran independent leader, Henry C. Niles, of New York, was the principal exponent from the interior of the State for what the Keystone party meant to do.

Those present from this county were John J. Ferry, R. Morgan Root, G. F. Egoft, William H. Young, Montgomery Christman, Elwood Roberts, Morris Thompson, W. W. Miller, C. Tyson Kratz, and James Gilden.

Merchant in Sheriff's Hands.

Sheriff Chauncey J. Buckley has levied upon the stock and fixtures of the gent's furnishing store conducted by S. Sablosky at 122 E. Main street, Norristown. The levy was made on a judgement entered against the merchant to the amount of $571.26. Sheriff Buckley will sell the stock next Friday.

If you cannot call at William Neville's store to-day, send him 25 cents by mail and he will send you a package promptly, charges paid.

Mr. Neville has been able to secure only a limited supply of the specific, so great is the demand, and you should not delay taking advantage of the liberal offer he is making this week.

WAYNE POLICE CASE AGAIN OPENED

H. C. HUNTER, WHO ACCUSES THE POLICE, EXPLAINS WHY HE DRANK BEER WITH THE POLICE.

Though three hearings were conducted, all the evidence at hand was submitted and the case closed with the understanding that the lawyers were to present their briefs to the Board of Commissioners of Radnor township at their regular meeting in Wayne yesterday afternoon, this same session saw a reopening of the inquiry into the charges made again the Police Department of that township, and Captain Leonard Haskett the chief, in particular. Additional witnesses are to be heard.

This change in the program is due to a willingness on the part of the Board of Commissioners, of which William Henry Sayen, is president, to give H. C. Hunter the principal complainant, an opportunity to present further testimony. It is also believed to be in a measure prompted by the declarations accredited to Mr. Hunter in an interesting interview, and in which he is quoted as saying that the inquiry had been anything but thorough and that the defendants had been "whitewashed." Every facility, was, however afforded for the complainants to present whatever testimony they had bearing on the case.

Several affidavits affecting Captain Haskett are expected to be presented at the meeting to-day. They are said to be those of witnesses who declined to appear at the last hearing, July 15.

The attorneys will present their briefs to-day, and whatever testimony is adduced will be treated as supplemental. George W. Pepper, of Philadelphia, is counsel for Captain Haskett and the Police Department and W. Roger Frontfield, of Media, is directing the case of H. C. Hunter. Whether conclusions in the matter are to be further delayed will largely depend upon the character and volume of the additional testimony.

Mr. Hunter is expected to make an explanation concerning the statements of John Roach, a colored coachman, at the last hearing, to the effect that three policemen, no longer on the force, drank beer in his stable about midnight on two occasions about two years ago. When asked if any other persons was there at the time of drinking the beer with the policemen he turned and pointed out Mr. Hunter, as such participant. In discussing the subject since the hearing closed, Mr. Hunter has said:

"The truth of this incident is this: I heard that the stable was being used as a speak-easy with the knowledge and patronage of the police, and I wanted to investigate for myself. With a friend I stopped at the stable, and Roach gave us a bottle of beer. I wanted to pay for it, but he would not accept the money. I concluded that Roach was not conducting a speak-easy, but that the beer was kept there for the convenience of the police. I never went back to the stable."

DOUBLE TRACKING "PENNSY" RAILROAD

Many Improvements Contemplated Between Spring City and Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has made final preparations for the double tracking of the Schuylkill Valley Branch from Spring City to Philadelphia and some of the new girder bridges are now being put in place.

The long curved girder bridge at Manayunk will be made straight so as not to necessitate lowering the speed of the trains. Other necessary improvements will be made all along the line.

One of the girder spans for the bridge across the canal below Spring City when put in position will be the heaviest in railroad service at the present time.

This girder will be 116 feet long by nine and one-half feet high and will weigh approximately 50 tons.

The road at present is double track from Philadelphia to Spring City, with the exception of the stream crossings and the addition of the new bridges will greatly facilitate freight and passenger service between the two mentioned places.

The smaller spans for the bridges above and below Spring City have been moved from the Spring City yards to the place of their future service and will soon be put in place.

The entire operation of placing the bridges along the line is expected to be completed in two months.

CURRENT LITERATURE FOR AUGUST

Current Literature for August is specially devoted to a discussion of Mr. Taft's re-election possibilities; the Steel Trust investigation, the new tariff era that has dawned in the Reciprocity Agreement, the European war alarm over Morocco, and the critical struggle between the House of Lords and the present British government. John D. Archbold, foremost in the reorganization from Kansas; the new and heretofore obscure Premier of the French government, Joseph Caillaux; and the rascally Prime Minister of China, Pr. Ching are set forth as "Persons of the Foreground." Under the heading of "Science and Discovery" can be found an illuminative discussion of Prof. Boris Sid's scathing arraignment of what he considers the deplorably ineffective methods of educating the American youth. The department of Religion and Ethics is delightfully rich with articles expounding the last philosophical beliefs of Professor James, "Margaret Fuller as a Puritan Disciple of Goeth" and "The New Conception of God as Creative Evolution." The departments of "Drama and Music," and Literature and Art," are certain to attract attention, because of their splendid topical selections and capable treatment. "Richard Wagner in the Light of his Autobiography and Dialog," of that piquant satirical farce on American commercialism, "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," are cleverly styled. Madame Karin Michaelis, sensational confessions of the feminine soul as set forth in "The Dangerous Age," will create animated discussion. There are also informing articles entitled "The Novel That Overruled the Supreme Court," by Walter Porter, and "D'Annunzio's Flamboyant Representation of the Martyrdom of Saint Sebastian." The Poetry Department has poems of unusual worth by Charles Hanson Town George Sterling, Henry van Dyke, Katharine Tynan, Louise Imogen G. Guney, Florence Earle Coates and others.

The Plymouth Alumni Association will hold a reunion at Elmwood Park on Saturday August 12th. It is hoped that all members will make an effort to be present.

Dad and Paul have leased the store 74 Fayette street, in the Ellis building and will open a ladies' and gentlemen's tailor shop. The store has been redecorated both on the interior and exterior and the shop will open the later part of the week.

Elmer Elliot, of East Tenth avenue, has purchased the paper route of J. H. Breen, at Ardmore, and will remove to that place about the 15th of August. The route is one of the largest along the Main Line. Mr. Elliot's house has been purchased by painter Frank Thomas.

The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday School will be held at Forest Park, Chalfont, on Saturday. Special trains will leave over the Reading Railway for the Park at 8 A. M. and 1 P. M. The feature of the picnic will be a game of base ball between the married men and single men.

Michael and James Pizzo were arraigned before Magistrate Light, this morning charged by Sullivan McCards with having committed an assault and battery upon him. Those interested in the case are local Italians and when their friends began to counsel them, the principals decided to bury their differences and the case was settled by the Pizzo brothers paying the costs.

Senator Vare Building Road.

At the expense of $10,000, it is said, Senator Vare has made a first-class permanent roadway from his residence on Morris road to Ambler, a distance, we presume of about one and one-eighth miles. Most of the roadway is in Upper Dublin township and a distance of some 400 or 500 feet in the borough of Ambler, from the borough line, east end of the Wissahickon bridge, to the railroad crossing on Butler avenue. From present indications this short piece of road will be in good condition for years and the expense of keeping it in its present perfect order, will we predict be very light, although there is much travel on it and some heavy hauling between Fort Washington and Ambler.

ENTHUSES SUMMER ASSEMBLY

Texas Speaker at Collegeville Stirs Up Educators.

The Collegeville Assembly, in which are represented half a dozen of the leading denominations, is in their session for its fourth annual conference, on the grounds of Ursinus College, which is rapidly developing along the lines of interdenominational co-operation insofar as the direction of its religious life and influence is concerned.

Among the stronger speakers is Ira Landrith, of Nashville, Tenn. On Sunday evening he made a profound impression on the great audience that thronged the auditorium in an address on Christian heroism. His resemblance to Theodore Roosevelt, which has often been pointed out, was seen in more ways than one as his address, which abounded in vigorous epigrams, was a veritable "big stick." Speaking of the advances along the line of reform in many of the Southern States and referring to the recent reaction of Texas, his native State, in almost adopting prohibition, he hurled back to the North and to Pennsylvanians in particular the slogan of 40 years ago, "America cannot remain half slave and half free."

A most impressive sermon was delivered on Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. John Gordon, of Philadelphia; Professor George W. Richards, of Lancaster, gave a scholarly and forceful Bible lecture in the afternoon and Enos Bacon, the English evangelist, spoke at the sunset service.

Other speakers for the present week are Rev. Dr. John Balcom Shaw of Chicago; President Joseph H. Apple, of Frederick, Md.; Rev. Dr. A. G. Kynett, of Philadelphia; President A. Edwin Keigwin, of Ursinus College and Rev. James M. Farrar, of Brooklyn.

WEST SIDE NOTES

THE DOINGS OF OUR SISTER BOROUGH CONDENSED FOR READY READING.

—Frank Horner has removed from Front street to Cedar avenue.

—James Deaves is confined to his home on Morehead avenue by illness.

—The regular meeting of Town Council will be held to-morrow evening.

—John Welsh Jr., of upper Ford street was a Sunday visitor in Newark, N. J.

—A number of our residents enjoyed the trip down the Delaware to Augustine Beach on Sunday.

—Misses Margaret and Helen Cohen have returned to their home on lower Ford street from a two week's visit to relatives in Philadelphia.

—Miss Ellen Tague and the Misses Mary and Alice Farrel, are tourists in Canada and will visit Quebec and the shrine of St. Ann.

—Ten auto trucks from the First Brigade, N. G. P. which was in camp at Mt. Gretna last week, passed through this borough yesterday at noon on their way to Philadelphia.

—Edward Adams, Jr., will remove from lower Ford street this borough, to New Brunswick, N. J., where he has accepted a position in the plant of the Johnson and Johnson Company.

—The two carnivals one at the corner of Cedar avenue and Ford street and the other on the grounds adjoining the George Clay Fire house held respectively by the members of the Ballingimingo Baptist church and the Free Baptist church was a decided success from every view point and a neat sum was realized from each affair.

—A number of young people left this borough on Saturday evening on a straw ride with their destination as Ziebers Park. The party arrived at the Park about 11 o'clock and after staying at the Park for an hour departed for this borough, arriving here about 5 o'clock Sunday morning. William Davidson, of Spring Mill furnished the team.

—Marion, a one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Staley died suddenly at her parents' residence on lower Ford street on Saturday afternoon. The child had been ill for the past two weeks suffering from catarrh, but her condition was not considered serious until Saturday afternoon when a sudden change for the worse came over her and she expired in a few minutes. The funeral took place this afternoon; the interment was made in Riverside Cemetery, Norristown.

—Wesley Levan, of upper Ford street is the possessor of what might be termed feminine inconsistency. Mr. Levan is a great admirer of the feathered tribe and among a number of chickens, geese and ducks, has several nice pigeons. Several days ago one of the chicken hens got into the pigeon loft and laid an egg in one of the pigeon nests. At the time there were two pigeon eggs in the nest and the pigeon in some manner rolled the two small eggs out of the nest onto the floor and immediately began to set on the chicken egg. One day last week Mr. Levan was surprised on going into the loft to find that the pigeon had hatched out one lone chicken. The owner looks upon the incident with much pride and takes great pleasure in showing the pigeon and little chick to any one who wishes to see them.

—Comard Hayes the genial driver of the Conshohocken laundry delivery wagon very innocently played a joke on himself during his collection in this borough one day last week. One of the regular customers of the Laundry who was called away from home, bundled up a small package of collars and cuffs and placed them in the outside kitchen where the driver could get hold of them so the husband might have his laundry clean for Sunday. The same time that the laundry was placed outside the lady of the house also wrapped up a loaf of bread in a white cloth and placed it outside close to the laundry. When the driver called for the laundry and no one was at home he noticed the package and grabbing thoughtlessly on to one he hurried out to his wagon threw it in with the rest of his collections and drove on to the next customer. He was not a little bit surprised when he was sorting his collections to find among them a loaf of bread. Of course he did not know where he got it until he came to make his deliveries. On reaching the house his customer asked him how the loaf of bread ironed. Naturally Mr. Hayes knew that he was the subject of the joke and took the joke philosophically.

Plans for San tar um.

Henry L. Reinhold Jr., of Philadelphia has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for a sanatorium building of stone, three stories high, with basement, to be erected at "Inwood," West Conshohocken Pa. The plans will be completed in the early part of this week, at which time the architect will receive estimates.

The plans have been completed and the architect has invited the following contractors to estimate upon the same: M. P. Wells, Philadelphia; F. Heevner and M. F. Lawler, Norristown, Pa.; Algeron H. Jones, John Haver, and Fleck and Freas of Conshohocken. The estimates must be returned to the architect on or before August 14, 1911.

SUES FOR LOSS OF A CAT

Lo alite Sues Mover Because He Cou d Not Hold Frighten-d Cat.

If there are any legal difficulties involving Conshohocken people to be settled in Philadelphia, Magistrate Scott's court is usually the scene for the settlement of the differences. While the Magistrate has heard many curious cases, this Conshohocken case quite overtops them all for "humor in a court room."

According to yesterday's Phila. Inquirer:

When the case of Andy Chestnut, a teamster of Twenty-third and Hamilton streets, Philadelphia charged by Michael Krowski of Conshohocken, with larceny of household goods, came before Magistrate Scott in the Central Police Court yesterday morning it afforded considerable amusement, for those present at the hearing.

From the testimony it appears that Krowski used to be a neighbor of Chestnut and when he decided to move, he engaged the teamster to transport his household goods to Conshohocken. This Chestnut did and was surprised when he was later arrested on a warrant which specified nothing further than "larceny of household goods." Krowski refused to make any additional explanation further than to admit that one of his possessions was missing when he looked them over following his removal from the Twenty-third and Hamilton streets address. He declared according to Chestnut and Stuart Patterson, Jr., his attorneys that he would make known the missing article at the hearing.

Urged at the hearing by the attorney for the teamster to name what he alleged had been stolen Krowski caused ripples of laughter to pass over the auditors in the room by announcing that it was his wife's pet cat, a maltese. In answer to the charge Chestnut stated that from the minute he left Hamilton street until he reached the outskirts of Conshohocken the feline was inordinately restless and peevish and was altogether a troublesome passenger, persisting in wriggling out of every receptacle in which it was placed. Finally the driver tried to carry the cat in his arms, but was so clawed and bitten by the feline that he let go and "malty" was last seen scampering over an open field. Chestnut was discharged.

YOUNG GIRL MISSING.

Mother Disappears With Friend. Polish Girl After Fight With Her

Annie Shwinski and Mary Aknick, both young girls aged about 15 years have disappeared from the Shwinski home, at Spring Mill and a search has been instituted by the parents of the Shwinski girl.

Both girls have been employed in the Lee mills at Bridgeport and the Aknick girl boards with the Shwinski family. The parents of the Shwinski girl say that both girls have been in the habit of staying out late at nights and would give no account of themselves. Last Saturday evening, when the girls returned home, Mrs. Shwinski took her daughter to task for her actions when the daughter resented the scolding and attacked her mother, tearing her hair and badly scratching her face. After the fight, the girls went to their room, presumably to retire, but at one o'clock, Sunday morning, Andy Aknick, a brother of Mary, who works at Spring Mill and boards with a family nearby the Shwinski's came to the house and both girls left with him. The police found that the girls spent the remainder of the night with a Spring Mill family and on Sunday went away. Andy did not go with them as he was at his work yesterday. It is believed that the girls went to Philadelphia and the police of that city have been requested to look for them.

GULF MILLS

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED BY OUR LOCAL CORRESPONDENT FOR OUR READERS

Miss Olive Moore is visiting Mrs. Samuel Rinehart, on Stenton avenue, Germantown.

Thomas Cairns has returned from Philadelphia, where he spent the past week with relatives.

Miss Clara Tinkler, of Norristown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tinkler is spending a portion of her vacation with relatives at Gulf Mills.

A daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Miller, of Wayne, Delaware county, last week. The parents are receiving congratulations.

Walter W. Hartzel, tenant on the John J. Hughes farm had a yield of 348 bushels of wheat this year. Other farmers in the locality had a corresponding good crop of this kind of cereal.

Rev. Elmer Saul, of Norristown, preached both morning and evening in the Gulf Christian church in the absence of the pastor Rev. S. L. Baugher, who is spending his vacation at different places in the South. On Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Saul conducted services at a church at Valley Forge.

The ringing of the bell in the tower of the Bird-in-Hand school building on Saturday morning about ten o'clock was a good reminder to the pupils of that place of learning that their vacation days would be at an end in a few weeks, as the schools will open on Monday, August the 28th, for the fall term. As repairs are now in progress about the building the supposition was that those employed there rang the bell.

The wild blackberry variety of fruit was never so plentiful throughout this locality than it is this year. In some places the blackberries are small, while in others they are quite large and of an excellent quality. Every day, men, women and children, can be seen gathering the fruit in the fields and woods. Hundreds of quarts have already been picked, but in spite of this they are still very plentiful. The good housewives about here will have many jars of the berries for winter use. This variety of fruit can be utilized in various ways. For making cordials it is useful and very efficacious in time of sickness.

Rev. S. L. Baugher, pastor of the Gulf Christian church, writes to the representative of the Recorder from Beldon, Va., that the weather is cool there, but dry; and he states that heavy coats are worn there in consequence of the coolness of the atmosphere. On Wednesday evening last Mr. Baugher conducted services in the Methodist Church at Elkton, which is not far distant from Beldon. As the pastor of the house of worship at Gulf Mills will still be absent from his charge on Sunday next, the pulpit will be filled by Rev. W. J. Mills, D. D. Rev. Mr. Baugher will arrive home, however, in time to officiate on the following Sunday, August 13th.

The long looked for base ball game between the Rebel Hill and Gulf Teams, which was a special contest, has been played with the result that the former team carried off the honors by the score of 9 to 8. The contest took place near Swedeland, and a large number of adherents of the teams witnessed it. The batteries were as follows: Rebel Hill, Wilfong and Munshower; Gulf Mills, Coates and McDermott. It is likely that another game will take place between these two teams in the near future. Among the features of the game was the batting of John Markland, for Rebel Hill. He was credited with three home runs and a two-base hit. "Trick" Wilfong for the same team had fourteen strike-outs. McLee and McDermott did good work for Gulf Mills.

Good progress is being made on the Philadelphia and Western Railway through this locality, no accidents of any seriousness occurred during the past week. The steam shovel which is at work on that portion of the line near Radnor will soon be removed to the Clothier property at which place it will be used to cut through a large hill previous to the railway being built towards the Gulf Mills. The other steam shovel is still at work on the John Hughes property. It is expected that both of the gigantic shovels will be used to cut through the hill near the large overhanging rock, where hundreds of tons of dirt and stone will be required to be removed. The concrete piers are being started for the bridge at the intersection of Montgomery avenue and the Township Line roads.

David Hamilton has removed from Mechanicsville, to the farm of John Crooks, near King-of-Prussia, where he has secured a position of farmer.

Miss Ida McIntyre, daughter of Daniel McIntyre, is spending the week with Miss Ray DeHaven, of Conshohocken.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Paul have left "Woodcrest," their place at Radnor, and are at Narragansett Pier, for the balance of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bickings, and son Hilton, of Frankford, Phila., were visitors at the former's mother, Mrs. Diana Bickings, at this place on Saturday and Sunday.

Thomas Tague, employed in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Trenton, N. J., spent Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tague in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. James Manthorn, of Norristown are visiting at the residence of Mrs. Clarence Nippes, at Mechanicsville. Mrs. Manthorn and Mr. Nippes are brother and sister.

Ira Duncan, of Mechanicsville, employed in the Ardmore Auto Car Works, went to Newport, R. I., last week to deliver a car which had been purchased by a resident of that place from the Ardmore firm.

John Gamble, of Mechanicsville, a graduate of the Schissler College of Business in Norristown, has secured a position as stenographer in the Bourse building in Philadelphia. He entered on his new duties on Monday.

George Shoffner, of Gulf Mills, returned on Monday, from Cordova, Md., where he spent the weeks end with his wife and daughter, together with Miss Helen Jones who are summering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCord.

Among the Sunday visitors in the village were Paul Rinehart and son, of Philadelphia, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bradbury of Frankford who spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones.

Edward F. Munshower, artist, of Mechanicsville, has purchased a handsome new wagon for use in his business which attracts considerable attention. The vehicle is one of the finest of the kind ever seen in this locality. The lettering on the wagon which was the handiwork of Mr. Munshower, is all in gold, which adds all the more beauty to its finish.

Miss Ethel Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pope, will take an extended trip through the North and Northwest in the early part of August. She will first go to Wilkesbarre, Pa., where she will be the guest of Miss Grace Dungee for several weeks. At that place a party will be formed including Miss Pope and Miss Dungee and the pleasure seekers will start on a trip to Niagara Falls and the lakes of New York state, and a number of other points of interest in that section.

John March, of Pottstown, formerly of this place, has been renewing acquaintances here for a few days.

TUESDAY AUGUST 1, 1911.

The hobble skirt is not only inflicting discomfort upon the ladies but the men as well. The other evening a Fourth warder was complaining of loss of sleep and when asked why he did not seize the present opportunity to catch up he replied that he must stay up until eleven o'clock as his wife was attending a "hen" party and he had to wait up to carry her upstairs as she was wearing a new hobble gown. The trials of the married man are varied and many.

It seems to be the general opinion of the tax-payers that Fayette street should be made a good street and the material used in paving should be selected with consideration of its permanency. The laying of an experimental pavement which will have to be repaired within five years and possibly replaced within ten to fifteen years, is too expensive for the borough. What is needed is a pavement which will not cause a drain on the treasury while the bonds are bearing interest. The object of the loan was to improve the streets so that they would be in good condition and the regular drain for repairs would cease.

During this respite from the extreme hot weather the politicians have "come to" and from now on until September 30th, the day of the uniform primaries an active campaign will be conducted by all parties.

The Norristown Register is urging the County Democrats to get together and forget that there is chaos existing in the party in the State, as it believes there is a good opportunity to elect a whole county Democratic ticket this fall.

The Republicans have a strong organization and there is no appearance of general dissatisfaction again the way the affairs of the county are conducted. Local conditions, apparently are very good and as Conshohocken will have several candidates at the primaries, enthusiasm among Republicans will be aroused which will be maintained until the election.

If the Democrats are basing their hopes on fusion, the members of the State Committee have acted in a manner which should be pleasing to the Keystone party in turning in with the Guthrie forces against the Guffey-Donnelly-Ryan combination which is held responsible for the disruption of the Democratic party and aiding the deadly enemy of the Keystone party. The Republicans that an attempt at fusion might be successful. If fusion should be effected, the Republican candidates will have hard sledding.

TALK OF THE DAY

The Republican State Convention in Nebraska showed that Senator La Follette has lost in the past three months through his paltering with the reciprocity question, most of the ground that he gained in his preceding three years of aggressive and consistent radicalism.

The moral is that progressive in politics must really go ahead, and keep on going.

Reformers cannot live on the memories of good deeds or the momentum of their past.

On July 31, 1790, the United States issued to John J. Hopkins, of Vermont, its first patent; on July 28, 1836, its first numbered patent was given to John Ruggles, for a steam engine.

On August 5 next the one millionth patent will be issued by the Patent Office at Washington. This is an average of 13,000 patents each year, or about forty a day. The figures speak volumes for the ingenuity of the American inventor.

OILED STREETS

From the Allentown Morning Call: Two years ago when oil was first put on the city streets there were such a protest that the man who proposed its use, the City Engineer, was one of the most unpopular citizens—that is, among those residents residing along the streets that had been oiled. To-day there is the greatest demand for this form of street improvement, and the question arises: Is there as much praise now among those residents for the scheme and its promoter as there was condemnation for the benefits we realized?

JUDGE SOLLY'S MOTHER IS DEAD

Agd Woman Passed Away at Her Home Saturday Morning.

Mrs. Catharine Solly, aged 73 years died Saturday morning at her residence on East Airy street above Green street, Norristown. Deceased was the widow of Benjamin F. Solly, who for many years was the proprietor of a shoe store on DeKalb street near Penn. He died less than a year ago.

Mrs. Solly who was of an amiable disposition, had been in failing health for the past year and she had been able to be about until a few days ago when she was compelled to take to her bed.

Deceased was the mother of Judge William F. Solly, of the Orphans Court, and Mrs. Sarah Bunting, wife of Dr. H. M. Bunting. She is also survived by one brother and one sister, Joseph R. Moyer, of Norristown, and Mrs. Mary Credle, of Trenton, N. J.

The funeral was held this morning from her late residence and services were held in St. John's P. E. church, at 10:30 o'clock and were largely attended by the many friends of the deceased. The interment was private.

FOR MONTGOMERY FUSION.

Democrats to Confer With Keystone Party.

Fusion was the principle topic at a meeting of the Democratic County Committee, at Norristown, on Saturday, called to revise the party rules to conform to the new conditions. The Chairman, Mr. Christman was empowered to appoint a committee to confer with a similar one of the Keystone party.

Addresses were made by Assistant District Attorney McAvoy, Congressman Diferderfer, State Senator Heacock, former Senator Wentz, Assemblyman Fitzgerald, Rev. George W. Lutz, of Pennsburg, and Joseph Knox Fornance, of Norristown.

NEW COMMISSION FORMED

County Officers Organize a Sinking Fund Commission.

In accordance with the Act of Assembly recently passed the County Commissioners, the Controller and the County Treasurer met at the Court House on Friday morning and organized the Montgomery County's Sinking Fund Commission.

The Act of Assembly recently passed sets forth that in each county the County Commissioners, the Comptroller and the County Treasurer shall constitute such a sinking fund commission and in compliance with the act those officials met at the Court House.

An organization was effected by electing Comptroller John Jacobs chairman of the commission. County Treasurer Hagginbotham was elected. Treasurer and Commissioners Clerk, Robert C. Miller was named as secretary. The duty of the commission is to care for the county's sinking fund as the name implies. Heretofore only the commissioners had charge of this fund but the new act contemplates that with all the officials working in conjunction the fund will be better cared for and will reach larger proportions.

Breaks Ground for Church.

Rev. I. Calvin Fisher, of St. Mark's Church, Lebanon, made the address at the exercises attending the breaking of ground of the new church and parish house for Trinity Reformed Congregation, Norristown, on Sunday. The first spadeful of ground was removed, by A. G. Guter, an elder of the church of which Rev. A. E. Boder is pastor.

LOCAL HISTORY SKETCH

THE HEACOCK HOUSE CHELTENHAM—THOMAS CARVEL—RICHARD CARVEL—WILLIAM WEBSTER—JOHN HEACOCK—JOSEPH HEACOCK.

The valuable Heacock property is a short distance west of Cheltenham station and fronting upon Webster avenue. On the summit of the hill west of the highway is the long stone dwelling which has a rather ancient appearance. To the southwest are extensive greenhouses. The property not attached is only small in size and is a fragment of a large homestead of former days.

Thomas Carvel was one of the early owners hereabouts. He was not in Cheltenham in 1688, but came soon after and died the owner of a house and tract there in 1727. His will left his land to Thomas Carvel Jr., who, in 1737 was credited with 100 acres. This he sold in 1749 to William Webster for 600 pounds, or in these days $3000, paid for 200 acres. The ancient dwelling was somewhere in this neighborhood, but just where is unknown to the writer. In 1749 this tract was bounded by lands of Daniel Thomas, Richard Mather, and Richard Carvel. John Carvel then lived in Jenkintown. Webster was the owner for 24 years as he died in 1773, just before the Revolution. He had sons John and William. The latter got 103 acres of the estate.

In 1843 came the death of William Webster. His will gave the property to his son, Benjamin Webster. The latter was the owner for the next 20 years. By 1854 properties began to rise much in value and the North Pennsylvania railroad was being built. So Webster who is then called a farmer, sold a house and the 103 acres to William C. Kent, a city merchant, for $20,719, or some $200 per acre. In 1857 Kent detached a fine building and 22 acres which he sold to Joseph Heacock for $6338. In 1859 he also added seven acres, bought of Isaac Mather. John Heacock was the owner here for 27 years, or till his death, on March 22nd, 1883. Five years afterwards in 1888 the executor of his estate sold to Joseph Heacock and Edward Heacock. Other brothers were John and William Heacock.

GARRICK THEATRE

Beginning with Monday matinee, July 31 the Garrick Theatre in Philadelphia, will establish with the World's Travel Pictures of the International Amusement Company, the longest run a motion picture attraction ever scored in any city of the United States with the record of an entire change of programme each week. The International Company was the first to present in America the authentic motion pictures of the incidents of the recent Coronation of King George and Queen Mary. Having several staffs of photographers constantly all over the world in search of new subjects, the company was accordingly enabled a photograph of the entire Coronation ceremonies. It was granted by the British Government, special facilities along the route of the two-day processions that afforded excellent views of the proceedings and participating officials and notables. The enterprise of the International Company was furthermore demonstrated by the readiness expense and preparations it made in advance for dark room accommodations on board the steamship "Mauretania," for developing of necessary, any hasty pictures that might be taken at the eleventh hour in order to exhibit the pictures in America immediately on arrival of the Mauretania, being the first steamer to sail for this country after the Coronation. On the arrival in New York Harbor on Friday evening, June 30, a chartered tug met the Mauretania at Sandy Hook to receive the Coronation displays and hurriedly dispatch them by a waiting train to Philadelphia for public exhibition at the Garrick Theatre on the same evening. The transfer was successfully accomplished and the Coronation displays were shown that night for the first time in America. The engagement of the World's Travel Pictures will continue at the Garrick Theatre until early in the Fall when the regular dramatic season of the house will begin. The new week at hand being a record one will be commemorated with a programme of the strongest offerings yet shown by the company, the features to include the Naval Review at Spithead by the King and Queen after the Coronation, the making of the Dreadnaught, the King and Queen at Temple Bar, the Italian Alps, a summer in the Extreme North, a voyage in the Arctic Ocean, the Manila Hemp Industry in the Philippine Islands, Tiny Honey Gatherers, the Coronation Drill of the Needham Orphan Asylum and many other displays.

WOUNDED BELLBOY IMPROVES

May Recover From Injuries Inflicted By Farmer With Gun.

Howard Lamb, the 17-year-old bell-boy of the Devon Inn, who was shot on Thursday by Adonijah Latch, a farmer, on the outskirts of Devon, was reported greatly improved last night by the doctors of the Bryn Mawr hospital. The physicians announce that, while he is not entirely out of danger, they have hopes for his recovery.

Latch accused the boy of trespassing on his property. Lamb, with two companions, crossed Latch's field going and coming from a small swimming hole in the rear of the property. On their return they were chased by Latch, who fired, the shot striking Lamb.

BERGEY FAMILY REUNION.

One hundred years ago a hardy German pioneer, John Ulrich Bergey, settled in what is known as Lower Salford township, in Montgomery County. He was a thrifty German. He was the father of 11 children.

Saturday at Chestnut Hill Park, his descendants, who have identified themselves as the Bergey Family Association, met in re-union. Historians and statisticians of the association declare there are in the United States and Canada no less than 7000 people who can legitimately claim membership in this family. There were 1000 at the reunion.

Reports show that the association lost by death in the last year 25 members. This number may be increased when later reports are filed. Four reunionists were present who were past 80 years of age, and three of the four were Philadelphians. The members of the "more than 80" class are Mrs. Hiram Burdan, of Boyertown, Christian Fryer, Mrs. Goodschall Bergey and Mrs. Catharine Schaffer, all of Philadelphia.

Henry Rappold, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rappold, of Souderton, was the youngest reunionite—so young that he hadn't any idea what it was all about. He was born on June 20, 1911. Two other interesting babies at the reunion were George Goodschall, of Norristown, and Master Nelson Bergey of Philadelphia.

Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. James Bergey Stein of Hazleton; the Rev. Dr. James Riley Bergey, of Altoona, president of the association; the Rev. Dr. William Barnes Lower of Wyncoote; Dr. David H. Bergey, a prominent Philadelphian connected with the University of Pennsylvania.

Plans for Sanitarium.

Henry L. Reinhold Jr., of Philadelphia has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for a sanitarium building of stone, three stories high, with basement, to be erected at "Inwood," West Conshohocken Pa. The plans will be completed in the early part of this week, at which time the architect will receive estimates.

Schedule for August 5th.

Union at Plymouth.
Wildman at Reliance.
Y. M. A. A. at St. Augustines.
Conshohocken at St. Mark's.

The fight for positions in the Schuylkill Valley League continues to be a merry one. St. Augustines by reason of winning from St. Mark's on Saturday, while Conshohocken and Wildman were losing increased their lead on first place. Reliance defeated Conshohocken and moved up to a tie with Conshohocken and Wildman for second place. While the Bridgeport team have a clear lead and are in no danger of losing their hold for the next game, they cannot afford to suffer any slump. There is bound to be a change for second place as the result of next Saturday's games as Reliance will meet Wildman on the Heights and as both teams are tie on or the other will have to drop behind. Reliance is playing as good ball as any team in the League at the present time and Law, who does the bulk of the box work for them seems to improve with each game. His performance against St. Augustines and Conshohocken is sufficient proof that no team on the circuit can boast of any better pitcher.

Plymouth defeated Wildman on Saturday for the third time this season, and by reason of their victory, has passed St. Mark's who were defeated by St. Augustines.

Manager McCall, with his entire team of base batters, a big bunch of rooters and Mascot McCarter, journeyed to Reliance Heights on the West Side on Saturday afternoon to engage in a game of the National pastime, under the rules and regulations of the Schuylkill Valley League. The importance attached to the contest created considerable interest and Manager McCall and his delegation arrived at the Heights with fire in their eyes, their blood tingling through their extended veins from the exertion used in the ascent, they were met by a goodly number of the "Canadian" natives who hoped, yea felt confident that Bishops Beauties were keyed to a high pitch of base ball perfection that would trounce any team in the League with comparative ease. The perfection was O. K. all right and little wonder it was that the East Siders were pulling at each other's ears, hooting the umpire, jeering the pitcher, Law, in an endeavor to rattle him, and doing other obnoxious stunts in their peculiar style of coaching their players and goading them on to snatch a victory, with the hope that St. Augustine's would slip a cog in their game with St. Mark's and that Wildman would once again fall a prey to the Pilgrim Fathers, from Plymouth and thereby slip into first place there to remain until the close of the season, and be able to cop the bunting for the first season of the Schuylkill Valley League.

Little wonder, too, that the Mozarts from the Meadow were always on their toes to find the least possible faults with the umpiring. Such tactics win many games; aspirants to championships should be on the alert at all times, and while to Conshohocken, credit must be given for being on the alert in their playing, they also deserve to be credited with being on the alert in finding trouble with the rulings of the umpire. In the fourth inning with Reliance at the bat, the judge of balls and strikes made a rank decision in the eyes of the Conshohocken players and the reaction that followed threatened for a while with the termination of the game and the retirement of the Mozarts from the scene of conflict. As it was, Manager McCall informed his "Umps" that the game would be finished under protest.

Whether or not, the protest will stand remains to be seen, but if the game has to be played over it is a certainty that Conshohocken will have only one chance to win as they had no show in the world on Saturday—and it was not the fault of the umpiring either. In the face of the pitching of Law, the Mozarts had no license to win. He was invincible when hits meant runs and the two runs that Conshohocken did tally came in through errors. The Port Kennedy boy had everything on his opponents and pitched a splendid game of ball, striking out eight batsmen and allowing but one base on balls. He also fielded his position in a nifty fashion and on one of his catches of a line drive, completed a double play at first base.

Keating, who did the twirling for Conshohocken, did not seem to be the terrible demon he was figured on as being. He did not have such good control, issuing five passes and striking out only two men and he was hit rather hard. His support was also clever. White, Mason and Murphy played a clever fielding game, the latter making a difficult catch of a hard line drive from Ryan's bat and completing a double play at first base. The particular fielding feature of the game was pulled off by Jimmy Clinton when in the fifth inning, he went over into the crowd along the third base line and speared a hard hit line drive with his gloved hand. Reliance scored one run in each of the first two innings, two in the fourth, two in the sixth and one each in the seventh and eighth.

Conshohocken did not get the ball past the infield until the fourth inning when they scored their first run. Their second and last tally came in the seventh stanza.

By playing a wonderful up-hill game against Union Club at Twelfth avenue on Saturday afternoon, Wesley's Wonders won a Schuylkill Valley League contest by the score of 10 to 4.

The Y. M. A. A. team has been plugging along and losing with gracious regularity and it has been many moons since they had anything registered on the won side of their ledger until Union Club happened along.

We have been waiting for weeks to give these Wonders of Wesley's a boost and we began to get a mighty lot worried for fear we would have to wait until next season, but it is a long lane that has no turns, and here we are confronted with the pleasant task of dropping a few bouquets to the distinguished gentlemen who have been keeping their noses right down to the grindstone and trudging along for weeks in a vain endeavor to improve their standing and place the name of the prominent organization which they represent a few rungs further up in the championship ladder.

Since taking up the managerial reins "Beane" Wesley has been trying hard to jink the streak of hard luck that has been following the team and on Saturday decided to take a chance in the box himself. The change worked a miracle, Wesley toiled on the mound for eight innings and his offerings were pasted for the sum total of four runs. Kindregan occupied the stage centre during the last stanza and retired the side without damage.

Chats Markland was in the box for Union Club and for four innings pitched good ball and Union held the lead but after that the "wonder's" began to touch him up in lively fashion and once gaining the lead were never headed. Aside from the work of Wesley the feature of the game was the batting of Kindregan and Lafferty.

In an exciting game Plymouth succeeded in winning from Wildman on Saturday in a Schuylkill Valley League game by the score of 7 to 4.

The game was a battle royal and it took ten innings before the Quakers were able to finish in the lead.

St. Augustine's maintained their lead in the Schuylkill Valley League by defeating St. Mark's in a League contest at Bridgeport on Saturday afternoon by the one sided score of 17 to 7.

Smith started in to do the pitching for St. Marks and the Bridgeport team got to him for a good lead. Swelmer who succeeded him, was unable to stem the batting streak acquired by the leaders and they increased their lead as the game progressed.

BOATS AND SWIMMERS FURNISH FINE SPORT

Saturday's Swimming and Motor Boat Races at Lafayette Were Very Fast. Schlieff Captures Cup in Swimming Races.—Julia and Andora Win the Boat Races.

Oscar Schlieff, trained to the minute, won the J. Cowley Huss Cup Saturday afternoon in the Schuylkill River at Lafayette over the Philadelphia Swimming Club's course. The distance was 220 yards up and down stream with rope turns, and Schlieff completed the course in the fast time of 29 minutes and 24 seconds.

J. B. McCurdy, who won the same race in 31.19; beating Saturday's winner, out was second in 30.16 2-5, but although beating his previous best record, was unable to hold Schlieff the latter making the pace from start to finish and touching first at every turn.

Carl Bauer got third in 32.00, and the three place winners were each awarded beautiful individual silver cups by Mr. Huss, who is vice president of the club.

Five other swimmers finished in the 35 minute time limit, as follows: William C. Schmidt, 32.08; Edward Lackro, 33.12; J. D. Shapley 33.32; Joseph A. Wayne, 33.45; and W. H. H. Titus, 34.18. All of those that finished will be awarded bronze medals.

Schlieff's fast performance surprised even his most intimate club mates, and shows he will be a strong contender for the one-mile Middle Atlantic championship on September 3. He came very close to the best record for the event, which is 28 minutes 43 seconds, by Irvin W. Anthony, the local amateur distance champion and record holder, who has retired from competition.

Both contests counted in the point scoring which now stands as follows: Sylvester 25; McCurdy, 18; Stephens, 15; Carl Bauer and Schlieff, 14 each; T. E. K. Baser, 9; Costello 7; Loynd and Shapley, 5 each, and Crowell and Mats 3 each.

Two classes of motorboats competed in the third bi-weekly regatta of the Flat Rock Motorboat Club on the Schuylkill river at Lafayette on Saturday.

The Julia, owned by Harry Ayres, of the Roost Club, captured the cup, in the six-mile class, covering the three miles of the course in 55.48; the Media finishing second, in 56.26; Uncle Billy, also of the Roost Club, took third place, with 57.30.

The Andora owned by Samuel Long of Flat Rock finished ahead of the other seven-mile-an-hour boats covering the distance in 51.49. Second place in this class went to the Margaret, of the Roost Club, the boat finishing in 51.45. The May and the Florence finished in third and fourth places, respectively.

The course took the entrants from the Roost, up the river to Lafayette, to Flat Rock, back to the club, and over the course twice again. Silver cups were awarded to the winners in both races. Commodore George C. Kruser acted as the judge, Bert Sui-eil was starter, Samuel Long and J. E. Turner, were the timers.

The Philadelphia Canoe Club conducted several events in conjunction with the motorboat races. S. F. Dufry won the one-man single blade event in 22 1/2; E. E. Hunter taking second, and G. S. Richards third.

The half mile tandem race was the feature of the canoe races. More than ten entrants started in this event, Fullham and Galey took the lead almost at the start of the race and were never headed, although Richard and Altamus, who finished in second place, worried the final winners by an exciting spurt which closely pulled down the large lead of Fullham and Galey. Vincent and Swart were awarded the third prize. The winners time was 4 minutes and 23 seconds.

CHASES DAUGHTER'S ANNOYER.

Angry Parent, in Pajamas, Empties Revolver at Youth.

Bridgeport was given a thrill late Saturday night, when George Brophy of that place, clad in pajamas, chased and captured John Poska, who, it is alleged, had annoyed Brophy's daughter, Mary and two of her companions. Brophy emptied his revolver several times before he was able to bring the fugitive to a halt.

Poska was arraigned Sunday before Burgess McCormick for a hearing on the charge of disorderly conduct, and was sent to prison for 30 days. It was testified that Miss Brophy, accompanied by Miss Anna Jeffries and Miss Rose Fineran, was returning from a band concert at Norristown, when Poska approached. They ordered him away, and when he persisted they ran to Miss Brophy's home. There Poska they declared, attempted to embrace Miss Brophy. She screamed. Her father who was in bed, heard her, grasped his revolver and hurried downstairs. Poska fled with Brophy in pursuit.

DOWNING STREET, LONDON.

It Bears the Name of a Clever Man From Massachusetts.

Downing street, London, where are the British colonial and foreign offices and the official residence of the first lord of the treasury and where cabinet councils are held, perpetuates the name of a clever man from Massachusetts. Those were the days before the Fourth of July had any significance in American annals, and George Downing, the first scholar in the first public school in Massachusetts and the first graduate sent out by Harvard college, came to England and became a chaplain in Cromwell's army.

By a remarkable stroke of fortune he was sent to represent England at The Hague when Europe was trembling before Oliver, and during three distinct eras in England's history he held the office of British ambassador at the Dutch court. He was as popular or as clever under the Merry Monarch as under the protector and the commonwealth, and it came to pass in the reign of Charles II. that the man from Massachusetts was granted a great tract of land at Westminster, where he built huge mansions and laid out Downing street.

To this day Downing's street is Downing street still, and though George Downing is forgotten, there is no name in the British empire which is more familiar to us than his.—St. James' Gazette.

GREEN TURTLES.

The Youngsters Have a Perilous Time After Being Hatched.

Concerning the great turtles of the southwest Indian ocean a traveler says: "The chelonian, or green turtle (Chelone mydas), is an animal of considerable economic importance to the atoll, for it still occurs in the vast herds which are so often described by early voyagers in the tropics. There appear to be two distinct groups—one resident and small in numbers, the other migratory and visiting the atoll to breed in numbers impossible to estimate.

"The latter arrives in December, and from then to April the sea seems alive with turtles. The females seek the small sand beaches and then ascend them with the rising tide, pushing themselves laboriously above high tide mark. Holes are then dug in the sand by means of the fore flippers until a satisfactory one is obtained, and the eggs, 200 in number, are buried, the turtle returning to sea immediately.

"After forty days the eggs hatch almost simultaneously, and the young turtles dig their way up out of the sand and go down to the sea in a long procession, in the course of which they offer an easy prey to their enemies, the frigate birds and herons. Once in the sea, sharks and other large fish eat them, and only 10 per cent reach maturity."—Chicago News.

A Strong Recommendation.

"We are not taking on any new traveling men just now," the safe manufacturer said. "Business is rather dull in our line."

"Well, if you need one let me know," said the applicant for a job. "I'd rather sell your safe than any there is in the market. It's the best."

"Are you an expert?" "Yes, sir. I know all there is to be known about safes."

"Ever deal in them?" "No, sir."

"Ever work in a factory?" "No, sir."

"How do you know ours is the best?" "Because it takes longest to break into it."

"How do you know that?" "I'm a reformed burglar." He got the job.—Chicago Tribune.

An Immense Flower.

The largest of all the flowers of the world is said to be the rafflesia, a native of Sumatra, so called after Sir Stamford Raffles. This immense flower is composed of five round petals of a brickish color, each measuring a foot across. These are covered with numerous irregular yellowish white swellings. The petals surround a cup nearly a foot wide, the margin of which bears the stamens. The cup of the rafflesia is filled with a fleshy disk, the upper surface of which is covered with projections like miniature cows' horns. The cup when free from its contents will hold about twelve pints. The flower weighs about fifteen pounds and is very thick, the petals being three-quarters of an inch.—Scientific American.

Rhinoceros Horns.

The horns of the African rhinoceros sometimes grow to the length of four feet. In olden times rhinoceros horns were employed for drinking cups by royal personages, the notion being that poison put into them would show itself by bubbling. There may have been some truth in the idea, inasmuch as many of the ancient poisons were acids, and these acids would decompose the horny material very quickly.—London Telegraph.

Adaptable.

Client—Before we decide on the house my husband asked me to inquire if the district is at all unhealthy. House Agent—Er—what is your husband's profession, madam? Client—He is a physician. House Agent—Hum—er—well, I'm afraid truth compels me to admit that the district is not too healthy.—London Opinion.

PHYSICIAN IN AUTO PLUNGED OVER BANK

The Overland runabout of H. J. Deemer, of No. 195 DeKalb street, Bridgeport, containing Dr. David Nathan, of No. 403 West Marshall street, Norristown, plunged over a thirty-foot embankment Sunday evening on West Elm street, near the Stony Creek railroad.

Fortunately Dr. Nathan escaped with a few bruises, while the car was but slightly damaged. The accident occurred Sunday evening, a few minutes after ten o'clock.

Dr. Nathan had been out earlier in the evening in his Maxwell car. He was taking Mr. Deemer's car to the Norris City Garage by way of Elm street. There is no watchman at the Elm street crossing after 8 o'clock and no signal to warn the public that a train is approaching. Between Markley street and the crossing the view of the railroad is cut off by a high board fence. Nathan says he was within thirty feet of the railroad when he saw an engine attached to one car approaching the crossing.

He did not have time to bring the automobile to a stop, but turned it to the right. The car then shot across the lawn and garden in the rear of the watchbox and plunged over the high bank.

When the crew of the train rushed to where the auto was lying they expected to find several injured, but were agreeably surprised when Dr. Nathan told them that he was the only occupant of the car and outside of a pair of badly bruised shins he was not injured.

It was found necessary to obtain a pair of horses, and with the assistance of a big touring car from the Norris City garage, the machine was finally pulled out of the hole, very little damaged.

It was the second narrow escape that Dr. Nathan has had inside of a week. Last Tuesday he was taken ill while swimming and would have been drowned but for the timely assistance of George Rambo, Jr. and others.

CUT 26 TIMES WITH AX, WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Gordon Expires as Husband in Cell Prays for Her Recovery.

Mrs. Gussie Gordon died Sunday in the Jewish Hospital, Philadelphia, from twenty-six ax wounds, inflicted by her husband two weeks ago near Willow Grove. The husband is a prisoner in the Abington police station, suffering from wounds, self-inflicted, with the same weapon.

The home of Morris Krier, near Willow Grove was the scene of the tragedy. Mrs. Gordon and her two children were living there following a separation from her husband. Gordon came from Da Costa, N. J., the home of the Gordon's to visit his wife and a quarrel arose. While his six-year-old daughter Helen looked on in horror Gordon hacked his wife with an ax and inflicted twenty-six wounds on her head and body as she tried to escape from him. Then Gordon turned the weapon upon himself, inflicting many wounds. Both were taken to the Jewish Hospital. Last Saturday Gordon had so far recovered that it was possible to take him to the police station.

At the same hour of the removal of Gordon, his wife's condition suddenly took a decided turn for the worse. At the time of her death her husband, lying on a cot in the detention room at the Abington Station, was hoping for her recovery. He had not been told of her release, and in talking about the case said:—

"I trust she will get well. I struck her down in the heat of passion. I had gone from Da Costa to Willow Grove to tell her that I had a position worth $10 per month, and other income which brought the total to $60, and I wanted her to come back to me. She absolutely refused to listen to me, and I became infuriated.

"I am not trying to excuse myself. I am a Philadelphian, born in Frankford, and after I was married I had my troubles. Mrs. Gordon had gone from the homes I had made for her no less than four times. In many other ways she was not the wife to me that she should have been. I have had plenty of time to think over this terrible thing as I lay in the hospital, and I hope she'll get well.

The two little children, Helen and Edna are in care of a Philadelphia society. The story of 6-year-old Helen, who witnessed the tragedy, may play a big part in the trial of her father.

County Treasurer of Montgomery County. There are many aspirants who would like to succeed him in office.

Clerk of Courts. Controller—Dr. John N. Jacobs, of Lansdale.

Clerk of Courts—James Stretch of Lower Merion. He is also mentioned for Recorder of Deeds.

Sheriff—Charles E. Schwartz, Jenkintown; William H. Fox, Skipack; and Grant M. Koons, Pottstown.

County Treasurer—Dr. Horace P. Keely, of Schwenksville; and Geo. H. Anders of Norristown.

Coroner—Joseph N. King, Norristown; Thomas W. Faulkner, Norristown; Dr. J. N. Hunsberger, Norristown; William Neville, Conshohocken.

County Commissioners—Jas. Krewson, of Cheltenham; A. F. Saylor, of Lower Pottsgrove, and Louis Nagle, of Cheltenham.

Poor Director—Jacob Ebst, of Upper Hanover and John E. McDowell, of Red Hill.

The present incumbents in these offices include: Register of Wills, Samuel J. Garner, of Hatboro; Recorder of Deeds, H. T. Hunsicker of Ironbridge; Clerk of Courts, Howard S. Stillwagon, of Lower Merion; Sheriff, Chauncey J. Buckley, of Norristown; County Treasurer, William H. Hagginbotham of Upper Providence; Poor Director, John H. McDowell, of Red Hill; Commissioners, James G. Krewson, of Cheltenham; and A. F. Saylor, of Lower Pottsgrove; Controller, John N. Jacobs, of Lansdale; Orphans Court Judge, William F. Solig.

There is a popular demand for the renomination and election of Judge Solig and a petition setting forth his ability, commending his excellent service, and calling upon him again to be a candidate, is being circulated and signed by practically every member of the bar.

The deputies who are seeking promotion are Mr. Whitehead, Mr. Moore and Mr. Fox. Mr. Stewart is a return transcriber in the office of the County Commissioners.

Mr. Schwartz was a candidate for Sheriff last time, but failed of nomination as did Mr. Keely for the Treasurership; Mr. Yeakle for Recorder; Mr. Shieve and Mr. Williams for District Attorney; Mr. Anders for Treasurer and Mr. Whitehead for Register.

Norristown Herald:

Conshohocken has a favorite son for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Deeds, Joseph C. Moore. There is no better nor more popular man in the Iron Borough, and the enthusiasm in his behalf is spontaneous and genuine. He has mastered the duties of the office by experience in its daily routine. He has endeared himself to the public by unflinching courtesy, fidelity and desire to oblige. His candidacy ought to sweep the borough and its neighboring districts and spread to the remotest parts of the county. Hurray for Joe Moore!

Samuel Yeakle, postmaster at Fort Washington for many years one of the most active school directors of Washington township, is a Republican candidate for Recorder of Deeds.

Dr. John N. Jacobs, who was appointed County Controller by the Governor in the spring, last week consented to become the Republican candidate for the office and his name will be one of those on the ticket at the primaries on Saturday, September 30th.

Dr. Horace P. Keely, of Schwenksville, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Treasurer of Montgomery county.

The Republican State Committee has just issued a book which is calculated to give election information. From it is quoted the following:

"Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks; Provided, That if he is challenged he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the last preceding election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party, for whose ballot he asks.

"Upon executing such affidavit, the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called, and to cast his vote according to law."

The number of signatures required upon petition to have a candidate's name printed upon the primary ballot for any office voted for by an entire county is fifty.

For Judges of the courts, the number of petitioners required is two hundred.

For borough and township officers the number required is ten.

The petitions for all candidates for Judges are filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The last day upon which they can be filed is Saturday, September 2, 1911.

Petitions for all other offices are to be filed with the County Commissioners. The last day for filing is Saturday, September 9, 1911.

Borough and township officers may also be nominated with the County Commissioners at least fifteen days before the day of election.

Nominations may also be made by "Nomination Papers," but only by using a party name different from the one of any party that heretofore polled two per centum of the total vote in the district for which the nomination is made.

SUSPECTS OLD CROOKS.

Chief Donaghy of Lower Merion, Arrests Former City Pair.

Captain James I. Donaghy's years of experience in the pursuit of crooks in Philadelphia, when he was for years chief of detectives, serves him well in his position as chief of police of Lower Merion, for in the police station at Ardmore are two prisoners, credited with criminal careers in Philadelphia. One is John Stahl, who, according to Captain Donaghy, six or more years ago, was sent to the penitentiary on a two-year sentence, convicted in connection with the conduct of a baby farm on Wood street below Eighth, at which institution the bodies of infants were burned. Another is George Bowers, who, according to the police has served time for different offenses in Philadelphia. Each is charged with theft, though in separate cases; Stahl with a robbery of a house in Cynwyd, with loot amounting to $500, and Bowers with breaking into the home of Frank Lentz, a dairyman in Merion Square yesterday morning and stealing a gold watch.

BERMUDEZ ASPHALT FOR FAYETTE STREET

BRICK GUTTERS AND BRICK BETWEEN TROLLEY TRACKS AND ASPHALT FOR ROADWAY HAS BEEN DECIDED UPON FOR FAYETTE STREET.—PORTION OF ELM STREET TO BE BRICKED, OTHER BUSINESS.

At an adjourned meeting of Town Council held on Wednesday evening to determine the character of the pavement for Fayette street, it was decided to pave the street with Bermudez asphalt and lay a three foot brick gutter and have the trolley company pave between their tracks and eighteen inches outside each rail with Pine Grove paving blocks. The contract for the brick gutters was awarded to Harry Moores and a special committee to act in conjunction with the Railroad Committee, will be appointed to confer with the management of the trolley company, to see if the company will consent to the brick program. The street Committee was instructed to re-advertise for bids for the laying of the Bermudez pavement on Fayette street, by the hot mixed method.

Immediately upon the convening of Council, Mr. Harvey made a motion, which carried, that all bids received on July 24th for the paving of Fayette street and the macadamizing of many other streets be rejected. He also made a motion that bids be invited for the paving of Fayette street with brick and other streets which are to be macadamized that new bids be invited for the macadamizing of the same from a depth of 5 inches at the summit to 3 inches at the gutters. This motion opened up a discussion, which while the subject changed at intervals, kept up over two hours, and at times became very heated. While the motion was not put, it gave the various representatives of paving materials a chance to be heard upon motion of Mr. Toner, a representative of the Warren Company was given the privilege of the floor to explain and show a sample of a new pavement, "Bitucrete" which is a pavement laid on a concrete base of a depth of six inches and before the concrete is set, stone of various sizes are rolled into the concrete and upon this stone a two inch covering of fine stone and bitumen is laid. The bid submitted for this material was $1.60 per sq. yd. and Council did not favor it owing to its cost.

The Barber Asphalt Paving Company, who bid for the supplying of Bermudez asphalt, sent a letter to Council stating that as the other contractors had guaranteed certain materials and that they did not understand a guarantee was to accompany the bids, offered to guarantee their material and will be responsible for repairs made necessary to the street by failure of the binder. Their representative Mr. Miller addressed Council on the virtues of Bermudez and said his material would make an ideal pavement for Fayette street.

Mr. Toner objected to Council determining at this time the materials to be used on Fayette street as the bids had not been tabulated. President Thomas replied that he had received the tabulation of the bids from the engineer and had them in Council. Mr. Toner replied that the engineer had not notified him and as chairman of the Street Committee he should have had such notification.

The discussion preparatory to deciding the material to be used for Fayette street was opened by Mr. Harrold who stated that he is in favor of brick pavements but is against having them laid on a sand cushion. He cited that the City of York has many bad brick pavements owing to their being laid on a sand cushion. He said that he believes in "Bermudez," and believes it to be as good as "Warren" and also stated that there are reports going about that attempts have been made to bribe Councilmen to get certain street paving materials. He said his whole interest is for the borough and believes that Fayette street will be made a good street if three-foot brick gutters are laid, the space between the trolley tracks and eighteen inches each side thereof is laid with brick and the balance of the street with Bermudez asphalt. President Thomas agreed with Mr. Harrold's plan for the street and believed there ought to be enough money to carry it out. Mr. Harvey resented Mr. Harrold's condemnation of brick laid on a sand cushion and

TO ERECT FACTORY BUILDINGS

Parker Boiler Company Have Started The Work for Erecting Their New Factory.

The Parker Boiler Company, of Philadelphia, who last spring purchased a plot of ground from the Scharff estate, located between the Reading and Pennsylvania Railroads, below Spring Mill, yesterday began the work of excavating for the foundation for their new building.

The Company will start their factory with about sixty employees, mostly skilled workmen and it is hoped the increasing business of the Company will require extensions of the plant in the near future.

The Company manufactures a high class steam boiler and have met with good success in their business. These boilers have been installed in some of the largest factories and power plants in the East.

The Corporation is an aggressive one and can be depended upon to get its share of the business that is to be had. Their new manufacturing site is an ideal one, lying between two railroads and close to the Schuylkill river. Their shipping facilities and kill river. Their shipping facilities and desired.

The eastern offices of the Company, which is a California corporation, are located at Philadelphia.

NEW TEACHER ELECTED.

Directors Have Selected a Teacher For the New Connaughttown School

A meeting of the School Board of Plymouth township was held last evening at the home of Director John Gillan, at Mogeetown. There was a full attendance of the Board and the most important business of the meeting was the election of a teacher for the new school which will be instituted in the Building of the Plymouth Fire Company located at Connaughttown, near the Conshohocken borough line. Seven applications were received for the position which were carefully considered and Miss Lindeman who has taught at the "Lever" school in Upper Providence township for the past two years was selected. Miss Lindeman comes highly recommended.

A delegation consisting of Messrs Philip Heffenfinger, Washington Bell, John Dodsworth, and John Bailey, representing the citizens of the district, protested against the Board locating a school in the Fire House. The Board heard the protest but their action in locating the new school was not changed.

The new school will open for the fall term on Monday August 25th.

138TH REG'T RE-UNION

Comrades and Their Families Will Have a Good Time at White City.

The weather man has always been good to the Comrades of the old 138th Reg't Pa. Vols. when they have their annual re-union and the same favor can be expected of him this year—at least the comrades their families and their many friends who enjoy these annual re-unions sincerely hope so.

On Monday next the Regiment will hold its annual re-union at Chestnut Hill park. The business meeting will be held at 10 A. M. and at 2 P. M. a Camp Fire will be held and speakers of prominence will address the comrades and the friends. After the Camp Fire the time will be devoted to the renewing of acquaintances talking over old days and enjoying the many amusements of the park.

The management of the park will spread across the lake an American flag the largest in the country. The flag measures 70 by 135 feet. Another feature of the day will be the salute to the flag.

Survivors of the regiment are scattered over all the states of the Union and it is hard for the secretary to keep in touch with all and as far as has been reported to him the following members of the Regiment have passed away since the last re-union.

Amos Mitchell, Co. C, Died Oct. 4th Edw. D. Erven, Co. K, Died No. 4th Jos. W. Jones, Co. A, Died Feb. 25.

The officers of the Regimental Association are President, John A. Wills 1st vice President, Lorenzo Shearer; 2nd vice President, John H. Smith; treasurer, E. B. Buzby; Chaplain, J. H. Markley; Secretary, Wm. Coppleberger, 903 Arizona street, Philadelphia; Cor. Secretary, George M. Williams of this borough; Trustees, Samuel Aikens, Charles R. Jones and Silas Kingkner, all of Norristown.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE AT SCHOOL

THE SCHOOL BOARD DECIDES TO HAVE A NEW BUILDING ERECTED FOR TOILET ROOMS.—THE JANITORS ELECTED AND THE FINANCE COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED TO ISSUE THE TAX DUPLICATES TO THE BEST ADVANTAGE OF THE BOARD.

At the meeting of the Conshohocken School Board on Wednesday evening, the Board decided to spend about $7000 for the erection of badly needed toilet rooms, the three janitors were re-elected and the Finance Committee was directed to issue the tax duplicates for this year to the collector who will give the best returns to the School District.

Chairman McCoy, of the Finance Committee, reported to the Board that the Committee had received a bid from DeHaven & Jones to collect the school taxes for this year for $540, the borough duplicate to be collected for $560; Messrs DeHaven and Jones if appointed, will make John D. Hampton their deputy, and he will collect the taxes.

The collection of taxes is rather complicated this year by the school code just going into force, which declares that a tax collector can not be issued a tax duplicate until he has settled the one of the previous year. Mr. Hampton, the collector for last year, has not settled his duplicate. He therefore can not be given the duplicate for this year. But, the Borough, having no such restriction, has given to Mr. Hampton the collection of this year's duplicate. It would be difficult to get some one to collect the school tax alone, and not the borough tax, and therefore an arrangement was sought to have the collection placed in Mr. Hampton's hands, and yet comply with the law.

The offer of DeHaven and Jones, does this, but the School Board does not like it, because the $540 is an increase of $160 over that paid last year.

On the motion of Mr. Jones the Finance Committee was given authority to place the duplicate to the best advantage of the Board.

On the recommendation of the Building Committee the three janitors were re-elected with the following salaries:

William Crawford, to have charge of the Manual Training and Toilet Buildings, salary, $35 per month.

Robert Herron, charge of the High School, salary $40 per month.

Howard Buzzard, Harry street School, salary $50 per month.

The schools on the motion of Mr. McCoy will reopen on Tuesday, September 5th, having one session for the first two weeks.

Treasurer Morrison's report was read as follows:

July Balance	$330.52
Springfield Twp. Tuition	80.00
Sewing Department	117.00
Wood working Department	19.20
Tax of 1909	500.00
Tax of 1910	390.00
	$1337.82

Orders paid	469.74
Sinking fund	208.00
Balance on hand	669.08
	$1337.82

President Bowker retired before the meeting was ended, Mr. Wood acting in his place.

The absentees were Dr. Tegtmeyer, and Messrs. Graham, McGovern and Fields.

APPLIED FOR A PATENT

Herman Kleinman and George Chell, of this borough, and Walter Wires, of Norristown, will within a short time engage in the manufacture of "Samsonia" anti-friction metal. The metal is the invention of Mr. Wires and in trial tests has proven so satisfactory that he and Mr. Kleinman have applied for a patent for it.

The metal is being tested in several factories and a good test is being made at the Merion Worsted Mills, West Conshohocken. The bearings of the large steam engine were poured with this metal six months ago and the metal is standing the test beyond the expectations of its inventor.

Preparations are being made for the erection of a small smelting furnace for the manufacture of the metal and it will be placed upon the market within a short time.

REV. W. H. GARMAN RESIGNS

POPULAR PASTOR OF THE FREE BAPTIST CHURCH, TENDERED HIS RESIGNATION WEDNESDAY EVENING TO TAKE EFFECT ON THE FIRST OF OCTOBER.—REV. H. W. AIKINS HAS BEEN CALLED AS HIS SUCCESSOR.

At the regular monthly business meeting of the members of the Free Baptist Church of West Conshohocken held on Wednesday evening the following letter of resignation from Rev. W. H. Garman, their pastor, was read: To the Board of Trustees and Members:—

It is with much regret after four years in the service of God among you, that I offer my resignation as pastor of your church, to take effect October first, 1911.

During my ministry God has greatly blessed us together, having added not only many to the membership roll, paid off the old mortgage, but has created among us a fellowship in Jesus which binds my heart to you with a love born only of God.

Yet, as is well known to all our members, my ill health has become such a burden that I feel I cannot conscientiously continue my present pastoral duties, as the increased needs of our church now demands.

In all sincerity therefore, I ask you to accept my resignation, and trust you will be successful in obtaining a successor who will be competent to fulfill all the needs of the church with holiness and dignity towards God, and that the blessings of the future will be so abundant you will experience the greatest outpouring of heavenly fire and the Holy Ghost.

Yours in the Lord
Rev. W. H. Garman, Pastor

The members of the Free Baptist Church were loathe to losing their pastor and made a number of overtures to retain him, but prompted in his action by failing health it was with a feeling of deep regret that the resignation was finally accepted.

Rev. Mr. Garman has been pastor of the Church for four years and during that time has labored hard and conscientiously for the uprisings of his church. The manner in which he has succeeded is best attested by the fact that the membership has greatly increased, all the debt against the church and ground has been wiped out and the contract to erect a pool in the church has been awarded.

Not only in his own church has Rev. Mr. Garman been a hard worker but he has been a leading spirit in the Pennsylvania Free Baptist Association of which his church is a member, and he has been its president for the past three years. Several months ago, his health began to fail and his physician has advised him to relinquish his work with the hope that complete rest will strengthen his physical condition.

His retirement from the West Side church will not interfere with his work in the Association and he will continue to serve as the head of that body. When interviewed at his home yesterday, Mr. Garman stated that he intended to retain his residence in the West Borough. He will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday evening, September 23rd.

Rev. H. W. Aikins, of Norristown, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the church, and while he will not assume the pastorate until Sunday, October 1st, he will occupy the pulpit and greet the members of his future congregation on next Sunday morning.

A FAMILY FIGHT

Many Arrests Grow Out of a Free for All Fight.

Six persons are under bail for court and hearings as the result of a fight which occurred on Tuesday evening at Fourth avenue near Wood street.

Dominick Donizi, an Italian resident, was visiting a friend on West Fourth avenue, opposite the home of Thomas Ford, on Tuesday evening and Michael Doran, who lives at the Ford home, began taunting the Italian and calling him vile names. Dominick crossed the street to where Doran was standing and began remonstrating with him when, so it was testified, Doran struck him. Dominick defended himself in such a manner that Ford came to Doran's assistance. Ford explained that the reason that he entered the fight was that "I could not see a Dago lick an Irishman." When the two men were fighting the Italian, Dominick's brother-Veneto came to his assistance and then Philip Ford, son of Thomas, went to the aid of his father and Doran. Dominick's wife tried to separate the men when Doran struck her and knocked her down and she charged that Thomas Ford kicked her. Doran and the Fords were held under $350 bail for court.

Thomas Ford has sworn out warrants before Magistrate Smith for the arrest of the woman and her husband and brother-in-law and they will be given a hearing to-morrow afternoon. The woman has also sworn out warrants for Doran and Ford and they will be given a hearing before Magistrate Light, this evening.

Doran has just completed a jail sentence being convicted for the robbery of Thomas McCoy's drug store, at Fourth avenue and Fayette street about three years ago.

NEW TAX-COLLECTORS

DeHaven and Jones Will Collect the 1911 Borough and School Taxes.

That DeHaven & Jones assisted by John D. Hampton, as deputy collector will collect the 1911 school and borough taxes has been definitely settled.

Before the School Board finally entered into the agreement, Magistrate Light was invited to bid for the work of collecting the school taxes. He bid $400 and the cost of printing, advertising, postage, etc. The bid of DeHaven and Jones was $440 and the cost of printing, advertising, postage, etc., and as they are to collect the borough taxes, it was deemed more economical that the firm be given the school duplicate.

The first agreement of DeHaven and Jones was $1100 and expenses for printing, etc., for the collection of both the school and borough duplicates, the school to pay $540 and half the expense and the borough $560 and half the expense. The Finance Committee of the School Board has succeeded in getting the cost of collection reduced $100.

OLD BREWERY SOLD

Property of Defunct Gulf Brewing Company Has Been Sold.

Mrs. Catharine M. B. Varian, has purchased of Brooke Adams, through the Conshohocken Real Estate Agency the property formerly owned by the Gulf Brewing Company, at Gulf Mills. The property consists of 13 acres of fine farm land along the Gulf creek. There are five tenement houses, an excellent stable and the ruins of the old brewery buildings.

RECAPTURE ONE MANIAC

Two Patients Force Iron Bars and Leave Asylum.

Two patients escaped from the State Hospital for the Insane last night by forcing an iron bar off a window. Charles Goodhart was captured, but Charles Shodhoff is still among the missing.

Goodhart was almost nude when he walked into the police station at Norristown. He told the officers he had been robbed by tramps. It was some time later when they learned that, he was an escaped patient.

LIVING IN THE WILDS OF MAINE'S WOODS

FORMER REGISTER OF WILLS, EDWARD J. CAINE WRITES ENTERTAININGLY OF THE VACATION HE AND MRS. CAINE ARE ENJOYING AWAY OFF FROM CIVILIZATION.—LIVING IN A FISHERMAN'S AND HUNTER'S PARADISE.

To the Recorder:

Antlers Camp
Lawer Joe—Mary Lake,
My trip to the Maine Woods may be of some interest to your Readers, if not—the waste basket is handy.

We arrived in Boston from the Maine Steamship Co's Boat at 8.50 A. M. took a cab which landed us at the Northern Union depot and after procuring tickets and berths on sleeper and had baggage checked to Norcross we were at leisure until 7.30 P. M. To pass the time away we went out to Dorchester by car and spent the rest of the afternoon in Boston Common Park, it is very pretty with its lake and we found it very restful.

Arrived at Norcross at 6 A. M. and was disappointed at its appearance. It consists of four houses one of them the Post office, store and Boarding House.

At 10 A. M. we boarded a motor launch on Penaduncook Lake and we were off for an eight mile ride and were then met by Mr. Potter our host with a guide and two canoes. The guide in one with the luggage and our host in the other with two passengers. After paddling a short distance we arrived at a narrow channel with water coming down in a series of rapids. Our guide requested us to keep quiet and with a pole started to climb the rapids. No one but an expert with plenty of strength could succeed in poleing an eighth of a mile to calm water. After rowing a short distance we were again confronted with another series of rapids and the struggle was renewed until we reached Lower Joe Mary Lake some 16 feet higher than the first. Once more we embarked in a motor launch and were off for camp—5 miles away, arriving at that place at 2.30 P. M. and were escorted to our cabin, which consists of 2 bed rooms, a sitting room and a kitchen.

We donned flannel shirts and moccasins and away to lunch. The meals are far better than we expected being so far from the depot of supplies. We have a motor launch for our use—the most of the time and it is run by our nearest Camp boarder, who is an expert at the business with a number of canoes, one especially large for one from Montgomery Co., and who is anxious to be able to return to Conshohocken.

I have caught Pickerel, Perch and Trout. To fish the first time requires preparation to protect ones self from the attack of millions of mosquitoes. I experienced this the first time out, which compelled me to beat a hasty retreat.

On the 25th with a companion and a guide I visited Hendersons Hunters and Lake Camp, situated on a Ridge of Cooper mountain some 1600 feet above Joe Mary Lake and from 10 to 12 degrees cooler. We remained two days in a comfortable cabin and two of us caught over forty Trout, which we brought home. On our way, we saw two Does with three fawns; a covey of Partridges and wild Ducks on the Lake.

But that one trip will be sufficient for me. Never have I traveled over such a path, over large boulders and stumps in a hole up on a ridge and for the longest 5 miles I ever traveled.

Home again in Cabin, Mrs. Caine and I spend our time in reading and sleeping and on the porch listening to the Loons call on the Lake and in the distance we can dimly see the end of it and the Bay to the middle of Joe Mary Lake.

While taking the comfort I want to thank the Giver of all good things for this pleasure, and would say to those at home who love the fragrance of the Pine, the Spruce, the Hemlock and the Birch who want a rest of mind and body, come to the Woods of Maine.

ED. J. CAINE

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Maria Paul, wish to thank their many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy in their recent sad bereavement.

cited a street in Norristown where the same kind of brick is used as in York and which are laid on a concrete base have given a faulty pavement. Mr. Harvey stated that it is the fault of the brick and not the foundation. Mr. Stemple said that he had examined the foundation of Fayette street and believed if the street was thoroughly rolled, there is sufficient foundation to lay a good brick pavement on a sand cushion. He had knowledge of the York pavements and has been informed by residents of the city that the fault of the pavement lays in the inferior quality of the brick used and not the foundation.

Mr. Lacey said that he is in favor of paving with "Bermudez" as he believed it to be nearly as good as "Warren." Mr. Bate in speaking on the paving question said that he has lived here 45 years and during all that time Fayette street has had a good foundation and during these years it has been rolled and hammered down so that it would be a waste of money to tear out such a foundation and he believed that if the street was given a good covering of macadam and then oiled, a good road would be secured. He continued, that he had seen "Bermudez" and "Pioneer" binders and the former is far better and the latter will not answer here. Continuing, he said that he had had "Warren" here for ten years next month, and the pavement is in good shape except the gutters and if "Bermudez" is laid and lasts ten years and at the expiration of that time the Company lays another covering, it will be cheaper than brick and believes that "Bermudez" will be suitable for Fayette street.

Mr. Noblet favored brick because it is permanent. Once it is laid, the expense to the borough ceases, and as it is a question of money whether a permanent brick pavement can be laid, he showed that a saving of $6848 could be made by decreasing the depth of macadam on the streets to be improved which are not heavily traveled.

President Thomas entered the discussion and said that he favors brick, yet the Borough cannot afford to use it, as it would cost $32,000 and the next best thing is "Bermudez." He said of the $62,800 appropriated for Fayette street and other streets, $30,000 had already been spent and if brick is used other streets will have to be left unimproved and as some of these streets have been declared open the borough is bound to grade them. Continuing, he explained that every cent of the first item of the loan has been spent and of the second item, the paving of Hector street and Elm street, including the work done and to be done, pretty nearly eats up the whole item.

Mr. Harrold then made a motion which carried that 3 foot brick gutters be laid on Fayette street and laid on a concrete foundation and that a Committee of three be appointed to confer with Supt. Hoeger, to try and induce the trolley company to brick between their tracks and outside the rails. Mr. Slingluff said that the Railroad Committee has conferred with Mr. Hoeger on this subject and that he replied that the Company was bound by the franchise to lay the same material that the borough used in paving the street. He refused to lay brick and said that he would live up to the ordinance. A recess of five minutes was taken for the preparation of a resolution for the paving of Fayette street.

Change Paving.

At the reconvening of Council a resolution authorizing the paving of Fayette street as follows, was read: The gutters are to be of brick and three feet in width the brick to be laid on a concrete base. The space between the trolley tracks and for eighteen inches outside each rail to be paved with Pine Grove brick and the rest of the street with "Bermudez" asphalt. The rules were suspended and the resolution passed second reading and was adopted by a vote of 10 to 4. The vote: Aye, Messrs Bate, Harrold, Harvey, Lacey, May, McPhilly, Noblet, Slingluff, Stemple and Thomas. Nay: Messrs Marks, Toner, Williams and Woodland.

A Shot at Pioneer.

A resolution was read authorizing the paving of Poplar street from Spring Mill avenue to the Railroad and Harry street from Elm street to Spring Mill avenue and Ash street from Spring Mill avenue to the Railroad, with Pioneer Asphalt. Mr. Harvey made a motion that "Bermudez" asphalt be substituted for "Pioneer" giving as his reasons that if "Pioneer" is not good enough for Fayette street it is not good enough for any other street. Mr. Woodland objected to "Bermudez" it is a hard surface, will not give good results on the hills. Mr. McPhilly was against "Pioneer" and said that the borough would be doing a piece of "destructive work" if it paves with "Pioneer." Mr. Bate then had the clerk read a letter which was sent him by the engineer of the city of Janesville, Wis., in reply to his inquiry on the merits of "Pioneer" asphalt. The letter stated that the city had given two contracts for street work a price of 89 cents and 87 cents per square yard to two companies, one of which used "Pioneer" binder and the one street giving entire satisfaction and the "Pioneer" street has proved unsatisfactory and has deteriorated.

After the letter was read the resolution passed second reading and was adopted by a vote of 11 to 3. The vote was as follows: Aye—Messrs. Bate, Harrold, Harvey, Lacey, Marks May, McPhilly, Noblet, Slingluff, Stemple and Thomas. Nay—Messrs. Toner, Williams and Woodland. The "Bermudez" was therefore substituted for "Pioneer." "Bermudez" was also substituted for "Pioneer" for Elm street from Fayette to Harry street and for Harry street between Elm street and the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Pine Grove brick specified for Elm street from Harry to Ash street. The resolutions authorizing these changes were passed unanimously.

Award Contracts

Mr. Harvey asked if Council could not now award the contracts on the bids received. President Thomas said he would consider it in order. Mr. Harrold then made a motion that the laying of the brick gutters on Fayette street be awarded to Harry Moores, on his bid for the street work at $1.90 per square yard. Mr. Woodland and Mr. Toner objected and the latter stated that bids had been received for the laying of brick gutters and Mr. Moores had given no such bid, his bid being for the entire paving of the street. The other bids were not considered and the motion awarding the contract was carried.

Fayette Street Contract

As things were moving along very smooth and quick a motion to award the contract for the paving of Fayette street to William Little as he was the lowest bidder for the use of "Bermudez" and trap rock, brought Mr. Harrold to his feet with a motion that the contract be awarded to the Monroe Paving Company, as this Company was the lowest bidder. He afterwards withdrew his motion and asked the privilege of the floor for a representative of the company. It was granted and the representative asked that his company's bid be considered as local stone and trap rock were specified and by using local stone, his bid is the lowest. The clerk then read the bids of the two contractors for the use of "Bermudez" by the penetration method, which had been the basis of cost used by Council in changing from a brick paving.

The bids:

Wm. Little, trap rock 76c sq. yd. Monroe Pav. Co., trap rock 81c sq. yd. " " local stone 72c sq. yd. Mr. Little did not bid on the mixed method and the Monroe's Company's bid was 88 cts. per sq. yd. for local stone and 97 cents for trap rock.

This brought up another heated discussion. Mr. Toner said that the whole argument of Council had been in basing their costs on the use of the penetration method and now desire to award contracts for the hot mixed method which costs so much more. He also accused in a general way, that members of council have taken the stand to "knock out" local contractors under the pretense of using the best method of construction and yet are willing to use a cheaper stone. Mr. Bate then asked that Contractor Little be given a chance. Mr. O'Neill, of the O'Neill Stone Company of this borough, was given the privilege of the floor and talked in defense of his stone. He said that it compared very favorable with trap rock. In fact, when the concrete work was being done on Elm street, the engineer inquired of the contractor, where did you get the trap rock.

Mr. Harrold then made a motion, which carried that bids be invited for the paving of Fayette street, in the manner prescribed by Council, and the bids to be in within ten days.

New Bids for Macadamizing.

In order to save money, Council decided that the depth of macadam on certain streets for which bids have been received could be lessened and on the motion of Mr. Harvey, new bids will be asked for the macadamizing of the following streets with macadamizing of the following depths. The former depths being 7 inches at the summit of the street to 5 inches at the gutters. Fourth avenue, Maple to Wood St. 5 in. to 3 in. Forrest St. 5 in. to 3 in. Seventh avenue, Fayette to Maple, 6 in. to 4 in. Seventh avenue, Maple to Wood, 5 in. to 3 in. Elm street, 6 in. to 4 in. Maple street, Third to Seventh ave. 6 in. to 4 in.

Maple street, Seventh to Eleventh avenue, 5 in. to 3 in. Fifth avenue, Fayette to Maple, 6 in. to 4 in. Fifth avenue, Maple to Wood, 5 in. to 3 in. Tenth avenue, Fayette to Maple, 5 in. to 3 in. Ninth avenue, Fayette to Maple, 5 in. to 3 in.

An amendment to the motion, by Mr. Toner, specifying that Maple street between Third and Seventh avenues be macadamized to a depth of 7 in. at the summit, tapering to 5 in. at the gutter was accepted and the motion as amended passed.

Other Business.

Attorney H. M. Tracy, representing John Mooney, of Third avenue and Maple street and Mrs. Cecilia Stemple of Elm and Forrest streets, in a letter to Council stated that the property of Mr. Mooney is being damaged in that the surface water from Maple street and the adjacent alley is turned onto his property.

Mrs. Stemple claims that her property is damaged by reason of the change of grade made when Elm street was paved. The matter was referred to the Street Committee to confer with Mr. Tracy.

Complaints were also received from Mr. Bradley and Mrs. Downey, property owners of W. Fifth avenue, who claim that by the grading of the street the course of the surface water has been changed and that it flows onto their properties. Mr. Bradley has given his case to Attorney T. L. Bean and Mrs. Downey desires to make settlement without recourse to law. Upon the recommendation of Chairman Toner, Council will view both properties and adjust the matter.

The Street Committee was instructed to have the culvert crossing Maple street, at Third avenue extended so that it will terminate beyond the sidewalk instead of on it as it does. The street is being graded and the work will be done so that it will be completed before the grading is done.

On motion of Mr. Harrold, the Street Committee was instructed to resurface Elm street from Maple street to the west borough line, with macadam.

Mr. Toner also asked that Fifth avenue from Fayette to Maple street be placed in good condition and that the section above Wood street be repaired.

Mr. Harvey wanted Council to give Contractor Little permission to take dirt away from the entrance to the alley between Eighth and Ninth avenue west of Forrest street. Council refused as the ground is private property and the borough would be liable for damages but the property holders may give the permission if they desire.

The question of the street sweeper was again brought up but the Committee, which was instructed to make the purchase, had nothing to report.

Fencing in Sidewalks.

The Solicitor at the last meeting of council was instructed to prepare an opinion as to the legality of fencing in the triangular plot of ground located at the junction of Spring Mill avenue and Wells street. The Solicitor stated that he had drafted an opinion but had not written out but would give Council a verbal opinion. He stated that a previous Council had given David H. Ross permission to fence in this ground which is a part of the sidewalks of the streets. In this Council erred and the borough can order that the fence be removed. Council's action was illegal in that by motion or resolution it cannot give away ground or permit its fencing in. If it was the desire of Council to give this ground for a flower plot or any other purpose, the only course to pursue was to vacate the ground, which it did not do.

Council adjourned to meet at five o'clock this afternoon, at Fifth avenue and Maple street, to view the property of Mr. Bradley, Mrs. Downey and Mr. Mooney, to see what measures are necessary to be taken to relieve these properties of the damage of which they complain.

P. O. S. OF A. DEMONSTRATION

Flour-town Camp Will Have a Big Day on August 27th.

Preparations are going on for the public demonstration of the Flour-town camp, No. 784, P. O. S. of A., to take place, Saturday morning, August 26th. John D. Landis superintendent of the Montgomery county public schools, has sent word that he will be on hand to deliver an address on this occasion. An interesting program is being prepared and the committee is working hard to make the event a success.

The Germania band, which is considered one of the best organizations in the eastern part of Pennsylvania, will arrive at 9:40 and the exercises will commence promptly at 10 o'clock.

BOY IS FEEBLE MINDED

Joseph Strauss is Sent to Spring City Institution.

The Court has handed down an order directing that Joseph Strauss, aged 13 years, who has been an inmate of the House of Detention for a few weeks, be removed to the Pennsylvania State Institution for Feeble Minded Children at Spring City.

Strauss is a Conshohocken lad and from the reports received by Judges Swartz and Weand, he is mentally afflicted to such an extent that it is dangerous to leave him unprotected. He was first placed in the care of the Probation Officer because of his conduct. It was alleged that he had several times attempted to end his life by throwing himself in front of moving trains in the vicinity of his home.

Strauss was arraigned at a session of Juvenile Court on July 22, and at that time the Judges were puzzled as to what disposition to make of the boy. It was testified at that time that during the night previous to the hearing he had made a desperate attempt to end his life by strangulation. The boy had secured a necktie which he knotted about his neck and when he was found by Mrs. Ritter, matron of the House of Detention he was already unconscious. It was with the greatest difficulty that she managed to loosen the noose around the boys neck and save his life.

Since the hearing Strauss has been kept under close surveillance at the Detention House and he has had no opportunity to make another attempt at suicide. He was taken to the Spring City Institution Tuesday afternoon.

AUTO INJURES CHILD

Harry Holman Could not Avo d Striking Child Playing in Street.

Joseph Puleo, a six year old Italian boy, residing at Norristown was struck and run over by an automobile operated by Harry Holman, a resident of Cold Point, at Main and Ford streets, Norristown and the victim is reported as being in a serious condition at Charity hospital.

Mr. Holman was operating his automobile in the East End of the borough on Monday evening and at the time was running both slowly and carefully. At Main and Ford streets a number of children were playing in the highway and the autoist attempted to steer his machine clear of the little ones. However, as he did so, Puleo ran directly in front of the heavy automobile. The boy was hurled to the ground with considerable force and before Mr. Holman could bring his car to a stop, it had passed over the prostrate form.

After the accident the auto was quickly brought to a stand-still and Mr. Holman went to the aid of the little fellow. Undertaker John J.
Ferry, in front of whose home the accident had occurred also ran to the prostrate form. Together they picked up the little fellow, who was placed in the tonneau of the automobile and rushed to the hospital.

At that institution it was stated that Joseph's condition was serious.
The boy is suffering from many cuts and bruises about the face and body.
In addition several bones in the legs are fractured and the lad's hip is also badly injured.

After the accident Mr. Holman reported the matter to the police and he was allowed to depart to his home promising to appear if wanted at any time.

FOUR FACE MURDER TRIALS

Returns for Montgomery County Court Show Unusual Condition

With only thirty transcripts so far returned to the Montgomery County officials for the coming term of Criminal Court, an unusual condition presents itself in that no fewer than four of the indictments are for murder.

The murder charge transcripts including alleged first degree crimes, will include those of William Gordon, in the killing of Mrs. Gussie Gordon, at Willow Grove; Charles Wayne, in the killing of Mrs. M. Steiner, at Norristown; James Jamison, for the killing of Benjamin Combs, at Harboro; and Dominic Di Mintio, for the killing of his father-in-law, Dominic Di-vita, at Lansdale, along the North Penn.

There are several cases of assault and battery with intent to kill; and the officials of Montgomery county express the belief that an extra week's session will be necessary.

HOTEL MONTGOMERY SOLD

Norristown Hotel is Sold to Oliver K.
Bean for $122,000. Former Owner,
Chief P. V. Hoy, Has Not Decided What His Future Business Will Be.

The Hotel Montgomery, Norristown's foremost and best known hostelry, which has been owned for the past twenty years by Peter V. Hoy, Chief of the Norristown Fire Department, was Tuesday sold to Oliver K.
Bean, a prominent resident of the West End of Norristown.

The sale which was consummated
Tuesday afternoon had been expected for the past few weeks and it will be no surprise to those intimate with either Mr. Hoy or Mr. Bean. The price paid for the entire hotel and grounds is $122,000. Mr. Bean will take possession of the hotel on September 11.

Chief Peter Hoy purchased the Hotel Montgomery on May 2, 1892, from The Brower estate which had been the owners for some time previous. Before purchasing the hotel, Mr. Hoy was manager of the bar-room in connection with the hostelry, having taken possession of this in 1888. At the time of purchasing the hotel, Mr. Hoy paid $42,000 for the property.

The hotel Montgomery which is located at the corner of Main street and Strawberry alley has a frontage on Main street of 86.6 feet. It extends to the rear to Lafayette street and on that thoroughfare there is a frontage of 100 feet. The hotel stables and garage are located in the rear of the hotel and the whole is a most desirable property. Since he first purchased the site, Mr. Hoy has made extensive improvements both throughout the hotel and to the rear of the site.

As stated Mr. Bean will not take possession of his purchase until September 11. Chief Hoy will at once begin work upon his new home which he will erect at the corner of DeKalb and Roberts streets, Norristown. He expects to have this completed by the above date when he will at once take possession. Mr. Hoy has not yet decided upon a future business career.

Mr. Bean the new owner of the Hotel Montgomery is a well known hotel man. He conducted the Yeakle Hotel at Marshall and Chain streets, but since disposing of that property
he has lived private in the West End.
He has many friends and acquaintances in Norristown who are extending their congratulations and best wishes.

GREAT RACES AT JEFFERSONVILLE

TO-MORROW'S CARD WILL BE THE GREATEST EVER SEEN IN THE COUNTY.

A great racing card will be presented at the Jeffersonville track to-morrow afternoon under the management of the Norristown Driving Club, and it will be more of the Grand Circuit order, judging from the horses that have been entered. The first races of the celebrated "Big Fair Circuit" will commence in Philadelphia, on August 8th, and the best horses to-day are headed east and many of their owners have decided to stop off at Norristown for the big event. Therefore more speed will be represented on that day than ever in the history of the county.

Horses that have been racing in Ohio, will be there, in addition to a number from New Jersey, and the gathering will represent the cream of the racing circuit that have been attracted by the liberal purses offered by the Association. So numerous have been the applications for stalls that the management may be obliged to erect tents to accommodate the horses that are coming. In addition to the regular events for $300 purses the special race for county horses is attracting widespread local attention, as the trophy that will be offered the winner represents a massive cup. The only condition that is required to win this cup is that the horses must be owned by the party making the entry for not less than thirty days previous to the closing of the entries.
This race will give the local horses a chance to extend themselves, and speculation is already rife as to what horse will win it. All training stables are actively getting ready for the race.

The exhibition to beat the track record will also be a sight long to be remembered. Directomer, the horse selected to do it, has gained worldwide reputation recently by winning that $1200 match race at Belmont track on Wednesday last. He is in the pink of condition, and his trainer, John H. Blake, says that the horse will do it easily.

The racing will start promptly at 1
p. m., in order that the big card of racing can be decided early.

Among the horses to start is Roy-field, Lew Bailey's fast pacer.

FOOD COMMISSIONERS REPORT

Out of 4000 Samples Collected in the United States, But 200 Were Found to Be Below the Standard.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Mr.
Foust has issued a statement of the results of his Bureau's investigation made this summer under the New Milk and Cream Act and the Act Prohibiting the Addition to Milk and Cream of Dye-stuffs and Drugs, such as were formerly used as preservatives.

The Commissioner reports that over 4,000 samples have been purchased by his Agents in about 150 cities and towns representing nearly every county of the Commonwealth. In but eight instances was formaldehyde discovered six of these being in Allegheny county, one in Johnstown and one in York. No other preservative and no added dye were in any case detected. This, the Commissioner notes, is an excellent showing as contrasted with the conditions existing a few years ago, when such additions were of common occurrence.

The Commissioner further states that the dairy cows of Pennsylvania have placed the stamp of their approval upon the new milk law. Of the 4,000 samples examined only about 200 were found considerably below standard, and of these about two-third were milks, one third creams. The deficiencies found were not the fault of the cow, but were due to the pump and the skimmer to whose friendly offices some distributors still turn for profit.

An English food expert once said of milk standards that their only fault was that the cow had not been consulted in their making. This, the Commissioner adds, can not fairly be said of the present standards, which are those of the National Government and were adopted by it upon the recommendation of a board of experts acting under authority of Congress, and after a careful study of the dairy conditions in all parts of the country.

It is the purpose of the Commissioner to continue vigorously to enforce the milk laws, so that the people and more especially the children of the State may be assured of a good, whole some supply of this important food.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema sores or any itching of the skin.

IDENTIFIES HOLD-UP SUSPECT

William H. Yerkes Positively Identifies Orlando de Paulette As One of the Men Who Held Him, Robbed and Shot Him.

William H. Yerkes, the well known quarryman who was shot and robbed by two Italians at Henderson station on the morning of May 22, last, on Wednesday positively identified Orlando de Paulette as one of his assailants.

Orlando and Thomas Moriarity, another suspect were taken from jail under instructions from Assistant District Attorney McAvoy and conducted to the Yerkes home at Main and Stanbridge streets, Norristown, and were lined up on the porch of the residence together with half a dozen other men. Mr. Yerkes was then invited to come from the house and took a look at those stationed on his porch.

After he had looked at each one of the men, Mr. Yerkes pointed at Orlando and said to the officers, "I identify that man positively as one of the robbers. He is the one who came at me in the roadway and I know that he fired several shots at me." Orlando was then quickly hurried to the office of Magistrate Lenhardt where he was arraigned.

The Italian detective who had arrested Paulette and who says he has incriminating evidence against the man in addition to the identification of Mr. Yerkes, was present and he together with Assistant District Attorney McAvoy questioned the prisoner closely. He was given a severe "sweating" but he positively refused to talk, beyond saying that he was innocent. However, after the "sweating," Paulette shook like a leaf and the authorities believe that he will confess and will name the other high-waymen.

After a short preliminary arraignment before Magistrate O. F. Lenhardt, Paulette was committed to jail to await a further hearing on September 4, when Mr. Yerkes will be able to visit the justices office and give his testimony.

Moriarity is the youthful Englishman, who was arrested near Henderson on the day of the shooting. He has been in jail since that time and he stated Wednesday that he had not yet learned the charge against him. In reality there was no charge against him, except that he was being held on suspicion. Mr. Yerkes said that he had never seen Moriarity before and the young man was at once discharged from custody. Moriarity claims London, England as his home.
He has been in this country 12 months and three months of that he has been in jail. After his discharge he said, "I'm free now but really I'm a long way from home."

SUES FOR COMMISSION.

Norristown Real Estate Man Sues Elwood Roberts.

In the Prothonotary's office Tuesday morning, Attorney J. Ambler Williams counsel for Elwood Roberts filed an affidavit of defense in the suit brought by Daniel M. Anders, against Mr. Roberts several weeks ago.

Mr. Anders who is a local real estate broker, brought suit to recover 2 per cent. of $8500, his alleged commission due, because he claimed that he had sold the skating rink to the P. and W. Railway Company for that amount. He claimed that he was acting as the agent for Mr. Roberts in consummating this sale and brought suit for the commission as such.

In the affidavit of defence, Mr.
Roberts sets forth that it is true that the above railway company purchased the skating rink property for $8500 but denies that Mr. Anders had effected the sale. He states that the sale was made direct without any agent and that therefore Mr. Anders is not entitled to any commission.

The affidavit further sets forth that Mr. Anders did have some dealings with Mr. Roberts, in that he secured the price for the property as well as an option for sixty days.
However, the contention is made by Mr. Roberts, that in so doing, Mr.
Anders was acting as the agent for the trolley company and not as an agent for the property owner. Consequently he claims that he cannot be entitled to any commission for that service either.

The case will likely be brought to trial at the October term of court, and because of the prominence of the parties it will be watched with considerable interest.

Bullet Puts Out Girl's Eye.

While walking toward her home
Wednesday evening, Francis Kansak, 14 years old of Norristown was struck in the eye by a bullet. It was necessary to remove the eye. The police have been unable to find who fired the shot.

Miss Elsie Moore, of Germantown, is the guest of Miss Ida Speaker, of Seventh avenue and Harry street.

Andrew Manly, of New Brunswick, N. J., was the guest of Harold Best, of E. Ninth avenue on Wednesday.

Miss Marguerite Bennett and several of her schoolmates enjoyed an automobile outing on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss May Holliday, of E. Fifth avenue, has secured a clerical position with the John Wood Manufacturing Company.

Miss Irene Jones and Miss Elsie Davis left on Wednesday for a two weeks' stay at Atlantic City. They are at the Hotel Austin.

Dr. William M. Hall, who has been confined to his home for the past few days suffering with a heavy cold, is again attending to his practise.

Mrs. Charles Lukens, daughter, Miss Margaret and son, Dr. George Lukens, are at Gloucester, Mass., where they will spend a month.

Master Benjamin Bullock, of Delaware County, is spending a vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, of Eighth avenue and Fayette street.

Burgess Ray and School Director, Dr. Tegtmeler were fishing at Spring Mount, along the Perkiomen on Wednesday and brought home a nice string of black bass.

Mrs. Jacob Leidy, entertained the Busy Workers of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, at her home, Sixth avenue and Wells street, on Tuesday evening and a very enjoyable time was had.

Miss Lydia Webster, of Fayette street, has returned home from a visit to her grandfather, Isaac Conrad at Fort Washington. Her sister Miss Ruth is paying an extended visit to Mr. Conrad.

A meeting of the men of St. Matthew's parish was held on Wednesday evening in the basement of the church and committees were appointed to aid in making arrangements for the picnic to be held on August 12th.

At the monthly meeting of the Conshohocken Building and Loan Association on Tuesday evening, $2000 was sold at an average premium of $2 per share. The receipts were about $4200.

The Conshohocken Band will give a block party on W. Hector street to-morrow evening, which will be the "star" party of the season. The band will play a concert and a large delegation from the Norristown Mannechor will be present and with local singers there will be a chorus of forty-five voices, which will sing a number of songs during the evening.

At O'Neil's hotel, Connaughttown, there is a curiosity, preserved in alcohol. It is a four legged chicken and it was raised by Harry Dettlerin, of Norristown. The chicken was drowned when it tried to balance itself on the edge of a large pan filled with water. It fell overboard and was drowned. The curiosity is attracting much attention among the chicken fanciers.

J. V. Stewart Jr., while delivering ice at the Hallowell boarding house, on Wednesday morning fell through a stairway landing into the cellar of the house and was badly shaken up and bruised. As was his custom he was taking the ice into the cellar and as he stepped upon the landing at the top of the stairway, it gave away and he fell to the foot of the stairs. A physician was summoned who treated him for shock and bruises and the injured man was removed to his home. He will be able to attend to his duties within a few days.

Letter carrier Andrew Long is confined to his home by illness.

George Tracy of Fayette street is spending a vacation at Lake Placid, N. Y.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies I. C. B. U. was held last evening.

Mr. Wilmer Brumbaugh, of Sellersville was a visitor this week in our borough.

Charles Highley, son of Dr. George N. Highley is spending a month camping in Maine.

Miss Anna Long, of E. Eighth avenue, has returned from a visit to Lionville, Pa.

Miss Margaret Moriarity, of W. Elm street, has returned from a sojourn at the seashore.

Undertaker William J. Miller, has purchased three lots of ground, located on Third avenue, opposite the public schools, of James Tracy.

Mrs. Chester Henzel, and son, of Philadelphia are spending the summer at the home of Mrs. Henzel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marwood, of West Fourth avenue.

All members who expect to attend the Penn Club Outing on Wednesday August 9th, will notify F. J. Bloomhall on or before Monday next, so that arrangements can be made. A general good time is expected.

Miss Julia Nevins and Miss Julia Reynolds who have been the guests of the Misses Nevins of Forrest and Marble streets for the past week, have returned to their homes in New York City.

Mrs. John S. Grauel and son William, Mrs. William Reppert, Mrs. Andrew May and son Albert, of Spring Hill, formed a party who made the trip to Brandywine Springs, Del. The trip was made by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Thainson, Miss Amy Baldwin, Miss Pauline Sagebeer and Messrs H. E. Lewis and McBride will form a boating party who will make the trip from here to Valley Forge, to-morrow. They will make the trip by motor boat.

An interesting visitor to our town this week was Mrs. Mary Bains, of Plymouth Meeting. Mrs. Bains has passed the ninetieth year on the calendar and is wonderfully alert and active, seemingly at least twenty or thirty years younger than she really is. She is a member of Plymouth Meeting Society of Friends.

To-morrow evening will terminate the series of lawn fetes and block parties that have been making our town merry during the past two months on Saturday evenings. There will be several in Conshohocken by the various churches, and one in Lafayette. This latter will be given by the ladies of St. Matthew's parish, assisted by Lafayette people, who are looking forward to an unusual night in their quiet little village.

A Polander, whose name could not be obtained fell from a Norristown bound trolley car, at the North Lane switch, on Wednesday night and was painfully injured. The man was on the car which left Hector street at 9.40 P. M. and just before coming to North Lane, his hat blew off. The car was slowing down to enter the switch and the Polander started to go after his hat. He stepped from the car just the same as he would step from a step to a floor with the result that he was hurled to the ground violently. In his fall his head struck the hard road and rendered him unconscious. He was placed aboard the incoming car and brought to the office of a physician where he was given treatment and later, sent to his home.

County Commissioners, Krewson, Saylor and Christman were in town this morning and paid a visit to the Matsonford brigade.

THIEVES GET ANOTHER HORSE

Mail Carrier Chick Has Valuable Team Stolen.

A bold horse thief stole a valuable horse, set of harness and a new buggy from the stable of Rural Mail Carrier, Harry Chick, at Plymouth Meetings, some time during Wednesday night or early yesterday morning. Mr. Chick discovered his loss early yesterday morning, and with the assistance of neighbors traced the team to the Corson lime kilns on the Conshohocken pike and thence to the road passing the lime kilns of the Keystone and Cox plants. It was evident that the thief was making his way to Philadelphia, by the back roads to avoid detention.

The horse is a large brown horse 16 hands high, with a white face and white left hind foot. The harness and carriage are new. The carriage is a falling top into red running gears.

On Wednesday evening a stranger was seen loitering about Plymouth Meeting and seemed to be particularly interested in Chick's stable. He is described as being about 5 feet 6 inches tall; weighs about 149 pounds and wears a small scrubby mustache, and is very dark complexioned. In fact he greatly resembled an Italian but is not of that nationality. He wore a dark slouch hat and dark clothes. On Tuesday night, the lock on the door of Mr. Chick's stable was broken but entrance was not gained and on Wednesday night, Mr. Chick decided to spend the night in the stable with his gun, but owing to the alarm of his wife, he did not do so.

The case was not reported to the local police and they knew nothing of it until late this morning.

Horse thieves have been working in this section with profit for several months this having been the third team stolen within two months. When the stables of the Lee Tire and Rubber Company at Spring Mill, was entered the case was immediately reported to the police and the team was secured within twelve hours.

OILING ROAD IS SANITARY.

To the Recorder: While oiling the road is good from a motorists point of view, it is doubly good from a sanitary point of view. It is not healthy to live even in the open country road and have the front yard clouded with dust the greater part of the day, and it is not healthy to have the rooms of a house close to the road filled with dust every time a vehicle goes by.

Oiling the roads is sanitary, and it is economical. It is economical to the resident along the road, and also to the party in the car, and, best of all, it is more healthy to both parties. It is not a wild flight of the imagination to see the time when health authorities will take the matter under investigation and make it imperative to oil the roads in residential localities, or else use some other means of laying the dust.

In England tarring is used in preference to oiling. Each spring the road surfaces are thoroughly cleaned of loose dust, and if the road surface is in good condition an application of hot tar is used. This tar soaks into the road surface and forms a good binder. A road treated this way in the spring is proof against dust for the remainder of the summer, particularly in a country like England, with its damp climate. Over there one-half of the road surface is coated and given time to dry before the other half is treated, which prevents the ruining of car bodies and the tempers of people living on the highway.

In one country in England at the present time they are experimenting with twenty-four different kinds of road surfaces, with a view of finding out which one will withstand automobile traffic best. Over here the United States Bureau of Highways and the highway departments of New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey are also experimenting on similar but less extensive lines.

WEST SIDE NOTES

THE DOINGS OF OUR SISTER BOROUGH CONDENSED FOR READY READING.

—Miss Alice Maguire is spending a week with relatives in Frankford.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson and son Lester, spent part of the week with relatives in Mauch Chunk.

—The annual celebration of the Ballikomingo Baptist Sunday School will be held in Bell's Grove tomorrow.

Miss Anna Beal, of Upper Ford street, West Conshohocken will leave for Mullica Hill N. J. on Saturday, where she will spend a week with her uncle, Charles Lloyd.

The old spring house which has stood for many years on the property at Ford and Chestnut streets now owned by Mrs. Ferguson, and which has been one of the borough's landmarks is being demolished and the stone that is being removed will be used as the foundation walls for the houses to be erected at Mechanicsville for Rev. John E. Epright.

—Beginning tomorrow the Merion Worsted Mills in this borough one of the most thriving textile plants of the kind in this section of the State, will suspend operations on Saturday's for an indefinite period and will run only five days a week. The change has been brought about through the general inactivity in the textile business which has caused nearly all of the mills throughout the East to be operated on short time. It is hoped that the short schedule which starts in this borough this week will be of short duration.

Council Meeting.

—The August meeting of Town Council was held on Wednesday evening with all of the members present except Stewart and Brown. The principal part of the evening was devoted to the discussion of the water question.

The condition of the whole system is polluted and filthy rendering it entirely unfit for use. The members of Council have become so indignant at the service offered by the Water Company that the affair will be put in the hands of the State Board of Health for investigation.

The Street Committee reported that no new work had been done but reported that repairs had been made to a number of streets.

The Light Committee reported that the service in the lower end of the borough was very poor and the Committee was ordered to call attention of the Electric Light Company to the same.

The Police Committee reported that five arrests had been made during the month of July.

Orders for the Police officers and Supervisors salaries and a few sundry bills amounting to about $120.00 were granted.

"Mother" Taylor Dead

—Mary Ann Taylor died at her home 310 Concord avenue, Chester, on Tuesday, from general debility superinduced by her advanced age. She was 81 years old.

Deceased was for many years a resident and familiar figure at Gulf Mills, but removed from that village several years ago. She was one of the founders of the Heavenly Recruit Association which later adopted the name of the Holiness Christian Association and it was in the parlor of her home that the handful of members at that time gathered to worship, and through her many acts of kindness grew to be known as "Mother," Taylor. She remained at Gulf Mills long enough to see the little band of worshippers grow until they could build a church of their own in this borough and expand to other cities and states and then removed to Chester.

Since removing to Chester "Mother" Taylor withdrew from the Holiness Christian Association and joined the Methodist Church, but she always retained the greatest admiration of her first love and made it a point to attend the yearly anniversary of the church in this borough as long as her health permitted her to do so.

Of late years Mrs. Taylor has been in failing health, but when the last anniversary was held in this borough it was expected that she would be present and many of the older residents of this vicinity made it a point to be present to greet her, but at that time she was confined to her home by illness.

Beside her husband, she is survived by four children. Mrs. David Kriebel, of Conshohocken, is a granddaughter.

The funeral will be held from her late home this afternoon.

Our borough is well represented at Atlantic City this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bernardo, were Reading visitors on Tuesday.

—George Nagle, has had a handsome new porch erected in front of his residence on Upper Ford street, which greatly enhances its appearance.

—Oliver Lampkin, of upper Ford street, who for many years has been foreman at the lumber yard of Wm. Davis Jr. and Co. met with an accident yesterday morning, which will incapacitate him from attending to his duties for several days. The unfortunate man was engaged in carrying some lumber when he tripped and in falling struck his shoulder and broke a small bone.

—Evangelist E. L. Hyde is in attendance at the Pitman Grove Camp Meeting, of which he is one of the directors. Rev. Mr. Hyde has been a prominent figure at this popular camp for the past twenty years.

—Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Davis, of Crawford avenue will spend the week end at the Osten Hotel, Chelsea. They will be the guests of Mr. Davis' mother and sister, Miss Emily, who are spending the summer at Chelsea and are stopping at the Osten for the season.

The Water Question

—It would be little wonder, indeed, if the men of the borough, and women too, would "get off the water wagon" especially if it was filled with the brand that is being supplied the water consumers by the West Conshohocken Water Company. The stuff that is being pumped through the pipes and into the vessels in the different houses, can hardly be termed a liquid. It resembles a conglomeration of moss, roots and grass with a little water and when placed in a glass jar would serve as a miniature aquarium for private residences where the beautiful little gold fish is kept as an oddity, rather than a necessity to sustain life.

The members of the local Board of Health and the Water Committee of Town Council have inspected the plant and find it to be in a most unsanitary condition. The Board of Health is in possession of samples of the water and will analyze them. A most rigid investigation will then be started and if the gravity of the condition of affairs assume such proportions it is the intention of the local health authorities to report the matter to the State Board of Health and have Commissioner Dixon deal with the Water Company direct.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Sadie Crocker of the West Side Becomes the Bride of Mr. Joseph Carpenter on Tuesday Evening.

A pretty home wedding took place on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crocker when their accomplished daughter Miss Sadie became the bride of Mr. Joseph Carpenter, of Culpepper and Villanova.

Promptly at eight o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, where beneath a bower of flowers and plants, the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Garman, of the Free Baptist church.

The bride was attended by Miss Kathryn Flanagan, of West Conshohocken, as maid of honor, while the groom's attendant was his brother, William Carpenter, of Culpepper, Va. The bride was becomingly gowned in pearl satin with pearl trimmings and wore a veil caught up with myrtle and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The bride's maid was "attired in Alice blue satin with pearl trimmings and also carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Ann Redington presided at the piano.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and was attended by only the immediate families and a few invited friends of the contracting parties.

Later in the evening the happy couple were conveyed to Philadelphia in a large touring car from whence they boarded a train for the home of the groom's parents, in Culpepper, Va., where they will spend their honeymoon.

On their return they will take up their newly furnished home on the Clothier estate at Villanova, where the groom holds a lucrative position.

They will be at home to their friends after September first.

The bride was the recipient of very many useful and beautiful gifts, including silver, and glassware, bric a brae, etc.

GULF MILLS

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED BY OUR LOCAL CORRESPONDENT FOR OUR READERS

The boat carpenter on the Philadelphia and Western Railway has purchased a motor cycle of the Harley-Davidson type.

Miss Eva Stiteler, a teacher at Girard College, Philadelphia, who resides at this place is spending a few days with relatives at Frankford, Phila.

William Gamble of Mechanicsville, has the contract to do a quantity of tin work about the dwelling houses at the houses belonging to McFarlands.

A dwelling near the Montgomery Woolen Mills belonging to McFarlands is undergoing improvements previous to being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Bloom.

George Hatfield, who is engaged in raising porkers on an extensive scale at his property among the Gulf Hills, near Weadleytown, is building a large addition to his barn.

Charles Tague, a student at the Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tague, in this village.

Rev. Mr. Clarke, of Norristown, secretary of the Norristown Y. M. C. A. will preach in the Gulf Christian church on Sunday, instead of Rev. W. J. Mills, of Norristown, who it was announced would preach, in Tuesday's issue.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Highley Butler, of Trooper last week. The father of the child was formerly a resident of this place and is the grandson of Mrs. Angeline Pennell, of Mechanicsville, one of the oldest persons living about here.

After being employed on the property of Henry Mitchell along the County Line road for many years, William Pope of West Conshohocken has resigned his position and secured employment in the new rubber plant of the J. Ellwood Lee Company, at Spring Mill.

Frank E. Bates, of Conshohocken has resigned his position as watchman for the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company at the intersection of Township and County Line roads near Radnor, and is succeeded by Harry Conquest of this place. At one time Mr. Bate was engaged as watchman on the new system at the fifteen mile hill near the Hughes farm.

George Bennet Jr., of Gulf Mills has been returned to the Huntingdon Reformatory by officer Mason of Conshohocken. Some time ago, Bennet was sent to that institution for a violation of the law, and had recently been released on parole. The officials of the Reformatory had learned that he was violating the provisions of this parole and in consequence they made an investigation of the case with the result that officer Mason came to Gulf Mills to take Bennet into custody, and returned him to the institution.

Since the road intersecting from the Gulf road near the fifteen mile hill and extending to the Ballikomingo road has been closed owing to the building of the Philadelphia and Western Railway the traffic has been a great deal greater through this village. Many of the heavy teams which pass through here are engaged in conveying hundreds of bushels of wheat from the great Chester Valley and other places to the Supplee Flour Mills in Conshohocken, and these teams usually used the above named road.

A new brick dwelling house is in progress of erection on the property of Isaac Clothier at the corner of the Township and County Line roads, which on completion will be occupied by Robert Newman, who for some time past has resided in a dwelling near the Gulf Cemetery belonging to Henderson, Supplee. As the latter building, an ancient stone structure, is on the tract of ground which Mr. Supplee sold to the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company and is nearly on the line of the system it will be razed after being vacated by Mr. Newman.

WILL MOVE FOR PEACE

Woman Charged With Being Common Scold Will Leave Neighborhood.

The case of Mrs. Joseph Magill, of Rambo street Bridgeport, who was a defendant before Magistrate Harry on Wednesday afternoon on the charge of being a public scold and public nuisance, was settled on the woman paying the costs and promising to move inside of two weeks.

Mrs. Frances Stevenson, a neighbor had the warrant issued for Mrs. Magill's arrest. She and several of the neighbors testified that the language used by Mrs. Magill could not be found in the dictionary.

Attorney Williams, who represented Mrs. Magill, wanted the case continued until next Tuesday. He said that he wanted to secure a number of witnesses who would testify in favor of his client. Wednesday evening, however, it was decided that the Magill family should move from Rambo street.

POOR DIRECTORS MEET.

Regular Session Attended by Members and Controller.

The Montgomery County Directors of the Poor held their regular monthly meeting yesterday at the Court House Comptroller Jacobs was present at the meeting and spoke to the directors concerning the matter of outdoor relief. This matter has now been satisfactorily arranged and there promises to be no further trouble.

Steward Leidy reported that at present there are 175 inmates at the almshouse. At the last meeting there were 173 inmates. Nine were admitted during the month, three were discharged and four died.

Didn't Have To.

"Did you hear the rain in the night?" "Yes." "Pleasant music, wasn't it?" "I didn't notice the music. I was too busy hustling around closing the windows. Didn't it keep you busy too?" "Oh, no! We rent a furnished house, you know."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Her Concession.

"How do you know she's older than you are?" "Why, she admitted it herself." "Honestly? What did she say?" "She said, 'You and I are just the same age, dearie.'"—Toledo Blade.

NEW RAILWAY STATION.

Norristown Trains to Run as Far as Perkiomen Junction.

The contract has been awarded for the construction of a roomy and attractive station for the Reading Railway Company at Perkiomen Junction. It will be located about 200 yards south of the present depot. The new depot will stand near the public road and will be a handsome structure of stone and brick, about 60 by 30 feet in size, and to cost about $15,000. The company expects to extend its trains now terminating at Norristown through to Perkiomen Junction, but this will not be done before next year when the fourth track and other improvements now under way are finished. Valley Forge, it is said, is also to get a new and handsome station in the course of a few months.

FRIDAY AUGUST 4, 1911.

The long, flowing lace veils which the ladies are now wearing attached to their hats are very becoming—to the homely girls.

New Jersey is fast becoming the State of restricted personal liberty. The fair ones are liable to arrest if caught wearing the plumage of certain birds on their hats; a Pennsylvania automobilist is not permitted to use Jersey roads for a minute unless he pays a license of ten dollars; the poor grafters and gamblers of Atlantic City are being disturbed at the height of the season.

Druggist William Neville has started his campaign for the Republican nomination for the office of coroner and is meeting with a good encouragement. Mr. Neville has been Health Officer of the borough for a number of years and has handled the particular duties of the office with entire satisfaction.

Mr. Neville is a graduate of Temple University and is widely known throughout the country, particularly in this and the lower end. His friends are giving him good encouragement in the starting of his campaign and will give him strong support in its conduct.

THE NEW BRIDGE.

When a community wants something big and needs it badly, and there is an excellent chance of getting it by putting up a hard and determined fight, there are many who desire to remain passive and cry: we will never get it; it is too big. This is exactly the attitude of many voters and taxpayers in this section regarding the new bridge across the railroad crossings, the river and the canal at this place.

The new bridge which has interested the whole lower section of the county, can, and will be secured. It will be built within a short time, possibly within a year or two at the outside if the people will be determined in their stand for the great improvement.

The two Republican County Commissioners have on more than one occasion said that they are in favor of the proposed bridge and that they recognize the urgent need for it. The present bridge across the Schuylkill river has done service for thirty-nine years and during that time the population of the section which it serves has doubled and the bridge traffic has increased many fold. To-day, the bridge is in the worst condition in its history. The old iron work has become loose and rusty. It cannot be safely tightened. Repairs will mean a great expense and practically nothing in return. The bridge is wholly inadequate to handle the traffic and it is but a question of a few years when it will have to be replaced.

The County has an excellent offer from the Reading Railway Company, to bear a fair part of the cost of construction, but if there is to be a delay of several years this offer may be withdrawn.

The Railway Company has gone to great expense to secure information and prepare plans for the bridge and these plans have been apparently acceptable to the Commissioners. The property holders whose land is effected and to the Bridge Committee of this section, who are working to secure its construction.

There is no section of the county which has a better claim for a great county improvement than has the section affected by the construction of this bridge, for in comparison to the amount of revenue it pays in county taxes, it has received less than any other section.

The county has been very sparing of its improvements in this section and the new bridge would be one of the greatest aids for development and consequently a good thing for the entire county and it would be a credit to the county and the Commissioners who construct it.

The new bridge is wanted; it is needed and it will be constructed. The people must not stand in fear or doubt; they must get together and the bridge will come.

TALK OF THE DAY

The Real Man. It is easy enough to be pleasant. When life flows like a song, But the man worth while Is the one who will smile When everything goes dead wrong.

Though the market price of blackberries is high, we are told they are plentiful in the secluded country districts where the blackberries are wont to grow. Berry pickers tell us it is easy work to pick ten and fifteen quarts in a couple of hours in the early morning. One man in the North end of our borough, with the assistance of his two boys already picked eighty quarts, and expects to pick as many more before the season is over.

Announcement!

Three big features of next Sunday's New York World that should not be overlooked are as follows: The words and music of the new great song hit of "The Hen Pecks," which starts to play next week at the Broadway Theatre, New York City; a complete detective story, "A modern Delilah," by E. Phillips Oppenheim, America's "Conan Doyle," and "My Adventures With the Queen of Counterfeiters and Her Gang," by Chief Flynn of the United States Secret Service.

THE SIGNAL OF A DROWNING MAN

THEY NEVER MAKE AN OUTCRY —ONE ARM ABOVE THE HEAD, SLOWLY SINKING MEANS TROUBLE.

Concerning death by drowning writes Dunbar Smith, in an Exchange there are numerous popular fallacies. An experienced life-saver corrected some of these errors for the narrator; and they are so interesting that repeating them is a duty.

"In all of my experience," says the life-saver, "and I have been in this business for twenty years at various watering places; in all of my experience, I have never known of a single instance of any one drowning, and calling for help."

That is rather a strong statement but it is made by one who knows his business as well as you and I know ours. It is generally supposed that a drowning person calls for aid, but the life-saver says:

"For some reason which I can not explain, they never call nor signal for help. They just throw up one hand, mind you only one hand, and under they go. I have watched bathers and swimmers and missed them, even when their friends did not miss them. I have rushed right into the midst of a noisy and happy party of young folks and dived past them in order to drag to the surface a companion whom they had not missed. In not one instance have they called for help. Always, they are struggling for their lives, but not seeking help.

"During the summer season it is quite common for me to see folks swim bravely out into the water and then, suddenly throw up one hand and disappear without giving any signal of distress, and of course I go after them immediately. Often I have asked rescued persons why they did not call or signal for help and they could give no explanation. All of them knew that they were drowning, but the only sign of their knowledge of peril was holding up one hand, as though 'treading water.'

"So accustomed have I become to this signal that among a score of bathers, splashing, diving, ducking and shouting, I can tell immediately if one of them is in danger, simply by nothing the holding up of a hand, which gradually disappears.

"The drowning person always goes down with the head thrown far back. As the water comes over the face the hand involuntarily goes up, and begins to go down slowly, very slowly. Then, if anything is to be done, it must be done quickly for the lungs are filling with water, and the sooner that condition is relieved, the better. Every second counts then, because two or three minutes under water will cause the lungs to be so completely filled with water that death is practically complete before the person can be brought to shore.

"When more than one person is in danger, I have known of calls for help but they have come from the one who can swim well enough to help himself, but not well enough to help the one who is drowning. The one in immediate peril as I have repeated, simply goes down with one hand raised.

"One of the most widespread of popular fallacies, is the one that a drowning person comes to the surface three times before death ensues. That is an idea of universal prevalence, but it is a mistake. In fact, when one goes under water he stays there usually, unless some one goes after him. Ordinarily, when one falls overboard from a boat, he goes so far under water that his lungs are filled almost immediately, and thus they are so weighted that the body will never come to the surface. Of course if the lungs are full of air when the body strikes the water it will come to the surface, but usually, the first sinking is the last.

"There are many peculiarities of people which they can not themselves explain. I have seen good swimmers dive from the beach raft and remain under water a few seconds too long; and I have gone down after them and brought them to the surface. Not one of them has ever been able to give any reason for thus being suddenly helpless under the water.

"The first thing that a boy will do when he is rescued is to tell a lie, and stick to it. He will say that he was not drowning, but only making believe; trying to fool the other fellows. Boys seem to regard it as a rather disgraceful thing to be found drowning.

"Here is another thing concerning which the people know comparatively nothing. In nine cases out of ten, when a party of boys misses a companion they begin to think of home, and of their own skins which may be tanned with rawhide; so they hike for home without telling any one nor giving any alarm. Boys should always be accompanied by elder brothers or by their father. Unless they are restrained they will remain in the water too long. Almost invariably when I command a boy to come out of the water, he replies: "Why, mister, I just come in, 'deed I did; an' there's Jimmy, he's been in an hour. That's the answer when both of them have been in the water for well nigh two hours.

"When in swimming, keep track of your friends, and have some one to look for you. If you see one hand just above the surface, go to the aid of the drowning person at once or else call for aid. Instruct your friends about this infallible sign, and then you will be rescued in time of peril. Everybody who goes swimming or bathing, should know these little facts and keep sharp lookout for friends in the water."

What's in McClures for August.

The leading article in the August McClures is an account in Detective Burns' own words of the events that led up to the arrest of John McNamara, the secretary-treasurer of the Structural Iron Workers Union, and his brother James for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times Building in October 1910.

In "The Collapse of the Diaz Legend," William Archer analyzes the causes that brought about the sudden downfall of Porfirio Diaz, the great Mexican disaster, and sounds a warning against the present day tendency to mistake the wealth of a country for its well-being.

John Moody and George Kibbe Turner contribute to the August McClure's, another "Masters of Capital in America," article, discussing this month the conditions that are gradually giving the control of the country's industries and resources into the hands of seven men.

Burton J. Hendrick has in the August McClure's an article on the political situation in Oregon, describing how the people of Oregon have made use of the Initiative and Referendum to become their own political bosses.

The fiction includes "Dalton of the Osiris," the story of a storm on the Great Lakes, and the splendid struggle by which a captain saved his ship "Die Wanderlust," by Fritz Krog; the account of a young German's experiences on his way to the American wilderness in 1834; "The Price," by Octavia Roberts; and the "Case of Richard Meynell," by Mrs. Humphrey Ward.

THE LAWS GOVERNING ELECTIONS

BOROUGH AND TOWNSHIPS MAY HOLD THEIR PRIMARIES AT THEIR OPTION EITHER BY THE OLD METHOD OR AT THE UNIFORM PRIMARIES.—OTHER ELECTION NEWS.

TERMS OF PUBLIC OFFICERS The following table made up from the Schedule for the Amendments and the Act of March 2, 1911, entitled, "An act to carry into complete operation the amendments, etc.," will give information as to the expiration of terms of those now in office and of those to be elected this year.

Justices of the Peace, Aldermen and Magistrates elected in 1906 will serve until the first Monday in December, 1911.

Those elected in 1907 and 1908, until the first Monday in January, 1914.

Those elected in 1909 until the first Monday in January, 1916.

Those elected in 1910, until the first Monday in December, 1915.

Those elected in 1911 will serve from the first Monday in December, 1911, until the first Monday in January, 1918.

The terms of the successors to these officers will hereafter be six years, except officers elected to succeed those who expire on the first Monday of December in any year, and they will serve six years and one month, so that, in the future all terms will begin on the first Monday in January following the election.

All municipal officers elected to four year terms in 1907 will serve until the first Monday in December, 1911.

All municipal officers elected to three year terms in 1908 will serve until the first Monday of December, 1911.

All such officers elected to four-year terms in 1908 will serve until the first Monday in January 1914.

All officers elected in 1909 to either three or four year terms will serve until the first Monday in January, 1914.

All officers elected at the February election, 1910, to terms that were heretofore one year or two years will serve until the first Monday in December 1911. Included in the Schedule, under this provision, was the office of Assessor, which was no doubt an oversight as the term of that officer has, for many years been three years. The Assessor elected in 1911 will serve four years and one month, or until the first Monday in January, 1916.

All officers elected at the February election, 1910, to terms that were heretofore either three or four years, shall serve until the first Monday in December 1913. Their successors terms shall begin on the first Monday in December, 1913, and run for four years and one month or until the first Monday in January, 1918.

Election officers elected at the November election, 1911, will begin their terms on the first Monday in December, 1911, and serve until the first Monday in January, 1914.

Councils of all municipalities shall organize at ten o'clock on the forenoon of the day their terms begin, and the Mayor or Burgess shall be inaugurated and take the official oath at 12 o'clock noon of the same day.

The terms of all public officers which have heretofore been fixed at three years shall each be lengthened one year. The term "Public Officer" shall include all officers elected by vote of the people, whether the offices they fill were created by the Constitution or by special or by general Acts of Assembly. This provision includes the office of Director of the Poor. In many counties these officers have been elected one each for three-year terms. In consequence of the adoption of the Amendments, the length of terms was changed to four years, excepting those elected in 1908. Therefore, there will be two elected in 1908. Therefore, there will be two elected in 1911, one in 1913, two in 1915 and one in 1917 and so on. The same rule applies to other officers who were heretofore under similar laws.

Where a number of School Directors are to be elected for terms of different lengths, each candidate must specify on his nomination petition the term for which he is a candidate.

There will be three groups of candidates on the ballot for this office this year headed as follows: School Directors—six years. School Directors—four years. School Directors—two years.

Each candidate must decide for which term he will be a candidate. Cumulative voting is not allowed; that is, if a candidate receives votes under each term, these votes cannot be consolidated, as each term is considered as a separate office.

The same rule applies to other offices where candidates are to be elected to the same office for different terms of different length.

Controversies will no doubt arise in various school districts as to which candidate should have the long term but these matters can be settled by caucus of the party and agreement made before petitions are filed, so that each term will be properly represented by candidates both for the primary and the election.

TOWNSHIP AND BOROUGH OFFICERS

Townships and boroughs have the option of nominating their candidates either in the old way or by the Uniform Primary system. This provision was inserted in the Primary Act when it was first passed, because in many townships and small boroughs it was thought scarcely worth while to hold a Primary election. But under present conditions, when ballots must be prepared for all districts, it seems advisable to make all nominations in the same way, and it is therefore suggested that petitions be filed for all offices with the County Commissioners, so that all nominations may be made at one time and in the same manner.

It is further brought to the attention of voters that nominations can be made in but one way in a district if one party, or an individual, files a petition in a borough or township under the Uniform Primary system, no nominations can be made by others under the same party name in any other way in that district.

Under all the circumstances—the lack of organization, the expense of printing tickets by individuals, the probability of contests if nominations are made in two ways—it is recommended that petitions be filed with the County Commissioners for all borough and township offices. Then the Primary Ballot, will be complete and the election officers can make return of all nominations, and immediately after the Primary, every one will know who has been nominated. It will also carry out the main purpose and intention of the Uniform Primary Act, which is to give to every voter an opportunity of expressing his preference as to the candidates to be voted for at the regular elections.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

There will appear on the ballot this year, for the adoption or rejection by the citizens, two proposed amendments to the Constitution. One provides for the consolidation of the courts of Allegheny County; the other, that the debt of the city and county of Philadelphia may be increased when the improvements provided thereby shall yield a current net revenue in excess of the interest on said indebtedness.

These amendments will be printed on the ballot, followed by the words "Yes" and "No" and to vote on them each voter must make a mark in the proper square, in addition to the votes for candidates. A mark in the party square will vote a straight party ticket, but will not vote on the amendments. These must be marked in addition to the marks for candidates.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Conshohocken Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Conshohocken readers.

Mrs. W. C. Galloway, 336 Sixth avenue, Conshohocken, Pa., says: "I cannot speak too highly of Doan's Kidney Pills. When I began using them a few months ago, I was in bad shape with kidney complaint and had been laid up for three days. Two physicians treated me but their medicine did not bring relief. My back ached constantly and often I was so dizzy that I had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. The kidney secretions bothered me and showed that my kidneys were at fault. It was after reading about Doan's Kidney Pills that I was led to get a supply at Neville's Drug store. After I had taken a few doses, I improved and by the time I had finished the contents of the first box, I felt like a different woman."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WHITEMARSH

Thieves entered the outside kitchen at the residence of Robert M. Yarnall last Friday night or early Saturday morning and stole all the eatables that were in the refrigerator. The robbers made such a complete job of it that they left nothing for the family's breakfast.

The Philadelphia Construction Company, which has the contract for the erection of the building for the Organic Chemical company, started Monday to lay the concrete for the new building. During the past week E. A. Grubb unloaded three cars of material for the new plant.

WYNCOTE MAN HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE

James F. Walsh, Well-Known in Suburban Section, Accused by Jenkintown Police Chief.

Jenkintown's latest sensation is the arrest of James F. Walsh, a prominent Wyncote resident, on charges of perjury preferred by Jens K. Jensen, chief of Jenkintown police department. Walsh's arrest, in substance, Jensen's move to vindicate the police department and purge it of any suspicions which may develop because of testimony which Walsh gave at a recent hearing.

Walsh was first arrested on the evening of July 14, on the charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, by Chief Jensen. As the outcome of an incident at the Jenkintown station Walsh was confined to a cell over the night, and his arrest, with subsequent developments proved a distinct sensation.

The next day Walsh was arraigned before Magistrate Kirk. He gave his occupation as "gentleman," denied all allegations of Chief Jensen, and made assertions that he had twice been searched at the Jenkintown station, and that a bank note had been taken from his pocket. Following the termination of the hearing, Jensen attempted to arrest Walsh as he was leaving the hearing room, but this move was frustrated by Walsh's attorney. One week later, Magistrate Kirk handed down a 3000-word opinion, in which he declared Walsh not guilty, asserted that drunkenness was not a matter for individual determination, but was subject to legal interpretation, that an officer's duty was rather to take a drunken man home than to confine him in a cell.

Wednesday Walsh was arrested by Constable Fenton, of the Cheltenham Department, and Walsh's second hearing was before Magistrate Haines, at Ogontz, this move being due to the fact that Walsh's home was in Cheltenham township and because Jensen had subpoenaed Magistrate Kirk as a witness to the declarations to which Walsh testified.

The perjury hearings lasted until nearly midnight Wednesday night, and at its close, Magistrate Haines held Walsh under $1000 bail to await trial at court. Chief Jensen declares that even this preliminary victory is a vindication, and the coming trial will be awaited with deepest interest by the York road residents.

PENNSY EMPLOYEES MUST NOT DRINK

Will Be Dismissed If Caught Indulging While on Duty.

Superintendent W. B. McCaleb, of the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has taken a decisive step in an attempt to break up excessive drinking among railroad men under him. Any employe addicted to the use of intoxicants, who drinks while on duty or frequents places where liquors are sold, will be dismissed according to an order of the superintendent posted in all of its shops, offices and congregating places of employes.

The order is mildly worked, so as not to be offensive, but back of it lies the full determination of the officials to have none but sober men on the road. The order in full follows:

"The attention of employes is directed to Rule G, Page 6, Book of Rules, reading as follows:

"The use of intoxicants by employes while on duty is prohibited. Their habitual use, or the frequenting of places where they are sold, is sufficient cause for dismissal.

"In future, attention will be given to the enforcement of this rule.

W. B. McCALEB Superintendent.

GERMAN LATCHKEYS.

Big Enough to Be Used as Weapons of Attack or Defense.

Locksmithing in Germany is today as important a trade as plumbing, blacksmithing or the vocation of the barber, says our consul at Hanover in a recent report.

The present German house key could be used as a weapon of attack and defense, besides serving its original purpose. It weighs on an average about one-eighth of a pound, and as each person entitled to carry a house and corridor key has nearly a quarter of a pound of soft iron in his pocket it is conservatively estimated that the amount of iron in circulation in Germany in the pockets of the men and in the hand bags of women amounts to 2,695 tons, besides an additional 2,500 tons for the keys to the interior of German homes.

ANSWERED THE SIGNAL.

The King Sent the Reply, and the Captain Kicked Himself.

Rear Admiral Sir Colin Keppel was given the command of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert by King Edward, and on one occasion when the late king was on board his majesty thought he would like to steer the yacht for a little way.

Admiral Keppel took him to the wheel, and, having ascertained the proper course to steer, his majesty tried to keep the yacht in it, with rather poor success.

The vessel was being escorted by a squadron of cruisers, and the captain of one of these vessels, noticing the wobbly course of the Victoria and Albert, thought he would "rag" Admiral Keppel on his bad steering.

He signalled a sarcastic inquiry as to the erratic course of the yacht, and King Edward, seeing the string of flags go up, inquired their meaning.

Admiral Keppel went all the colors of the rainbow and tried to escape the question, but the king insisted. When at last he understood the meaning of the signal his majesty went off into peals of laughter, and after he had recovered a little he ordered a reply to be signalled.

A few minutes later the captain of the cruiser read this message: "Pray accept apologies, but am a bit out of practice.—Edward."

Then the captain retired to his cabin and kicked himself.—Pearson's Weekly.

Canes and Swords in Porto Rico.

Of all people perhaps none are more fond of canes or more skilled in their use than our fellow citizens of Porto Rico. The walking stick in that island would seem to mark social distinctions among men as fans do among women.

All in Good Time.

Champ Clark at a dinner in Washington pleaded indulgence for a somewhat rambling speaker.

"He'll arrive," he said, "if you'll give him time. He is like Dr. Thirdly."

"Dr. Thirdly was dividing up his sermon into appropriate heads one Sunday morning when a member of the congregation shouted frantically: 'Meat, man! Give us meat!'"

"Well," said Dr. Thirdly promptly, "hold on, then, till I'm done carving."—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

A Steady Watch.

"Henry," said Mrs. Gloop at dinner, looking down at her watch, but speaking to Mr. Gloop on the other side of the table, "my watch hasn't varied a second in a week."

"Remarkable!" said Mr. Gloop. "How did you get it to vary so little?" "I broke the mainspring."

Politeness.

True politeness is that which when a man is lying to you and you know he is lying impels you to listen to him as though you believed him and impels him to go on lying as though he believes you believe him.—Chicago Post.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO BASE BALL FANS

ITEMS CONCERNING MANAGERS AND PLAYERS IN THE SCHUYLKILL VALLEY LEAGUE PICKED UP AND PUBLISHED FOR THE BENEFIT OF OUR READERS.

Standing of Teams.

Table with columns: Teams, W, L, PC. St. Augustines 12 5 706, Conshohocken 11 7 611, Reliance 11 7 611, Wildman 11 7 611, Union 8 10 444, Plymouth 7 11 389, St. Marks 6 11 353, Y. M. A. A. 4 12 250

Schedule for August 5th.

Union at Plymouth, Wildman at Reliance, Y. M. A. A. at St. Augustines, Conshohocken at St. Mark's.

St. Augustines still leads Three teams tied for second place.

Manager Wesley is surely a wonder

Another big day in the Schuylkill Valley League to-morrow.

Kelly of Conshohocken is still unable to take his turn in the box.

Conshohocken never gives up until the last man is out in the ninth inning.

Bill Kindregan can always be depended upon to do his duty in any old position.

A number of the teams are awaiting to greet President Staley at one of their games.

St. Mark's either needs a shake-up, or else they have been shaken too much. Which is it?

The home season for Reliance is fast drawing to a close. Only three more games after to-morrow's contest.

Union has signed another catcher, Jack Skeen of Norristown. Skeen is perhaps one of the oldest catchers in the Schuylkill Valley League and is said to possess same class.

An exchange says, watch Wildman. We agree with them and add Reliance They play Reliance on Saturday. Both are tie for second place and each are liable to go either up or down.

St. Augustines has signed Cole, of last year's Norristown Church League team, to help out the pitchers. He is rated to be a wonder. The Saints are going some for the cheese cloth.

Hayes, of Y. M. A. A. is a good player and one whom all the pitchers fear as much as any player in the League. Dave knows the game and plays it with his head as well as his hands.

That Manager Bishop of Reliance, is looking at that Schuylkill Valley League championship is evident from the fact that he has signed up Carlin, the star pitcher who has been doing such clever work for the A. O. H. team of Conshohocken. Carlin is a port side and one of the best in the amateur ranks. With Law and Carlin to do the twirling it begins to look as though the other teams will be kept moving in order to prevent the West Siders from copping the tall honor.

A special game will be played at "The Meadow" between Conshohocken A. A. and A. O. H. This is the fifth and deciding game of the series which is being played for the championship of Conshohocken and vicinity. This game will be won and lost strictly on the merits of the rival teams as each manager has pledged his word not to use any player who has not already taken part in the present series with the exception of a new fielder secured by Conshy. The "Hibs" are standing pat, feeling confident that they can reverse the tale told last week. Davis or Kindregan will probably do the twirling for Conshy, with Carlin performing his little bit on the mound for A. O. H.

Chatts Markland, the pride of the pitching department of the Union Club and the idol of all Mechanicsville met with an accident on Sunday afternoon which threatens to keep him out of the game the remainder of the season. A game of base ball had been arranged between Gulf Mills and Swede land to be played on Sunday at the latter place and Chatts had been induced to do the twirling for the Furnacemen.

He had been pitching his head off to uphold the honor of his native village and was meeting with great success up until the fifth inning with the Gulf boys at bat. Winding up and throwing his foot in the pitchers box, he suddenly threw up his arms and with a groan sank to the ground.

The crowd looked on in amazement while some of the players rushed toward him. Presently sitting up he reached down and catching hold of his shoe he slowly pulled his foot and part of his leg from out of the leg of his trousers. Some of the female rooters shrieked, others fainted at the gruesome sight, while one of the male rooters had the presence of mind to think of telephoning for an ambulance and have the injured player rushed to the hospital when one of his team mates came over to the side lines and explained that Chatts had broken his "cork leg."

CLOTH IN THE MAKING.

The Way the Uncouth Product of the Loom is Finished.

Every woven fabric is made by crossing or interlacing two distinct series of threads together. When the yarn comes from the spinner it is mounted upon the loom in spools, writes Rupert Bowers in Harper's Weekly. So wonderfully automatic are these modern looms that when a bobbin is emptied it is forced out and a full spool is put in its place without stopping the loom. There are all classes of looms for all classes of material, from the thinnest fabrics up to the thickest felts. To attempt to describe one of them or the principles on which they are constructed would involve the reader in a wilderness of technicalities. The power loom is one of the most remarkable and complex of mechanical products, the growth of many years of experience and ingenuity and the crystallization of the inventive genius of many minds.

The cloth in the shop window resembles the cloth as it comes from the loom so remotely that there would seem to be no relationship between them. The first product of the loom is usually un-outh, harsh and anything but inviting in appearance. It has to pass through many processes before it is finished and made ready for the market. It is first mended so as to correct weaving faults as far as possible. Then it is scoured and thoroughly cleaned. Again it is looked over and mended before it passes to the fulling or mulling machine which, with soap and fuller's earth, produces the finish that is required. Then it is scoured again.

Tentering is the next process. This sets the cloth at a satisfactory width and straightens it for the operations that follow, the first of which is called raising. The millions of tiny hooks on the gigning machine raise up the fibers on the surface of the cloth and leave them in an upright position. The pile or nap is the result. This produces a remarkable change in the appearance and condition of the fabric. Shearing is the next thing. This cuts off all the raised fibers, leaving them of a uniform length. The required gloss and solidity are obtained by the pressing which follows.
